

Alvo Department

Art Bird was looking after some business matters in Plattsmouth last Thursday.

The Ladies Aid society met last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. O. A. Kitzel. About forty members were present.

Ben Swanson and family were guests at Greenwood on Christmas day at the home of Edward Johnson and family.

Mrs. Edith Kitzel was in Lincoln one day last week, where she has been taking treatments for the past six months.

The C. K. C. held their meeting at the home of Mrs. Bert Kitzel December 8th. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Bornemeier entertained Mr. and Mrs. Bert Kitzel and Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stroemer and family Sunday.

Mrs. A. B. Stroemer has been feeling quite poorly for the past week or more, but at this time is reported as being some better.

J. E. Taylor has had a new radio installed at his home and is now keeping pace with the happenings of the world, which he gets out of the air.

A. B. Stroemer wired Happy's Garage last week which is located in the Thomas building where the store of Uncle Henry S. Ough was formerly located.

R. M. Coatman and the family and W. W. Coatman and family were guests at the home of Grandfather William Coatman and wife, of Weeping Water.

Carl Rosenow was assisting in the barber shop during the rush before Christmas, as George Eldenmiller was having more work than he could do by himself.

John D. Foreman, F. L. Edwards and G. E. Steele were unfortunate in that they each suffered the loss of a horse by corn stalk disease during the past week.

Charles Hertle, Sr., of Murdock, and the good wife were visiting in Alvo with friends and looking after some business matters as well Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Dickerson drove over to Aurora in their car over Christmas, where they spent the day Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lauritzen.

Will E. Heier and the family were over to Council Bluffs last Friday, where they spent Christmas day at the home of Mrs. Heier, mother of Mrs. O. H. Tower.

Soren Petersen and the family were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Steele, parents of Mrs. Peterson. The day was most pleasantly spent by all.

William Stewart was a guest at the home of his son, Roy Stewart for Christmas, where they enjoyed an excellent dinner and also a most pleasant day as well.

Last Tuesday John Skinner took a load of cows belonging to E. M. Stone and Jess Hardnock to the South Omaha stock market, where they were disposed of the following day.

A. B. Stroemer and family enjoyed Christmas at the home of his mother, Mrs. J. H. Stroemer, where all spent the day and celebrated the event in the most approved manner.

The Alvo schools were dismissed for the winter vacation on last week, the teachers reporting for their various homes for the winter holiday, where they went to enjoy the occasion.

Miss Carmine Muier, who is teaching in the public schools at Ogallala, arrived in Alvo one day last week and is spending the holiday vacation with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. L. Muier.

Miss Blanche Moore, who is employed and is making her home in Beaver, arrived home last week and is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Moore, for the holidays.

Miss Marie Stroemer, who is a teacher in the Lincoln schools, arrived in Alvo last week and will spend the vacation at the home of her mother, Mrs. J. H. Stroemer, and with her brother, A. B. Stroemer and wife.

Earl Keller and family were spending their Christmas at the home of Mrs. Keller's mother, Mrs. Ellen Ohmes, living west of Elmwood, they driving over in the auto for the day which was most pleasantly spent.

John B. Skinner was a visitor in Omaha last week with Frank E. Cook, taking a load of sheep to the South Omaha market for the latter gentleman, who had been feeding them during the last few months.

L. D. Mullen and wife and daughter, Nita, were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Dimmitt, of Greenwood for Christmas, where they enjoyed the day most splendidly, driving over in their auto for the day.

J. W. Banning and wife have installed an Atwater-Kent radio at their home and are liking it very well.

Mr. Banning is also agent for this radio and is associated with his brother, Joe Banning, of Union, in the sale of them.

Arthur Dinges sold during the past week two radios, they going to Henry Reicke, who purchased a Super Tridyn, and C. D. Ganz, buying one for Mrs. Ganz, this one being the same kind. They were installed by Mr. Dinges and are working fine.

At the Alvo school last Wednesday afternoon was given a program of a general character by the school with a Christmas setting and which was a most enjoyable affair and was attended by a number from out of school as well as the scholars.

Joe Vickers has gotten a ten days layoff, which he is using at the beginning by spending Christmas at the home of Sam Jordan. He will probably spend the rest of it next year, for he should not take more than one day off from work at a time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Banning were spending Christmas in Union, where they visited with Mrs. Henry Banning, mother of Mr. Banning and also the mother of Mrs. Banning, Mrs. O'Donnell and Mrs. Banning's brother, Henry O'Donnell. They drove over and had a most enjoyable time.

The ladies of the Methodist church of Alvo directed a program which was given at the church on Christmas eve and was a general program in connection with a Christmas tree and enlivened with Christmas songs. A large crowd was in attendance and all enjoyed the occasion very much.

Michael Smith and H. C. Metzloff were spending a few days in Lincoln last week, where they were visiting with friends and also were looking after some business matters for a short time and returned home on last Wednesday afternoon after having had a fine visit as well as transacting the business which called them there.

Entertained for Christmas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Boyles were gathered a number of friends and relatives to properly assist in the celebration of Christmas on last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Boyles are excellent entertainers and the occasion was one of much rejoicing by all who were present. There were also for the occasion Dale Boyles, of McCook; C. M. Skiles and family, of Lincoln; Roy Cole and wife, of Plattsmouth; M. C. Keefer and family, of Glenwood, Iowa; C. D. Ganz and wife, of Alvo; Mrs. Clara Prouty and daughter, Margaret, of Lincoln.

Christmas at Mrs. Mary Shinner's. Mrs. Mary Shinner entertained for Christmas and Christmas dinner at her home in Alvo last Friday, when a large and happy crowd were in attendance at the home for the day. Those present included E. D. Frienda and wife, Miss Lelia Shelton, Sherman Wolfe and family, Eddie Craig and wife, of Johnson, and John Skinner.

Mrs. R. L. Parmenter Entertains. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Parmenter entertained at their country home on Christmas day, where a general good time was had by all present and everyone surely enjoyed the occasion most pleasantly. There were there for the occasion Fred Weaver and son, Glen, of South Bend; Henry S. Ough and daughter, Mrs. J. A. Shafer, of Alvo; A. Diers and family and William Powell and family, of Lincoln.

All Eat Dinner with Herman. Herman L. Bornemeier and wife entertained for Christmas day at their home last Friday all the family, where all gathered about the festive board at the family reunion. A most enjoyable time was had, there being present for the occasion William Bornemeier, Aug Bornemeier of Elmwood, John and Louis Bornemeier and all their families of Murdock.

C. F. Rosenow and Wife Entertain. Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Rosenow entertained the family at their home on Christmas day when they had for the day and for dinner all of the children. There were there for the occasion Elmer Rosenow and the wife, Virgil Rosenow, Carl Rosenow and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Clarke.

Pythian Sisters Elect. The following officers were elected at a meeting of the Pythian Sisters held last Thursday evening: Mrs. Herman Bornemeier, Most Excellent Chief; Mrs. Lyle Miller, Most Excellent Senior; Mrs. George Pifer, Most Excellent Junior; Mrs. Elmer Rosenow, Manager of the Temple; Mrs. Arthur Skinner, Mistress of Records and Correspondence; Mrs. Floyd Dickerson, Mistress of Finance; Mrs. O. A. Kitzel, Protector of the Temple; Mrs. Charles Ayres, Guard of the Temple; Mrs. A. B. Stroemer, pianist.

Entertain for Family. Mr. and Mrs. George Bray, of Syracuse, parents of Mrs. Arthur Dinges, entertained for the family on Christmas day, when all enjoyed the occasion very nicely. There were there for the occasion Arthur Dinges and wife, of Alvo; Glen Rutledge and family, of Nehawka; Walter Thompson and wife, of Bethany; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Nyden, of Havelock, and C. E. France and wife, of Lincoln.

Were Married Last Tuesday. The cigars were in evidence as a result of the wedding last Tuesday of Jacob Rodaway and Miss Delta Pifer which occurred on that day. These two young people are very excellent and popular, coming from old established families of this vicinity. The Journal, with their many friends in and about Alvo are extending best wishes for a long, happy and prosperous life.

Attend Family Reunion. J. M. Manners and the family attended a family reunion at Havelock and University Place on Christmas day, where all the members of the Manners family were together. There were also C. M. Manners and G. H. Manners from Plattsmouth present.

Christmas at the Wood Home. Mr. and Mrs. John Wood and their daughter entertained at their home in Alvo for Christmas and had the family of Mrs. Woods, where all enjoyed the occasion very pleasantly. There were there for the occasion Samuel Hardnock and wife with the children, Jess Hardnock and wife, Lyle Miller and family, Archie Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Miller, all of Alvo, and Mrs. Hattie Kear, of Lincoln.

Announcement. We announce the opening of "Happy's Garage" in the Thomas building, which was formerly occupied by a store by H. S. Ough.

We wish to announce that we have had eight years' experience in working on all makes and models of automobiles, and not only that, but can handle your machinery jobs of any kind—Trucks and Tractors, Sewing Machines, Washing Machines or any other kind of machine work. Our work will be guaranteed and our charges reasonable.

"HAPPY'S GARAGE," Alvo, Nebraska.

Imperialists Use Puzzle. The crossword puzzle, lately a popular American diversion, was until a few days ago a favorite indoor sport in the land of the ancient Magyars. Inocently its definitive sentences spoke of Egyptian sun gods, printers' measures, points of the compass, Australian birds, ruminants and such, and innocently the honest Hungarians pondered over them, even as their American friends had done.

The Horthy government, which is in the ascendancy in Hungary, might have thought that there was remote possibility of treason in the aggravatingly blank squares, but treason was there. The patterns of those Hungarian word puzzles, that is, those that appeared in the opposition newspapers, were so conceived as to convey royalist propaganda of various sorts. The last one waved the flag for the monarchists by spelling out, "Long Live Otto."

This was more than the Horthy government could tolerate, so when it was discovered all crossword puzzles had to suffer for the guilt of one, and were relegated to the scrap heap. What would have been the result had the Horthy government been more liberal is, of course, speculative, but from precedent it appears that, for their own good they were wise. If the stupid cackle of a goose could save the city of Rome from the Gauls, and a silly looking wooden horse bring about the fall of Ilion when ten long years of siege had failed, an asinine crossword puzzle might easily overthrow a none-too-secure Hungarian government.

Bismarck Used Trivialities. The master diplomatist, Bismarck, was more than attentive to trivialities. He concentrated on them. He did not, to be sure, make them his goal; he made them his means. The simple things in life were what he used to attain his magnificent ends. When the diplomatists and statesmen of old Europe gathered he had no elaborate complication of words and complex plots to fire at them. His language was straight and to the point, and, according to his commentators and his own memoirs, he always told the truth.

This comparatively simple scheme of the truth his adversaries did not know whether or not to believe him. They usually expected something more complicated or vague and read some other meaning into his words, which was exactly what he wanted them to do.

Bismarck might have chosen the crossword puzzle, if it had been the vogue, to start the Franco-Prussian war. As it was he used a telegraph blank. The Ems dispatch, as published, was highly insulting, stung the national sentiment of Germany, turned them against the French, and made Napoleon III appear the aggressor.

The trivial may upset the most learned. There is that aged yawn about the astronomer and the monster in the sky. He studied the monster through his telescope for a time, and then called in his colleagues. One of them discovered a fly on his lens.

And now again the trivial occupies the stage. Republican Hungary combats royalist Hungary by abolishing crossword puzzles. But, for that matter, an overripe apple led to the discovery of the law of gravity and a pebble won a world's baseball championship for Washington last year.

120,886 Horses and Mules Killed in War. London.—The horse and mule casualties on the western front during the World War, distinct from accidental and injured in the official history of the veterinary services. Of this number, 178 were killed and 1,868 injured by gas and 51,808 were killed and 67,532 wounded by gunshot.

HUNGARY BANS CROSS-WORDS

Find Royalist Propaganda Woven in Among the Black Squares.

Washington.—It is often the commonplace and the trivial, the relatively meager things, which in times of stress and crisis arise to glorious heights, and become, as it were, sacred things. Likewise, it is often the commonplace and the trivial that emerge from triteness to become harbingers of tragedy. The fate of a nation, the success of an enterprise, the result of a great struggle may all hang on the most minute triviality in daily routine.

To whatever one may ascribe this phenomenon—whether, as it is often said, it is the merest coincidence—it is often the ability to foresee these trivial things and to gauge their worth correctly that makes for success. Often, of course, their occurrence is impossible to foresee, but in many cases this is done, as is borne out by history and the acts of leaders of men.

Attention to this is called by a recent circumstance in Hungary. This state, born in war's travail, has been struggling in the throes of a new republicanism. Torn internally by factional bitterness and sick with poisonous political complaints, it has become accustomed to strategems and coups d'etat. It has learned to face almost stoically, revolutionary turbulence, and has been hardened to all the hatred that accompanies the rise of a new state. It has learned to be extremely cautious, but something almost slipped past its caution, the results of which might have been a deciding factor in the fate of its present government.

Imperialists Use Puzzle. The crossword puzzle, lately a popular American diversion, was until a few days ago a favorite indoor sport in the land of the ancient Magyars. Inocently its definitive sentences spoke of Egyptian sun gods, printers' measures, points of the compass, Australian birds, ruminants and such, and innocently the honest Hungarians pondered over them, even as their American friends had done.

The Horthy government, which is in the ascendancy in Hungary, might have thought that there was remote possibility of treason in the aggravatingly blank squares, but treason was there. The patterns of those Hungarian word puzzles, that is, those that appeared in the opposition newspapers, were so conceived as to convey royalist propaganda of various sorts. The last one waved the flag for the monarchists by spelling out, "Long Live Otto."

This was more than the Horthy government could tolerate, so when it was discovered all crossword puzzles had to suffer for the guilt of one, and were relegated to the scrap heap. What would have been the result had the Horthy government been more liberal is, of course, speculative, but from precedent it appears that, for their own good they were wise. If the stupid cackle of a goose could save the city of Rome from the Gauls, and a silly looking wooden horse bring about the fall of Ilion when ten long years of siege had failed, an asinine crossword puzzle might easily overthrow a none-too-secure Hungarian government.

Bismarck Used Trivialities. The master diplomatist, Bismarck, was more than attentive to trivialities. He concentrated on them. He did not, to be sure, make them his goal; he made them his means. The simple things in life were what he used to attain his magnificent ends. When the diplomatists and statesmen of old Europe gathered he had no elaborate complication of words and complex plots to fire at them. His language was straight and to the point, and, according to his commentators and his own memoirs, he always told the truth.

This comparatively simple scheme of the truth his adversaries did not know whether or not to believe him. They usually expected something more complicated or vague and read some other meaning into his words, which was exactly what he wanted them to do.

Bismarck might have chosen the crossword puzzle, if it had been the vogue, to start the Franco-Prussian war. As it was he used a telegraph blank. The Ems dispatch, as published, was highly insulting, stung the national sentiment of Germany, turned them against the French, and made Napoleon III appear the aggressor.

The trivial may upset the most learned. There is that aged yawn about the astronomer and the monster in the sky. He studied the monster through his telescope for a time, and then called in his colleagues. One of them discovered a fly on his lens.

And now again the trivial occupies the stage. Republican Hungary combats royalist Hungary by abolishing crossword puzzles. But, for that matter, an overripe apple led to the discovery of the law of gravity and a pebble won a world's baseball championship for Washington last year.

120,886 Horses and Mules Killed in War. London.—The horse and mule casualties on the western front during the World War, distinct from accidental and injured in the official history of the veterinary services. Of this number, 178 were killed and 1,868 injured by gas and 51,808 were killed and 67,532 wounded by gunshot.

WATER POWER DEVELOPED AT GREAT RATE IN FIVE YEARS

Projects Involving 24,000,000 H. P. Listed by Government, Says Power Commission.

Washington.—The last five years have witnessed the greatest water power development in the United States, according to the annual report of the federal power commission.

In the five-year period ending June 30, 1925, the federal power commission has received 524 applications for power development and 100 applications for transmission lines. Eliminating duplications, the applications for power projects will involve when built an aggregate estimated installation of 24,000,000 horse power.

"While a considerable number of applications are undoubtedly for projects that will not be developed for many years, and some perhaps never," says the commission, "yet the aggregate of projects reasonably certain of construction in the near future involves more than twice the water horse power in operation when the federal water power act was passed in 1920."

In the last fiscal year applications for 80 power projects were filed, involving an estimated installation, if built, of 620,000 horse power, and 22 applications for transmission lines. In the year 18 permits and 53 licenses, with an estimated installation of 1,700,000 horse power, were issued.

At the end of the fiscal year there were outstanding 70 permits and 180 licenses, aggregating 8,745,000 horse power. Eighty-three projects, with a prospective installation of 2,643,000 horse power, had been completed or were under construction, 10 of which, with a combined installation of 197,500 horse power, had been started during the year.

Rich Coloradoan Builds Complete Miniature City

Denver, Colo.—A Denver man's diversion from the cares of his business has resulted in one of the major attractions along the city's mountain park drives.

From a modest beginning has grown Turner's "Tiny Town," a miniature village in Turkey Creek canyon, 30 miles from here. The "town" covers several acres, has electric lighted streets, a real railway system, a small steamship that plys on a miniature lake as well as smelters and mines on the hilly slopes and outlying ranches, dairy barns, silos and farmhouses.

The spire of the "cathedral" is on the level with the head of a six-foot man when standing erect; a child five feet high, wearing seven-league boots when it strides about the streets; and the railway station makes a comfortable home for a small dog.

More than a decade ago George E. Turner felt he must have some outdoor diversion. He did not care for fishing, golf, hunting, or hiking, so he seized upon the plan of building the "Tiny Town" across the road from his mountain summer home.

Believed to Have Found City of Lost Cherokees

Lincoln, Neb.—What may have been the habitat of the legendary lost tribe of Cherokee Indians for which the famous Chief Sequoia lost his life in the search in 1848, has been uncovered in Richardson county, Neb., by E. E. Blackman, curator of the State Historical society museum.

Professor Blackman found the remains of an ancient Indian city, together with several pieces of pottery and many chipped flint tools, different from those made by tribes hitherto known to have inhabited that region. Unearthed articles bear unmistakable signs of Cherokee origin, Mr. Blackman said. This led him to believe it possible that the site was once the location of the lost tribe which legends say split away from the tribal home in southeastern United States and pushed across the Mississippi, never to return.

"Charleston" Epidemic Spreads Through Paris

Paris.—The "Charleston," the most discussed dance in Europe these days has surmounted all opposition here and despite contrary predictions seems likely to become the most popular dance in France. Unqualified approval of the American jazz step was voted recently by the Association of French Dancing Masters.

A special exhibition of the "Charleston" as it was originally and all its variations was presented by the association to the music of an American negro orchestra. Meanwhile, the public has not waited for the dancing masters, but has gone ahead with its own variety of "Charleston" in the Paris cabarets and dance halls.

South Americans here have taken up the step with enthusiasm and keep the orchestras, preferably negro, playing away long after normal closing time.

Maximilian's Desk Used by Louisiana Governor

Baton Rouge, La.—The desk at which the governor of Louisiana sits daily is a handsome piece of furniture, made of Circassian walnut, carved with matchless skill, and once served Maximilian while he occupied the throne as emperor of Mexico.

Legends say that after the execution of Maximilian the desk and two other pieces of furniture from the ill-fate emperor's office were brought to Louisiana and placed in the executive offices.

Playtime
in the South
Choice of Three Gateway Routes
Chicago
St. Louis
Kansas City
Low Fares
R. W. CLEMENT
Ticket Agent

LOCAL NEWS

From Thursday's Daily—
Dr. H. C. Leopold, Osteopathic physician and surgeon, phone 208. 37-tfa

Dr. Heineman, Dentist, Hotel Main Bldg., Phone 527.

From Thursday's Daily—
Frank Hawksworth of Denver arrived here this morning to spend the Christmas season here with his mother, Mrs. D. Hawksworth and with his sister Mrs. E. W. Cook.

W. H. Kruger, of near Nehawka, was in the city today and while here was a pleasant caller at the Journal office for a few moments and renewed his subscription to the weekly edition of the paper.

From Monday's Daily—
Elwood, Buttery and wife of Pender, Nebraska, are her to enjoy the holiday season with the relatives and friends.

Louis Rothmann who is now located at Rochester, Minnesota, is here to enjoy a visit with the relatives and friends.

J. H. Tams of Omaha was in the city Christmas, coming down to attend the services at the St. Paul's Evangelical church.

David Hawksworth and wife of Detroit, Michigan, were among the holiday visitors in the city at the home of Mr. Hawksworth's mother.

Mrs. Fred Hawksworth and son, Fredrick, of Lincoln were here over Christmas visiting at the home of Mrs. D. Hawksworth and Mrs. E. W. Cook.

Dr. J. H. Hall departed this morning for Marysville Missouri, where he expects to spend some time in that locality visiting with old friends and relatives.

Lester Dalton and wife of Edgar, Nebraska, are here enjoying a visit with Mr. Dalton's mother, Mrs. R. D. Dalton, and with Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Holmes and family.

D. A. Young and wife of Murray, were here yesterday to spend the day with their daughter, Mrs. Ona Lawton, matron of the Masonic Home, and their son, W. H. Young and family.

Carl E. Smith and wife of Tonka, Kansas, are here enjoying a visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith, parents of Mr. Smith, as well as with the old friends here and in Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hanna and little child of Omaha were here over Christmas visiting at the home of Mrs. Hanna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith and enjoying the holiday season with the old friends.

Earl Hassler, wife and children of Grand Island and William Hassler, Jr., wife and little daughter of Lincoln, were here over Christmas visiting with the parents of the gentleman, Mr. and Mrs. William Hassler.

Sherman Taylor and wife of Wyoming, arrived here yesterday afternoon from Texas where they have been spending a few weeks and will visit at the home of Mrs. Taylor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMaken here.

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found sound relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Plattsmouth resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Mrs. Charles Mason says: "My back was lame and weak and it bothered me to be on my feet. My kidneys acted too freely at times and I felt miserable and had no ambition. I tried Doan's Pills which I got at

Fricks & Co's. drug store and in a short time they made me feel like a different woman. (Statement given May 12, 1920.)

On November 11, 1924, Mrs. Mason said: "My faith in Doan's Pills is greater today for they have cured me of my past trouble."

Mrs. Mason is only one of many Plattsmouth people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mrs. Mason had. The remedy backed by home testimony, 60 cents at all dealers. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y. "When Your Back is Lame—Remember the Name."

Dr. R. P. Westover was at Omaha yesterday where he spent a few hours with his father, Judge W. H. Westover at the hospital where the judge is recuperating from his recent operation.

Frank E. Buttery, who is taking treatment at Omaha returned this morning to this city after a short visit here with relatives and was accompanied there by his brother, Mart Buttery.

Old Customs Followed Too Closely Handicap Humanity

If the old Healing Methods have failed you, try the Up-to-Date Chiropractic

Dr. Joe J. Stibal
Telephone No. 3

W. REX YOUNG

PLATTSMOUTH, NEBRASKA
General Auctioneering
Also Pure Bred Sales

At present I have the following sales listed and more yet to come but not ready to be advertised. Those that do not have the exact date set, will be dated later and appear in ad when dated. Several of these sales are Pure Bred.

JANUARY
5—Mr. Greenwood, Dunbar
6—Chas. Mutt, Murray
27—Claude Overton, Mead.

FEBRUARY
17—M. Berkey, Grant, Neb.
20—E. T. Sherlock, Wray, Colorado.

Shafer Bros. Pure Bred Sow sale, Nehawka; W. R. Supernaw, Otoe; John Peterson, Davey; Delbert Mumm, Weeping Water; Pete Olson, Mead; M. B. Chamberlain, Cedar Creek; Cliff Greer, Madrid; W. R. Smith, Neb. City; Mrs. Mary Shriner, Neb. City; Luther Mead, Union; E. H. Miller, Murdock; Frank Blotzer, Chas. McCarty, Imperial; Chas. McCarty, Nehawka; Harry Abker, Syracuse; M. B. Thompson, Imperial; Philip Born, Plattsmouth; Harry Nelson, Murray; Lee Nickles, Murray.

Am selling for some of the best breeders. Call at my expense. Satisfaction guaranteed. Telephone No. 314.

Duco Paint!

All colors for interior of the house decoration, as well as automobiles.

This paint dries in 30 minutes and will not crack, check or peel off. Always looks nice.

See us for corn picking supplies of all kinds. Do you need a corn elevator?

Coatman Hardware Co.

ALVO NEBRASKA

Advertising pays! Try it!