Wasson, and family, and was there to assist in the care of their little son who underwent an operation for the removal of his adenoids and tonsils. He is getting along as well as could be expected from the nature of the operation.

Miner Clites Pleases People. The recital which was given at the home of Phillip Schafer last Friday, under the auspices of the Bible school of west of Plattsmouth, was well attended, there being over two hundred and fifty in attendance, so many, in fact that the house could not hold the crowd and many had to listen from the lawn. Miner Clites of Shenandoah, proved himself to all the listeners to be an excellent musician and this was manifested by the excellence of the program and the intense interest which was manifested by his listeners. There were one hundred automobiles there to carry those who were in attendance.

Will Use Murray Gravel. The gravel bank, which is located in the field of Mrs. W. E. Dill, east of Murray, will be used for the graveling of a portion of the highway, as leases have been executed for the same, and a camp located there with machinery being installed for the loading of the gravel into trucks. Fortunate are the people that they are securing such a good quality of gravel as is located in the pit on the farm of Mrs. Dill. The headquarters of the crew which is doing the work has been changed to Murray and they will work from here for some time.

Is Visiting Son Here.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Taylor, father and mother of Dr. Taylor, accompanied by their daughter, Miss Fern, arrived here from Hamilton, Ohio, their home, and have been visiting at the home of their son and his family for the past week. They will return to their home the last of this week. Mr. Taylor is employed in a paper house in his town and his daughter is also employed by the same firm, she being a stenographer. This is the first time they have ever been west and they surely are well pleased with the country. On last Tuesday evening they were visiting at the home of the parents of Mrs. G. L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Sorenson, for the day. The following day, Mr. Taylor accompanied his son to South Omaha where the artist had the stock yards. Miss Fern favored the Presbyterian church with a couple of very beautiful solos at their services last Sunday.

OLD FASHIONED MEN

I My Christian parents taught me that the Scriptures told the truth. They took me to the sanctuary in my early youth. Sometimes I chafed and fretted when religion seemed too stern. But my parents would insist that I the catechism learn. Ah, yes! a generation has passed away since that time. But I often think the world today needs more old fashioned men.

II The last decade has carried us in mighty leaps and bounds: The world is now a wonderland full of strange sights and sounds; And men like Mr. Bryan are esteemed somewhat unlearned. Because when sin is rampant they cannot be unconcerned. The faithful heart, the ready tongue, the consecrated pen Are needed now as never before; We need old fashioned men.

III Some of us passed through college halls some thirty years ago; We followed the curriculum and did not deem it slow. Our seminary training taught that God must be supreme. In these jazz days of pleasing men that training seems a dream. We put the case before you—is life saner now than then? Do we need more modern preachers or more good old fashioned men?

IV Shall we look with scorn on Edwards, Wesley, Luther, Calvin, Knox? Shall we manufacture calves of gold lest we be orthodox? Do the little men of science fill the ever yawning gap? Or do their pretensions now our very life blood sap? Ah, these giants who have left us! Shall we see their like again? May the coming generations be like these old fashioned men. W. F. GRAHAM, Murray, Nebraska.

BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON

The Broader Christian Life

Golden Text: "We believe we shall be saved through the grace of the Lord, Jesus."—Acts 15:11.

When Barnabas and Paul returned to the church at Antioch, the first church established outside of Jerusalem, there was great rejoicing. They had been away for a long time, had established a number of churches and had endured many hardships. The church at Antioch wanted to hear what they had to say about their work in the other lands.

We recall how we were pleased at the news of the signing of the armistice on November 11, 1918, and how when the boys returned we met them with hands and feet rejoicing and there was joy in the land. Such must have been the feeling of the church at Antioch. Paul and Barnabas recounted the experiences thru which they had passed and the success which had come of their work. While they had both undergone some very severe trials during their absence, they had returned to meet up with other difficulties.

Certain men came down from Judea, and in their teachings said, "Except ye be circumcised after the custom of Moses, ye cannot be saved." From a very narrow conception of the old Mosaic law these very strict Pharisees had cultivated the belief that such was the case. They had gotten the idea that in the observance of ordinances and the letter of the law alone was the way of salvation. Hence they crossed the letter instead of the spirit. They held that one must become a Jew before he could become a Christian, while Christ had said, "He that believeth on me, though he were dead, yet shall he live and he that liveth and believeth on me shall never die."

Had a Large Crowd Thursday. Last Thursday at the dance which was held at the Peterson hall there was a large crowd in attendance. The representative of the Journal expressed to pass through Murray on his way home and found all the available parking space in use. There was a most enjoyable time reported by those who were in attendance.

earth—Christ died for all. For there is no other name found on earth or among men whereby we must be saved.

The Jerusalem church wrote: "It seemed good unto us, being assembled with one accord, to send chosen men unto you with our beloved Barnabas and Paul, men who have hazarded their lives for the name of the Lord Jesus Christ. For it seemed good to the Holy Ghost and to us to lay upon you no greater burdens than these necessary things: that ye abstain from meats offered to idols and from blood and from things strangled and from fornication, from which if you keep yourselves, ye shall do well."

PRISONER HAS NOT EATEN FOR FIVE DAYS. Lincoln, July 21.—James R. Lane, former state hospital attendant held at the county jail here on charges of burglary, has not spoken or eaten for five days, Henry Craig, jailer, declared today.

Although means have been taken to him regularly, Lane has refused to eat or speak.

Dr. R. H. Sawyer, county physician, said the man's condition was normal, but was unable to say whether Lane had eaten anything unobserved by jail attendants.

Will Spend Vacation in West. Henry A. Guthmann and the family departed in their car last week for Ainsworth, where they will visit for some time at the home of the sister of Mrs. Guthmann, who with the family and the Guthmann family will then proceed to the Black Hills, where they will expect to spend about three weeks camping out in the heart of nature.
