GOVERNOR NOT TO LIFT SUSPENSION ORDER YET

Request of Attorneys For Former Sheriff Quinton for Reinstatement Without Result.

From Wednesday's Daily—The question of whether or not Former Sheriff C. D. Quinton is entitled to the restoration of his office from which he was suspended by the governor in December and later removed by the district court, has been taken up with Governor Bryan, dispatches from Lincoln state, and the state executive has declined at this time to make any modification of his order removing Mr. Quinton and has requested the attorneys to set forth the reasons why Mr. Quinton should be restored in writing before he will take any steps toward reviewing the case. In speaking of the matter, the State Journal has the following:

"Attorney General Spillman has not investigated the question of vacancy. He finds a decision of the supreme court given in the year 1887, which says the appeal of a county officer who has been removed from office does not suspend judgment so that he can resume his duties in office. Since that decision was given the statutes have been amended and now give ground for the assertion that an appeal does suspend judgment. In criminal cases the supreme court is now required to suspend sentence. The district court fixes the amount of the bail bond. If the higher court is required to suspend judgment in the Quinton case the effect of that suspension may then be a matter for legal dispute. "In the meantime attorneys for Quinton have asked Governor Bryan to grant a rehearing in the matter of his order which suspended the sheriff from his office and was followed by the appointment of Acting Sheriff Stewart to fill the vacancy. It is likely the governor will await the result of the appeal in the supreme court before acting upon a request for a rehearing of his order of suspension. There are apparently two separate cases. One is in the courts and the other is before the governor. It is alleged the governor did not say in his order of suspension whether he acted under the prohibitory law or under the amended Sackett law. Quinton was acquitted in court of dereliction in the enforcement of the prohibitory law, but found guilty of not complying with other laws in the conduct of his office. Some contend that the governor's order of suspension does not constitute a vacancy such as can be filled by election this fall. The district court order removing Quinton from office is alleged to create a vacancy that can be filled by election, but it is argued that the district court order is not final until passed upon by the supreme court. The supreme court may not decide the case before the time for an election has passed. The term of sheriff does not expire for two years more."

AVOCA SWEEP BY FIRE THIS MORNING

Several Buildings Destroyed and the Loss Will Amount to a Large Sum as a Result.

From Wednesday's Daily—Commencing this morning at 4 o'clock, the town of Avoca was swept by one of the most destructive fires in the history of this little city and as the result the south side of the main street in the business section was almost gutted by the flames and the loss will amount into the thousands of dollars, it is estimated by the citizens. The fire, which is supposed to have been caused by defective wiring, was first noticed in the old Marquardt store building shortly after 4 o'clock and the blaze spread very rapidly and soon was beyond control. The blaze, leaping the distance of the street in a shower of sparks, caught the Maseman building opposite the Marquardt building and this soon was a roaring furnace of flame and the blaze spread rapidly through the adjoining buildings and burned almost the whole block until it was checked at the building occupied by the Bank of Avoca and this structure was practically all of the south side buildings that escaped the flames. While the residents fought desperately to check the flames they were without adequate fire protection and with only the temporary means at hand were forced to see the buildings swept away in the fire.

At the conclusion of the services the body was borne to Oak Hill cemetery where it was consigned to the last long rest. The pallbearers were selected from the old friends and were: P. T. and E. H. Becker, John Hobscheidt, Sr., Henry Horn, John Hobscheidt, Jr., and C. F. Vallery.

PEOPLE'S MARKET WILL MOVE INTO A NEW LOCATION

Cramped Quarters in Present Store, Due to Increasing Business, Makes Move Necessary.

The People's Market of this city, which was started about a year ago by Louie Ackerman and Sam Givins in high Union block on South Sixth street, has grown to such a great extent in the last few months that the owners of this up to the minute establishment are finding it necessary to move to other quarters. The firm has secured the room in Coates block formerly occupied by the Stanfield book store which is now closing out and the move will be made to the new quarters in the next two weeks it is thought. If the stock can be removed from the book store in high frequency machine that the new quarters will give the People's Market a great deal more room than they have been very badly in need of as their increasing business has made it necessary to carry larger and larger stocks and in the room they now have this is causing a great deal of congestion. The new location that they have will give them a sales room as large as their present building and also a store room in the rear that will almost double their present capacity and make an ideal place for their purposes.

MACHINES GIVE GOOD RESULTS

From Wednesday's Daily—The hospital at Fremont has recently installed as a part of its equipment a high frequency machine that has been perfected for cases where electrical treatment is found necessary and is what is known as the Fisher type "G" outfit. The Plattsmouth people have had the advantages of outfits of this same kind here for a long time. Dr. J. S. Livingston and Dr. P. J. Flynn both have equipments of this kind in their offices and they have been found to be very successful in the cases that they have been treating and are a part of the modern office of a physician.

TAKEN TO THE HOSPITAL

From Tuesday's Daily—Last evening Mark Iles, residing south of this city, was taken to Omaha where he enters the University hospital for an examination and possibly an operation. The gentleman has been in very poor health for a long period and many specialists have been working on his case, but so far have been unable to give him but little relief from his suffering. He seems to be troubled with an affection of the throat which so far has proven very baffling to handle, but it is hoped that at the hospital he may derive some relief. Mrs. Iles and daughter, Mrs. Albert Murray and Mrs. Charles Piper were at the hospital today to spend a few hours with Mr. Iles.

Culling

It is getting rather late to cull the flock. Unless the flock is too large it is best to wait until late in the summer. If the flock is too large sell the extra fat ones. You should delouse the hens before the young chicks are hatched.

T. B. Eradication

Douglas county will begin to test cattle for T. B. on the county area plan. Burt county has just finished and Saunders county have their petitions on file at Lincoln. The petitions are being circulated in Cass county.

Alfalfa as a Cash Crop

Figures on yields show that in this county alfalfa may be expected to yield in the neighborhood of three tons per acre. While there has been considerable fluctuation in the price of hay, it is estimated that ten dollars per ton is not far off from an average of all cuttings of alfalfa in the stack. This would mean an income of thirty dollars per acre. Comparing this with fifty cent corn and one dollar wheat one finds that corn would have to make more than sixty bushels per acre to equal alfalfa. Furthermore the cost of producing corn and wheat will be greater per acre than that of putting alfalfa in the stack. Risks and uncertainty as to a crop will also be greater with the grain crops. After ten crops of wheat and corn have been removed, compare the productivity and the condition of that land to what it would be following ten crops of alfalfa. Alfalfa on the farm promotes the keeping of livestock, which means diversified farming. And still we have in Nebraska less than six acres out of every hundred acres of cultivated land in legumes, including alfalfa and all the clovers. Why not seed down an extra ten acre field this year?

ENTERTAIN AT DINNER

From Monday's Daily—A very delightful three course luncheon was given Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the St. Luke's rectory by the members of the Leete family in honor of Bishop Ernest V. Shayler, who was here to hold the Sunday services at St. Luke's church. The members of the party were composed of the heads of the different departments of the church work in the parish who were gathered for an informal visit with the head of the church.

The appointments were in a color scheme of yellow, yellow candles being used as a part of the decorations with bowls of the attractive yellow daffodils also being used. A centerpiece of an illuminated owl also furnished a pleasing part of the table arrangements. Following the dinner the members of the party were delightfully entertained by an informal discussion of the church work and history of the church by the bishop.

GETS INTO THE RACE

From Wednesday's Daily—While in the city yesterday looking after the free bridge proposition at South Bend, George Vogel, one of the well known residents of that city decided that the political waters were sufficiently warmed up to permit a plunge and accordingly entered the race for state representative. Mr. Vogel has a public and will contest with Mayor Troy L. Davis of Weeping Water for the party honor at the primary. The new candidate has long been a resident of South Bend precinct and is well known to a large number of the residents of that portion of the county and will now get out and get acquainted with the rest of the voters between now and the primaries.

WILL LEAVE HOSPITAL

From Wednesday's Daily—Mrs. William P. Kriskey, who has been at the St. Catherine's hospital for the past ten days recovering from a very severe operation, has shown such improvement that she is expected to be able to leave the hospital today and go to the home of relatives in Omaha to remain for the time that she will be under the care of a specialist.
