

BOTH SIDES OBJECT TO HIS PROPOSALS

GOVERNOR PINCHOT FAILS TO IMPRESS MINE DISPUTANTS WITH OFFER.

WALKOUT NOTICE STILL GOOD

According to Union Officials, Despite Another Conference Held at Ten This Morning.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 31st.—All hope of averting a suspension of mining operations in the anthracite region vanished today.

Operators and officials of the miners' union replied to Governor Pinchot's four propositions for settlement, responses that were variously qualified and limited in acceptance of the principles tendered. After holding them from both sides, but was accepted by the union as a basis for negotiation, and accepted by the employers — under protest — provided that on it was founded a wage contract for a long term of years with annual adjustments, up or down, to be made by arbitration.

Governor Pinchot said at adjournment that both sides would maintain "status quo" during the interim, while John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, declared that "nothing having been done, the union notice for suspension of work still stands."

In the governor's four-part peace proposal, the eight-hour day recommendation came first and got substantial acceptance from each group in the written response.

Hitch on Wage Boost

His second proposal, for a 10 per cent flat wage increase, met with objection from both sides, but was accepted by the union as a basis for negotiation, and accepted by the employers — under protest — provided that on it was founded a wage contract for a long term of years with annual adjustments, up or down, to be made by arbitration.

The union sought a larger increase for men paid by the day, though expressing qualified satisfaction with the percentage increase in contract rates for mining coal. The operators said it would cost the consumer 75 cents more per ton in coal bins.

Treating the governor's third proposal, which in substance asked the union to drop the "check-off" demand, the operators consented to an arrangement by which union agents would be permitted to collect union dues in company offices, stating that this was being done now. The union answer was an argument for the practice, by which the employers would be required to hold out their dues from each employee's pay check and turn it over to the local unions.

Understanding Differ

The fourth and final proposal, for acceptance by both sides of collective bargaining principles, drew from the operators the observation that they accepted it if it meant the system now followed in the industry. The union answer also accepted, stating their understanding to be that it would require the operators "to forego their practice of contracting with individual employers for service at less than the prescribed rates."

EPWORTH LEAGUE HAS PARTY.

Last evening the members of the Epworth League enjoyed a very pleasant gathering which had been advertised among the members as a "wrestling" party and which was a very delightful occasion to the members. The Leaguers had gathered at the church and there found cars awaiting them and loading in they were taken on a ride, their destination unknown to all save the car drivers and in a short time the whole party arrived at the hospitable Babbitt farm west of the city, where Miss Ethel and Earl Babbitt were to entertain them for the evening.

The affair was in the nature of a lawn party and the time was occupied in playing games of all kinds at which much merriment was derived and which culminated in a big watermelon feed on the lawn participated in by all of the party, and which brought to a close the very pleasant time.

There were some thirty-five of the members present and at the home-going hour they voted Earl and Miss Ethel most delightful entertainers.

HOME FROM OUTING

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Diers and family returned home from Iowa Tuesday afternoon where they have visited for the past ten days. They spent some time at the old boyhood home of Mr. Diers and it was the first time that the Diers youngsters had ever seen the old stamping ground of their father and it was very interesting to them to see the old swimming hole where their dad took his first lessons in swimming and many other points of interest connected with his boyhood days back on the farm.—Louisville Courier.

MURRAY COMMUNITY CLUB HAS A FINE PICNIC

Rain Disappoints the Crowd to Some Extent in Afternoon—Evening Conditions are Better.

The Murray Community club, the live wire organization to whom much credit is due for keeping Murray in the limelight, always puts on something worth while if they undertake it, regardless of whether things are coming easy or otherwise. And the community picnic yesterday, sponsored by them, was no exception to the rule.

Entertainment features had been arranged that would prove of interest to everyone from the surrounding countryside at this third annual gathering which would have been by far the most successful of any yet had not rain interfered with the well laid plans to a considerable extent. Notwithstanding the fact that it rained during the night before and again while the rendition of the program was in progress, a good turnout was present. The rain descended in torrents, forcing the crowd to seek shelter in cars, under trees or wherever they might find it. But their spirit of revelry was in no way broken by this small matter and many went to their homes for dry clothing and returned later to join in the occasion, while others stayed and found their clothing soon dried out.

After the shower had subsided the picnic went on with the merry-go-round doing a good business and a good number of others enjoying a swim in the pool.

The Cole orchestra, composed of some of the best musical talent in eastern Cass county was one of the pleasant features of the picnic and their program of the afternoon was greatly enjoyed and will be long remembered by those who were in attendance.

Among the other features of the afternoon was the wrestling match which included a bout between Robbins and Renner in which Renner won, and in the second between Renner and Copenhaver, in which Copenhaver won.

The Murray Library association had charge of the eats and kept the picnic well supplied with sandwiches, coffee, ice cream cones, confectionery and such like.

The Eagles band of Plattsmouth was one of the features of the evening amusement program and with one of their usual high class selections, lighted the crowd, who forgetting the menace of the rain, turned out largely to enjoy the evening entertainment.

A picture show was also given in the evening during the rendition of the concert and this helped to entertain the crowd. The pictures were provided by the County Agricultural Agent L. R. Snipes, of Weeping Water. Last, but not least in interest, was the dance given at the Peterson hall which furnished amusement for the young people.

So, in spite of the rain, which came in copious showers, those attending the picnic managed to make a pleasant day of it and enjoy themselves most of the time.

ENJOY FINE PROGRAM

One of the largest audiences of the season was present last evening at Garfield park to enjoy the concert given by the Eagles band and a program of exceptional pleasantness was given and which had been arranged to give the lovers of good music a real treat from the classic selections to the more jazzy numbers of the modern day.

One of the most pleasing numbers was the "Wiener Blut" waltz by Strauss, whose compositions are always such a great treat to the music lovers and soft and alluring "Mexican Kisses" by Roberts was also one of the favorites.

The audience was treated to a real high class attraction in the xylophone solo of Anton Bajcek, "Pazzazza Promenade" whose jazzy strains was very alluring and played in masterly manner by Mr. Bajcek and to the generous encore of the delighted audience he responded with the beautiful "Oh Sole Mio" one of the always popular selections.

CARS HAVE MEETING

Last evening a small auto wreck occurred on the Louisville road near the Ed Tritsch farm when the car of George Kaffenberger and that of Elmer Rummell had a head on collision. Aside from the car being damaged to some extent there being no serious injury sustained.

The car of Mr. Rummell was a new Overland and has had a very unpleasant launching on its career. The reports of the wreck state that the car of Mr. Kaffenberger was on the left hand side of the road, the driver not seeing the approaching car of Mr. Rummell until too late to avoid the accident.

RAINS IN STREAKS

The rain this morning was decidedly eccentric in this part of the state and appeared to follow in streaks over the county. Near Eagle there was a stretch of country several miles in width that received a very plentiful rainfall the travelers reported, and also east of Murray there was quite a heavy rainfall over a two mile stretch of country. In this city the rain was limited to a small shower.

OBSERVE SILVER WEDDING WITH A FAMILY PARTY

Home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spangler at Weeping Water Scene of a Pleasant Gathering.

On Sunday, August 26, 1923, about 84 persons gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank James Spangler, 5 miles northwest of Weeping Water, and celebrated the 25th milestone of wedded life of Mr. Frank James Spangler to Miss Laura Jane Murray, and Mr. Chris Spangler to Miss Blanche Willis. At the noon hour the well filled baskets were unpacked and all those present enjoyed a most splendid dinner served on the lawn.

After dinner, games and music were a vogue, then several freezers of ice cream were brought from the cave and everybody ate to their fill, after which the crowd assembled in the beautiful residence and witnessed the renewal of marriage vows.

Notwithstanding the rain of Alva, Oklahoma, performed the ceremony and presented the silver offering to the celebrating parties. After wishing them many more happy and prosperous years of united life, the relatives and guests left for their homes. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Murray, of Alva, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spangler and Dan, of Nelson, Nebraska; Mr. and Mrs. Dent Hites and family, of Hastings, Iowa; Mr. John Spangler and three sons of Louisville; Mr. and Mrs. Rev. # LANDING AT CORFU IS NOT ACT OF WAR, MUSSOLINI AVERS

Measure Taken Only to Force Greece to Recognize Its Responsibilities, Premier Declares.

Rome, Aug. 31—Premier Mussolini today informed the representative of Italy abroad that Greece's answer to the Italian ultimatum was equivalent to complete rejection and that therefore in order to bring Greece to a realization of its responsibilities a temporary landing of Italian forces at Corfu had been ordered.

The premier's message which was put on the cables during the day was as follows: "To the just demands of Italy, following the barbarous massacre of Italians in Greek territory, the Greek government has replied in terms equivalent to a complete rejection. This unjustified attitude imposes on Italy the necessity of recalling Greece to a position of recognizing her responsibilities and, accordingly, a detachment of Italian troops has been ordered to land at Corfu."

"By this measure, which is of a temporary nature, Italy does not intend to make an act of war, but only safeguard her prestige and manifest her determination to obtain reparation due her in conformity with custom and international law. The foregoing does not exclude sanctions the ambassadors' councils may take by virtue of the fact that the Italian mission was part of a frontier delimitation commission which was appointed by the conference itself."
