W. C. PARRIOTT FOR SUPREME JUDGE

To the Voters of the First Supreme

Judicial District:

The suggestion that I enter the contest for supreme judge came from others; the decision to enter was wholly a decision of my own and I assume all responsibility in connection therewith.

The ballot is an open forum and I make no apology to any man or set of men for my entrance into this contest. I was born in this supreme judicial district, educated in its schools and have always lived among the people whom I now seek to serve. I have been taught and have taught others to rise or fall as a result of our own ambition and our own efforts. If I emerge victorious from this battle of ballots I shall regard it as a call to service, if I fail, I shall remember it as one more effort to accomplish something worth while.

I was with no little reluctance that I made my decision to oppose two good friends, one who had filed early and the other who I knew would file later. Waiting for the voluntary retirement of either gave me but little hope. Life is too short. If I am ever to realize my ambition to serve upon the supreme court of this state I want to give that service at the time in my life when it will be the very best. However this may be, my association with these two men during my four years work upon the supreme court commission was very pleasant and we formed warm and enduring friendships which, I am sure, will survive this contest.

When I stand as a candidate before the people I realize that I am submitting myself as a target, but not without reserving to myself the right to explode my own ammunition in the direction of the opposing forces. I deny the right of any man or men to claim a monopoly upon any position within the gift of the people. Even though my opponents have had a combined period of occupancy of somewhere between thirty and forty years upon the supreme bench of this state, I yield to neither of them the right to claim superior qualifications in education, experience, activity or natural adaptation for the work required.

If I am successful, a splendid opportunity for service awaits me. I have full faith in the belief that I can greatly assist in accomplishing what the litigants and tax payers of this state are demanding and have a right to demand, to-wit: the clearing of the docket of the supreme court of its years of accumulated cases. When this is done litigants will be able again to get deserved relief within a reasonable time. This will also mean a reduction in expense incident to delays in litigation which has caused many people to lose confidence in our courts.

When I say that I will be able to assist in clearing the supreme court docket I am not indulging in any theory. I helped to do it once before as the records will show. There is nothing that has been so impressed upon the minds of the people of Nebraska as the truth of the saying that "Justice delayed is justice denied." This condition ought to be and can be changed.

Believing that the greatest qualifications for a supreme judge are, a real education and a disposition to work, and claiming to be equipped with both, I am appealing to the people of my native state for an opportunity to serve in this most important work at this most opportune time.

Sincerely yours,

W. C. PARRIOTT.

Durand is not the only element in an experience worth while.

GAIN NEW LIGHT ON TEXAS LAND FRAUDS

Tales of Gay Excursions to the Rio Grande Valley with Liquor on Side, Told Committee.

Washington, March 31.—Tales of being taken on gay excursions to the Rio Grande valley in Texas and treated with liquor en route, but guarded from contact with inhabitants and then sold land that turned out to be misrepresented, were told in letters read from the files of the post office department today before the senate committee investigating alleged land frauds in that region. Telegrams sent from Washington by R. B. Creager, republican national committeeman from Texas, charged with being a party to alleged land "deals," and by his attorney, George A. Hill Jr., and received by them here, since December 1, were given into the keeping of the committee over the protest of Mr. Hill and telegraph officials.

The letters read were in answer to questionnaires sent by Postal Inspector J. M. Donaldson, at Kansas City, Mo., to persons alleged to have been defrauded in the Rio Grande land purchases.

A. E. Wilmer, of Adel, Iowa, wrote that he had been informed by a Rio Grande valley land agent that he could get cheap labor and good crops there, but had not obtained either.

Under date of May 7, 1918, George C. and Jennie A. Brownell, told of leaving Watertown, S. D., for "Magic Valley, in the Rio Grande Valley," on an excursion in which they were "shown a good time."

W. S. Smith and George Nickels of Murray were here today attending to some matters with the board of county commissioners.

Reese Hastain and W. F. Diers of Louisville were here today to attend to some matters connected with the Louisville bridge.
