Creditors and Firm Agree to Continue Hearing on Appointment of Receiver Until Later.

Omaha, Aug. 5.—By agreement between the Burgess-Nash company operators here of one of the largest department stores in the middle west and its creditors, Federal Judge Woodruff today continued until September 15, the hearing on application for appointment of a receiver for the concern.

Meantime the court directed the company is to make no further payments or refunds to persons who paid for profit-sharing stock, nor is it to make any payments to creditors on claims existing March 18, 1924. The company is, however, permitted to conduct its business in the regular way, paying current bills and expenses, thus continuing under the cash basis on which it has operated since March 18.

The court specifically exempted from his provision of no repayments to purchaser of profit-sharing stock, the Omaha Trust company, which has on deposit in a trust fund, approximately $75,000 of funds paid in on this stock.

Trust company officials said today that the $75,000 would probably be refunded today. It was deposited in the company by agreement between the Burgess-Nash company and the bureau of securities of the state of Nebraska, and as soon as the order is received for its repayment, it will go back to the people who intended it for the purchase of stock.

Agreement to continue the case of bankruptcy until September 15 came on representations by attorneys for the Burgess-Nash company and the Woods Brothers, that the latter are sincere in their efforts to reorganize the company.

CALLER ON FOR AID
Five disasters in one month is the record of Central Division, American Red Cross. According to a report just received by members of the local chapter, the division was called upon five times in five different states to render assistance in disasters. The outstanding feature of the Red Cross in all of these disasters is the promptness of chapter action. Division workers in charge of these disasters were high in their praise of the efficiency of the chapters.

A cyclone in Cascade county, Mont., tornadoes in Minnesota and the Dakota and windstorm in Illinois caused enormous damage to property and crops and considerable suffering among families in each community.

The first half of 1924 shows a record of more disasters drawing upon the relief sources of the American Red Cross than any similar period in its history. Thirty-five localities have been struck by floods, tornadoes, explosions, fires and epidemics, causing the Red Cross to contribute $200,000 from its national treasury and more than that amount from chapters.

Forty trained Red Cross workers are covering the tornado area at Lorain, Ohio, attending to every emergency need of the people who survived. The Lorain disaster caused the most widespread destruction of any hither by the Red Cross this year.

TEAM REORGANIZES
The local baseball team at their meeting Monday evening made some slight change in the officers of their organization which, it is thought, will make it easier for those in charge and give the very best results.

Harold Erickson has been continued as the secretary of the team and the trustees also will continue to handle the business affairs of the club outside of the booking arrangements.

In the field work, Herb Kitchie will continue as captain and have as his assistant, Joe McCarty, and these two gentlemen will be the board of control on the field work of the team.

DEPREATIONS CONTINUE
The work of the party or parties who have in the past week been active in the community in stealing tires from autos, still continues and the latest victim of the parties is Henry Sanders, the mail carrier, who this morning on opening his garage discovered the fact that there was a spare tire and rim missing from the equipment of his car. The stealing is without doubt the work of local people and the gang conducting the operations seems well organized and find a market for the stolen tires. There have been a large number of these thefts committed here and no trace of the missing tires found. It is more than probable that the tires are taken to Omaha or some other city and disposed of. The frequent depredations of these tire thieves has proven very costly ones to the Plattsmouth car owners. Largely the operations have been confined to stealing Ford tires as they are undoubtedly the most easy to dispose of.

MYNARD AID SOCIETY
The Mynard Aid Society of the U. B. church will meet Thursday afternoon, August 7th. All ladies are requested to bring sandwiches for the family and also a covered dish of some kind, plate, cup and fork. All are invited.

Miss Marion Maury was a visitor in Omaha today to spend a short time looking after some matters of business.

HUGHES RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN TOUR THIS WEEK

German Newspaper Men Compliment Secretary After Personal Contact in Interview.

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Two score of German newspaper men went to the American embassy shortly before the noon hour today to get a close view of Charles Evans Hughes, the American secretary of state. Hughes greeted the journalists affably. He reiterated his faith in the Dawes plan, and said he hoped it would be put into execution speedily.

Another writer afterward wrote complimentary accounts of his personal contact with the American diplomat. One of the articles dilated on his "keenly intellectual face, delicate features and carefully groomed beard."

Still another writer expressed the opinion that Hughes as secretary of state, is in the right position to give the world a political aspect which will correspond to the sentiments and hopes that America's unlimited resources may be mobilized into the service of aiding the world in its present distressful state.

Hughes today had luncheon with members of the diplomatic corps in Berlin and later attended a tea at which Frau Stresemann was hostess in the gardens adjoining the foreign office. He also visited the chancellery, through which he was conducted by Frau Marx, wife of the chancellor, who showed him Bismarck's room, the Iron Chancellors' famous hall, and the well known Hall of Mirrors.

Hughes left for Bremen tonight to embark tomorrow on the steamship President Harding for his journey homeward.

CHANGE NOMINEES TO INDEPENDENT TICKET
Pierre, S. D., Aug. 4.—Thomas H. Ayers, head of the farm labor movement in this state, and their candidate for United States senator, today filed the withdrawal of the farm labor regular nominees for presidential electors, and filed out the independent list with new names, eliminating the double list of La Follette electors in this state.

R. J. Richards of Huron filed a petition as independent candidate for Fred E. La Follette of Greenwood, for state treasurer, John O. Strand of Webster as state auditor, Caroline A. Walner of Freeman as superintendent of public instruction and William Bartling of Clayton for congressional electors, and filed out the independent ticket for the fall election backing La Follette's candidacy.

Charles Ash Bates of Bennett county filed his petition as an independent candidate for congress from the Third congressional district.

TALK OF REPLACING WHEELER WITH BRYAN.
Great Falls, Mont., Aug. 4.—Hugh M. Jones, vice president of the "La Follette progressive party of Montana," and one of the signers of a telegram which was sent today to John Nelson, Chicago, La Follette campaign manager, which stated that the party "reserves the right" to circulate petitions favoring placing the names of Charles W. Bryan for vice president on the La Follette ticket, will not do so, W. G. Lee, was a protest against the appointment of Dewey Dorman as western manager for the La Follette forces.

TOURISTS ARE NUMEROUS.
Chicago, Ill., Aug. 4.—John B. Nelson, national campaign manager of the Robert M. La Follette independent candidate for the presidency, tonight denied that the national La Follette forces were behind the move to make Governor Bryan of Nebraska, their vice presidential candidate in Montana in preference to Senator Wheeler of Montana.

TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF BELGIUM INVASION.
Brussels, Aug. 4.—On this, the tenth anniversary of the invasion of Belgium in the world war, at 10 o'clock this morning, the hour at which, on August 4, 1914, the first German troops crossed the Belgian frontier, the sirens on the Belgian factories and the whistles of locomotives and steamships gave the signal for minute's silence. Many of the inhabitants were in tears when after this brief interval the bells rang out from every belfry, recalling Belgium's liberation after the suffering.

GOOD SHOWS COMING.
The Plattsmouth theatrogoers have two first class attractions this week at the local movie houses that are among the successes of the past season. The Parmele theatre this evening will present Gloria Swanson in "Bluebeard's Eighth Wife," the first of a large list of Paramount and First National pictures that they have signed up for, and which is one of the best that the clever Gloria has offered on the silver sheet. This theatre also is to have "The Covered Wagon" to offer to the Plattsmouth people and which is one of the really great pictures of the year.

The Filmland also for the week ending Saturday, has one of the greatest successes of the past few months, a comedy de luxe with the prince of funmakers, Harold Lloyd in his newest picture, "Giri Shy." Those who have seen Harold in his other productions, "The Sailor Made Man," "Dr. Jack," "Safety Last" and "Why Worry," will find that he has in his latest picture eclipsed them all for fun and action and the beauty of a tender theme woven in "Grandma's Boy" finds a place in the rip roaring fun producing picture that he comes with Saturday.

DELAYS TERMINAL TAX UNTIL SETTLED

Rolling Stock Valuations Not to be Distributed Until Litigation Pending is Decided.

State Tax Commissioner W. H. Smith has written county clerks that he has not included railroad rolling stock in assessed valuations under the terminal tax law because of litigation over the method of distribution of such valuation. The district court of Lancaster county decided against the method which has been employed by the state board. The case was immediately appealed to the supreme court of Nebraska, but this court will not be in session until September. When the suit is decided the state tax commissioner will distribute the property in accordance with rulings of the court.

Under the present method cities and villages on main line railroads obtain a greater proportionate share of the rolling stock values than cities and villages on branch roads. An Omaha lawyer has a contract for a commission on all gains in valuation he may obtain for branch town lines. The valuation for terminal taxation purposes affects cities and villages and in no way affects the total valuation of railroad property for general taxation of railroads.

The rolling stock involved in the suit is owned by the Union Pacific, Burlington, Rock Island and Missouri Pacific railroads.

ASSAIL CAPITALISTS IN THEIR PLATFORM
Workers Point Out Fundamental Evil of America's Existing Social System.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—The "fundamental evil" of the existing social system in America, is that "the raw materials and industries of the United States are owned by the Gargys, Morgans, Rockefellers, Fords, McCorbucks and other great capitalists," declares the platform of the workers' party of America, on which William Z. Foster, workers' party candidate, will make his contest for president. The platform was made public tonight at the central executive committee of the workers' party.

"The government of the United States is and has been a government of, by and for the capitalists," the platform says in advocating using government power for the workers and the farmers "as it is now used by the capitalist dictatorship."

The platform declares each of the presidential candidates of the two major parties was nominated by capitalists and declared that Senator La Follette, independent candidate, "is equally a supporter of the capitalist system of exploitation." The goal of farmers and workers must be similar to that of Russian peasants and workers, the platform says.

BROTHERHOOD DOESN'T JOIN LA FOLLETTE ENDORSEMENT
Portsmouth, Va., Aug. 4.—The brotherhood of railroad trainmen as a national organization, did not join the American federation of labor in endorsing the presidential candidacy of Senator La Follette and almost 100,000 members of the organization, declared here today.

TOURISTS ARE NUMEROUS.
The great outdoors is calling very effectively to a large part of the tourists who are flocking to this city these long hot summer days judging by the steady stream of autos passing through this city over the King of Trails both north and south.

A few moments stay on one of the corners along which passes the highway will disclose cars from almost every state in the union, from east to west and north to south. The other evening cars from Oregon, New York, Utah, Minnesota, North Dakota, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Ohio and Kentucky were to be seen rolling along the highway, some going to the north while the residents from the Dakotas and Minnesota were southward bound to see a new country while the dwellers in the southland were seeking the Minnesota lake country.

If our old friend, Henry Ford, has done nothing else he has made it possible for thousands to get acquainted with many other sections of country aside from that in which they live and the people are every summer becoming better acquainted with their fellow citizens over the country.

Every evening there are from two to eight cars parked at the tourist park in this city and this is just an indication of the many hundreds that each day and night are parked in the larger places over the country.

SUFFERS SEVERE INJURY
Last evening while Guy Straight was cranking his car near the Plattsmouth State bank building he was unfortunate enough to have the right forearm injured when the car back-fired and the young man was struck by the crank of the car, resulting in the fracture of the arm. Mr. Straight has suffered a great deal of pain from the injury and will have to do his steering of the auto with his left hand in the future until the injured arm is healed up.

MOTION PICTURES TO BE MADE OF THE COMBINE HARVEST

Colorado Farmers Do Their Stuff Before the Critical Eye of Movie Camera in Cheyenne Co.

The moving picture camera out in Cheyenne county, Colorado, has secured a real record of the work of the wheat harvest in that locality, where the harvesting is carried out by the use of the large combines.

The process used in handling the harvest on the Colorado farms is unique to the average resident of the east and the movies will give them a real insight into the work.

The Cheyenne County News, of Cheyenne, Colorado, has the following very interesting account of the taking of the pictures, and T. H. Pollock, who has just returned from that locality states the occasion attracted much attention:

"Cheyenne Wells and Cheyenne county have been on the map for a long time, but never until now have they been able to break into motion pictures.

"Learning of the advanced manner in which wheat was being harvested in this county, and that the largest combine thresher in the world was operating here, a Denver Pathe News photographer was sent to this county last Saturday to take a series of motion pictures showing the difference between cutting and threshing wheat with headers and a threshing machine, as used by Frank M. Swanson.

"The picture of the headers working in connection with a threshing machine was taken at the Louie Brugger farm last Saturday afternoon and, by the way, this method of handling a wheat crop would be a revelation to wheat growers 'back east,' where 40 acres is considered an enormous crop.

"The photographing of the big combine, owned by Mr. Swanson, and with which he is harvesting his 1,200 acres of wheat, most of which is on the Lucas ranch about five miles northwest of Cheyenne Wells, was postponed until Sunday morning. About 40 cars, loaded with 200 people drove out to the wheat field to see the interesting operation and pictures of the immense machine and the crowd watch it were taken from all possible angles. In the afternoon more pictures were taken of the combine in a different field, and also at the elevator showing the automatic dumping of wheat into bins, the elevation of the wheat and running it into cars ready for shipment.

"It might be interesting for some people to learn that this big factory on wheels operated by Mr. Swanson, cuts a swath 36 feet wide and also threshes the grain at the same time."

SETS A VERY GOOD RECORD

From Greenwood in the northwest portion of the county comes the story of real grain movement in that locality. On one day last week there was shipped from that place fourteen cars of corn, sold at better than $1 per bushel and which was delivered by the farmers in the immediate vicinity of Greenwood. The result of the large deliveries and the good price means that the residents of that section are going to have a large slice of the prosperity that the advancing grain prices have brought to this part of the state.
