Cubs Won the Game. The Greenwood "Cubs," second team, went to Manley, Sunday, July 19th, and won by a score of 7 to 3. Manley played two games, and so only seven innings were allowed for each. Manley was in the lead 3 to 2, until the seventh inning, when the "Cubs" put over a run, and tied the score, the game running the regulation nine innings before our boys put over the additional four runs that gave them the victory. To defeat the Manley team is a distinct honor for any baseball nine and doubly so for our second players.

With the score 3 to 2 at the beginning of the seventh, Schuelke on base, advanced with H. White's sacrifice and tied up the game. Playing continued until the ninth, when the "Cubs" found the pitcher's weak spot and hit him for five hits—two three baggers, two doubles and one single. These netted four runs and made the score 7 to 3. Brakhogge pitched very good ball for the Cubs, but over the additional four runs that gave them the victory. To defeat the Manley team is a distinct honor for any baseball nine and doubly so for our second players.

MRS EMILY JOHNSON DIES. Mrs. Emily Johnson, who has been sick for the past three years, and who has been a life time resident of Greenwood, passed away at her late home there, last Friday morning, just after midnight, at the advanced age of 87 years, 8 months and 27 days. Mrs. Johnson, nee Miss Emily

Coleman, was born in Ohio, and when a young woman came west and located in Nebraska nearly sixty years ago. She was married before that to John Johnson, more familiarly known as Jack Johnson, and who died some twenty years ago after having been an invalid for a number of years. They came to Greenwood along about 1870 and after having stayed here for a short time concluded that they would move to Kansas, which was then on a boom, and did so, but with the dry years in that state decided that Nebraska was a better place in which to live and consequently returned here 47 years ago. Mrs. Johnson has been a life long member of the Christian church, and was very devoted Christian. Mrs. Johnson leaves to mourn her departure three daughters, one in Greenwood and the others in the west. The funeral will be held from the Christian church in Greenwood, Sunday, and the interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery.

After eight months of preparation production was started in desert locales duplicating Israel's exodus from Egypt and stay in the Sinaiic Wilderness. More than 2,500 people were used in the Biblical scenes of the story. Means were found to reproduce Israel's dryshod passage of the Red Sea and the engulfing of the hosts of Pharaoh.

Among the engineering works accomplished were the Israelitish slave-built City of Rameses with twenty-four sphinxes and four colossi, also alongside it a modern Tent City with every public utility convenience to accommodate the working throng; the conversion of the asphaltic bed of the Mojave dry lake into a racing ground for Pharaoh's chariots; the construction of the Sinaiic canyon, where Moses read the tablets of the Law and where subsequently three thousand idolaters were consumed by Heaven's wrath for the worship of the Golden Calf.

Mr. De Mille, by the labors of Egyptologists was enabled to reproduce the effects of much of the lost art of Egypt. Before the play opened in New York, an extremely interesting exhibition of the actual costumes, designs, models and ornaments was held at the Hotel Astor. It was attended by hundreds of courtiers, fashion designers, artists, illustrators and others professionally interested as well as by the merely curious. In the wardrobe department of the production which these master models served, nearly 85,000 yards of cloth were made up into the clothing of the armies of people.

In the modern story, advantage was taken of a great contemporary work of Cathedral building, the erection of the new and stately Sts. Peter's and Paul's in the city of San Francisco. Many of the scenes were filmed atop the nave or high in the spirework of the rising Cathedral, with the Golden Gate and the Bay as the backgrounds. Scenes of wild storm and havoc were secured on the ocean. Even Chinatown yielded new secrets for the foreign quarter episodes of the story.

Senator Says World Court IS DANGEROUS. Borah Says Proposed International Tribunal is Judicial Despotism.

Boise, Idaho, July 30.—A more ambitious and presumptuous effort to establish judicial despotism was never conceived than the international court operating under the league of nations, which America is being urged to join, Senator Borah told Boise laborers at a meeting in the labor temple here last night.

The chairman of the foreign relations committee of the senate said he felt so strongly on the matter that "if I had to tender my resignation in the senate or vote for this court as it now stands, it wouldn't take me one minute to resign." Mr. Borah continued:

"I believe this court is dangerous. The men urging it are not telling you the truth about it. If they were, I would leave it to the people for a vote without opening my mouth. I do not want it thought that I am opposed to world court in general. I have been advocating a court for several years. A world court should be created which it would be safe for us to join and which would help to promote the cause of peace. I do not intend to bring up charges in the present plan when it comes before the senate—I mean the plan of joining the league's court with the Harding-Hughes reservation."

"Labor feels that courts should not make their own laws. Some courts now establish principles of law out of the statutes."

WELL BELOVED WOMAN CALLED TO LAST LONG SLEEP

Mother of F. H. Nichols Passes Away at Llewellyn While Relatives Enroute to Beside.

F. H. Nichols and family and the many friends in Plattsmouth were much shocked on Wednesday of last week, July 22, by the death of Llewellyn announcing that Mr. Nichols' mother, Mrs. Frank S. Echols, had suffered a stroke of paralysis. Mr. Nichols left at once for her bedside and was accompanied by his sister, Mrs. William Clark, of Lincoln, but at 10 o'clock that afternoon, she passed peacefully away without regaining consciousness.

When Mr. Nichols and his sister arrived at Julesburg, Colorado, from which point they were to drive to the home, they learned the sad truth of the mother's passing.

They arrived in Louisville with her body on Friday morning and the funeral occurred on the following Sunday afternoon from the M. E. church. The services were conducted by the Rev. David Simpson, the pastor. The church was filled with kind friends who had assembled to pay their last tribute of respect and the many flowers testified to the esteem and love for the departed.

A quartet, composed of Messrs. William Schwalb, Martin Grete, Miss Edith Stander and Mrs. David Simpson, rendered several beautiful selections. The pallbearers were old time friends and all were members of the I. O. O. F. organization of which Mr. Nichols is a member, and were C. G. Mayfield, M. L. Williams, George Wood, L. J. Mayfield, A. H. Peterson and others.

Interment did not take place until the next day, however, as Mr. Echols was having a cement mausoleum constructed in the cemetery and it was not completed until the following day. At 4 o'clock, after a short prayer by the pastor, the body was laid away in the vault, a large number of friends being present to offer their sympathy and consolation to the sorrowing family.

Mrs. Echols' maiden name was Charlotte Leecing. She was born November 25, 1852, and at the time of her death she was 72 years, 7 months and 27 days old. She was born in Stockholm, Sweden, and came to this country with her parents at the age of one year. They settled in La Salle, Illinois, and later moved to Ames, Iowa. November 6, 1868, she was married to John K. Nichols, at the age of 16 years.

They settled on a homestead near Greenwood, Nebraska. To this union, three children were born. They are Rose, now Mrs. T. F. Moats, of Harrisville, West Virginia; Frank H. Nichols, residing in Omaha, and now Mrs. William Clark, of Lincoln.

In the year 1881, Mr. and Mrs. Nichols and family moved to Louisville and Mr. Nichols engaged in business until his death, which occurred on January 19, 1897, and since that time the family has resided here, having carried on successfully the business established by his father.

On March 23, 1899, Mrs. Nichols was married to Frank S. Echols and shortly thereafter they moved to Bluefield, West Virginia, where they made their home until about three years ago they moved to their farm in western Nebraska near Llewellyn, in Garden county.

Mrs. Echols was of a quiet, home-loving disposition, a devoted wife and mother and a true and faithful friend. She was a member of the Swedish Lutheran church with which she united at the age of 14 and lived a consistent Christian life, doing many kind deeds of charity in her quiet, unobtrusive way and she was greatly beloved by all who knew her.

Her passing has brought sorrow to her family and friends who will miss her sadly.

Besides her husband and three children, she leaves five grandchildren. They are Hugo Moats, Harrisville, W. Va., Mrs. George Dolan, Voline and Robert Nichols of Louisville, and the Dakotas.

She also leaves one grandchild, Joan Moats of Harrisville, W. Va. Her daughter, Mrs. Mrs. Moats, was unable to attend the funeral, being ill in a hospital in Pittsburgh, Pa.

NEW TEACHERS SCHOOL LAW GOES IN EFFECT

State Superintendent Matzen Places Legislative Act Into Effect by Issuing Certificates.

A new era in the certification of teachers began in Nebraska, Tuesday when State Superintendent Matzen issued the first certificates under an act of the legislature which went into effect July 2. This law is known as the Wilson bill, introduced by Representative Wilson of Chadron, and drawn in the state superintendent's office.

"That law puts Nebraska on a par with Indiana, Ohio and Illinois and far ahead of Iowa, Missouri, Kansas and the Dakotas," said Superintendent Matzen. "The old law of 1919 was a catchword. The legislature that year was confronted with two bills backed by two factions.

"The result was a compromise and a law that was indefinite, full of duplications and without a gradual rise from one certificate to another and with a multiplicity of classes of certificates to be issued. The new law reduces the number of classes of certificates to nine, eliminates duplication, provides for a gradual rise from one certificate to another. Credits earned by a teacher will not count on a certificate of a higher class.

"Teachers must now depend upon college hour credits rather than cramming for examinations. Third grade elementary school certificates, the lowest class, are an exception to this. They are obtained by examination."

"Under the old law there were two issuing authorities, the county superintendent issued two classes of certificates and the state superintendent the others. County superintendents now approve this new law. They had little authority under the old law. The questions for examinations were prepared by the state superintendent who also graded the examination papers. The county superintendents merely issued the certificates.

"Under the old law when a teacher moved from one county to another she had to wait until her grades were transferred to the county of her new residence, and so on with every move she made from county to county. Now a teacher's certificate is registered in any county where the holder goes to teach and his registration is without fee.

"In passing from the old law to the new I was required to make new rulings which have the effect of law. I have tried to be fair to teachers. Under these rulings no teacher is required to do more under the new law than she would have had to do under the old law had that remained in force. The new law is not retroactive. All certificates issued under the old law are valid until the expire."—State Journal.

SOME STRANGE THINGS HAPPEN IN MONTANA. Great Falls, Mont., July 29.—When William Black, 38, a truck driver, was struck by lightning yesterday in the oil fields near here, the bolt performed some freak things.

It broke his watch chain, welded together two silver dollars in his pocket, tore off both trouser legs and shoes and burned his hair. He was unconscious for two hours, but will recover, physicians say.

The same bolt set fire to a nearby oil tank, which was destroyed.

TELEPHOTOGRAPHY

The first advertisement ever flashed across the continent from Pacific to Atlantic coast by the newly invented telephotographic process, was received in New York recently when the complete layout and text for an advertisement for the California Pear Growers association was wired from San Francisco to New York in seven minutes. The transmission was made over telephone line from a photographic negative.

This is just another tribute to the scientific progress constantly made by private industry in America, in the interest of public service. While the rest of the world is talking about getting telephones, there is one for almost every home in this land and our own American telephone system has progressed a step farther and is actually reproducing photographs over its telephone wires almost instantaneously.

Is it any wonder other nations turn to the United States for help in developing their telephone systems?

DUKE OF YORK NOT COMING. London, July 29.—It is understood in one circle that while the Duke of York, younger brother of the Prince of Wales, has accepted the honorary presidency of the world forum of freedom at Yorktown, Va. he is not expected to visit Yorktown next year, as New York dispatches have stated he would do. Recently it was announced in New York that the world forum expected the duke to visit Yorktown next year. The purpose of the forum is to restore and perpetuate the Yorktown battle where Lord Cornwallis, the British commander, surrendered to the armies fighting for American independence in October, 1781.
