PLATSMOUTH HIGH IS ELIMINATED BY CREIGHTON PREP

Experienced Hilltoppers Too Much For Diminutive Cass County Five; Score, 21 to 8.

BY W. DEAN DOUGLAS (1924, Plattsmouth)

University of Nebraska, March 7. (Special Correspondence Evening Journal)—Plattsmouth high school was eliminated from the state basketball tournament this afternoon by Creighton Prep. The score was 21 to 8. Outplayed but not outthought, the diminutive Cass county five went down before the superior offensive of a much larger team. The Hilltoppers, city champions of Omaha and one of the strongest teams in the top class, had little difficulty in breaking through the Plattsmouth defense.

The game opened at high speed. The Plattsmouth defensive was airtight for the first five minutes of play and Creighton was held scoreless. O'Brien, Prep center, broke loose for three baskets in quick succession; Krejci sank a field goal for Plattsmouth and the quarter ended with Coach Drennan's clan leading, 6 to 2.

The Cass five came back strong in the second quarter and outplayed the Omahans. Foul goals by Rehal and Krejci put Plattsmouth within striking distance, and then Creighton took time out. When play was resumed the Hilltoppers took the offensive, scoring a field goal and a free throw. Chase shot a free throw as the half ended. Score: Creighton Prep 9, Plattsmouth 5.

Early in the second half Wasley, Plattsmouth guard, brought the crowd to its feet with a sensational field goal from the center of the floor. Once more was Creighton's lead threatened. This was the list time.

FIRST SPLASH OF THE SWIMMING POOL HEARD

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE ALL BUT STARTS WATER RUNNING LAST NIGHT.

LOCATION IS MUCH DISCUSSED

Present Tourist Park First Suggested and Objections and Other Suggestions Offered.

From Saturday's Daily—

While the meeting of the public forum of the Chamber of Commerce had many very useful matters brot up at the session last night at the public library auditorium they were all more or less overshadowed by the discussion over the swimming pool proposition and the larger share of the evening consumed in the pros and cons of where it ought to be located and what methods of financing the proposition should be taken, although almost the universal sentiment was that a pool was something that should be had if possible and the only question was as to how and where.

At the opening of the session, Secretary Edwin Fricke read a communication from the secretary of the Platte Mutual Insurance company, A. J. Tritley, in which the local company set forth that they had eliminated the bad risks that they might have had in the past and at the present time had $100,000 of insurance in force, although this represented only a small part of the insurance of the city that they felt that they were entitled to have. The committee stated that each year the citizens sent away $30,000 in premiums to outside companies and of which they felt they were entitled to a larger share. They also stated that there could be a saving of one-third in the cost of premiums and support a home institution at the same time.

The committee on membership of which R. W. Knorr is the pilot, stated that they had annexed fifty-six new members and were still on the trail of the prospects and were hoping to add more to the list before the next meeting.

President Davis, who had at the previous meeting been instructed with the other officers of the club, to look after the securing of a greater interest in the coming spring city election, reported that the founding Citizens party had since deceased and that the committee had interviewed the regular republican and democratic city committees and they had promised to call their conventions and place tickets in the field, so that the coming spring political marathon will have two opposing tickets out for the consideration of the voters instead of the former one ticket affair. President Davis stated that farther than this his activities as political monitor ceased and the issues were thereafter in the hands of the two major parties and the voters to wrestle with.

The committee on publicity, of which Mr. Davis is chairman, reported that a series of special community boosting ads were in process of being secured, but which were financed by the efforts of individual citizens in the community and besides the advertising there were many special newspaper committee boosting articles that will be disseminated in the Evening Journal from time to time.

The tourist park committee reported that they were awaiting the consultation with the landscape engineer of the Missouri Pacific railway before they were ready to submit a definite report on what could be done with the well if not very favorably known tourist park.

The committee that was assigned to look into the question of a freight service from Chicago to this city, reported that they had learned from Mr. R. W. Clement, the Burlington agent, that it required four days for freight from Chicago to be delivered to the local freight depot.

The big noise of the meeting was then sprung in the nature of the report of the committee on the swimming pool and it may be said to the credit of Messrs. C. J. Thelen, L. O. Minor and B. J. Halstead that their report showed a most careful inquiry into the subject and was very complete in detail on the subject. The committee reported that they had estimated a pool 50 by 100 feet in size, that investigation and comparison of similar pools in Omaha, showed that they were able to accommodate 500 bathers, with varying depths of water, largely of a shallow nature for the needs of the greater number and thence to more depth in the center and at the far end of the pool. They also recommended the charging of a small fee that would make the pool self supporting and in time pay the cost of the construction of the same. They recommended further that it be placed at the present tourist park and that the city be given control and supervision of the pool and this park be made a center of community activities, including the tennis courts and playgrounds.

The committee reported after investigation of Omaha pools that they were being cleaned and whitewashed.

Found a Cure for Indigestion

"I use Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets for indigestion and find they suit my case better than any dyspepsia remedy I have ever tried and I have used many different medicines. I am nearly fifty one years of age and have suffered a great deal from indigestion. I can eat almost anything I want to, now," writes George W. Emory, Rock Mills, Ala. These tablets contain no poisons, but strengthen the stomach and enable it to digest the food naturally.

twice a week and recommended that the water be changed as frequently as is the custom in the metropolitan pools. The operating costs including the interest on the investment and the sinking fund for repayment of the amount required to construct the pool would amount to $2,500 per annum, which the committee felt could easily be realized through the charging of a nominal fee. The report also stated the city park board had agreed to do what was possible to help make the proposition a success.

The discussion that followed was greatly more to the point of where the pool should be located than the matter of financing and going ahead with the work, and the issue complicated with a discussion of the proposal offered some time ago for a recreation center at the old Fitzgerald forty on Chicago avenue, which had been projected at a cost of $32,000.

T. H. Pollock was pleased that the park board in view of the matter and that the swimming pool would be a great advertisement for the city, although later Mr. Pollock discussed to some extent the question of whether the grounds could hold both the tourists and the residents of the city out for recreation.

William Baird thought that there should be a more scientific knowledge of the exact amount of ground that was available and suitable for the use of the pool, the cars that would be parked there by the persons using the pool and whether the remaining space would be sufficient for the use of a tourist park.

President Davis urged that the matter of financing the proposition be given the first consideration and whether the citizens desired the pool and the amount of ground that almost everyone favored the pool.

Mayor Johnson stated that the only way that the city could put in the pool would be by the issuance of bonds and that if a municipal owned proposition it must be free to the public without charge in his opinion.

L. W. Lorenz was of the opinion that it should be self-supporting and should be an enterprise arranged by the citizens through subscriptions or donations and be conducted so as to pay its costs.

Frank M. Bestor, chairman of the council finance committee, did not think the city could at this time finance the proposition and did not know whether they had the right to allow a private owned enterprise to be located on their park.

George L. Farley offered some suggestions that were of interest and this was that the placing of a recreation center at the park would eliminate its usefulness as a tourist park. The president called upon Mr. J. L. Tidball to give his experience in the construction of the community auditorium at Holdridge, and Mr. Tidball stated that there the committee in charge had secured subscriptions and had named two trustees and these had issued notes that were retired from time to time together with the interest, until the cost of the building was realized and during this time the revenue from the building more than paid the cost.

Mr. Thelen offered a very timely suggestion that the tourist park be placed in a more suitable location than where it now is, and that this be made the recreation center.

After several more discussions of the matter, the swimming pool was returned to the committee to gather further data and to report at the next meeting although the time is short in which to put the plans into execution for 1924.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

From Tuesday's Daily—

Yesterday afternoon Charles Miller, one of the old residents of this locality, was taken to Omaha, where he will be placed in the hospital there for treatment, as he has been a sufferer for some time from dropsy and has been in a very serious condition for several weeks past. The many friends of Mr. Miller are hopeful that he may soon be able to recover from the attack and be able to return home relieved of his affliction.

AMERICAN LEGION MEETS AND HOLDS FIRST INITIATION

New Ritualistic Work Given Class of Candidates by Local Officers—Also Enjoy Luncheon.

From Thursday's Daily—

Last evening the local post of the American Legion held a very pleasant meeting at the club rooms in the Leonard building and which was attended by a very large number of the membership and for the first time in the history of the post here the ritualistic services of the initiation was carried out by the officers of the organization.

In addition to former members here and elsewhere the post has secured a large number of new members from the former service men in the community who have joined in the contest that the Legion is making in behalf of the service men and women over the nation for the protection of the sick, disabled and needy veterans and their families and for the rights of those who served freely and honorably for their country in the world war.

The ritual of the Legion adopted at the last national convention is a most impressive one and teaches lessons of patriotism in the cardinal virtues required to construct the American republic is founded.

Following the initiation and the regular session of the post, the members were invited into the dining room of the club rooms, where the refreshment committee composed of Henry Soennichsen, Edwin Fricke and Robert Reed had prepared a fine cafeteria luncheon that was served in the most approved style and the sandwiches washed down with copious draughts of the far famed tricolored coffee.

After the luncheon the time was spent informally in visiting and enjoying a real visit and get together session of the membership that was much enjoyed by all of the bunch present.

Another meeting will be held on Thursday evening, March 20th, and at which more of the new members will be taken in and also on the first meeting night in April the contest will be closed in the membership drive and the new members taken into the society.

OIL DRILLING AT NEHAWKA PUSHED

Work is Now Reaching Stage Where Some Showing is Being Made in the Work.

The oil situation at the Shrader farm between Nehawka and Murray continues to be the chief topic of conversation of the local residents of the county and the residents there are feeling that the result is going to be all that has been anticipated by the state geologists and the promoters of the oil proposition.

The machinery has been in place for some time for the work and as a result of the bad weather the operators were delayed in getting the drilling started as soon as they had hoped for but now the work is getting well under way and since Saturday the drilling has been going on at the new field and yesterday the drillers were able to have a good day of the work and the hole that is being made in the location of the well is getting to resemble a real oil well.

Dr. Condra of the state university is the supervising representative of the state in the oil drilling operations and he has been in the field at all times to look over the result of the drilling. Dr. Condra is planning to have moving pictures made of the operations in the oil fields and which will be a valuable addition to the moving picture history of the state. The state university has been arranging in the last few years.

The lighting and power plants have been placed on the ground and it is expected that when the drilling gets under the full swing that the operations will be carried on both day and night until the well reaches the desired depth at which it is hoped to have some definite result of the question of whether or not there is oil in the locality of where the well is being sunk.

OLD TIME RESIDENT OF LOUISVILLE DIES IN EAST

E. C. Twiss, for many years financier of A. O. U. W. lodge No. 137, informs us of the death of George Lillie at his home in Philadelphia on February 29, 1924, from the effects of a fall. He was at the head of a chemical firm in Philadelphia. He is survived by his widow and two daughters.

Mr. Lillie and family lived in Louisville during the old pottery days. His daughters were then little girls and were named Orpha and Louise. They lived in what was called the J. V. Glover place, now owned by P. C. Stander, who has built another house on the same location. This old house was recently destroyed by fire, having been moved a block farther north on the same street. Mr. Lillie joined the A. O. U. W. lodge here in February 1, 1888, and during all these 36 years he has retained his membership here, carrying a $2,000 insurance policy.

Mr. Lillie was associated here in the pottery work with Philip Kahler, now president of the Kahler Pottery company at Louisville, Louis McGrew, Archie Blackwell, S. B. McLearn, who was foreman, and others, and is well remembered by our earlier settlers for his fine voice, his singing giving much pleasure to his friends here. They will learn of his death with regret and will join the Courier

Q. Z. SOCIETY MEETS

From Thursday's Daily—

The Q. Z. society of the Presbyterian church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ada Moore, with Mrs. Paul Wohlfarth as hostess. The election of officers was one of the many interesting items of business. It resulted in the following officers being elected for 1924-25:

- Mrs. H. F. Goos, president.
- Mrs. Tidball, 1st vice president.
- Mrs. L. L. McCarty, 2nd vice president.
- Mrs. E. P. Stewart, corresponding secretary.

The ladies voted also to have an Easter sale of baskets and doll hats and bonnets. Arrangements were made for having this at the Nebraska Lighting company's office on April 12th—one week before Easter, so the little doll lovers can buy their dollies the new Easter bonnet. Bazaar plans and work always occupy a large part of the afternoon.

There was a very large attendance present and the delicious luncheon served by the hostess added to the pleasures of the afternoon.

JUDGE TROUP AFFIRM HIS POSITION ON QUINTON CASE

It was announced Wednesday evening at the office of Governor Chas. W. Bryan that the state executive had been in communication with Judge A. C. Troup of Omaha, who presided in the trial of former Sheriff C. D. Quinton at this city in January. Judge Troup had not only presided at the trial but also sentenced the former sheriff when he was convicted by the jury in the disbarment court on six counts of the indictment charging malfeasance in office.

Judge Troup stated to the governor that he did not intend, when passing on the supersedeas bond of Mr. Quinton, to suspend that part of his court order covering the removal of the sheriff from office. The judge stated that there might be some dispute as to whether the order of removal stands, but it was his intention to remove the disability at the time he approved the bond.

At the time of the passing of sentence, Judge Troup stated that the penalty represented by the fine was inadequate and he therefore, under the provisions of the statute, also removed Mr. Quinton from office.

TO OBSERVE ANNIVERSARY

The announcements have been received here by the old time friends of the forthcoming golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus R. Adams of Eagle, and who are among the best known residents in the county. The happy event that is being celebrated on March 18th at Eagle, occurred in Omaha in March 1874, and since that time Mr. and Mrs. Adams have made their home here and in Eagle for the greater part of the time.
