

Poultry Wanted!

TWO DAYS

Wednesday - Thursday
February 4 - 5th
Plattsmouth, Nebraska

A car load of live poultry wanted to be delivered at poultry car near the Burlington freight house, Plattsmouth WEDNESDAY and THURSDAY, February 4th and 5th (two days) for which we will pay the following—

Cash Prices

- Hens, per lb.-----18c
- Springs, per lb.-----18c
- Old Roosters, per lb.-----7c
- Geese, per lb.-----13c
- Ducks, per lb.-----17c
- Guineas, per dozen-----$3
- Beef Hides, per lb.-----9c
- Horse Hides, each-----$4
- Leghorn Poultry, 4c lb. less.

Farmers, Notice

Bring your poultry to our car at Plattsmouth. We ship in car lots and pay you the highest price you can get anywhere.

Remember we'll be here two days this time, and will pay above prices for your poultry.

W. E. KEENEY.

SELECT HATCHING EGGS CAREFULLY, DIVIDENDS WILL COME

The price received for eggs in the market is dependent more and more on size and color of the eggs. One of the best ways to raise the quality of eggs laid by the flock with respect to size and color is to be more careful as to the kind of eggs used for hatching. The Agricultural college, Lincoln, has found. Eggs selected for hatching should approach as nearly as possible our ideal of a high quality egg for market, because, with but slight variation a pullet or hen, will lay eggs like the one from which she was hatched. It has been proven that the male bird has an influence on the egg type of his progeny as well as the number of eggs laid.

Be more careful to discard from the hatching eggs all eggs that are large or small (two ounces per egg is that normal size), also all eggs that are misshapen, pointed, or round and all eggs that are off colored for the breed.

The notion that it is possible to predetermine the sex of chicks hatched or the fertility by setting eggs of a certain shape are absurd.

DAMAGE SUIT TO HIGH COURT

From Saturday's Daily—
The case of Chris Parkening, et al., vs the C. B. & Q. railroad company, which was filed a few weeks ago in the district court, is to be taken to the United States district court at Lincoln for trial. A motion by the defendant railroad company, in the district court here, was granted by Judge Begley for the transfer of the case to the federal court. This is the action in which Mr. Parkening is suing for damages caused to his farm by overflow of water alleged to have been caused by insufficient drainage along the right of way of the defendant railroad company.

Overcoats as You Like Them!

BIG, roomy, graceful and warm, ulsters, box coats, with or without belts. Whatever your fancy, you'll find it here. There is still plenty of seasonable weather in which to sport one of these big new coats. The price will not be lower this season.

$25.00

Philip Thiorck
Selling Clothing

WILLIAMSON COUNTY BLOODY BATTLEFIELD IN THE LATE SIXTIES

Col. M. A. Bates Some Early Experiences in Warlike Illinois County.

From Saturday's Daily—
The attention of the entire country has for the past year been largely centered on Williamson county, Illinois, where the struggle, long and bitter between factions, has resulted in much bloodshed and a few days ago brought to a tragic close the lives of S. Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan raider, and Ora Thomas, deputy sheriff and sworn foe of the Klansmen. The towns of Marion, county seat of Williamson county, and Herrin, the mining town of the county, have been more or less on the front pages of the leading papers prior to this as the warfare raged there.

These incidents of the great struggle have proven doubly interesting to Col. M. A. Bates of the Journal, as he was a resident and a few days ago brought to a tragic close the lives of S. Glenn Young, Ku Klux Klan raider, and Ora Thomas, deputy sheriff and sworn foe of the Klansmen. The towns of Marion, county seat of Williamson county, and Herrin, the mining town of the county, have been more or less on the front pages of the leading papers prior to this as the warfare raged there.

It was in 1868 that Col. Bates, then a venturesome young newspaper man, came to the town of Marion, at that time a place of some 1,200 people, and established the paper known as "The Peoples' Friend." As the title indicates, it was a democratic publication. The population of Marion was largely southern, the early settlers coming from Kentucky, Tennessee and Virginia, and the spirit of the war time days still prevailed there as Mr. Bates launched his newspaper.

It was only a short time after the paper was started that the smouldering embers of a feud, brought from the southland, was fanned into life in the vicinity of Marion. A large number of outsiders that had come to the town of Marion and vicinity. At that time the town of Herrin was not in existence and the mining region had not been opened up with its thousands of foreign residents that were to come. Col. Bates states that Herrin's Prairie, as it was known consisted of a store and postoffice operated by a man named Herrin and which is the site of the present city of blood and sorrow.

But to return to the feud that was started in that county and which arose between two families that had come to Illinois from Tennessee and carried with them the hatred that had existed in the mountains of the south and before it was quelled it had resulted in the practical wiping out of the two families. A large number of outsiders that for reasons were suspected of friendliness to one side or the other in the strife. The feud opened when the sheriff of the county, a friend of one of the families, became engaged in an altercation with one of the opposing faction and received a broken arm and from that came the demand for blood that was to take a toll of life that reached into the hundreds. The faction of which the sheriff was a friend sprang to arms and attacked members of the opposing family and in turn this was sought to be avenged and many battles staged in the public square and along the highways of the county and from ambush many were shot down, including those who were marked as partisans of either side.

While not participating in the struggle on either side, Col. Bates had two calls from the feudists and narrowly escaped the knife of a would-be avenger who sought to put him out of the way. After the second attempt was made to knife him as he was resting on the porch of his home, he sold the paper and departed to a less warlike section of Illinois. His successor as publisher of the paper disappeared after a few months in Marion and was never heard of again and his fate was a matter of doubt.

So from these facts it seems that "Bloody Williamson" has long been a battleground of factions and hatreds that equalled the present outbreak although in this day and age the warfare attracts much more attention than was the case then.

BACK ON SIX DAY SCHEDULE

From Saturday's Daily—
Orders were received at the office of Superintendent William Baird of the Burlington shops today that commencing next week, the shops will be operating on a six day schedule instead of the five day week under which they have been operating for the past two weeks. The change back to the regular working schedule will be very pleasing to the workmen, as it brings a great deal more in each month in the pay envelope of the workmen.

POPULAR PLATTSMOUTH TEACHERS MARRIED AT GENOA THIS MORNING

Miss Ileen Ceder United in Marriage to Mr. Lambert F. Folda of Howells, Nebraska.

From Saturday's Daily—
This morning at 11 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents at Genoa, Nebraska, occurred the marriage of Miss Ileen Ceder and Mr. Lambert F. Folda of Howells, Nebraska.

The ceremony was very quiet and attended by the immediate relatives of the contracting parties and the lives of these two estimable young people were joined by the impressive marriage service of the Roman Catholic church.

Following a short honeymoon the young people will return to Howells, where they will locate in the future. Mr. Folda being engaged in the banking business in that city.

The bride has been a resident of this city for the past two years as a member of the teaching force of the city schools and her charming personality and musical ability have made her very popular in the social as well as the educational circles of the city and her friends here regret very much that she is leaving. Mrs. Folda is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Ceder of Genoa and one of the popular young ladies in the social life of that city.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Folda of Howells, and his family is one of the most prominent in the eastern portion of the state of Nebraska. Mr. Folda being interested in a number of banks in Colfax and Dodge counties, and the groom will take up work in these banks at once. Mr. Folda has been attending the University of Nebraska and is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity.

The many friends here will join in wishing the young people a long and very happy wedded life in the years to come.

M. D. A. PRESENTS "ARIZONA COWBOY" AT PARMELE

Parmele Theatre Packed by Shop Men and Their Families to Enjoy Comedy Drama.

From Saturday's Daily—
Last night the Parmele theatre was filled to its utmost capacity by the members of the M. D. A. and their families and friends to witness the offering of the comedy-drama, "The Arizona Cowboy," presented by a number of the talented young people of the city. For several hours the audience laughed and thrilled with the adventures and many humorous situations that arose in the play.

The cast of characters was well chosen and in the leading roles as sheriff and Miss Margaret, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Vincent appeared and were well selected for these parts. Edward Gradoville made an excellent cowboy and Miss Laura Leacock as "the young 'on'" was very attractive and pleasing. In the role of the aged man, Hezekiah Bugg, Ed Matuschull was as usual very pleasing and Mrs. Hans Heinrich was also quite a feature in the play as Mrs. Bugg and her work assisted very much in the success of the production.

The villain of the play was William Matuschull, who was lifelike in his part and showed his stage experience in this role. Hans Heinrich and Miss Gladys Arnold were also very effective in their rendition of their parts. One of the pleasing characters was "Grizzly Grimm," in which Elmer P. Johnson appeared and with his charm and pleasing personality made a decided hit. As an Indian maiden and the big chief, Miss Jean Fitch and Marion Beardsley added to the interest of the play.

During the intermission several clever songs and dancing numbers were given by William Wells that showed real class and made a decided impression on all of the large audience. Mrs. Joseph Bullin served as the accompanist for the numbers.

The interest of the evening was added to by the fact that Peter Gradoville and his orchestra played a number of selections preceding the performance and during the intermissions.

NOTICE TO STOCKHOLDERS

The 10th annual Stock Holders' meeting of the Farmers' Union Elevator Co., of Murdock, will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 3rd, at 1:30 p. m. at the Union hall, for the election of three directors and other business which may come before the meeting.

FRED STOCK,
President,
AUGUST RUGE,
Secretary.

DEATH OF MRS. JOHN C. YORK AT OMAHA, NEB.

Passed Away Last Night After Illness of Several Weeks from Heart Trouble.

From Saturday's Daily—
The old time friends of the York family were profoundly shocked last night to receive a message announcing the death of Mrs. John C. York, which occurred last night at 8:05, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Jelinek, 1320 North 35th street, Omaha, where she has been in the past few weeks suffering from a very severe attack of heart trouble and from which she failed to rally and has been gradually growing weaker for the last few days.

The deceased lady has resided in Plattsmouth for the past twenty years and her death is a great loss to her family and to the community. She was a devoted wife and mother, whose greatest delight was in the welfare and happiness of her husband and children, and in her going they will find a place in their lives that will long remain vacant with the vanishing of the touch of the mother hand and the sweet music of her voice that had stilled many of their troubles in their childhood, and more mature years.

This estimable lady is survived by the aged husband and six children, Mrs. William Gravett, Don C. York, Mrs. Katherine Hull, Jesse York and Mrs. Charles Jelinek, all of Omaha, and Russell York, who resides at Petersburg, Alaska.

The body will lay in state today at the Jelinek home and a short service will be held there at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and the body taken on the 9 o'clock Burlington train to Watson, Missouri, the old home, where the services will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and the body laid to rest in the cemetery at that place.

EAGLE MAY LOSE HARDING HIGHWAY THRU THAT CITY

Construction of Boulevard in Lancaster County May Change Route of New Highway.

From Saturday's Daily—
The condition of the roads these days should impress upon our people the fact that better roads are needed, and can be had if gone about in the right way.

If some of the money wasted on surveys on federal "projects" had been spent for hard surfacing, we should not now be wading in the mud or bumping the bumps on frozen roughness. There will be some surfacing done in Cass county this year, and our confidence in our county board is such that we have no doubt we will get a square deal from them, but the thing that sticks in our craw is why the Lancaster county board builds a boulevard two miles south of O street butting up against bluffs that will not be opened for many years and neglects the unfinished federal project on O street from the county line in. It is just such stupid pride in "pulling the wool" over the eyes of the people that makes even more dangerous the placing of funds with swivel chair officials in Lincoln.

What is the solution?
A Highway board or commission, which would take pride in "pulling Nebraska out of the mud." If such men can be found to build a ten million dollar capitol without other compensation, they ought to be found to build highways.

From what we hear a determined effort is being made to divert the Harding Memorial highway formerly routed through Eagle, to connect with this boulevard, or go into Lincoln still further south. Our people have not yet provided the $300 apportioned to us by the association, and should do so at once and settle the route.—Eagle Beacon.

WITH CLARKSON PATIENTS

From Saturday's Daily—
The Cass county people at the Clarkson hospital in Omaha are all progressing very nicely and seem well on the highway to recovery from their various afflictions and operations. Mrs. Charles L. Martin, who had an exceptionally severe operation a few weeks ago, is now getting along fine and in the next few days hopes to leave the hospital and return home to this city very much benefited in health by the operation. George Snyder, Jr., who is also there recovering from the effects of an operation for appendicitis, has shown such improvement that it is thought that he will be able to sit up today and in a few days should be able to get out some. George has entirely recovered from the operation but had several bad days from the slight attack of pneumonia and which has delayed his complete recovery. Little Donald Murphy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Murphy of Manley, is also on the highway to recovery now after several days of very serious condition due to an infection in a broken leg that he sustained some time ago. The infection has been removed and Donald is getting along in fine shape now.

Please us the news. We want to know every day of happenings that happen in Cass county.

HERE FROM UNIVERSITY

From Saturday's Daily—
A number of the Plattsmouth young men students of the University of Nebraska, taking advantage of the fact that this is the close of the half year at the university and the examinations and grading of the papers of the students are being looked after, are enjoying a short vacation here with the relatives and friends. Otto E. Tritley, Frank Gradoville, Stuart Chase, and Howard Dwyer are among those who will enjoy the vacation period and have an outing from their strenuous work at the university.

YOUNG PEOPLE WEDDED AT LOS ANGELES FRIDAY

Miss Edythe Johnson and Mr. Gus Swanson United There in Wedlock Friday Afternoon.

From Saturday's Daily—
The marriage of Miss Edythe Johnson, of this city, and Mr. Gus Swanson, of Long Beach, California, occurred yesterday afternoon at 4:30 at Los Angeles and was attended by a few intimate friends of the young people. The bride left here the first of the week on her journey westward where the happiness of the wedding was to take place, and arrived in the California city yesterday to be met by the groom and the wedding occurred at once.

The bride has grown to womanhood here in Plattsmouth and is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jonas Johnson and a lady very popular among a large circle of friends who have parted with her with great regret and will very much from the circle of friendship. She was educated here in the city schools and has been quite active in the young social sets of the city.

The groom was for two years a resident of this city, coming here from his home at Randolph, Nebraska, and has for the past year been employed with the Pacific Electric corporation at Long Beach. He is a young man of the highest standing and esteemed very much by all those who have the pleasure of knowing him and in this city made a large circle of friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Swanson will enjoy a short honeymoon on the Catalina Islands and will on their return locate at Long Beach where the groom has a home awaiting the coming of the bride.

The many friends here will join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Swanson a long and very happy wedded life and all the happiness that they so well deserve.

MALVERN HIGH SCORES A WIN OVER LOCALS

Iowa "Farmers" Outlook Blue and White Cageters in Slow Game Here Last Night.

From Thursday's Daily—
In the slowest game seen here this season, the Malvern High school basketball five defeated the Blue and White here last night by the score of 19 to 16. The Iowans could not miss the basket no matter how hard they tried and tossed them in one-handed looking in the opposite way from the basket. While Plattsmouth had hard luck in making the ball connect with the hoop, they played ragged ball for the most part and in many instances failed to pass the ball to open men when a pass would have meant a basket.

The first half ended 7 to 6 for Malvern after 16 minutes of slow playing in which each team caged three field goals and Malvern one foul conversion.

The visitors drew away from the locals in the second half with their break shooting until the score stood 18 to 8. Here Flynn, local forward, started a rally which resulted in 8 points but lacked the necessary points, he, Buttery and Rebal caging baskets in quick succession, but the necessary punch was lacking for a victory.

Box score:

	FG	FT	F	P
Plattsmouth (16)
Rebal, rf	2	0	0	4
Flynn, lf, c	3	0	0	6
Hartford, lf	0	0	0	0
Hatt, c, rg	0	0	0	0
Lambert, c	0	0	0	0
Hadraba, rg	0	1	0	0
Buttery, lg	3	0	1	6
Totals	8	0	2	16
Malvern (20)
Jones, rf	5	0	3	10
Aistrope, rf	0	0	0	0
Slater, lf	2	1	1	5
Duval, c	0	0	0	0
Hilton, c	2	0	0	4
Barkus, rg	0	1	0	1
Cooney, lg	0	0	0	0
Riggins, lg	0	0	1	0
Totals	9	2	5	20

FOR SALE

Choice Rhode Island Red cockrels. Call Murray phone 3304. Address O. D. Sherman, RFD, Plattsmouth.

FOR SALE

Rose comb Rhode Island red cockrels for sale. Philip Hitz, phone, 5212, Plattsmouth, Neb. J26-2ew

Under State Supervision
Deposits Guaranteed by State Guaranty Fund

Living Up to Our Name

The Farmers State Bank is all that the name implies. We try to live up to it at all times in serving the farmers of this vicinity.

And the farmer who banks here finds that he has truly acquired a banking home. Our combination of intelligent service and personal interest in our patrons makes them our friends as well.

We bank on the wheat, the corn and the products of the farm. If you are a farmer, deal with your own bank—The Farmers State Bank. You'll find us ever ready to help you.

We serve the Farmer!

Farmers State Bank

Plattsmouth -- -- -- Nebraska

Mrs. L. C. Sharp was a visitor in Omaha today, going to that city on early morning Burlington train.

Anton Hula and wife were among the visitors in Omaha today to look after some matters of business and visiting with friends.

Ed Stoner departed this morning for Omaha where he will spend the day after a visit here with relatives and friends.

A new 400 horse power boiler is being placed in the Hastings electrical plant.

Roads to Omaha

have been dragged several times during the past ten days and are now in condition to travel by automobile.

The last snow has been removed from the Union-Murray-Plattsmouth-Omaha Highway and while the roads are rough in places, no serious trouble will be experienced in making the trip by automobile to and from Omaha.

Farmers are trucking hogs and cattle to the Omaha market every day.

Of course chains are necessary.

T. H. Pollock Bridge Company

In Style Next Spring! Hat Sale

THE Hat you buy in this event will be in vogue right now and next spring as well. That's why you'll be pleased with the values we're offering in our January Clearance.

Smooth finish fur hats in late style Fedoras, assorted colors.

$2.95

Velour rough finish hats in new light shades—silk lined,

$4.85

C. E. Wescott's Sons

"ON THE CORNER"