Last Friday at Nehawka was played a game between the Union teams and the teams of the Nehawka school in which the Nehawka lassies defeated the girls from Union to a tune of 34 to 14 while the Nehawka lads suffered a defeat from the boys of Union to a clip of 15 to 9.

However, the games attracted much attention and were enjoyed by many friends of both parties. Wednesday of last week Elmwood's two teams came to Nehawka and played with the Nehawka teams in which our girls won 28 to 17 and our boys lost 37 to 39. We will play at Elmwood on Friday of this week.

Will Drill For Oil Soon

For a number of days past there has been much activity going on in Nehawka and at the place selected for the boring of the well for oil on the farm of Z. W. Shrader. Last Saturday and Sunday McMaken with three of their fleet White trucks were here assisting moving the machinery and material from the cars to the site.

Also some fourteen teams were engaged in the work. Among those assisting in the work were Frank McConnell, James Blake, James and Chester Sturm, Gale Sturm, Wayne Ackley with two teams, Marval and Basil Rice, Herold Reynolds, Herold Stull and August Ost with two teams. It will require some ten days with workable weather after the material and machinery are on the ground before the work of sinking the shaft can be begun. The derrick, which will be nearly 80 feet in height, will require some time to put in place and as all the machinery is heavy the work of placing it will require some time. Uncle Z. W. Shrader, on whose land the first well is to be sunk, is very enthusiastic over the project and well may be for it is of much moment to him and not alone to him but to every one in Nehawka near which place the work is begun. The entire county and portion of the state will be benefited by the finding of oil and it looks almost certain to the people who are directly interested in the project that there will be a find and worth the while. We are sure in hopes that the fondest expectations of the people may be realized.

Sure a Good One

The new Neutrodyne radio which was purchased and installed by Mr. R. C. Pollard is a fine one and while it is claimed that they are difficult to tune in until the places have been charted. One of Mr. Pollard's friends tells us that when the new machine came and was being unpacked even before the aerial had been erected the instrument was sending in some good stuff from Atlanta and as near as Henry Pollard could find out it was playing "Marching Through Georgia."

Nehawka, the Radio Town

There is much in the air not alone regarding the oil business for that is in the ground but the radio and there is much being gotten out of it, for many are installing radios at this time. During the past week C. M. Chriswiser, Geo. Pollard and Chas. Adams have installed radios at their homes and on last Saturday evening Frank Boedecker who sells the instruments, had one on exhibition at the Steffans store for the entertainment of the public and many enjoyed the excellent music which was dispensed.

Mrs. Sturm Buried

Mrs. Mary Sturm who has been so ill at the home of her son, Henry P. Sturm, and who passed away last week was buried at the beautiful Mt. Pleasant cemetery on last Friday the funeral being held at the home of her son, Henry P. Sturm and the services being conducted by the Rev. Simons of the Methodist church of which Grandma Sturm had been a lifelong and consistent member.

All who have been privileged to know Mrs. Sturm honor and respect her memory as being one of the dearest of ladies and in her departure her relatives and friends are sustaining a very severe loss.

The community at large who pay tribute to her memory are losing a very devoted supporter of American principals and a close friend to Nehawka and its community.

We wish to correct a mistake. 23 cost records on corn show that it cost 46 cents per bushel and the average yield of these records was 42 bushels.

Out at the Knees

If you ever raised a boy, or if you were once a boy yourself, you know very well that regardless of how strong, heavy and wear resistant a pair of pants you put on him that sooner or later he comes home "out at the knees." They will wear out! Likewise, regardless of how much we may talk and believe that our Nebraska soils are so rich and contain so much plant food, material that will never wear out, sooner or later we find examples of what was once a rich farm "out at the knees" also. Perhaps it is a hillside where its good top soil has been washed off or perhaps it is a field that has been cropped to wheat, oats and barley until it hasn't the ability to yield as it formerly did. It is true that our Nebraska soils are rich but they will wear out. They are most likely run down in organic matter and nitrogen first, but these fortunately can be rapidly and cheaply replaced by growing alfalfa and the clovers, particularly if these crops are pastured off or fed on the farm and the manure returned. About six out of every hundred acres of cultivated land are now in alfalfa and clovers in Nebraska. Good farmers of the state say that sixteen acres of legumes to every hundred acres of cultivated land would be better. How about seeding down the poorest field this spring.
