

Greenwood Department!

Prepared in the Interest of the People of Greenwood and Surrounding Vicinity

Henry Eickerman and family were looking after some business matters in Lincoln and visiting with friends during one day last week.

Mrs. C. V. Vent has been suffering quite severely from an attack of hay fever, which is incident to the season of the pollen laden air.

Misses Dorothy and Madeline Smith were visiting for a short time last week at the home of her grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. St. R. Owens.

Clyde Newkirk was a visitor in Omaha for a few days last week, where he was called to look after some matters of business for a short time.

Miss Ruby Smith of Ashland was a visitor at the home of her brother E. F. Smith and family of Greenwood during a number of days last week.

C. W. Renwanzan and wife were in Lincoln last Wednesday, called there to look after some business matters and also were doing some shopping as well.

One evening last week Mr. and Mrs. Buck, were enjoying a visit from their son, J. H. Buck of Murdock, who drove over to see the parents for a short time.

Mrs. James Camborn arrived in Greenwood and as there is a shortage of houses for occupancy will make her home for the present with Mr. Sanborn's parents.

Miss Inez Wilson departed early last week for Calumet, Mo., where she will spend a few weeks as a vacation, and also will visit with her many friends there.

E. G. Smith, the druggist, who is somewhat of an artist himself, was painting and varnishing the interior of their home last week, which is making it look very fine.

Catherine Edith Hoenschell was a visitor at the home of her uncle, Mesdames Joseph and Manes Johnson of Blair, last week where they all enjoyed the occasion very much.

T. J. Carpenter, the owner of the pleasure palace, otherwise known as the pool hall of Greenwood, was looking after some business matters in the state capital last Wednesday.

Mrs. Arthur Frain of Oakland, Ia., was a visitor for last Wednesday and Thursday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Swacker, where all enjoyed the occasion very much.

Misses Janet and Lillian Schrader of Lincoln have been spending a few days at the home of their uncle, Harry Schrader and family during the past week, all enjoying the visit very much.

Fred Ethrege was a very able assistant in the matter of erecting the work which he was to do in getting the material up and the other work is now being done by men skilled in that line of work.

W. E. Newkirk and family were at Ashland last Tuesday where they attended a play at the Ashland Opera house, and enjoyed the coming being shown. They were accompanied by Mrs. A. E. Paffing, Uvon West and Dorothy Birdsall.

Miss Cielie Newkirk departed last week for Omaha where she has been teaching for a number of years and where she will teach this coming school year and is looking after some preparatory work for the school, which opens on Tuesday of this week.

M. R. Scott, representing the Jay Burns Baking company of Omaha, was a visitor in Greenwood last Friday and arranged to have their bread truck come to Greenwood in the future, and will supply the people here with "Betsey Ross" and other breads of this firm.

Miss Catherine Coleman, postmistress of Greenwood, her sister, Mrs. Anna Gullion, of Grand Island, who is visiting here at this time, Mrs. Lula Linder were visiting last Friday with another sister, Mrs. Ella Marshall, of Gretna. During their absence Mrs. H. G. Wright was looking after the postoffice.

John Skulling and family, who have been visiting at their old home at Osawatimie, Mo., for the past ten days with their old friends and relatives at that place, where they formerly made their home, returned home one day during the past week and reported a very good time while they were away.

Walter E. Paffing, who has been farming during the past year and who this summer has given special attention to the raising of the best of corn, will have some samples of his handwork on exhibition at the state fair this fall, he taking it up in order to show the kind of cereals that can be raised in western Cass county.

Oliver E. Sayles and family were visiting last Sunday at David City, driving over to this lively city, where they visited at the home of two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Galles and Mrs. Edith Johnson and their families. Mr. Sayles tells of seeing some very excellent crops on the way and also some which was very badly scorched.

Superintendent J. B. Worley, of the Greenwood public schools, who has been visiting for some time at the home of his parents at Holdrege during the vacation of the schools, arrived in town last week and is preparing to take up the work of the schools as soon as the time comes for their opening. He is already doing some good work in the preparation of the many details which are necessary to the opening.

The hand of Sophus Peterson, which has been in very bad shape since the injury it received two weeks ago, is showing some improvement at this date while it is gaining it is far from being in the condition that he can use it at his work. He was fortunate in getting a blacksmith, who begins work today. Mr. Elipah M. Griffin, who comes from Plattsmouth, is the man he obtained, and Mr. Griffin will work until such a time as Mr. Peterson is again able to resume his duties.

They Say the Car Was to Blame. Like the Turk, "who silently folded his tent and stole away," the barber, E. S. Hart, who was for the past three weeks working at the East Barber Shop, with the conclusion of work on Saturday evening, got into his car to go home and the animal being a Ford, became uncontrollable and seeing the outskirts of the village of Greenwood took to the open country and has not since been seen by the kindly disposed people of Greenwood. It is needless to say that the Ford carried the barber with it and as it traveled quite near the speed limit, he was unable to get out of the car and was also carried away.

The Water Works Project. The work of installing the new system of water work for the rustling city of Greenwood is going forward very satisfactorily at this time. The tower for the tank has been erected and the work of installing the tank itself is progressing very rapidly, while the laying of the mains and laterals is going on nicely. The machine which is being used for the purpose of ditching works nicely, and it looks like the city will be protected from fires before the cold weather sets in by the completion of the water system.

Recognize Their Good Work. On account of the excellent work that the members of the Domestic Science class of the Greenwood school has been doing in the past, and for the special service of serving hot lunch for visitors that were present, they have been awarded a ticket each to the state fair, as a recognition of their faithful and good service. Not only this but they have acquired the art of cooking and serving which will be worth while in the years which are to come.

Dorcas Society at the Church. The Dorcas society of the Christian church met last week at the church where they looked after the business coming under their care and also planned for future work, and were entertained during the social hour and served with a dainty luncheon by the genial hostess, Mrs. Niles O. Coleman and daughter, Elva. The next meeting which will be nearly a month from now will be conducted by Mrs. Joe Coleman, assisted by Mrs. E. L. McDonald and Mrs. Pearly Clymer.

They Surprised the Barber. The friends of the popular barber, Fred Anderson, gathered at his home last Thursday evening where they celebrated his birthday anniversary in the most approved manner. The evening being ideal with the copious moonlight, allowed the young folks to celebrate out in the open which they did with an enjoyable time was had, not ceasing until the wee small hours. In departing they extended to this gentleman the wish for many more happy birthdays.

Some Fine Corn. Earl Gighshue, who is a farmer and no mistake, has on display an ear of corn which was grown near Greenwood and contains 1,452 grains all well filled, being over a foot in length. The ear is well filled and the grain large and deep, making it an excellent specimen of the art of husbandry.

Finds Office in Fine Shape. John Stoughtenberg, auditor of the Searle Chapin Lumber company of which Albert Hudson is manager at the Greenwood branch, was in town one day last week for the purpose of auditing the books and the business of the concern and after having gone over the books commended the manager, Mr. Hudson, for the very careful manner in which he had conducted business and reports the condition as being very good which speaks well of the way the manager conducts his business.

Many Attend Ball Game. Many of the people of Greenwood and especially those interested in the baseball tournament, were in Plattsmouth last Sunday to enjoy the game and were hoping to see their team victorious and encouraged them in their playing a good game. This they did but the team at the east end of the county were quite alert and willing also to play the game as it should be played, which resulted in a very pretty contest, but with the east end team winning the game.

Home from Long Trip. The Rev. C. A. Parks and family, who have been visiting in the east since last spring, and who have enjoyed most thoroughly the trip, returned home last week, having been in and visited seventeen different states during their trip. They started for Maryland, where they have relatives and drove over the territory intervening. Rev. Parks formerly of Greenwood and is well known by all of the people here who are glad that the family have had such a fine visit and are home again in safety.

Farmers' Elevator Sold. The Farmers' Elevator, which became bankrupt and which was offered for sale last week was purchased by Mr. S. F. Peters and the Mid-West Grain company of Omaha, for the sum of $6,000.00. Mr. Peters taking two-thirds interest while the company of Omaha took the other third. The confirmation of the sale has been made and is to be passed upon by the United States District court, will have to take the matter under advisement for some two weeks before they are required to render a decision on the matter of confirmation of the sale.

Officers Try to Straighten Triangle. The report was received here at the office of the county attorney and sheriff Monday that a shooting affray had occurred at Crystal Springs, a small fishing resort in the Plattsmouth river, not a great distance from the city of Ashland, but lying in Cass county.

There could be no definite information received on the subject but it was decided that a personal visit to the locality as the case stood in the matter and accordingly the sheriff and county attorney drove to the scene of the alleged shooting affray only to find that the affair while boiling had not as yet reached the shooting stage.

When the officers visited the locality where it had been claimed, two ladies had been involved in the shooting affray they found peace reigning although the storm clouds hovered in the offing that threatened to throw the little summer fishing camp into the wildest excitement.

In the investigation that as made it seems that the cause of the trouble was the eternal triangle, a man, his wife and the other woman. The man, it is claimed, resides in the state metropolis and has made trips to the locality as he has been arrested there. These trips are the cause of the trouble as the wife has taken the warpath over the fact that a lady resides near the summer camp that she has suspected of designs on her husband. Whether this was true or not was not fully developed at the investigation. The cause of the excitement as learned by the officers was the fact that the wife had slipped the information to someone that she might have to do a little target practice on the person of the other lady with her trusty revolver, although she has so far failed to carry out her threat.

The matter was noised around the little settlement and a great deal of excitement aroused but as part of the triangle was not located in this county the officers are not able to get any definite settlement of the affair which looks as though it might have to be settled in the quiet of the family council or referred to the league of nations or the Western league for settlement.

LOCATES IN TEXAS. Don C. York, formerly of this city and who has been living at Omaha for the past year, has moved with his family to the southland and is now located at Harlingen, Texas, where also resides L. V. Coppenhaver, brother-in-law of Mr. York with his family and Russell Perry and family. The York family are just getting located in the south and they are enjoying very much the life in that section of the country in the fertile Rio Grande valley.

Strike Affects Shipping at Several Large Ports

Unofficial Action of British Sailors Tying Up Shipping—Most Boats Delayed.

London.—The unofficial strike of British seamen against an announced wage reduction of £1 monthly continues its gradual extension, and at Hull the Elder liner Melville, due to sail for the west coast of Africa, was delayed by failure of the crew to sign for the voyage. It was expected, however, that a new crew would be secured this afternoon.

The position as regards the Royal Mail liner Amazon and the White Star liner Majestic, which have been threatened with delay at Southampton, was reported unchanged, but officials of the two companies expressed belief that the vessel would get men in time for their schedule for early departure.

While thus far no liners have been delayed in departing from Liverpool, it is feared the walkout will be extended to that port soon, as Emmanuel Shinwell, former minister of labor in Ramsay MacDonald's Labor government, has arrived there to organize the men.

Early this afternoon 150 firemen and 40 seamen of the Majestic turned in their articles, but despite this formal notification that the men would not sail, White Star officials said they would get a sufficient crew for departure tomorrow. All the entrances to the Southampton docks are picketed, however, and the strikers say alternates cannot be secured locally.

In addition to the Majestic and Arlanza, three other vessels, the Royal Mail liners Argus and Glamorgan, and the Union-Castle mail liner, Edinburgh Castle, are affected by the strike at Southampton.

The possibility of a grave dislocation of British shipping throughout the world is seen in the constantly arriving reports of strikes spreading to ports and shipping lines hitherto unaffected.

Five British ports—London, Southampton, Hull, Avonmouth and Swansea—are feeling the results of the walkout, while a sixth port, Liverpool, is threatened with its extension there.

Drawings are Made for Golf Tournament. The first rounds to be played on Sunday and Monday in the Big Local Tournament.

From Saturday's Daily.—Last evening the drawings were made for the first round of the local golf tournament that will open Sunday and which will be completed by Monday evening, when all of the first entries will be played and the entrance into the second round will be started.

The parings for the opening round in the championship flight will be as follows: W. K. Krecklow vs. John Hatt, Sr. August Cloit vs. C. A. Rosencrans. Frank Bestor vs. George O. Dovy. Andy Moore vs. Damian Flynn. E. A. Wurl vs. Leslie Niel. Ed Fricke vs. George Petring. Dr. R. P. Westover vs. Jack Hatt. Jess Wara vs. John F. Wolf.

The first rounds will hold several hard fought matches especially in the case of those of Monday night and will be pitted against each other, the one the champion of 1924 and the other touted as one of the strong contenders for the honors of 1925.

The drawings for the President's flight will be as follows: R. A. Bates vs. James G. Mauzy. John Bauer vs. Charles E. Hartford. Stuart Egenberger vs. G. E. DeWolf. E. J. Richey vs. Chas. Hartford. Jr.

H. G. McClusky vs. F. I. Rae. L. O. Minor vs. Evi Spier. Fritz Fricke vs. E. H. Schulhof.

The committee in charge are planning to have all the matches closed up by the close of Monday night and which will permit the rapid disposition of the remaining contests.

There have been many fine prizes offered and which will be well worth contending for the various contestants.

CARD OF THANKS. The superintendent, employees and residents of the Nebraska Masonic Home desire to express their gratitude for the kindness of the Eagles band of this city in tendering their concert at the Home grounds last evening for the benefit of the band, one that will long be very pleasantly remembered and they can be assured that their efforts have been most heartily appreciated.—William F. Evers, superintendent, and residents of the Nebraska Masonic Home.

Tennis Tournament Proves Interesting

Number of Players From Out of the City Here and Fine Scores Are Shown During Matches.

From Saturday's Daily.—The tournament which has been going on for the past several days at the Plattsmouth tennis clubs courts at 14th and Granite street, has attracted a number of the enthusiasts from out in the county as well as the adjoining counties here for the games.

The second round has shown some very interesting matches and have now all been practically played and the matches are going to the semi-finals.

In the third round Robert Walling defeated Dr. J. W. Snyder of Pappilion, 6-2, 6-3. Walling was also victor in the second round of the tournament over Dr. Margaret of Pappilion, 4-6, 6-1, default.

This will place Walling in the semi-finals with Ray Larson. In the second round Rev. H. G. McClusky won from Dr. W. J. Snyder, of Louisville, 6-2, 6-3, while Ed Wescott was the winner over George Ogle, 4-6, 6-1, 6-1 in a hot match. Ray Rebel won from Paul Vandervoort 6-2, 6-0. Ray Larson won from McVicker by the score of 6-0, 6-2.

Ray Larson moved into the semi-finals by defeating Ed Wescott in a hard match, 7-5, 6-0.

Ralph Larson of Louisville will be in the semi-finals as the result of his defeat of McClusky by the score of 7-5, 6-3, 6-0, both players showing the best of form as they played for the final honors.

PRICES OF WHEAT ARE TUMBLING; CORN UP

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Wheat prices came tumbling down today, where corn scored a fresh advance. The Chicago wheat market was said to be relatively the highest wheat market in the world and therefore a target for selling associated with the movement of the new spring crop, Canadian wheat in particular. Corn values were affected by hot, dry weather and increasing reports of crop damage. Wheat closed heavy, 1 3/8 to 2 3/8 net lower, December, $151 to $151 1/8 and May $155 1/8 to $155 1/4, with corn at 3 1/4 to 2 1/8 gain, oats, 1-4c off to 1-8c up, and provisions varying from 5c decline to a rise of 15c.

Regardless of new upward jumps of the corn market, wheat went downgrade from the outset. Selling ascribed to the northwest told plainly enough regarding increased marketing of spring wheat. Canadian harvest operations were reported to be under full swing under excellent weather conditions, and there was evidence that many farmers in the northwestern states as well as in Canada, were more disposed to let go of holdings. Such selling on the part of domestic growers was about offset by reports of liberal purchasing on the part of mills and by indications of a good flour business at Minneapolis.

With the bulk of receipts at Winnipeg, however, said to be from the new wheat crop and with European demand almost zero, the confidence of owners here was apparently undermined. Weakness of Liverpool quotations had a special depressing influence and the finish here was little above the day's bottom figures, which were the lowest yet reported on the present downturn.

Weakness of wheat served somewhat to check the advance of corn, the latter grain showed itself especially responsive to Missouri and Kansas reports telling of badly burned crops. Oats were steadied by corn.

RAINS SAVE CORN CROP IN THIS STATE

Nebraska Suffered Drouth in July But August Rains Help Pastures and Save Corn.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—A general slight deficiency in rainfall and excessive temperatures thruout the middle west and central southwest during August retarded maturity of the late planted corn crop and materially reduced the pasture acreage of stockmen, but only in the Texas cotton crop and in Oklahoma did it approach a serious drouth.

Reports today from the area bounded by North Dakota, Texas, Nebraska, and Ohio showed an August rainfall deficiency ranging from 25 in North Dakota to 2.5 inches in northern Ohio, but all states except Oklahoma, were firm in the conclusion that the beneficial effect of the dry spell on the early corn planting had more than offset the damage to the late planting in the grip of the worst drouth in its history. Oklahoma reported wheat poor, corn failure and cotton deteriorating.

Iowa, the major corn state, reported only slight damage to the crop in scattered sections, particularly in the northwest portion, where main crops were delayed. In other sections of the state an abundant crop had been hastened to maturity by the blazing August sun.

Pastures in the north and west portion of the state were reported deteriorating and in some spots of water for livestock was described as alarming.

Dry pastures and unfavorable conditions for fall plowing were general thruout Illinois and rain was much needed in the south half of the state, but the principal corn area reported no such shortage. The late fortnight forecast the finest crop of the decade. In the western part of the state the two weeks' dry spell was welcomed as needed ripening weather, but in the northern counties the late corn suffered generally for want of moisture.

July and August were unusually dry in Kansas, the latter month being one of the driest in weather bureau records.

Temperatures ranged consistently from 90 to 110 degrees and the corn crop suffered about uniformly thruout the state. Heavy rains last week ended in the western part of the state saved late corn and sorghums.

Nebraska suffered a drouth in July but August rains revived all crops and the corn prospect is for one of the largest yields in years. Except for a few south-central counties, the conditions reported marked improvement over last August. Further dry weather will have little effect. Winter wheat seeding conditions are unusually favorable and fall plowing is well advanced. Pastures are about normal and sugar beets and potato conditions very good. Hay will need some rain soon, but there is little danger of serious damage to the
