Ruffner, while working in the mow storing away hay, came in contact with a nest of bumble bees which became irritated and declared war on the doctor without any notice to him and before he was aware they had made a concerted attack, stinging Edward every severely, so much so that he was put out of the running after he had run to get away, for the bees stung him so severely that he was indeed sick for a couple of days.
Will Build Farm Home
Mr. Kropp, who owns the farm where Ed Schomaker farms, will immediately build a new house on the place which will cost about $2,500, the contract for which having been given to J. A. Scotten, and we can say right here that Mr. Kropp has made an excellent choice in his selection of a man to build the house. Mr. Scotten has constructed two excellent homes this season already and will have the third one ready for occupancy in the early fall. Mr. Scotten and his co-teries of workmen always do the right kind of work.
Better Farm Homes
The writer visited the new home which Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Way are having constructed on their farm on the Federal highway south of Murray. The new house contains all that is to be desired in a home with six rooms and bath on the first floor and three chambers above and ample light and good ventilation. The basement occupies the entire space under the house with a porch at the west end and laundry appliances of the most modern type which save the housewife much work. Leading from the basement is a cave which is built from hollow tile and arched over with cement and with the shrubbery that will be placed this will be indeed a most beautiful home.

Prominent in Murray Life

Dr. G. H. Gilmore has practiced nearly thirty years in Murray. The doctor was born on a farm some half dozen miles west of Murray on August 20, 1867, and attended schools in the country until he had outgrown them and then went to the state normal at Peru, after which he engaged in teaching, being an instructor at Columbus for one year, in 1890, when he concluded he would enter the life of a physician and so went to the Rush medical college, from which he graduated in 1895 and immediately entered practice in Murray, having been here ever since with the exception of one year when he was with the American Expeditionary forces in France.
Dr. Gilmore was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gilmore, who came to Nebraska in 1854, some thirteen years before the birth of the doctor. The parents were of the 260 who first came to Nebraska, landing near Rock Bluffs on a raft, which they had constructed on the other side of the river.
Dr. Gilmore was united in marriage to Miss Bessie Walker on May 22, 1891, and from this union three children were born, Walker Gilmore, who is just about to complete his course in medicine at the University of Iowa, and a most amiable young lady whose loss her parents have never fully recovered from, and John Gilmore, the youngest, who is at this time about ten years of age and a rustler.
Dr. Gilmore has been very successful in his practice and has also been successful in a business sense, having a beautiful home in Murray with his office, and a farm east of Murray. Dr. Gilmore has succeeded by dint of hard work and saving, as he has had heavy expenses most of the years.

AMERICAN SCHOOLS DESCRIBED AS SAFE

Denial by an Investigator of Any Taint of Disloyalty in Our Educational Institutions.
Washington, August 18.—There is no necessity for the general public to become excited about un patriotic propaganda seeping into the public schools of the United States, declared Milton Fairchild, chairman of the character education institution, recently in a reply to a letter sent out by Mrs. Anthony Wayne Cook, president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Cook warned state regents of her organization against the activities of those who are knowingly and deliberately disloyal to our government and our political institutions, but Mr. Fairchild asserted that the school authorities were competent to handle the situation, and that it was impossible for disloyal activities or propaganda to get a start in the schools.

"The boards of education," he said, "are made up of trustworthy citizens, superintendents and supervisors over the body of teachers."
In her letter Mrs. Cook said the "youth movement" aimed at the hearts of "the most sacred and moral foundations and will if promulgated in our secondary schools and colleges, aim to destroy the moral fibre of our girls and boys." Pacifist groups, she declared, "have even invaded our schools with their doctrines. Indeed, one group has a widely advertised set of illustrated 'school literature,' especially devised for its purpose and comment in its circular upon its success and popularity. The Daughters of the American Revolution mean to oppose with all the vigor and strength of their individuals who would substitute for our great institutions of government untried theories and dangerous communist doctrines."

Mr. Fairchild, in his answer, sets forth that he personally interviewed Mrs. Cook and others, asking for the sources of their information. These had been given, but upon investigation they were found to "have no reliable detailed information." He said he proposed to Mrs. Cook's organization and others that if they would furnish positive information, it would be put in the hands of school authorities.

Miss Anna Heisel was a visitor in Omaha today, where she spent a few hours visiting with friends and looking after some matters of business.

"THE UNPARDONABLE SIN" IS SUBJECT OF SERMON

Evangelist Robb Gives Very Interesting Sermon at Christian Church Last Evening.

From Thursday's Daily—
A church almost completely filled greeted the evangelist last evening when he began his discussion of his subject "The Unpardonable Sin." The night had been set apart as the one night in which the Christian church of Louisville would be especially recognized by the reason of their attendance in a body. The night was very warm and constant waving of fans gave evidence that these folks from the city of Louisville had shown considerable zeal and courage in coming through the heat to the revival meetings. Twenty-five were present from the Louisville church and the pastor of the local church had them stand on their feet while an ovation of hand-clapping gave manifestation of the appreciation that their attendance created.

The choir and congregation sang as if the intense heat was but a thing of imagination instead of being real. The evangelist prepared for the reception of his message by having those present listen to Scriptural reading from the 12th chapter of the Gospel according to Matthew from the 22nd to the 37th verses inclusive. The evangelist opened with a general discussion of the great subject of the Holy Spirit but made no effort to discuss at length the great divisions of the subject, such as the baptism of the Holy Spirit, the work or operation of the Holy Spirit, the Holy Spirit in conversion, the indwelling of the Holy Spirit, the personality of the Holy Spirit, and the witness of the Holy Spirit, but dealt at some length with the sin or blasphemy against the Holy Spirit. The evangelist emphasized that the Scriptures say what they mean, and mean what they say, relative to this great subject as well as the other great themes of the Bible. He further asserted that many are confused because that the Scriptures teach a greater offense is committed when one speaks against the Holy Spirit than when such is said against either God or the Son, Jesus Christ. This has led many to suppose that the Holy Spirit is of greater importance than either God or the Christ. This he pointed out was an incorrect conclusion but that sin against the Holy Spirit constituted a greater offense in that in sinning against the Holy Spirit one is sinning against complete light, therefore sinning against God the Father, Christ the Son, and the Holy Spirit, the third person in the Godhead. He further stated that any sin persisted in until death is an unpardonable sin but not the unpardonable sin. No theory is true that destroys the free agency of man, was another of the evangelist's assertions. If man commits this sin it is because he shuts the door of hope in his own face and not because God would not willingly receive him if he would but come to Him.

Very great concentration of attention was given the evangelist as he discussed upon this great subject. The results of the service were splendid in that two responded to the invitation and came forward to place their membership with the Plattsmouth church when the appeal was made to them by the evangelist and by the singing by the choir, "Lord, I'm Coming Home."

In very brief but solemnly impressive services baptism by immersion was then observed for three of the number who have lately confessed their faith in Christ.

Tonight the subject for discussion is "Pitching One's Tent Toward Sodom." The Plattsmouth folks have learned that they are well repaid for their attendance at the revival meetings in that the evangelist is always thoroughly familiar with his subject. Undoubtedly tonight he will again demonstrate his ability to instruct in the ways of righteousness.

DAVIS CONSIDERS AIDING FARMERS

Readjustment of Freight Rate Structure An Essential Step—Is Urged to Visit the West.

Locust Valley, N. Y., Aug. 18.—Readjustment of the freight rate structure and the full use of the machinery of the department of agriculture in stimulating the co-operative marketing movement, are regarded by John W. Davis as two essential steps in the relief of the agricultural industry.

In outlining his views on the question to his friends, the democratic nominee for president has told them he regarded the use of existing government agencies in aiding the farmers to market their own products as of more practical value than might be the setting up of new agencies under legislation recently proposed, such as the McNary-Haugen bill.

As to freight rate reconstruction, he has expressed the view that aid for the farmer in this direction ought to be possible without impairment of the railroads. He believes that the freight rate structure should be flexible enough to meet the economic conditions.

Clem L. Shaver, Mr. Davis, campaign manager, telegraphed the nominee today urging that he visit the middlewest in September. Mr. Shaver, who has been at the western headquarters in Chicago, sent a very optimistic report on the outlook there and supplemented his wire message by a telephone call.

FARIS CITES VICTORIES OF PROHIBITION PARTY

Candidate Says All Recent Reforms Were the Brain-Children of His Party.

Sedalia, Mo., Aug. 18.—The prohibition party will wage its campaign on the merits of the party and not on the demerits of other parties, H. P. Faris, prohibition party nominee for president, declared in an address. "For fifty years and more, our party has been electing the issues while other parties have been electing the offices and enjoying the emoluments and salaries."
"Many unthinking people," said Mr. Faris, "have regarded us as a party of 'one idea.' Instead, we have been the one party which has discovered, declared and fought for every reform measure brought to fruition in our national legislation for the past fifty years."
Outlining the reforms declared for by the prohibition party "years before thought of by other," Mr. Faris named: "Rural free delivery of the mails, parcel post, postal savings banks, good roads with federal aid, income tax, election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, prohibition and woman suffrage."
Mentioning disclosures of corruption in administrative affairs, he said: "The astounding revelations of corruption and maladministration in government extended to the cabinet itself are but the inevitable consequences of the moral bankruptcy of a political party which, perpetuating the old liquor regime, is dependent upon the wet vote for its margin of plurality."
R. W. Porter was a passenger this morning for Omaha where he will consult a specialist and expecting to enter a hospital there for treatment as the result of his back which was injured some time ago.

ADVISES LA FOLLETTE MEN

K. C. Knudson, appointed by Governor Bryan to be secretary of the department of trade and commerce, considers the governor's speech of acceptance a masterpiece. Mr. Knudson was formerly connected with the progressive party organization. Mr. Knudson said: "The La Follette and Wheeler followers would do well to thoroughly acquaint themselves before they vote with the democratic platform, with John W. Davis and C. W. Bryan, for a division of the progressive voters might prove disastrous to the progressive cause."
"While attending the New York convention and before John W. Davis was considered as an active candidate for president of the United States, I had the pleasure of conversing with him concerning the financial conditions of our state. I found much the same ideas and thoughts as outlined by Governor Bryan in his speech of acceptance."

RETURNS FROM VACATION

From Thursday's Daily—
Rev. H. Kottlich, the genial pastor of the St. Paul's Evangelical church, returned yesterday from his vacation in the east and is feeling very much refreshed by his rest and enters into the work of the church with renewed vigor and the members of the congregation were much pleased yesterday to greet the pastor on his return.

Robert Burkle, one of the switchmen in the local Burlington yards was a passenger this morning for Omaha to visit there for a few hours looking after some matters of business.
