

NEBRASKA WILL PRODUCE GREATER YIELD OF WHEAT

Reports Received at Omaha Indicate An Increase of 13,219,000 Bushels Over the Past Year.

Omaha, Neb., June 25.—Nebraska will produce 41,429,000 bushels of winter wheat, an increase of 13,219,000 bushel, or 47 per cent, over last year's crop, according to an authoritative estimate of June 1, received in Omaha.

That Nebraska farmers and those of other states having winter wheat for sale this year will receive a good price for their grain is the firm conviction of officials of the American Railway association in analyzing the estimated production for the entire United States. The June 1 estimate shows a decrease of 53,021,000 bushels for the entire country.

Adverse conditions during May reduced the forecast from 269,293,000 bushels as of May 1, to 241,227,000 bushels June 1. In five states showing increases, in ten other wheat growing states, in which the May 1 bushels less than the 1923 production, the June 1 estimate brought a further reduction of 17,460,000 bushels.

These figures indicate that the roads serving the Middle Western states are likely to experience considerably heavy requirements for grain cars than last year depending, of course, upon the extent of the early movement. L. M. Betts, manager of the closed car section, American Railway association comments in analyzing the estimates. "Recent reports of foreign crop conditions point to the possibility of a better export demand a little later. This prospect, together with the reduced production, is likely to result in price conditions that will move a considerable volume of the new crop as fast as harvested," he adds.

The railroads are favorably situated to comply all transportation required for this movement, Mr. Betts reports.

IOWA DELEGATES TO STICK TO UNIT RULE AND M'ADOO

Edwin Meredith Says It Will Not Be Abrogated So Far as Loyalty to McAdoo Concerned.

New York, June 25th.—Talk of abrogation of the unit rule in a meeting of the Iowa delegation to the democratic convention today led to widespread reports that the delegation was about to quit William G. McAdoo. Some members of the delegation said their understanding of the agreement reached was that after casting the state's vote for McAdoo on the first two ballots, no further attempt would be made to act as a unit.

Edwin T. Meredith, former secretary of agriculture and a member of the delegation, declared there was no such intention. He said the decision to waive the high rule applied only to any vote taken in a platform fight and tonight he issued this formal statement through McAdoo headquarters:

"Confusion has arisen with regard to the unit rule in control of the Iowa delegation. The situation is this: The unit rule prevails with regard to the nomination of our candidate for the presidency and no change whatsoever has taken place despite contrary reports which have been broadcast in the press of the country. The unit rule has been waived only in voting on certain features of the platform. The Iowa delegation is committed absolutely under its unit rule for the nomination of William G. McAdoo.

VETERANS NOT ALLOWED TO VOTE ON KLAN PROPOSAL

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 26.—Twice within a few minutes disabled American veterans of the world war, in national convention here today, fought off two incomplete motions that the delegates go on record as opposing the ku klux klan. Edward A. Byrne, of St. Louis, the first man to offer such a motion, was cut off in flash by National Commander James A. McFarland and ruled out of order. Commander McFarland was justified in his action by a rising vote. "Our constitution states that the disabled American veterans will not take part in any political or religious discussion," he said.

MANLEY NEWS ITEMS

Investigations from a private source have about secured the needed information to convict the parties who broke into the Manley pool hall and stole the baseball goods a short time since and it is the intention that unless the goods are returned to institute the law in their recovery.

Joseph Wolpert was working on the farm during a portion of last week making fence and other needed repairs on the place. John P. Stander and wife were looking after some business matters at Weeping Water last Friday, driving over in their Universal car.

Charles Schafer was delayed one day last week on his regular visit in Manley for supplying gas and oil to his customers, on account of the excessive rain of last Thursday.

Herman Mann, Jr., the auto mechanic, and by the way a good one, was at the garage which he has at the Herman Dall establishment in Manley.

Fred Fleischman, the barber, and by the way a most clever workman in his line, accompanied by Mrs. Fleischman, was a visitor at both Louisville and Plattsmouth last Friday, where they were looking after some business matters as well as visiting with their friends.

The members of the Royal Neighbors of America of Manley were attending the district meeting of the order at Weeping Water and were being entertained by the camp at the visiting camp a most pleasant time during the meeting and their stay there.

Fred Bricka, of Lincoln, was a visitor at the home of J. C. Rauth last Monday evening, remaining for the night and also purchased and took home with him some of the excellent cherries which are grown on the Rauth farm.

Win. Rauth and the children, of near Wabash were visiting at the home of J. C. Rauth for the day last Sunday.

Miss Rena Christensen, of east of Weeping Water was a visitor with her sister, Mrs. H. J. Rauth, last Sunday and Monday.

C. N. Mayers, of south of Manley, was taken to the hospital in Omaha last week, where he is to undergo an operation for the removal of an abscess of the throat. He is hoped by the many friends of this excellent gentleman that he will come out of the operation nicely and soon be restored to his usual health.

Andrew Stander and the family, of near Louisville and Murdock, were visitors at the home of his parents, August Stander and wife near Manley last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Muckenhaupt, with the new Stearns Knight auto, were in Omaha last Monday, and on their return brought Mrs. John Muckenhaupt home with them, and who is doing very nicely since arriving at home.

Manley People Very Enterprising The people of Manley are in earnest regarding the doing of the Red Ball highway and a number of the citizens were out painting the poles a few coats of white in order that the red ball may be placed thereon designating the section to the road from west of Murray to its juncture with the highway 11 two miles south of Elmwood, or what is known as primary 5-A. Among those who were active in the work were Henry O'Leary, Monroe Nelhart, Omar H. Coon, Rollin Coon, W. J. Coon, John Crane, A. H. Humble, Edward Kelly and Herman Dall.

Many Prices for Gas The gasoline question is one which is a puzzle to those who do not know the workings of the business and the power of the "gas." It is reported that gas which was selling retail at 20 1/2 cents in Louisville was drawn from the storage tanks at that place and hauled to a point in Sarpy county and retailed at 13 a number of days before the price was reduced to 17 at Louisville. During the past week there were nearly as many prices on gas in Cass county as there were towns.

The people keep worrying just why such a condition should exist and are much puzzled over it.

MAY PROVE FATAL

When Will Plattsmouth People Learn the Importance of Avoiding Trouble? Backache is only a simple thing at first. But if you find 'tis from the kidneys; That serious kidney troubles may follow: That dropsy or Bright's disease may be the fatal end.

You will be glad to know the following experience. 'Tis the statement of a Plattsmouth citizen. Wm. Hassler, proprietor of blacksmith shop, Fifth and Oak streets, says: "I know the straining work I have had to do most of my life as a blacksmith caused my back to weaken. Many times I have been down shoeing a horse when a sharp stitch took me through my kidneys and hurt severely. My back was stiff and lame at times. I started to use Doan's Pills and they soon corrected the trouble and made my back strong again. About two boxes from Weyrich & Hadraba's Drug Store was all I had to use. I can work every day now and give Doan's the credit for my good condition. I always keep Doan's on hand and take them occasionally to keep my kidneys well and they never fail."

KELLOGG TOLD TO ATTEND PREMIERS' LONDON MEETING

"U. S. Anxious to Have Dawes Plan in Effect Immediately," Says White House.

Washington, D. C., June 25.—Ambassador Kellogg at London was instructed today to attend the forthcoming conference of premiers for discussing execution of the Dawes reparations plan.

His appointment was announced in a White House statement which said that Kellogg would attend the conference "for the purpose of dealing with such matters as effect the interests of the United States and otherwise for the purpose of information."

This action was determined upon after the state department had been advised by the ambassador that an invitation for the United States to participate had been handed the American embassy in London.

A possible immediate interest of the Washington government in the forthcoming discussions, is seen, however, in the connection between German payments under the Dawes plan and obligations of that nation to the United States under the American treaty with Germany.

Italy to Attend. Rome, June 25.—Rome newspapers say the Italian government has accepted an invitation to attend the proposed allied conference to be held in London in July.

To Invite Japan. London, June 25.—Japan will be included among the nations invited to the allied conference in July.

THE WILLING WORKERS ENJOY PLEASANT MEETING

On Friday afternoon the Willing Workers' club, of Mynard, were delightfully entertained at the pleasant country home of Mrs. Roy O. Cole. The topic of study was "Home" and a good program was prepared by Mrs. C. C. Barnard, assisted by Miss DeElla Verner, Mrs. L. G. Todd and Mrs. Roy O. Cole.

In response to the roll call, each one gave a quotation on "Home" that made the program very interesting. After the program, the remainder of the afternoon was spent in social conversation, after which delicious refreshments consisting of angel food cake, brick ice cream, strawberries and iced tea were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Lois Keefe, of Glenwood, Iowa.

This meeting closed the last of a series of studies on subjects issued by the state department of home economics, and has been very instructive as well as enjoyable to the members of the club.

The club voted to adjourn for the summer months, taking up other work in the fall. As a means of entertaining their husbands, a committee was appointed to plan a picnic dinner to be had in the near future.

Let us hope, for humanity's sake, says C. A. S., that no one will attempt to scotch the democratic convention by pouring oil on the troubled waters. They tried Dohney on the convention at Frisco four years ago, but it didn't calm down much.

TEACHERS MUST BE EIGHTEEN.

In speaking of the new certification law affecting the teachers in the schools of the state, County Superintendent Miss Alpha Peterson states that there are a number of changes in the law that covers the qualifications of a teacher. The new law requires that all teachers be citizens of the United States and also an important feature of the law is that setting the age at which the person can qualify as teachers in the school. The new section of the law fixing the age limit is as follows:

"Beginning September 1, 1924, all persons in order to be eligible to certification in Nebraska must have attained the age of eighteen years, if all requirements are met for a certificate, so that no one issued on the day the applicant is eighteen years of age and not before. Such applicants not authorized to teach before the issuance of the certificate."

INDIANS OF NORTH FACING NEW TASKS

Called Upon to Fashion Another Type of Tourist Souvenirs to Fit Travelers Fancy.

Cass Lake, Minn., June 25.—Dance fashion who, ever since the Indians relinquished their land, has smiled upon the red men, making their characteristic creations popular with the white brethren, now is frowning upon the offerings of the dexterous tribesmen.

Dr. W. B. Heagerty, superintendent of the Ojibway Sales Agency, says that the Indian's contributions to curio collections such as beaded things, blankets, lace handkerchiefs and miniature birch bark canoes, must be revolutionized to further capitalize the modern white man's passion for novelties.

The superintendent blames fashion which for the complicated situation which the agency, promoted by the Episcopal bishop of Duluth, now is attempting to solve by teaching its Indian proteges that, to continue in the bloodless fight against the high cost of living, they must cater to the fantastic whims bestowed by custom upon their white neighbors.

In the past, according to Dr. Heagerty, the Indian, or rather his squaw, found a ready market for the waste paper baskets, work baskets, miniature canoes and other trinkets, which they made with their own hands. But now fashion decrees that it is no longer good to have these curious in sight around the house, so sales have fallen to virtually nothing.

Ojibway women also make exquisite point-lace handkerchiefs which formerly brought fancy prices, but custom holds that they are no longer popular. They have been had the ornaments go a-begging, says the superintendent.

"Another conflicting angle" Dr. Heagerty continues "concerns the deadwork on bags, moccasins and chamois done by Ojibway women. The cost of gathering the furs and the quality so inferior that bead work cannot be done at a profit.

"And the worst of all the Indian deprived of his tribal costumes by the advance of civilization, cannot understand all this. It is especially difficult for them to turn their talent to other channels."

The problem was revealed to mission workers during the first year's operation of the Ojibway Sales Agency. This agency was established to help bring the rapidly diminishing tribesmen to better their lot and themselves and the white man's civilization by effecting "an economic and moral reformation."

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

Charles Meyer, a highly respected farmer of this vicinity, living east of town, had not been feeling well for some time, but his friends did not realize his condition until Sunday, when his temperature ran up so high that he was taken to the Emanuel hospital in Omaha thinking he would be operated on at once, but he was too weak, and up to Tuesday morning no report of an operation was received by relatives here.

They found an abscess on the spleen, and Mr. Davis, who is to operate, said when he first saw him, he had a fighting chance.

Jack Philpot took Mr. Meyer and his wife and Dr. Brendel, the physician in charge, up in his car. News from the hospital is anxiously looked for by his relatives and friends.—Weeping Water Republican.

TOM TAGGART SAYS HIS MAN IS GAINING

Everything Going Just as He Wants It to Bring About the Nomination of Ralston of Indiana.

New York, June 26.—This was a perfect Ralston day at the democratic convention, Thomas Taggart, the Indiana leader, declared tonight, as, collarless and in his shirt sleeves, he sat in his hotel headquarters and greeted his candidate's friends. Taggart wants Ralston's candidacy to be different from any other in the convention, and he declared happily tonight that he believed it is all of that so far. The simple brief presentation of Rawlston's name today, followed by singing of "On the Banks of the Wabash" without marching, siren-shrieking or other loud demonstration, was in strict accordance with Taggart's orders.

To date Taggart believes Ralston's candidacy has left no sore spots anywhere and he hopes it won't. If he has his way the leaders will eliminate each other by the very bitterness of their animosities and then Ralston will be brought out, without having made an enemy, to receive the nomination.

Rumors constantly fly about the hotel corridors that Taggart is only using Ralston as a stalking horse and that he has another candidate under cover. If this is true he is prodigious with his offers of bets on Ralston. The mere mention of the possibilities of any other candidate winning usually brings from him of a bet of a suit of clothes or hat on his candidate.

LATEST RADIO DOPE FROM CONVENTION

The democratic national convention today was largely given over to the outbursts of the delegates at the mention of the names of the various candidates for the nomination for president and the greatest demonstration of the day greeted the nominating speech of Franklin D. Roosevelt for Governor Alfred E. Smith, of New York.

The applause was continued for over an hour and the demonstration was renewed this afternoon on the seconding of the Smith nomination by Senator David I. Walsh of Boston. The spirit of the convention for the day was decidedly in favor of the popular New York governor and it was "Smith day." A counter demonstration was made this morning when Governor Sweet of Colorado seconded the name of William Gibbs McAdoo.

The name of Governor Charles W. Bryan of Nebraska has not yet been presented to the convention.
