BARNEY BARDWELL STILL IN VERY BAD SHAPE

Former Plattsmouth Man Victim of Wreck in Illinois Still Suffering From the Effects.

From Wednesday's Daily—
The Plattsmouth friends of Barney Bardwell, one time resident here and brother-in-law of Harry Poissall of this city, will regret very much to learn that Mr. Bardwell is still suffering from the effects of the injuries received in a railroad wreck a short distance out of Bloomington, Illinois, some six months ago.

Mr. Bardwell was firing on the Illinois Central and was injured in a head-on collision near Bloomington which resulted in the death of the engineer and his own very severe injury that for several days made his recovery the matter of the gravest doubt.

His arm was badly shattered and severe injuries to his head baffled surgeons in charge of the case and for several weeks he lingered near death. He was treated at the St. Anthony hospital in Chicago and also at Bloomington and seemed to show some improvement and was allowed to return home where he has since been treated.

In the last few weeks his injured arm has again been giving him a great deal of pain and last Wednesday he was again taken to the hospital where the arm was slit from the wrist to the elbow in order to permit the removal of decayed bone that threatened blood poison in the arm. There was a great deal of the decayed bone removed and the arm is still useless and the attending surgeons are of the opinion that the amputation of the member will probably be necessary as little hope of saving the arm is held out for the unfortunate man and his family.

The family in letters to the relatives here state that the injuries to the head of Mr. Bardwell still make necessary the draining of the wounds and that they are slow in healing and it is thought that possibly another operation on the head may be necessary to try and give the unfortunate man any relief, but in his worn condition due to the long suffering and the ordeal that he has been through it will be a most severe strain on him.

GAS TAX LAW IS IN EFFECT AT STATIONS TODAY

Additional Two Cents Will Be Placed On Price of Gasoline Sold In Nebraska.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Effective today there is an additional cost of two cents added to the price of each gallon of gasoline sold in this state, caused by the placing of the gasoline tax of two cents that is expected will add several millions to the fund for the good roads movement in this great state.

At the Texaco station, Henry Ofc, the manager, states that the price of gasoline today sold at his station was 22 1/4c per gallon while the price from the truck was 20 1/4c.

The additional two cents it is estimated will prove a great boon to the good roads movement in this state and it has been strongly urged that this tax is one of the most just to maintain the roads, with, as the persons who travel the most will pay the heaviest amount toward road maintaining.

The economical car drivers were busy last evening getting their gas tanks filled up to save the extra two cents, but from now on they will have to pay the cost of the tax. The tax is levied on the gasoline at the time of its disposal to the dealer and paid at that source, the dealer in gasoline collecting his tax from the consumer.

SEED CORN IS POOR QUALITY

More Than Half of the Corn in Nebraska Said to Be Unfit for Planting—Ests 61 Per Cent.

Only 61 per cent of the seed corn in the cribs of the Nebraska farmers this year is fit for use. The figure is based on germination tests of seed corn from 723 farms in 80 counties in the state that were entered in the National Seed Corn Show held in Chicago recently.

Fully 39 per cent of the Nebraska seed corn tested showed poor germination, according to J. S. Naylor, the expert in charge of the testing.

Presumably they are the best ears that these farmers could find, and yet this large percentage of them will not grow when planted. Unless farmers test their seed corn before planting time, there will be a prodigious amount of replanting necessary. Testing now will prevent an absolute shortage at harvest time, he says.

"The big lesson of the National Seed Corn Show can be learned by each Nebraska corn grower in his own crib," says Mr. Naylor. "Take the dozen best ears. Then take the poorest ears. Each dozen ears will plant an acre of ground. The land is that same, the work is the same. Same weather. Same overhead. Same cost. At the end of the season the best dozen ears will yield perhaps 35 or 40 bushels of corn on the acre; the poorest ears will yield 18 bushels. The 12 good ears will yield twice the crop of the 12 poor ears. This is the lesson that every farmer should take to heart."

The Nebraska state sweepstakes of the National Seed Corn Show was won by Andrew Anderson of Ceresco, Saunders county, but he was later defeated for the grand championship by Mrs. Elsie M. Paluska, of Waverly, Ill., whose entry was awarded the thousand dollar C. M. Kittle trophy, the big prize of the show.—Eagle Beacon.
