FIRST BAND CONCERT OF SEASON NEXT WEDNESDAY

Short Series of Municipal Concerts Will be Given in the City for Remainder of Season.

The first of a series of municipal band concerts which has been urged as an entertainment feature of the summer season will be held on next Wednesday evening at the city park on top of the Fifth street hill and the popular and highly entertaining Eagles band will furnish the program of the evening.

Owing to the shortness of the season and the other demands on the entertainment fund of the city, the concert season will be shorter than usual this year, but the public can rest assured that they will have a number of very fine programs given by the band, which will offer a diversion of high class standard musical numbers as well as the lighter and more popular musical productions of the present year.

Director Ed Schulhor and the members of the band have been working hard all winter and the improvement as a result of their practice is plainly evident from the fact that they gave one of the best concerts of its kind ever broadcast from Station WQAW, Omaha. Friends of the band are pleased that they are to receive this recognition of their labors in the giving of concerts here at home.

Cause of Appendicitis

When the bowels are constipated, the lower bowels or large intestines become packed with refuse matter that is made up largely of germs. These germs enter the vermiform appendix and set up inflammation which is commonly known as appendicitis. Take Chamberlain's Tablets when needed and keep your bowels regular and you have little to fear from appendicitis. Weyrich & Hadraba.

POPULAR YOUNG PEOPLE ARE WED AT NEHAWKA

Miss Doris Hanson and Mr. George Pollard Married at Home of the Bride's Parents.

From Thursday's Daily. Surrounded by all of the beauty that nature has lavished on this picturesque section of Cass county, last evening occurred the marriage of Miss Doris Hanson to Mr. George Pollard at the charming country home of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hanson, four miles northwest of Nehawka, the ceremony being witnessed by a very large number of the relatives and friends of the contracting parties.

The settings for the wedding were on the spacious lawn of the Hanson home and the bridal bower had been erected beneath the lordly cedar trees that form part of the beauties of the surroundings. With the natural green of the foliage was carried out a color scheme of yellow and white that served to bring out every detail of the wonderful charm of the beautiful lawn and home. From the porch of the house to the bridal altar had been constructed an aisle way, marked with huge baskets of Golden Glow and white streamers as well as palms that banked the approach to the bower where the wedding was to take place. The pathway was over the white cloths spread for the bridal party.

Christine Coughlin of Plattsmouth played the wedding march for the approach of the bridal party and Mrs. John Hanson sang "At Dawning" by Cadman before the ceremony and at the close of the song the march signaled the approach of the young people.

Preceding the bride came the two winsome little ladies, Frances Jane Hanson and Polly Ann Pollard, cousins of the bride and groom, each bearing a large lily in which was concealed the gold band of love's pledge of fidelity. The little ladies with the dresses of yellow organdie and their marked brunette type made a very striking picture.

The bridesmaid was Mrs. Clarence Hanson, who had earlier in the day become a bride herself, and this was a real surprise of the wedding to learn of the double wedding that had occurred in the Hanson family. Mrs. Hanson wore an attractive gown of pink organdie and carried pink roses.

Miss Mary Philpot of Overton, Nebraska, cousin of the bride, as maid of honor, was garbed in a dainty summer creation of lavender organdie and in keeping with her gown wore a corsage of lavender sweet peas in white lilies. The bride entered with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin and chiffon trimmed in pearls and her veil was arranged with a headpiece of pearls. Her only ornament was a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. V. R. Cloe of Des Moines, Ia., acted as best man. Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride.

1955 A. The house was decorated with summer flowers and pink streamers. Japanese lanterns were used on the lawn and the bride and groom were served. Mrs. E. B. Baer and Mrs. Clyde Boyles were in charge of the serving and were assisted by Phoebe Whiting, Anna Mae Rystrom, Ruth Rystrom, Mrs. T. H. Crounover, Mrs. H. C. McMillen and Mrs. J. J. Kirsch. Mrs. F. G. Pappas presided at the punch bowl and Miss Esther Schafer was in charge of the guest book. Out of town guests who came for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kaffenberger, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Cloid, H. E. Becker, P. T. Becker and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Wiles, Floyd Becker, Mrs. Ben Speck, Miss Lenora Snyder and Raymond Cook, Mrs. E. H. Wescott and Miss Helen Wescott, Plattsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miller, Sam Hardnock and Jess Hardnock and family, John Woods and family, Archie Miller and family and Lyle Miller of Alvo. After an extended wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Cortright will make their home in Des Moines, Iowa.

The luncheon was served in the large and attractively arranged dining room where the color scheme of yellow and white was carried out extensively in the baskets of Golden Glow and with the six tables arranged with white candles tied with bows of yellow tulle. The guests were ushered to the dining room by Misses Ino Heubner of Nehawka and Helen Hunter of Plattsmouth. The serving was in charge of a bevy of the attractive young ladies of Nehawka, Miss Hope St. John, Mrs. Carl Westell and Miss Edna Stoll.

The friends had planned a generous and demonstrative farewell for both Mr. and Mrs. Pollard and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hanson, but the two couples of newly weds outwitted their friends and entering the car of Fred Hill were driven to Murray from where they caught the train and will enjoy a short honeymoon in the west.

The bride is one of the charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hanson and one of the most attractive and beloved young ladies of the Nehawka community where she has made her home for her lifetime. The groom is a very able and talented young man and is now in the F. P. Sheldon store at Nehawka and it is in that city that the young people expect to make their home in the future.

Same Old Story, but a Good One Mrs. Mahala Burns, Savanna, Mo., relates an experience, the like of which has happened in almost every neighborhood in this country, and has been told and related by thousands of others: "I used a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy about nine years ago and it cured me of flux (dysentery). I had another attack of the same complaint three or four years ago, and a few days of this remedy cured me. I have recommended it to dozens of people since I first used it and shall continue to do so, for I know it is a quick and positive cure for bowel troubles." Weyrich & Hadraba.

CHARMING HOME WEDDING OCCURS YESTERDAY

Miss Zella Elliott of This City and Mr. Adam Traudt of Stockham Joined in Wedding.

From Thursday's Daily. One of the very attractive home weddings of the summer season occurred yesterday afternoon at three o'clock at the pleasant country home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Elliott just north of the city, when their daughter, Miss Zella, was united in marriage to Mr. Adam Traudt of Stockham, Nebraska, in the presence of a company of some forty-five of the relatives and friends of the happy young people.

The home was a bower of floral beauty for the occasion and the exquisite brightness of the flowers added a real artistic touch to the scene of the wedding. In the parlors as well as the dining room there were elaborate decorations of the vivid hued gladiolas in shades of red, pink and white and a huge basket of red and white roses tied with a sweeping bow of the pink tulle furnished a touch of charm to the room. In the parlor where the marriage ceremony was performed an arch of asparagus ferns and roses had been prepared, and where the young people plighted their troth. The decorations had been arranged by the Misses Marjorie Chaffee and Bernese Vail, friends of the bride, who had done exceedingly well in preparing this feature of the wedding.

Preceding the marriage ceremony, Miss Ethel Evans of University Place sang very charmingly two songs, "Beloved It Is Morn," by Aylward, and "At Dawning," by Cadman. Miss Bernice Vail of Arlington served as the accompanist and at the conclusion of the songs sounded the notes of the well loved Mendelssohn's wedding march, to which the bridal party entered.

The bride entered on the arm of her father, Mr. John Elliott, and was more than usually winsome in a gown of white silk crepe with overdrapes of silk lace, the bridal veil being held in place by a headpiece of the orange blossoms. Miss Elliott carried a beautiful bouquet of bride's roses.

Miss Ruth Jacks accompanied the bride as bridesmaid and wore a very chic costume of pink organdie with corsage of pink roses, that served to add a charm to her attractive appearance.

The bridal party were met at the parlor by the groom and his best man, Mr. David Rutherford, both gentlemen being garbed in the conventional dark suits.

The simple yet very impressive wedding service was read by the Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz, pastor of the First Methodist church, the ring ceremony being celebrated by the minister.

During the ceremony Miss Vail played very softly the musical accompaniment as the hearts of the two young people were plighted for all time.

Following the wedding the bridal party and guests enjoyed a very delightful informal reception to Mr. and Mrs. Traudt, Mrs. Elliott, mother of the bride, groomed in gray satin crepe, receiving the guests. During the reception very enjoyable refreshments were served, Mrs. Jess Elliott and Mrs. E. P. Trively assisting in this portion of the reception. The refreshments carried out the spirit of the occasion, red hearts decorating the ice cream, while the bride's cake, an object of great beauty, was cut by the bride. The cake was in white with white doves and roses as a decorative feature.

At the close of the reception the bride and groom departed for their honeymoon which will include a short stop at Stockham and from there they go to Denver and Colorado Springs before going to Sioux City, Iowa, where they will make their home. The going away gown of the bride was in tan tulle trimmed with blue and with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Traudt received many very beautiful and attractive presents, including two sets of silver and many beautiful pieces of china and cut glass that will add to the beauty of their new home.

The out of town guests include Mrs. Alfred Dooley and Miss Myrtle

FARM HOME IS WIPED OUT BY FIRE LAST EVENING

From Thursday's Daily.

The home of Glen Thompson, located on the farm of George Ray, south of Murray on the federal highway, was destroyed by fire last night following an explosion of a small quantity of alcohol. Mr. Ray, who makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, his son-in-law and wife, has been suffering to a greater or less extent from rheumatism and last evening had an attack of the malady and in order to secure relief had gone to the house and was heating a small quantity of alcohol to rub on the affected parts when the alcohol blazed up and from this the fire spread over the stove which exploded and in a few moments the whole lower floor was ablaze.

A number of the household articles from the second floor of the house were saved by the family and neighbors, but everything on the lower floor was practically destroyed in the fire that wiped out the house.
