when the weather is nice and the farm needs farming he is with the early birds doing some scratching in the soil.

James W. Holmes and wife, the former, postmaster at Plattsmouth, were visiting for a short time last Sunday at the home of Mont Robb and family, where all enjoyed a very nice time.

Mrs. E. H. Riggs of Brewster, was a visitor in Union and vicinity during the past week and was a guest at the homes of E. L. Fitch, Earl Merritt and wife, and Ray and Rue Frans and families.

Sherman Austin, who is working in the Burlington shops at Plattsmouth took a week off and was assisting his father in getting in the small grain as Mr. Eugene Austin has not been feeling the best.

George Ellis and wife of Weeping Water were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ellie LaRue for Sunday, they enjoyed a most pleasant visit while here. Mr. and Mrs. Ellis are parents of Mrs. LaRue.

Charles Hoback and wife enjoyed the company of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Taylor at their home last Sunday and the dinner which was served by Mrs. Hoback was par excellence and nothing could have made it better.

The Frans Brothers Lumber Co., was unloading about as fine a car load of lumber as the country stations ever receive, last Monday, they were also unloading a car load of concrete blocks for building purposes.

Will L. Taylor of Omaha, accompanied by his son, Garrett, were in Union last Sunday having so business matters to attend to as well as visiting with friends, they enjoyed the occasion very nicely, driving down in their car.

Parm Applegate and family of Omaha, and Miss Abbie Austin, who also makes her home there, were in Union last Sunday visiting at the parents of the ladies, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Austin, and all enjoyed the day very pleasantly.

Miss Iva Mougey, who is employed in the Child Saving Institute at Omaha was a visitor at the home of her parents, E. J. Mougey, and wife, this being the first time she has been down during the winter and surely the parents as well as Miss Iva enjoyed the occasion.

Dr. M. V. Eveyers of Lincoln, of the state department, accompanied by County Agent L. R. Snipes, of Weeping Water, were looking after some business matters in Union and were looking after the campaign which is being waged against the diseases of animals throughout the state.

James W. Simmons, who with the wife have been at St. Louis where he has been receiving treatment, at the Missouri Pacific hospital arrived home a few days since, and, on their return, stopped at the home of the parents of Mrs. Simmons, Mrs. Stella, and while there Mr. Simmons had a tussle with the gripe which left him not quite so strong, but they are both getting along nicely.

B. B. Everett, who makes his home near Nebraska City was in town last Monday and was selling a large quantity of his potatoes which he had stored in the cellar of L. G. Todd, to parties at Nebraska City. Mr. B. A. Pafe being up and taking a truck load home with him, and coming after more, while Bert took a wagon load home with him as he returned.

Their potatoes, last year yielded 790 bushel from two acres of ground and very fine tubers at that.

Two young men with something under their belt last Saturday were at Union, and, after they had disposed of as much as they safely could, they shared their car with three women all going to Weeping Water, where it is reported the young men were apprehended, and placed in the city bastille, while the young women were sent back home. When the prisoners were to be led on Sunday morning they were not found. Maybe the "Goblins" got them but their car was not to be seen and so it was presumed they had made away in it. No scent of the offending parties could be detected in the neighborhood.

Returning From the South.

Word from people visiting at Jacksonville from this neighborhood, of them leaving that port and making their way north. Mrs. Dovie Asche, who lived near Murray, stopped in Kansas City with her nephew, Mr. Ralph Baldwin, who was with the party, for a visit of a short time, during which she will come home. Mr. Baldwin will visit there for a while. Mr. Robert Hastings, who was also with the party, departed a short time since for his old home at Crown City, Ore., where he will visit for some time before returning to the east.

Says Touching Words Over Friend.

In the years that have flown, George W. Shrader, who was last week gathered to his fathers, requested that his friend, W. A. Taylor, officiate at his funeral. Last week the call came for Uncle George Shrader, who had passed his 88 birthday, and while the Rev. Taylor has just come from the hospital a short time he went to perform the last sad rite for his life long friend. It is said by those who were at the funeral that never had the Rev. Taylor, who has ministered to many funerals, rendered the service so touching and full of feeling, as in this, for Rev. Taylor has just returned from near the brink of the river of death himself, where he could almost peer over the end of life, and thus was more fully brought in close contact of the realities of life.

A Fine Surprise.

April 1 has been, and is still considered April Fool's day, this can be substantiated by Mrs. Jessie Lidgett, of Union. Having no thoughts of the day except the usual work about the house, she, looking out of the window saw a new Ford sedan driving in the yard, made haste to greet the visitors, but to her surprise it happened to be Arlia Dowler delivering the sedan with a bill of sale for the same in full, that her father, Dan Lynn, had ordered taken to her home on that morning.

AMERICAN RED CROSS WORKS FOR SUFFERERS

Great Relief Organization Has Charge of Work of Caring for Tornado Sufferers.

From Wednesday's Daily— Since the occurrence of the disaster in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, the branch office of the American Red Cross at St. Louis has been and is filling immediately all requests for food and clothing received through the accredited representatives of that organization now located in every important community in the stricken area, according to William M. Baxter, Jr., assistant to the vice-chairman in charge of the branch office at St. Louis.

All relief work in Murphysboro, Ill., has been officially turned over to the American Red Cross following a mass meeting of Murphysboro citizens. This action follows that taken by the local relief committees in the devastated areas and the relief work in the entire tri-state disaster in Missouri, Illinois and Indiana, is now under the direction of the Red Cross. Central administrative headquarters have been established at Murphysboro, Ill., from which operations for the three states will be directed. Area offices will also be established immediately in each community struck by the tornado of March 18.

A large corps of trained Red Cross disaster workers is being assembled for the rebuilding and rehabilitation program of the organization rushed to completion. The emergency relief is well in hand, every injured person has been cared for, the homeless temporarily sheltered and provided with food. The full force of the disaster relief organization has been thrown into the task of permanently rehabilitating every sufferer.

Henry M. Baker, Red Cross director of relief operations, assured the sufferers today that the Red Cross will take up every sufferer from the terrible catastrophe has been rehabilitated according to Red Cross standards.

Although full direction and responsibility for relief work have been placed upon the Red Cross, other relief agencies including the Salvation Army and the Volunteers of America, are on the ground giving the Red Cross valuable help during the emergency period.

While assuring the sufferers that every means will be used to complete the work at the earliest possible time, Mr. Baker told them it was well to realize at this time that the ex-
