

CREIGHTON HIGH WINNER AGAINST PLATTSMOUTH 11

However, Local Team Shows Improvement Over Previous Game and Scores on Prep.

From Saturday's Daily— The Plattsmouth high school football team yesterday afternoon before the heavier organization of the Creighton Preparatory school of Omaha by the score of 46 to 3 and had the satisfaction of scoring on the much vaunted representatives of the Omaha school.

The Creighton team, reputed one of the best in the state, did not present the formidable opposition that was felt last week when the Plattsmouth team battled the South Side high school and from the showing of the teams made the local followers of the sport are of the opinion that the Packers will win over the purple and white in their meeting next Friday.

The game yesterday was one in which the heavy Creighton machine moved out and demolished the Plattsmouth defense in the first periods of the play, making the first touchdown in the first five minutes of the game and three touchdowns were made in the first quarter. The Creighton backfield composed of Quarterback Porter, Captain Johnny Monaghan, "Mickey" McGuire and Robertson, easily outclassed the Plattsmouth team in play and with their heavy and effective line to pave the way ripped the Plattsmouth line for long gains.

The Plattsmouth team was most effective in the aerial attacks and had four completed passes and in this department of the game showed a superiority over the Omaha team, but the advantages gained in this kind of play were lost in the line plunging. Krejci and Kell were particularly effective in the passes and made some great gains for the Plattsmouth team.

In the opening of the third quarter of the game the Creighton coach substituted a new team composed of the second string men and these were battled on a more equal basis by the Plattsmouth team, securing two more touchdowns in the fourth period.

The Plattsmouth scoring was made in the last quarter when Stuart Chase, the clever fullback of the locals, droppedkick for the score and saved his team from being shut out in the scoring.

impossible to have one appear otherwise. Thus, with the splendid cooperation that is being given by business men both along Main street and some of the side streets as well, the city can be uniformly and evenly decorated on each of the various holidays calling for the display of the Stars and Stripes. The Legion did not take this up for financial gain, but because it believes it is a worthy decoration plan, and is solely interested in seeing unbroken lines of American flags on both sides of our Main street.

FINE NEIGHBORLY ACT

From Saturday's Daily— One of the splendid acts of neighborly kindness performed during the past trying times was when a committee from the Burlington shops came up and met with several of our business men and presented them with a purse of almost $220 to be used in the relief work. They explained that they knew of the fine work being done up here by men from neighboring towns in the way of reconstruction and cleaning up, but that they were always at work and had no chance to lend a helping hand and they wished to show their sympathy in some substantial manner.

It would not be possible to tell all that has been done by various towns and organizations, but perhaps nothing that has come in has been more greatly appreciated than this, coming so unsolicited and with so much good will and sympathy and the people of Louisville have been greatly touched by this generous deed as well as by the many other kind deeds performed here.—Louisville Courier.

ENJOY VERY PLEASANT TIME

From Saturday's Daily— The pleasant home of Mrs. Edna Stiles in the south part of the city was the scene of a most delightful social gathering last evening on the occasion of a supper given by Mrs. Stiles in honor of the sixty-first birthday anniversary of Mrs. L. G. Endicot of Glenwood, Iowa, who is a guest at the Stiles home.

In addition to the enjoyment of the very appetizing repast provided by the hostess the members of the party enjoyed the evening in social conversation and a general good time until the home going hour. Those who were in attendance were: Mrs. M. E. Earl, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Skinner, Mrs. H. O. Dooley and three children, Mrs. L. E. Lancaster and three children, Mr. and Mrs. William Falk and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dooley, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Stiles and three children, St. Joseph, Missouri, Mrs. Clara Johnson and three children of St. Joseph, Missouri.

HAS HAND BURNED

Beeson and also to recuperate from the effects of a very serious accident sustained a few days ago. Miss Beeson had her right hand burned in a very severe manner at the hospital and which occurred in a rather peculiar manner. A tea kettle used in one of the rooms had boiled dry and Miss Beeson taking it up attempted to fill it with cold water and the heat and steam from the kettle inflicted very severe burns on the fingers of her hand that will make it necessary to wear the member in a badge for some time.

BROOKHART SAYS WORKING CLASSES IN NEED OF HELP

Takes Up Cudgel in Behalf of Farmers and Laborers in Address at Anamosa, Iowa.

Anamosa, Iowa, Oct. 11.—Declaring that the paramount issues confronting the people of Iowa at the present time are a co-operative code for farmers and laboring men, including his own proposed amendment for co-operative banks, a farmers' marketing bill and the federal reserve administration, United States Senator Smith W. Brookhart, who made clear his stand on these issues in an address given before an American Legion barbecue here.

In reviewing his assault on the deflation policy of the federal reserve board, summarizing briefly the status of legislation sponsored or supported by him in the United States senate, and referring to his platform in the coming campaign, Senator Brookhart said in part: "When I first became a candidate for the senate I stated my platform in concrete and distinct terms. The issues have not changed except that two points in the platform have been fulfilled. Newberry resigned the day I went to Washington and the ship subsidy bill was defeated. The soldiers' bonus was vetoed and questions of taxing war profits and excess profits to pay it as against taxing the common people, a sales tax, are yet to be settled. I introduced a bill to repeal all the vital sections of the railroad law and amend the old law to pump water out of the valuation, stop the capitalization of unearned increments and reduce the return to the interest rate on the bonded portion of the capital. It was smothered in the committee. Six members of that committee were defeated in the election and I hope the committee will be reorganized so my bill can come out for consideration.

"Nothing is done toward a co-operative code for the farmers and laboring people and my amendment for co-operative banks had no chance. The farmers' marketing bill was smothered and the agricultural legislation that did pass was inadequate to make a makeshift. The contract with the federal reserve administration, are the burning questions in Iowa."

The senator also referred to attacks upon his recent speech to the American Legion at Indianapolis: "The press quoted me as saying that C. H. McNider had caused the Muscatine State bank to call loans upon my tenant. I made no such statement. When Mr. Meredith threatened to sue me for 30 cents, I offered him the proceeds from a 20-acre farm in Muscatine, Iowa, in which I own a half interest, subject to a $20,000 joint stock land mortgage, if he would pay the interest, taxes and expenses. He found a drainage tax and refused the offer. Then neighbors of mine, not in the drainage district, offered to put in another 240 acres on the same terms. Meredith then went to the chamber of commerce at Davenport and described my farm as a duck pond. The Muscatine State bank sent for my tenant and told him his notes must be paid when due.

Say Enemies Afraid "This tenant was a German-American boy who had worked on the farm as a hired hand before the war. When the war came on, he enlisted in our army and served a year and a half in France. When he came back I believed in him and proposed that he take charge of the farm in a half-and-half partnership. It required some capital and my brother and I backed him at the Muscatine State bank for about $3,500. He has reduced his loan about $400 a year, by the hardest work and the closest saving, although our half has not paid expenses and taxes in these McNider times.

"The moment has arrived when perhaps I should say something about the issues of the coming campaign in Iowa to the soldiers of the American Legion. Up to date my enemies have chosen the issue and they have fended it about with falsehood, misrepresentation and deceit. They have located it a long way from home because there are burning questions at home which they are afraid to face. They also want to conceal the personal and private of the vicious attack which they make upon me. They want to dodge and avoid the live issue. This, I promise you, they shall not do."

SELECT SCHOOL SITE FOR NEW MURDOCK SCHOOL From Friday's Daily— At the meeting called for the selecting of the location for a site for the new consolidated school building at Murdock last Monday night, the voters of the district succeeded in deciding on a suitable plat after several hours of spirited, yet friendly balloting. The plan announced for making the selection was that an informal ballot would first be taken, and on each succeeding ballot the location having the fewest votes would be dropped from the list. After it had narrowed down to two, voting was to continue until one had secured two-thirds of the votes, and this was considered a most fair and impartial manner of arriving at the decision by everyone.

A good attendance was present at the meeting, and after the voting had been completed and the useless ballots cleared away, a check-up of the situation revealed that a five acre plat just west of the main portion of the village of Murdock, and enclosed in the lands of Mr. Stroy, had been selected. Practically everyone was satisfied over the result, as they could not well be otherwise, for of all the proposed locations, none were bad, and this one became more popular and won out in the end.

The only suspicious circumstance reported was that some person was seen to leave the mouth of the alley near Sixth street and go toward the north but this may have been only a belated resident of the city wending his way homeward.
