Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore and their little son John were visiting and looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth last Saturday evening.

Joseph Green and the family were visiting with friends in Lincoln last Sunday, driving over to the capital city in their car to spend the day with friends there.

Dr. J. F. Brendel and the family were spending last Sunday at the home of the parents of Mrs. Brendel. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Jamison, making the trip in their auto.

Uncle Charles H. Boedecker has been nearly laid up with a cold, the like of which is going around and which has been almost an epidemic, but is getting better at this time.

Herman Beck and Troy Davis have been constructing a hennery or improved chicken house on the farm where Mr. Beck lives, and he and the good wife will try and make this branch of the farming industry one of profit, as well as the raising of wheat and hogs.

George Ray and wife last Sunday evening were callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hatchett, all enjoying the evening very much.

C. A. Trent sold ten hogs on last Tuesday to a serum plant in Omaha, they being taken there for the purpose of making serum for vaccination purposes.

The first of the week C. A. Trent and Mark Purlong traded hogs and mules, Mr. Trent furnishing the hogs and getting a pair of mules for his porkers, they both being satisfied.

Mrs. Henrietta Van Deussen, of Warrensburg, Mo., arrived a few days since and is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Trent and will remain until after the first of the year.

W. T. Hutchinson from south of Plattsmouth was in Murray on last Tuesday with two loads of wood not withstanding the very bad roads which prevailed on account of the rain and snow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wasson and their son, Edward, Jr., and Miss Bessie Wasson, a sister of Mr. E. J. Wasson, all from Havelock, were spending last Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hatchett.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mutz are raising the best of chickens and the other day purchased six of the excellent cockerels of the famous Orpington strain to head their already excellent flock.

Mr. Ira Arawlia Chambers, the paperhanger and decorator, was doing some artistic paper hanging at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Howard southwest of Murray, thus enhancing the natural beauty of the home.

George W. Rhoden and wife, of Plattsmouth, where he is in charge of the filling station for the Plattsmouth Motor company, were visiting here over Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rhoden, their son.

Mr. Glen Rutledge, editor of the Nebraska Enterprise, and Julius A. Rheuman of that city were visitors for a brief period in Murray on last Monday, while on their way to the county seat to look after some matters of business.

Mr. Eugene Huland, of Ralston, who is connected with the serum plant in South Omaha, was a visitor in Murray and vicinity and was assisted by Dr. G. L. Taylor in the purchase of a number of pigs for use in the plant at South Omaha.

Messrs. Glen Boedecker, the banker, and G. W. McCracken, the pharmacist, were visiting in Omaha on last Sunday for a few hours. They made the trip in the car of Mr. Boedecker and found the going excellent with a rare day and a road like a boulevard.

Hit a Nigger in Omaha Last Monday, John Ferris and A. G. Long found business calling them to Omaha and drove up, and in their threading the traffic-crowded streets of that great city, there was a collision in which their car and an Afro-American came together and a wordy dispute arose as to reparations which the dark skinned driver claimed and said that he had his leg injured. So, A. G. Long, though not having a diploma, compelled the nigger to elevate his trousers leg for a critical inspection, after which he was allowed to go his way. Dr. Long was such an expert in his examination of the leg of his friend's suggest he should put out his shingle as a practitioner.

No Charivari, No Dinner Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kennedy were visitors in Murray last Saturday and Sunday and were to be given a very pleasant surprise at a dinner to be served by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Alva G. Long, but the friends of the popular couple were expecting to give the newlyweds a charivari on Saturday evening and the bridal pair suddenly disappeared and were not in evidence again until Sunday afternoon, which disappointed the friends who were expecting to charivari them and also those who were expecting to tender them the banquet and good time. However, all are extending to them the best wishes and the good dinner will follow in due time.

Dies at Omaha Hospital Last Monday morning at the Clarkston hospital at Omaha, Mr. Lester Clarence, of Valley, passed away at the age of 27 years. He had been in the hospital for some time, but had been at home for a short time. Mr. Clarence, who was 25 years of age, made his home at Valley where he was engaged in the barber business for some time past, having a wife and one child. He had been in failing health for some time and had been at the Ford hospital for treatment some time since, and had gone home, but not gaining, had come to the Immanuel hospital for treatment only a short time since and passed away last Monday morning at an early hour. Mr. Clarence, who was born near Union, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Clarence of Hartington, where the remains were taken for interment, the funeral occurring on Wednesday of this week. He leaves besides the wife and son, two brothers and one sister and his parents at Hartington. Mr. John Campbell, of Murray, who is an aunt of the young man, was at Omaha at the time the young man died.

MURRAY SCHOOL NOTES The High school will have quarterly examinations next week. The party given by the Freshmen last Friday night proved a great success. Parents are urged to get their children to school on time. James Green was at school again Monday, having been absent two weeks on account of sickness. The pupils of the Primary room are expecting to have a lot of fun at their Halloween party. Ireta Henry was absent Monday morning. The Algebra class certainly is showing some "pep" these days. Inez Hoschar, Lauren Todd and Charles Barrows were absent from school Friday. Lorene Durman was absent from school Thursday and went to Dunbar. Henry Dietl was absent from school the last part of last week shucking corn. The intermediate room had the seats repaired and those that were loose were removed. Ruth Bourne was absent from school last Monday. The Eighth grade is studying "The Country" in Civics this week. The Sophomores had a test last week in Geometry. The Eighth grade is going to have quarterly examinations next week. Miss Van Deussen was visiting over the weekend at Lincoln and Omaha with friends. Ireta Henry, a Sophomore, entertained many of her friends at her home last Sunday. Some of the Sophomores were late getting to the party at Puls' Friday night. Charles Howard made a very nice looking young girl while at the party Friday night. Some of the girls of the Grammar room are taking up walking as an exercise for after school hours. Most of the school children are relying over the prospect of having two days' vacation this week on account of the Teachers' convention. Florence Bartlett was the winner in the Arithmetic drill Friday. Katherine Long was the winner in the spelling contest Friday. The Ninth and Tenth grades enjoyed a good time at the party last Friday evening given by the Ninth grade at the home of W. H. Puls. Charles Howard, a Freshman, was the lucky one, winning a prize for the best costume. Those who were present were Lester Gansner, Charles Howard, Kenneth Ferris, Charles Barrows, Esther Puls, Donabelle Edmisten, Eleanor McCarty, Elsie Puls, Lois Scotten, Lorene Hatchett, Curtis Paris, Ruth Bourne, Lester Long, Clifton Meisinger, Winford Chilton and Miss Bessie E. Van Deussen.

TIGERS LOSE JINX IN VALLEY BATTLE Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 28.—The headline attractions of the Missouri Valley conference ended in draws Saturday; the Missouri Tigers battling Nebraska's Cornhuskers to a 7 to 7 tie, while the Kansas Aggies fought their family loss, the University of Kansas, to a scoreless issue. But the ailing Tigers, who had been pronounced a sure loss, forced Nebraska to exceed itself to stave off possible defeat. Starting with a ruck, Missouri put over a touchdown—the first time this Tigers had crossed the Huskers' goal line since 1899. Then Captain Lewellen jumped into the game, despite stiff neck and saved the day for Nebraska. Intercepting a Missouri pass, he raced sixty yards to the touchdown that enabled his team to tie the score. Thereafter neither side could summon enough strength to break the deadlock.

Aggies Outplay Kansas The Kansas Aggies clearly outplayed their opponents, except when they battered against the Kansas line. There the Jayhawkers held firm.

Drake playing its first conference game of the season ousted Grinnell from first division by 41 to 0. Washington university of St. Louis fell an easy prey to Ames, 54 to 7, for its third straight loss.

Oklahoma stayed outside the conference to establish supremacy at home by shutting out Oklahoma A. and M., 12 to 0.

This week will see the Kansas Aggies clash with Missouri at Manhattan; Kansas and Oklahoma at Norman, and Ames and Drake at Des Moines. The game at Ames will be the conference, playing Drury college at St. Louis, Nebraska and Grinnell are not scheduled.

ROOSEVELT HOUSE OPENED SATURDAY Permanent Memorial at 28 East 20th Street in New York to House Many Interesting Things

New York, Oct. 27.—Dedicated to the memory of "Teddy" Roosevelt with ceremonies that included reading of a letter from President Coolidge and an address by Governor Mitchell, Roosevelt House was opened today—sixty-fifth anniversary of the birth of the beloved "rough rider" president.

The house, which stands at No. 28 East Twentieth street, is to be maintained as a permanent memorial. Its upper floors are a replica of the house in which Roosevelt was born; downstairs a museum holds relics, letters and photographs.

In his letter to the Woman's Roosevelt Memorial association, under whose auspices the house was opened, President Coolidge said in part: "The fame of other men may fade, but the fame of Roosevelt need not. The glory of his statesmanship may be obscured by the passage of centuries, but the memory of the man himself will endure."

MARRIED IN WASHINGTON From Monday's Daily—The following from the Chehalis (Wash.) newspaper gives an account of the marriage of a former Plattsmouth young man, Charles Neville, son of Hon. William Neville and wife, pioneer residents of this locality.

A very pretty wedding occurred in Everett Monday, October 8, when Miss Anne Smith became the bride of Charles E. Neville of Chehalis. The marriage ceremony was solemnized at the Church of the Blessed Sacrament and was performed by Father Jones, assisted by Father Van de Val of Snohomish. The bride's gown was of dark blueorgette trimmed with beads, with a becoming hat to match. She carried a shower bouquet of pink roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Ida Smith attended her sister as the bridesmaid and J. D. Neville was best man. The ceremony was impressive and beautiful and was followed by a reception and wedding breakfast at the home of Mrs. Smith. The house was beautifully decorated with roses, chrysanthemums and greenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Neville will make their home in the Albers apartments, after a brief honeymoon in British Columbia. The bride is well known, being for three years a popular teacher at the West Side school. Mr. Neville is a deputy in the office of the county engineer.

CRUCIAL GAMES ON BIG TEN SCHEDULE Chicago and Illinois Meet Next Saturday For Traditional Gridiron Battle—Others Play.

Chicago, Oct. 29.—Big Ten football leaders will hard practice sessions this week in preparation for crucial games of the 1923 season next Saturday. Chicago and Illinois, leading the title race with two victories each, meet this week-end at Urbana. The game traditionally one of the hardest fought contests of the midwest will put one of the teams out of the running. Illinois, by virtue of its 23 to 0 defeat of Northwestern, was a slight favorite of win. Chicago found difficulty one week earlier in noosing out a 13 to 0 victory over Northwestern.

Michigan, with one win and no defeats, has a hard fight at Iowa. The Hawkeyes, after dropping an early season game to Illinois, were a rejuvenated team when they sent Ohio State down to a 20 to defeat Saturday. Michigan, also picked by many for conference honors this year, may find trouble in stopping the Hawkeyes' multiple attacks.

Wisconsin has an open date. Minnesota takes on the lowly Purple of Northwestern, and the other members of the Big Ten will be engaged in contests with non-conference elevens.

TRAINS CHANGE TIME From Monday's Daily—The Burlington yesterday entered on their new time schedule which will make a great deal of difference to the Plattsmouth people who may desire to go to Omaha in the afternoon as the train that formerly left here at 1:58 does not leave until 3:05 p. m. The change eliminates the trains which Charley Johnson has for years served as conductor on, between Pacific Junction and Creapolis and the passengers on these runs will be cared for on the revised schedule.

TRAIN IS ANNULLED From Wednesday's Daily—Burlington eastbound train No. 6 due here at 7:40 a. m., was annulled this morning on account of a derailment on the McCook division of the railroad which closed the line for several hours and made necessary the detouring or annulment of the trains over this division. The first train from the west was No. 4 arriving here at 9:55 which brought passengers from Lincoln and points east on to Chicago.

FURTHER ACCUSATIONS ARE LODGED AGAINST FORBES

Accused of Plotting to Secretly Remove Vast Stores of Whisky to Enrich Himself.

Washington, Oct. 29.—Further accusations against Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director of the veterans' bureau, to effect that he plotted to enrich himself by secretly removing and selling vast stores of whisky and narcotics from the bureau's dispensary at Perryville, Md., were made today before the senate investigating committee.

James M. Williams, wealthy dairyman of Philadelphia, testified that Forbes outlined to him a scheme for getting the run and dope out of the dispensary. Forbes, he said, proposed that Williams' company should deliver milk and cream to the dispensary and carry the drugs and liquor away. Forbes told him that he would "make it interesting to him" if he would enter the deal, he testified.

Williams was an acquaintance of E. H. Mortimer, who testified last week that Forbes hoped to clean up through sale of whisky and drugs to "retire for life." Mortimer's sister-in-law lived for a time at Williams' home, and Mrs. Mortimer was frequently a guest there. Mortimer, Forbes and a close friend of Forbes, named Sidney Bieber, called there several times.

Forbes and Mortimer had a disagreement and broke relations. Williams testified that Forbes and Bieber were exceedingly anxious to obtain possession of some of Mortimer's papers. They talked with Mrs. Mortimer in such a manner as to "embitter" her against her husband, he said, and finally prevailed upon her to go to Washington from Philadelphia to get some of Mortimer's papers.

At the instance of Mrs. Mortimer, Williams said, he examined these papers. The only ones that impressed him were two blank liquor withdrawal permits. He said he thought these were signed by Internal Revenue Commissioner Blair.

Forbes, he said, frequently talked of his "strong arm men," and went so far as to say that he would have them take Mortimer out and give him a "strong arm" drive home away.

Colonel Forbes came out of his seclusion today and, accompanied by his attorney, went to the committee room, where he listened attentively to all the testimony. It is expected that he will take the stand voluntarily himself within a day or two.

ON WAY TO CALIFORNIA From Monday's Daily—Word has been received by friends here from Mrs. George W. Thomas, formerly of this city, who has just recently left Nebraska City for the west coast. Mrs. Thomas and son, George left Omaha on Friday and expected to reach Los Angeles today where they will join their son and brother, Karl Thomas, who has been located there for several months. They will spend some time there on a visit and may decide to make that place their future home if the surroundings are to their liking.

WILL MISS COLD WEATHER From Tuesday's Daily—Ben Hankinson and son, Nathan, who have been spending the summer in the north, have decided that they would just as soon miss the frigid atmosphere of Nebraska the coming winter and accordingly departed for Hammond, Louisiana, where they opened yesterday their tight and slack wire act at the fair being held in that place. They will spend the winter filling engagements throughout the south, according to their present plans.

A NEAR CASUALTY From Tuesday's Daily—This afternoon a near casualty occurred in one of the marts of trade in the city that involved one of the well known and popular business men of the city. It seems that the afforsaid popular business man was descending into the basement of one of the stores when he tripped on the Smith brothers who are well known for their long growth of brush and the result was that when the smoke of battle cleared away the business man was in a prone position and had knocked several kilowatts of wind out of himself, but otherwise suffered no material damage and the stairs down which he fell will not have to be repaired.

NEW ACTING POSTMASTER From Monday's Daily—Word came to Eagle the first of the week that Fred C. Beach had received the appointment as acting postmaster to relieve F. W. Blumenkamp, who has accepted a position in the Lincoln postoffice and resigned the postmastership at this place to accept the same. As we understand the situation the appointment runs only until an examination can be had under civil services rules and the regular appointment made. Mr. Beach is at present at the farm down in Pawnee county, but is expected home today or tomorrow to be checked in the office.—Eagle Beacon.

RED CROSS HAS BIG TASK IN JAPAN

Its Record Is One of Speed and Efficiency That Brought Relief to the Suffering People.

Maintenance of competent emergency working with speed and concerted effort in disaster relief, which is a mandate in the charter granted to the American Red Cross by congress, found full justification in the Japanese earthquake disaster according to detailed reports of that immense operation. Fresh in the minds of everyone is the prompt action of the greatest mother in this terrible disaster.

When the president directed the Red Cross to take charge of this work, it was possible without any hesitation to call into action 3,000 chapters in all parts of the country. No time was wasted in setting up organizations through which to raise this necessary fund but because of the permanent organizations in practically every county in the United States the initial fund of $5,000,000 was raised in nine days. Within three weeks more than $10,000,000 had been contributed through this official.

In the United States alone from June 30, 1922, to July 1, 1923, the American Red Cross administered relief in 119 disasters at a cost of $400,000. The killed numbered 259, injured 991, homeless 12,691, buildings destroyed 2,198. The total property loss was estimated at $25,710,000. These disasters ranged from Maine to California, from the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico and include serious disasters of all kinds.

In the central division of which this state is a part, Manager Walker Davidson was called upon during that time to give service and to administer relief in nine disasters. Central division chapters are alert to the necessity of keeping their organizations intact so that when emergency arises, they are prepared to act. Chief among these disasters were the floods along the Mississippi river in Illinois, the devastating tornado in the St. Croix Falls district of Wisconsin, the Frontier mine horror in Kennerly, Wyo., where 100 men were entombed and the recent flood in Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Thirteen disaster units are maintained in central division states by the National Red Cross. Thus at a moment's notice supplies of every description may be rushed to the scene of disaster. It is no wonder that American citizens are eager to keep their memberships in this organization. An opportunity will be given on Armistice day and continuing until Thanksgiving for everyone to renew his membership or become one. Do not fail to add your support to this humanitarian work.

Balkan States Find It Necessary Because of the Distressingly Meagre Amount of Currency.

Athens, Oct. 28.—Currency is so distressingly scarce in all the Balkan states, that not a single government will permit a traveler, no matter what his nationality, to carry away with him more than the government concerned thinks he needs to get him to his next stopping place. In most cases this is 1,000 units of whatever the currency may be; anything over this sum is confiscated. This means the owner of the money will never see it again, and the procedure is legal under the law making it so is down clearly in the statutes of virtually every country of southeastern Europe. The despoiled individual has no recourse.

Many naturalized Americans, natives originally of some Balkan country, have come home since the end of the war, bringing with them wealth in dollars. Now they are beginning to get enough of the old country, and again turn their faces to the new world. Their dollars meantime have been exchanged into drachmas, or dinars, or lei or lev, and they want to carry away what is left. But the government says no; only 1,000; the rest stays here.

Thereupon the naturalized citizen turns to the nearest American diplomatic representative and claims protection. The situation presents so many difficulties that the American ministers to the Balkan states have met in conference to discuss what is best to do. They are warning citizens, and particularly naturalized, not to come over here with more money than they actually need. Also, they may take the matter up with Washington.

HARVEY-CURZON REMARKS INDICATE TWELVE-MILE PACT

American Ambassador and British Minister of Foreign Affairs Say Diplomatic Slate is Clean.

London, Oct. 30.—At a complimentary dinner given tonight in honor of T. P. O'Connor's seventy-fifth birthday, at which Marquis Curzon presided, the American ambassador, George Harvey, in the course of his speech said he was pleased to inform those assembled that as a sequel to a conversation he had just had with Lord Curzon, he was leaving his successor an absolutely clean slate.

Lord Curzon, replying, said he was glad to be able to confirm Ambassador Harvey's statement, and to testify that the ambassador was leaving a comparatively easy task for his successor.

These remarks were interpreted by the company as meaning that an agreement had been reached on the question of the right of the American government to search vessels for liquor within the twelve mile limit.
