Mufflers

More than ever—this is a Muffer year. Every man in the Dress Well Circle wears a muffer, or more properly speaking, a neck scarf. Their usefulness is two fold—to protect the collar from the rub of the coat and to protect the neck from the bite of the cold.

The materials and colors are beautiful this year—Natty Scotch plaids in all wool cashmiers, attractively bright colors in the new Chenilles, Handsome Swiss Silks—knife cut ends.

PHILATHEAS HOLD MEETING

From Wednesday's Daily—Last evening the members of the Philathea class of the Methodist Sunday school were very pleasantly entertained at the cozy and attractive home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Heinrich on west Main street. The hostesses of the occasion being Mrs. Heinrich, Mrs. G. E. Brubaker and Mrs. A. H. Duxbury. The attractive home was added to by the bright hued colors of the Christmas season that made a most fitting setting for the enjoyable occasion. Each member of the class brought with them packages that contained remembrances of the Christmas season which the committee of the class will see is distributed among the children of the city that might not have the opportunity of enjoying the fullest measure of Christmas happiness and cheer. The ladies of the class enjoyed several pleasing diversions, the first being that of having the problem of tearing an elephant out of paper and in this difficult problem Miss Cordelia Field proved the most successful in producing a real elephant while Mrs. Hallie Perry was awarded the consolation prize. The hostesses had arranged a number of articles that represented different characters in the Bible and in this guessing contest Mrs. Frank Emory Pfoutz won the prize for guessing the largest number of the characters correctly. One of the features of the decorative scheme was a Christmas tree presented by one of the members of the class and this was arranged with the handsome electric lighting effects and in the course of the evening the other lights were dimmed and by the glow of the tree lights the members joined in the singing of the Christmas carols. The hostesses served dainty and delicious refreshments at an appropriate hour that completed a very enjoyable event for the philatheas. Those who are planning to have Christmas cards printed to send to their friends should make their orders at once so that the work can be handled in ample time. Go to the Bates Book Store for your school supplies.

More Work in Sight for Local Railway Shop

Steel Underframe Cars and Ballast Cars to be Rebuilt and Handled at Local Shop.

From Wednesday's Daily—The freight car department of the Burlington shops in this city will be a place of real activity in the next few months when the department will take over the work of rebuilding, repairing and maintaining steel underframe cars and the large sized ballast cars that have been handled at other points in the past. The change in the line of work is made possible by the change made in the refrigerator car work that will in the future be handled at the shops of the Fruit Express Co., at Indiana Harbor, Indiana, they handling this line of work for the Burlington as well as the Great Northern and the Pennsylvania. The change in type of work will bring a larger demand on the Plattsmouth shops as the steel work is of a different type and plans will be made at once to get in readiness for the work that will be here to be handled. There will be several hundred cars to be handled at once and as the work progresses there will be a greater demand for this type of cars that means that there will be all if the work that is desired in the local freight car shops. The line of work may make it necessary for the increasing of the force at the shops as soon as the full details are worked out and submitted by William Baird, shop superintendent to the railroad heads. The news of the promising outlook for the opening of the new year in the railroad work will be very pleasing to the friends of the Burlington and Plattsmouth people especially and under the efficient management of Mr. Baird the railroad work can be depended upon to equal any that is turned out at any other point on the system. The character of all lines of work turned out by the local shops is of the very highest and it can be depended upon that the new class of car building and repairs will be up to the standard maintained by the shop here in this city.

Young People Joined in Wedding Today

Miss Virginia Copenhaver and Mr. Ardon H. Ruhmann of Union Married at High Noon.

From Wednesday's Daily—At high noon today at the Christian church parsonage, occurred the marriage of Miss Virginia Copenhaver and Mr. Ardon H. Ruhmann, two of the highly esteemed young people of near Union. The wedding was very quiet, the young people being accompanied to this city by Mr. and Mrs. William Reynolds of Union, the latter a sister of Mr. Ruhmann, and who witnessed the ceremony that was to join the lives and hearts of this very highly esteemed couple. The bride wore a very handsome gown of dark satin crepe trimmed with gold, and wearing a picture hat to match, making a very charming bride indeed. The marriage lines were read most impressively by the Rev. Walter R. Robb, the pastor of the First Christian church, and the single ring service being used in the solemnization of the marriage vows. At the conclusion of the wedding the young people returned to their home at Union. Both of the contracting parties are numbered among members of two of the old and prominent families in Liberty precinct and are held in the highest esteem by a large circle of warm friends. The bride was born in Virginia, the ancestral home of her family but has made her home on the farm near Union since a small child and grown to womanhood in that locality where she is universally loved and esteemed by a large circle of friends. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Copenhaver, well known residents of Union. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Ruhmann and was born in the vicinity of Union where his family have long resided. He is a young man of industry and held in the highest esteem by all who have the pleasure of knowing him. Mr. and Mrs. Ruhmann will make their home in the future on the farm of the groom where the home is awaiting the coming of the bride.

CATHOLIC DAUGHTERS MEET

From Wednesday's Daily—Last evening the hospitable home of Mrs. Herman Reichstadt was the scene of a most delightful social meeting of the Catholic Daughters of America, the event being given in honor of the class just initiated into the order on Sunday. The home was arranged with the colors of the forthcoming Christmas season and which added to the charm of the pleasant evening. As the pastime for the evening the ladies enjoyed bridge, there being several tables of this interesting card game played and in the contests Mrs. Fred G. Egenberger was awarded the first prize while Mrs. Charles Peterson was given the consolation prize. Mrs. Reichstadt was assisted in the pleasant event by Miss Mildred Schaber, Anna Rys, Margaret Hallahan and Mrs. W. A. Swatek. At a suitable hour very dainty and delicious refreshments were served that added to the enjoyment of all of the members of the party and proved a fitting climax of the evening of the rarest pleasure.

PREPARES BEAUTIFUL PAINTING

From Wednesday's Daily—Father George D. Pierce, rector of the St. Luke's Episcopal church, who is a talented artist as well as a devout and worthy shepherd in the flock of the Master, has prepared a three section painting that will be used in the decorations of the church for the Christmas eve high mass. The paintings represent the Blessed Virgin Mary with the infant Jesus and supporting each side of the Holy Mother and Child, appears the watching angels. The painting is in oil and is very beautiful and will add much to the beauty of the handsome church during the Christmas eve service.

DEATH OF SPLENDID MAN

The Nebraska members of the newspaper fraternity as well as thousands of persons over the state who have had dealings with the Carpenter Paper Co., of Omaha, learned with regret this morning of the death yesterday at Omaha of Isaac W. Carpenter, founder of the company and for many years a leading figure in the business life of Omaha and Nebraska. The death of Mr. Carpenter came after a prolonged illness and occurred Sunday morning at 10 o'clock at the family home, 2525 Lafayette avenue, Omaha. Mr. Carpenter established the Carpenter Paper Co. at Omaha in 1887 and it has grown from a very humble beginning to one of the largest institutions in the state of Nebraska, and with branch houses in Chicago, Kansas City, Des Moines, Sioux City, Lincoln, Denver, Billings, San Antonio, Salt Lake City, Oklahoma City and Los Angeles. Mr. Carpenter was always greatly interested in the welfare of his friends in the territory covered by his company and for many years while his health permitted kept in touch with his friends in the newspaper business and other lines that were served by the Carpenter company, his splendid personality and genial temperament making him a friend of those with whom he has come in touch. For many years Mr. Carpenter was a warm personal friend of R. A. Bates, publisher of the Journal, they becoming acquainted many years ago while Mr. Bates was in business in Iowa and the news of the death of the old friend comes very much as a personal loss to the Journal publisher.

DEATH OF FORMER RESIDENT

From Wednesday's Daily—The following was taken from the newspaper published at Ferrestown, Pennsylvania, tells of the death of a former well known resident of this city, the family living here for a great many years, part of the time on a farm situated between Murray and Union and later in the residence now owned by George R. Saylor. Mrs. H. M. Gault, 75, one of the widely known and respected women of Crosscreek township died at her home last night after an illness of eight weeks. Mrs. Gault was a daughter of the late William and Isabelle Dunbar. She was married to H. M. Gault in 1874. A member of the Crosscreek Presbyterian church, Mrs. Gault was always active in its affairs. Besides her husband, Mrs. Gault leaves two daughters, Miss Laura Gault, at home, and Mrs. D. W. Lyle of Atlanta, Ga. Three grandchildren also, survive. She leaves four brothers and one sister—Rev. Joseph W. Dunbar, of Old Concord; George, William and Samuel Dunbar, all of Crosscreek; and Mrs. Mollie Duncan of Crosscreek. Funeral services will be held in the Presbyterian church at Crosscreek Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be in the Crosscreek cemetery.
