With the new
Ex Toe

You Can't be 'Hard' on This Remarkable New Type Hose!

Gives three to four times the wear of ordinary hose — Yet it's Sheer and Webby!

Here's a new idea in Men's Hose. 90% of Men's Hose wear out at the toe long before the rest of the sock. This new sock strengthens the toes tremendously, yet the re-inforcement is cleverly hidden — it can only be seen upon closest inspection. These new socks are called the Holeproof Ex Toe.

R. F. PATTERSON NAMED CASHIER OF FARMERS STATE

Regular Yearly Meeting of Stockholders Held This Morning; Officers Are Elected.

From Wednesday's Daily—
This morning the stockholders of the Farmers State bank held their annual meeting at the bank building and proceeded with the election of the officers for the ensuing year as well as the review of the past year's business which has shown a very pleasing increase.
The last year has shown the general improving condition in the increase in the banking business at this institution and the stockholders are well pleased with the showing made.

The following were named as the officers of the bank:
President—T. H. Pollock.
Vice President—C. A. Patterson, of Arapahoe.
Cashier—Rae F. Patterson.
Assistant Cashier—James K. Pollock.

Directors—T. H. Pollock, C. A. Patterson, J. K. Pollock and Edward Donat.

The officers are the same as for the past year with the exception of Rae F. Patterson, who has been elected to the position of cashier of the bank, who, with his long experience and knowledge in the banking business, the stockholders feel, will contribute to another year of increased business and expansion of their institution. The new cashier is well known over Cass county as one of the progressive young bankers of this section and his many friends are pleased to see him in the position to which he has been elected by his associates in the bank.

ELKS ENJOY A FINE TIME AT SESSION

Judge Robin Reid of Lincoln, District Deputy Visits Lodge and Class Initiated Into Order.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening Plattsmouth lodge No. 729, B. P. O. E. enjoyed one of their most interesting sessions of the winter season and which was marked by the visit of the district deputy Judge Robin Reid, of Lincoln, who made an inspection of the lodge and found it to be in excellent condition and gave warm words of praise to the officers and members for the manner in which they were conducting the affairs of the order.
The lodge also enjoyed a very fine initiation staged by the officers and degree team of the order and in which the beautiful and impressive ritualistic ceremonies of the order were carried out most impressively and the lessons of justice, brotherly love and charity were exemplified most beautifully by the officers and degree team and the members also given several minutes of enlightening initiation as they entered the portals for the placing of the antlers which all good Elks sport. The members of the class entering were John Sattler, Jr., Frank Mead, Edward Hladky, William D. McCrary, Harley L. Becker and Floyd Becker.
Following the lodge session the new members were greeted by their fellow associates in the order and a fine social evening enjoyed by all of the members present.

"Q" ROADMASTER DIES

From Wednesday's Daily—
C. C. Terhune, aged 45, Burlington roadmaster of the Omaha division, well known in this city where he was a frequent visitor, died this afternoon at 1:40 at the St. Joseph hospital in Omaha, following an illness of some duration. Mr. Terhune has been in poor health for some time but his condition was not serious up until the last few days, he suffering severe exposure in the last heavy snow and blizzard and which aggravated his condition and made necessary his going to the hospital where he has steadily grown worse until death. "Charley," as he was well known, was one of the popular railroad men of the west and had for the past ten years been the roadmaster of the Omaha division.

GIVEN BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

From Wednesday's Daily—
Mrs. H. G. McClusky was the "victim" of a most pleasant birthday surprise yesterday at her home and so completely had the "plot" of the friends been carried out that the guest of honor was completely surprised and enjoyed the unique sensation of being a guest in her own home as the friends took over the handling of the party and all that was left for Mrs. McClusky was to enjoy it to the utmost. The first intimation of the surprise was when the guests arrived and started in on the afternoon of pleasure and enjoyment.
The afternoon was spent informally with games and social conversation and at an appropriate hour there were delicious refreshments served to add to the delights of the members of the party.
The members of the party on departing for their homes extended to Mrs. McClusky their best wishes for many more such pleasant gatherings.

MRS. JOHN C. YORK; SKETCH OF HER LIFE

Deceased Lady Long Time Resident of This City Laid to Last Rest Sunday Afternoon.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Sarah Ann Barnhart was born at Watson, Mo., Nov. 13, 1857, and passed on in Omaha, Jan. 30, at 8:15 p. m., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ferris Jelinek. On Sept. 17, 1876, she was united in marriage to John C. York at Watson, Mo. To this union were born nine children, three preceding her in death, Bertie, Blanche and Grace. Besides the husband and father, the remaining children are: Mrs. Bessie Gravett, 1314 Martha street, Omaha; Mrs. Kathryn Hull, 2214 Mason street, Omaha; Mrs. Ferris Jelinek, 1320 No. 35th street, Omaha; Don C. York, 2548 Davenport street, Omaha, and Russell York of Petersburg, Alaska. Also besides three great grandchildren, she leaves two sisters, two brothers, Mrs. M. J. Taylor of Weeping Water, Nebraska; Mrs. Dora Gray of Hamburg, Iowa; C. J. Barnhart of Buffalo, Montana; Henry Barnhart of Lodge Pole, Nebraska.

In 1876, she joined the Cumberland Presbyterian church in which faith she lived until 1900 when she united with the Methodist church in which faith she lived and died.
In April, 1903, she, with her family, moved to Plattsmouth, where Mr. York has been an efficient employe of the Burlington railroad for a great portion of the time since.
The body was borne to the scenes of her girlhood where it was laid to rest beside the loved ones who have gone on before. A short funeral service was held at the home of her daughter at 1320 No. 35th street, Omaha, Saturday at 8 p. m., conducted by the Rev. Arthur Atack of the Hanscom Park Methodist church. After arrival at the cemetery at High Creek a short funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Smith, who is conducting a revival service at Watson, Mo.
The esteem of the departed was, in a measure, shown by the wealth of floral offerings which were appreciated by the bereaved husband and children. Thus closes the book of life of this noble, God-fearing wife and mother.

Card of Thanks
We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation for the beautiful floral offerings and assistance in our recent bereavement and especially to the Burlington store department.—
John C. York and Family.

DOINGS IN COUNTY COURT

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning Judge Duxbury in the county court was engaged in hearing the case of L. V. Davis vs. Emil Miller in which the plaintiff was seeking to recover $346, alleged to be due him for sinking a well on a farm of the defendant near Union. The well has been dug 8 feet and deep water reached, but it was continued on to 150 feet and in the dispute between the parties for settlement, it was impossible to reach a settlement and the law was appealed to. After the testimony of several witnesses and the arguments in the case, the court found for the plaintiff and judgment in the sum prayed for was granted.

PHILATHEA GLASS ENTERTAINS Y. M. B. C. LAST NIGHT

Methodist Sunday School Organization Enjoy Real Evening of Pleasure at Church Parlors.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening the ladies Philathea class of the Methodist Sunday school were hostesses at a social evening given in honor of the young men's bible class of the Sunday school and the occasion one that the two classes will long most pleasurably remember. There were some sixty-five of the two class members present to take part in the evening.

The Philathea class met at their rooms for a short business session and secured the names of the members of the young men's class which was holding their regular session in their room, and the ladies then adjourned to the parlors of the church where the social festivities were to be staged.

As the young men entered the parlors they found the ladies seated in a large circle and in front of the seat of each lady was a vacant chair waiting for the coming of the gentleman whose name was found on the slips distributed among the two classes. There was much merriment as the timid gentlemen sought their seats and after being seated the lady arose and announced the name of her escort as well as her own and in this way everyone learned at once who was who and opened the way for the delightful informal social evening.

The time was spent in playing a large number of games and in contests that brought forth a great deal of pleasure and enjoyment for all of the party and served to further make the members of the two classes better acquainted.
As the evening was drawing to the close, Mrs. W. L. Heinrich, president of the Philatheas, with her committee of ladies served the members of the party with very delicious refreshments of home made doughnuts and coffee that completed the evening and it was with expressions of the hope that there would be many more gatherings of the same nature in the future that members departed homeward.

PERFORMS FIRST WEDDING

From Monday's Daily—
This morning County Judge Duxbury was called upon to perform his first wedding ceremony since he assumed the duties of the county judge on the eight of January. The parties who were joined in the bonds of wedlock were Leonard F. Carter of Table Rock, and Miss Francis A. Hite of this city.
The judge performed the ceremony with the manner of a veteran and with the repeal of the present law and its annoying feature there should be a rush of seekers after matrimonial happiness to the office of Judge Duxbury to have this pleasant and efficient official tie the matrimonial knot.

The groom in this case was a resident of Plattsmouth for several months and employed at the local shops and is at the present time engaged in railroading out of Omaha. The bride is a resident here and has been attending school in this city up to the last few weeks.
