DEATH SUMMONS MRS. B. F. BREN-DEL AT 1:15 P. M.

Well Known Murray Lady Passes Away This Afternoon at 1:15, After Long Illness.

From Tuesday's Daily-This afternoon at 1:15, at the family home in Murray occured the death of Mrs. B. F. Brendel, who has, since Friday, been in very critical condition, and whose recovery had been abandoned by the members of the family circle since last week.

Mrs. Brendel has long been a resimunity, her friends being legion in that city and surrounding community, who share with the family the deep sorrow that the passing of this lady has occasioned.

Amanda Josephine Parr was born at Big Springs, near Lebanon, Indiana, February 15, 1860, and grew to womanhood in that community and where she was, in her young womanhood, united in marriage to Dr. B. F. Brendel, the family later coming west to Nebraska and locating at Murray where Dr. Brendel was for very much notwithstanding the bad many years engaged in the practice Glen Whiteman on the tractor and storms which were an incident of of medicine, until his death a year and a half ago. Since the death of the husband the health of Mrs. last few months it has been clear

There is left to mourn the passing one daughter, Dr. J. W. Brendel of Aveca, Dr. J. F. and T. J. Brendel of Murray and Mrs. W. L. Seybolt, also of Murray. Two sisters and one brother are left, who reside near the old home in Indiana.

In her life Mrs. Brendel has been devout and faithful member of the Christian church and in her last ays faced with christian fortitude the ordeal of suffering that was to be severed by the coming of the death messenger.
