The Church at Antioch Golden Text: "The disciples were arst called Christians in Antioch."-

It seemed a great hardship when the Christian church when a girl and had to flee from their homes, their the past week. She returned home Flour for the Lancaster Store of this excellent woman will be given likewise a Missionary spirit,, they told the story of Jesus and his power to save, of his wonderful life, of his walking on the sea, of his healing the lepers, raising Lazarus from director to fill the vacancy which Hill's home last Thursday. There was the dead, and how he said he was H. W. Vallery has been assisting in occurred when Mr. L. D. Hiatt moved quite a number present, among those the Son of God and that he would attended were Mrs. Murdock and be crucified and would be raised A. F. Boedeker shipped two car daughter, Mrs. Kruger and daughter, again on the third day, how he had load of cattle from the Murray station Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Nixon, all of ascended to heaven and as he was departing had said, "Go ye into all the world and preach my gospel to SIMMONS EVALES doing this, many of those who left Ray Tankersly, the operator, who five by Mrs. Hill and her daughter, Jerusalem going to Antioch, and being Jews as well as Christians told the Jews who lived there the story and gained many converts. Others in fleeing from Jerusalem went to Circassian walnut dressing table Cyrene, which is on the northern coast of Africa, then to Antioch later as did also some who had gone to John Rice, Murray, Nebraska. 1tw the Island of Cypress. These two classes told their story to Greeks and other classes, gaining convertsand a strong church was established at Antioch as a result of this combined omposed of Jews, Greeks and many ther nationalities. This was apparntly after the church at Jerusalem ad had Peter on the carpet for breaching to other than Jews.

Antioch was third city in the Roan empire which extended over nuch of the then known world. Sitated at the northeast corner of the lediterranean sea, it had a trade by o'clock this morning ea from all ports on that body of vater and a like trade by caravan om the interiors of Asia, and this ade the city cosmopolitan with peofrom all over the world. With its miation of more than half a milthis piace presented a great for the young church. Growing rapidly as it did, it soon attractnotice from the mother church ich was at Jerusalem, and that hurch sent Joseph Barnabus, who it vill be remembered sold a farm and ave the proceeds to the church, to atioch to investigate. Barnabus as a good man, a devout Christian and a person with much ability. On were a missionary church, so set about to strengthen them. Afer he had encouraged the church ad saw the opportunities which the nation afforded for even a more id growth, he felt he must have lp, not alone from Christ and the ther, and so being aware of the edity, the enthusiasm and the deand strengthening the church. Here there was no opposition to them and rom most places where they had preached and established churches. While they were at Antioch, there came a prophet Agabus, and assisted with the work, and also prophesied D. 44, when Claudius was emperor at Rome. finally put to death. This, like the ieve the members of the church at hands of Paul and Barnabus who carried it to Jerusalem, where it was very gladly received. This in a measure mellowed the resentment which the mother church had held because of the receiving of others than Jews into the church. They were first called Christians n Antioch. The name was first applied in derision, making sport, but as the disciples were pleased with the name it soon became their real hurch name and all were glad to be recognized by this name. They had een called "Nazarines" because that was where Jesus had spent his childhood there. They were also alled "Gallileans" because Nazareth was in Gallilea.

The word Christian was well suitd for the name of the new church and Christendom a good name for all nations who accept him and do his work. F. A. Noble has said:
"A Christian is a mind thru which God thinks; a heart thru which God loves; a voice thru which God speaks and a hand thru which God helps.'

That church which is a live, active hurch, must be missionary, and the hurch which is missionary will always be a live and active church.
