HUGE FARM GRAIN FIRM IS BROUGHT INTO EXISTENCE

$26,000,000 Marketing Concern, Formed From Merger of Five Companies, Largest in U. S.

Chicago, July 15.—American farmers were given the opportunity to own the largest grain marketing company in the United States through the merger of five large grain companies. Four from Chicago and one from Kansas City, effected here today.

The Grain Marketing company, the merged concern, is capitalized at $26,000,000 and eventually is intended to be farmer owned, controlled and operated. The companies merged are the Armour Grain company, the Rosenbaum Grain corporation, the John C. Shaffer Grain company, Rosenbaum Bros., and the Davis, Nolan Merrill Grain company, the latter of Kansas City.

The new company, incorporated under the Illinois co-operative marketing act, which conforms to the national Capper-Volstead marketing act, will control elevator space in Chicago and other cities with a capacity of more than 50,000,000 bushels.

The Barton Food company of Chicago, mentioned in the original plans for the merger, is not included in today's plans but it was reported it might amalgamate later.

Under the financial plan for the merger, 1,000,000 shares of common stock of $1 par value, 1,000,000 shares of "A" preferred of $25 par value, and 500,000 shares of "B" preferred of $50 par value will be issued. The "A" preferred will be sold only to farmers, who will be given an opportunity to buy an equal number of shares of common stock, the common stock not to be disposed of in any other manner.

The "B" preferred stock is to be redeemed as rapidly as the "A" preferred is sold, so that eventually farmers will be the only stockholders in the merged concern, producers and grain growers.

Besides large elevator space in Chicago, the merged concern will also control space in Kansas City, Omaha, Minneapolis, Fort Worth, Tex., and points in the east, including Toledo, Fairport, O.; Erie, Pa.; Buffalo and some export points, including Alveston, Texas City, Tex.; Norfolk and Depot Harbor.

Officials to Retain Posts. The committee representing co-operative elevator concerns, the American farm bureau federation and various other farm agencies of a co-operative nature which has been studying the proposition and which has endorsed the plan with reservations, said that it will continue to watch development of the project for a time before taking final action.

The executive officials of the big grain companies included in the merger have offered to run the merged company for five years and instruct the growers in the handling of grain. The executives of the five companies, according to their plan, will work on a salary basis, the new company being run by a board of directors with the farmers in control of two-thirds of the directorate. On the board it is planned to have men representing the elevator companies, grain dealers, bankers and railroads.

The new company, those in charge of the merger said, will assist all cooperation in marketing their grain and solving financial problems and will effect economies by combining offices, leased wires and other facilities.
