LOSES TWO TIRES

From Thursday's Daily—
Last evening Ed Wilcox was awakened at his home near the O. K. garage and had the opportunity of seeing two parties in a Ford roadster drive away from the Wilcox home and taking with them two tires that had been on the car of Mr. Wilcox. Ed was unable to secure the number of the car and by the time the theft was reported and the police arrived on the scene the parties taking the tires were out of the vicinity and all trace of them lost as well as the tires. The great demand for tires and inner tubes and the easy way in which they can be disposed of makes tire stealing a very profitable industry judging from the energy with which it has been plied here in this locality.

FANS ARE PLEASED WITH PLAN FOR A BASEBALL TOURNEY

Public Urged to Get Back of Tournament that will be Big Advertisement for City.

From Monday's Daily—

The suggestion offered by the Journal of a baseball tournament here this fall to take place in the fore part of September is meeting with a great deal of interest from the fans and all those who realize the advantages that this big baseball festival will mean to the city in the way of an advertisement and a treat to the lovers of the great national pastime.

The tournament will require purses that will probably call for $500 and these must be assured and other smaller items will require some other small sums that should be secured by the tournament committee before the starting of the big event, but the result should more than repay any outlay that may be necessary, as the event should draw many hundreds here from this part of Nebraska and western Iowa to witness the games that will be staged.

The Plattsmouth team is a real one and will give the city a good advertisement by their excellent work on the diamond and deserve the cooperation and assistance of the civic organizations, the business men and citizens in general in staging the tournament that has been suggested.

It is urged that a meeting of those interested be held and that live and wideawake committees be appointed to arrange the event and that the tournament be a matter of civic interest as it will do much to put this city on the map in this part of the country.

Keep up the boosting and get ready to participate in the tournament when the time comes with your assistance, Mr. and Mrs. Plattsmouth and help put over the big sporting event of the fall season that will close the baseball year in a fitting manner.

A number of teams from southwestern Iowa are desirous of getting in the tournament and this shows how much this kind of an event will attract the people to this city.
