Grand Lodge Officers and Other Dignitaries from Over the State Here for Dedication—Mt. Calvary Band and Drill Corps of Omaha Has Prominent Part in Ceremonies.

From Saturday's Daily—
The infirmity building at the Nebraska Masonic Home in this city, the corner stone of which was laid in June, 1924, by the Grand Lodge of Nebraska A. F. & A. M., and Charles Chappell, of Minden, as grand master, was today formally accepted and taken over by the order as a part of the Home that will in the future years mark one of the greatest fraternal institutions in the west. Members of the fraternity from all sections of the state were arriving from early morning until this afternoon when the formal ceremonies were held in the reception room and hall of the first floor of the new building where with the impressiveness and ceremony of this ancient craft, the building that is to house the sick and ailing of the order was made a part of the great institution

Nebraska, served as the central figure of the day's ceremonies and at the infirmity building at 3 p. m. opened an occasional grand lodge, assisted by other of the officers and dignitaries of the Masonic craft in the state, to fully carry out the ceremony of the acceptance of the newly completed building with the full Masonic ritualistic ceremonies.
The program of the afternoon was presided over by William A. Robertson of this city and was one fitting in every way for the important and impressive occasion.
The Masonic quartet, composed of Frank A. Cleid, Raymond C. Cook, H. G. McClusky and L. O. Minor, with E. H. Wescott as the accompanist, gave two numbers, "Dear Thou My Prayer" and "Holy Spirit Truth Divine."
After these numbers, divine invocation

JAMES M. ROBERTSON
President Nebraska Masonic Home Association.

Very Pretty Wedding at Eagle on August 26

Young People of That Community Joined in Wedding at the H. L. Scattergood Home.

A very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Scattergood Wednesday evening, Aug. 26, at 8 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Hazel, was united in marriage to Mr. Julius Morrison, of Arnold, by Rev. Slaughter, Baptist minister of Palmyra, in the presence of about 30 close relatives and intimate friends.

Proceeding the ceremony Miss Neva Graves sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied on the piano by Miss Mildred Osenkop. Mrs. Chas. Scattergood played the Lohengrin wedding march as the bridal party descended the stairs, taking their places under a large wedding bell festooned with blue and yellow streamers. These colors were also used in decorating the parlor and dining room.

The bride, in a beautiful gown of powder blue Canton crepe, was attended by her sister, Irene, who was gowned in yellow of the same material, both dresses being trimmed in rare lace. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses the bride's maids' were of yellow.

The groom's best man was Mr. C. Christensen, also of Arnold.
Following congratulations a bountiful two course lunch was served, ending with the cutting of a large white cake by the bride, where the proverbial ring was captured by a lucky young man. The groom's treat to the company was chocolates and cigars.

District Judge James T. Begley, past master of Plattsmouth lodge No. 6, responded for the Plattsmouth Masonic bodies with a few well chosen remarks on the fraternity as well as an expression of the honor that is felt by the local Masons and the community at large in having located here this splendid institution that has been made a part of the community and is now branching out with even greater progress in sight.

The Masonic quartet gave one of their impressive selections, "Remember Now Thy Creator," the solo part in the offering being taken by Raymond C. Cook.
The dedicatory address was given by Hon. Henry H. Wilson, past grand master of Nebraska, of Lincoln, who took up at some length the great responsibilities of the Masonic faith and their devotion to the care of the aged and infirm members, their families and the members of their sister lodge, the Eastern Star.
Hon. John Wright, city commissioner of Lincoln, who occupies the position of the head of the Masonic order in the state, was called upon and gave a short address that was filled with the greatest of interest, as it touched the high points of the fraternity and the mission that had brought the speaker to this city on this notable occasion.
The benediction was offered by Charles M. Shepherd, of Lincoln, grand chaplain of the Nebraska grand lodge of the A. F. & A. M., who took up at some length the great responsibilities of the Masonic faith and their devotion to the care of the aged and infirm members, their families and the members of their sister lodge, the Eastern Star.

Masonic Infirmity Erected at a Cost of $125,000; A Monument to Free Masonry and Credit to Plattsmouth

Modern Forty Bed Hospital that will Minister to Infirm and Bedfast Residents of Home—Magnificently Furnished for the Purpose to Which it is Today Dedicated.

From Saturday's Daily—
The new unit of the Nebraska Masonic Home dedicated here today is a building that is a credit to the great Masonic order that has provided it and to the constructors of the edifice, as well as an improvement in which the people of Plattsmouth may all feel a pardonable pride.

The exterior of the building that presents a most imposing appearance to passersby along Webster boulevard, the new drive through the Masonic Home grounds now being paved, is of natural Bedford silverdale and carthage stone, and bears a striking resemblance to an ancient castle with its turreted stone trimmings on the roof. The main entrance faces the new Webster boulevard and intervening sunken gardens that in time to come will be made one of the real beauty spots of this part of the state. The entrance way is of the

as the ceilings are finished in white, the smooth finish being used in all save the living rooms of the nurses and attendants which are completed in sand finish plastering.

In the halls the concrete base of the floors was laid in steel frames, which have a border of the Terrazzo finish, while the center is covered with a heavy linoleum, making a noiseless footing for the nurses and others passing to and fro in the halls.

In the entire building there is no wood save the window and door frames and the structure is fireproof throughout.

The partition walls are of hollow tile, the floors of concrete and composition, and the entire structure is supported on gigantic concrete and steel trusses and pillars that extend down thirty and forty feet to bed rock.
There will be ample accommodaings being provided by the Nebraska Grand Chapter, Order of Eastern Star at a cost of $2,000. On the second floor, which will comprise the men's wards, the reception parlor is arranged as a smoking rendezvous, and was furnished complete by Mr. and Mrs. John L. Webster, of Omaha.

From the third floor to the basement there are clothes chutes arranged, and also in the fireplaces in the living rooms and reception parlors there are small chutes arranged to remove the ashes, which are carried to the sub-basement for removal.

Every detail of the construction of the building has been carefully looked after for future comfort and convenience. All piping as well as wiring conduits are so arranged that in case of necessity they can be reached through doors in the walls of several of the closets of the building and easily repaired.

The cost of the building was approximately $125,000 and when the furnishing of all the rooms is completed it is estimated the cost will be around $25,000.

The building stands as a magnificent memorial to the order that has provided it, dedicated to the principles of Free Masonry, and a credit to our city and community.

The large linen closet on this floor that is fully stocked is now ready for use as all of the rooms on this floor are now ready for the service, awaiting only the acceptance of the new building and the formal order for the transfer of the bedfast patients to the new and wonderfully beautiful home, where they will be cared for in comfort and convenience.

STATE FISHERIES HEAD HERE
From Saturday's Daily—
Yesterday William J. O'Brien, the head of the state fisheries at Gretna was here for a short time, coming down to secure the "Angler," the official state fish car that has been at the Burlington shops in his city for repairs. Billy O'Brien has the fisheries back in their same old efficient condition and the years of his experience in this position has proven most valuable to the people of the state in the handling of this institution that is maintained for the increase and care of the fish in the streams of the state. While here Mr. O'Brien paid the Journal a very pleasant call and renewed his subscription to the semi-weekly edition as well as giving the force an opportunity of enjoying a short visit.

Furnishing of Rooms of the New Infirmity

Standardized Furnishing of the New Building Makes Striking Appearance.

The rooms of the new infirmity are all finished in the pleasant shades of brown and white, the walls being of white with light brown linoleum flooring, rugs in tones of brown and green. The furniture in all of the private rooms is of the Simmons standard type and light and the very last word in hospital furnishings. To make them as comfortable and sanitary as possible, the beds are adjustable as to height, have special attachments to the springs that permit the patient to have their heads raised or lowered as they wish.

In each room there is a large steel dresser with mirror, a steel wardrobe, ample for the clothing of the patient, a writing table and straight back chair, as well as a large cozy rocker that is most inviting. In addition to the wall and ceiling lamp there is also a stand lamp that is suitably shaded in keeping with the color tones of the room and which is also adjustable to either the table, or can be placed on the bed of the patient. A portable table that can be adjusted as desired is provided so that the patient, if bedfast, can be fed in comfort and also use the table for reading or any other purpose that they may desire. Screens are provided for use in the rooms when needed.

These rooms are all uniform, all being single rooms with the exception of two on each floor, which are double rooms and arranged in the same color tones and furnishings as the single rooms.

All of the Masonic bodies of this city are contributing some part to the furnishing of the infirmity and Plattsmouth lodge No. 6 has arranged and paid for one of the rooms that will care for the patients at the infirmity.

The bed rooms of the home cost $200 for the furnishings, the committee of the association making the furnishing of the fittings so that everything is uniform and the local commanderies, chapters and lodges of the Masons and Eastern Star that desire, contribute this sum for the furnishing of the rooms that will bear their name.

The nurses' work room and the office and dispensary of the nurses on each floor is a spotless creation of white and everything is immaculate in neatness, with all the facilities needed for sanitary and careful handling of the appliances and furnishings that are used in the care of the sick.

The small dining room on the first floor that will be used by the patients who desire to enjoy a special meal hour, has been furnished with a small dining table and comfortable leather upholstered chairs. Here the patients can be served from the diet kitchen adjoining the dining room.

The diet kitchen on the first floor has been all arranged, the fittings of the room being the gift of Home chapter No. 189 of the Eastern Star of this city. Here there is found a beautiful white enameled gas range for the preparation of special dishes by the nurses for the patients, a white enameled ice box, a large, well arranged china closet containing the dishes needed and which are all on hand now ready for use, as well as the white enameled tables for use in preparing the food. From the diet kitchen access is secured to the lumb water conveying the food from the main kitchens on the basement floor of the building, the food being taken from the diet kitchen to the dining room or the rooms of the patients as desired, on trays.

The large linen closet on this floor that is fully stocked is now ready for use as all of the rooms on this floor are now ready for the service, awaiting only the acceptance of the new building and the formal order for the transfer of the bedfast patients to the new and wonderfully beautiful home, where they will be cared for in comfort and convenience.

THE FUTURE MASONIC HOME—ARCHITECT'S DRAWING

by its acceptance by the board of control of the Nebraska Masonic Home association, of which the Hon. James M. Robertson of this city, is the president.

Owing to the extreme heat prevailing, at the last moment a telephone message from Omaha announced that Mt. Calvary commandery drill corps unable to reach this city and participate in the exercises of the day and which made necessary a radical change in the plans of the dedication as had been first arranged. This change omitted the participation of the Knights Templar in the parade as had been the first intention of the program committee.

Mt. Zion commandery No. 5 of the Knights Templar of this city was designated as the official escort for Grand Master Wright and the distinguished guests of the day and with their uniforms made a very striking picture as they marched through the streets on the way to the scene of the dedication at the infirmity building.

Grand Master John Wright, of Lincoln, head of the A. F. & A. M. of tion was asked by the Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz, prelate of Mt. Zion commandery.

Hon. James M. Robertson, president of Nebraska Masonic Home association, gave a short address relative to the Home and its mission as well as the feeling of gratitude that has come with the successful realization of the new building as a part of the great plan of the future, and also welcoming the visiting Masons to the Home.

District Judge James T. Begley, past master of Plattsmouth lodge No. 6, responded for the Plattsmouth Masonic bodies with a few well chosen remarks on the fraternity as well as an expression of the honor that is felt by the local Masons and the community at large in having located here this splendid institution that has been made a part of the community and is now branching out with even greater progress in sight.

The benediction was offered by Charles M. Shepherd, of Lincoln, grand chaplain of the Nebraska grand lodge of the A. F. & A. The members of the grand lodge, distinguished guests and visiting members of the Masons and Eastern Star were entertained following the program by the serving of refreshments in the basement of the building.

After the refreshments the members of the party enjoyed a general inspection of the building, which was also thrown open to the public by the board of control for the day and afforded several hundred visitors from the city and surrounding country an opportunity of viewing the fine new structure that is a real masterpiece of its kind and one of the finest buildings at any similar institution in the state.

SUFFERS SEVERE INJURY

From Saturday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon while Henry Marshall, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Marshall, was engaged in cutting some grass with a sickle, he was unfortunate enough to get his hand in the way of the sickle with the result that several of the tendons of his hand were cut. The tendons of the first finger being severed and as the result it required twenty-one stitches to close the wound. The young man is doing very nicely although he is suffering more or less pain from the effects of the injury.

Mrs. Morrison was born and grew to womanhood on the farm where she was married. She graduated from the Eagle high school in the class of 1922. She then attended the state teachers college at Kearney, and was for two years a successful teacher in Logan County. Mr. Morrison is recognized as a young man of excellent character, and the youthful couple have promise of a bright future.

They are touring Colorado and other western points, and will make their home after September 15 at Arnold, Nebraska.

Also a few Saanen grade young bucks, sired by best of purebred bucks and from heavy milking dams at attractive prices.—Fred Lawson, Glenwood, Iowa. s5-1td-1tw

How time flies! Only four months until Christmas! And in a few more weeks it will be less than that.

Gothic type and formed of white Bedford stone.
While the building is rated as a three story structure, there is also a large basement with grade entrance along the east front, making practically four stories.

At the south end of the well lighted and airy basement will be the kitchen, large and commodious in every way. Here there are permanent ice boxes large enough to care tion to care for forty patients in the thirty-four patient rooms, six of which accommodate two beds. In addition there are reception parlors on each floor, an operating room on the third floor, a physician's office on the second floor, nurses' dispensary room and dining room on the first floor in addition to quarters for the nurses and employees and the administration department for the nurses.

On each of the three floors there is a large corridor from which access is gained to the rooms that will be occupied by the patients, each of the rooms being arranged with a large double window that insures plenty of sunlight and ventilation. The radiators are fastened to the walls, so that no dirt can possibly gather under them and they are all automatically controlled, maintaining an even temperature in the building at all times. On reaching the required amount of heat they shut off and on the lowering of the temperature, open up.

In the rooms set aside for the patients there are well arranged lighting effects, plugs being provided for table lamps as well as one large lamp in the ceiling of the room. Here there are specially arranged call bells for the nurses. The patient desiring the nurse pulls the cord to the automatic call which then rings a bell at the nurses' station at the end of the hall, also illuminating a light over the door of the room from which the call came. The nurse must then enter the room and press the call button to put out the light.

The various floors are arranged with large and modern bath rooms and laboratories for the patients as well as special rooms for the nurses. These are finished in half marble facings along the walls.

On the third floor is located the operating room, a strictly modern room for the purpose. This is finished in white marble so it can be washed and kept spotlessly clean and is so completely equipped that major as well as minor operations may be performed there in time of necessity. It is of the greatest local interest to know that the furnishings of the operating room which embrace everything that enters into a modern hospital operating room, were provided by Mt. Zion commandery, Knights of Templar, of this city, who are literally carrying out the Templar obligation of "Binding up the wounds of the afflicted."

Near the operating room is the living room for the nurses, which is a large, airy room provided with ten large double windows, making it bright and cheerful, and with a fine open fireplace to add to the comfort of the room.
The diet kitchen adjoins the office and dispensary of the nurses, each of these rooms being arranged in most up-to-date manner. Just off the diet kitchen is a small dining room where the patients who are able to leave their beds may gather and enjoy their meals together.

The furnishings of the diet kitchen, No. 189, O. E. S., of this city.
On the second floor, directly underneath the operating room is the physician's office and a small adjoining laboratory, the furnishing of which was provided by Nebraska Chapter No. 2, R. A. M., of this city.
Plattsmouth lodge No. 6, A. F. & A. M. furnished one of the large double patient rooms on the first floor.

The reception parlors on the first and second floors are elaborately furnished, these handsome furnishing the walls of the interior as well
