The Better BUICK

Starts easily

Buick motor cars are designed to run efficiently in every temperature, and under every climatic condition. Only a small percentage of the million and more Buicks have the opportunity to go to California or Florida for the winter.

Buicks start quickly, even at zero. The new, high-speed starting motor accomplishes this most desirable result.

Runs smoothly

Buick Automatic Heat Control reduces another cold-weather starting annoyance—that of bucking, spitting, misfiring engines. This exclusive Buick feature heats the fuel supply, and saves gasoline, automatically and immediately.

Stops safely

In rain, snow or sleet Buick mechanical 4-wheel brakes stop the car firmly, in a straight line. Neither heat nor cold affects the direct mechanical action of these brakes. There is no liquid in them to expand, contract or leak away.

Bills Aimed to Get Rid of Farm Crop Surplus

Relief Measures for Agriculture Proposed in Congress From Number of Different Sources.

Washington, Jan. 4.—Farm relief proposals before congress from a number of sources when it reconvened today, one of them a bill by Representative Dickinson, republican of Iowa, recognized leader in the house farm bloc. The Dickinson proposal drafted after conferences with various farming organizations, including the representatives at the recent farm conference in Des Moines, was designed to provide for the disposal thru co-operative associations of the exportable surpluses of wheat, corn, rice, cotton, tobacco, cattle and swine.

Machinery to be set up to handle the surpluses, would comprise a federal farm advisory council and a federal farm board of seven members, including the secretary of agriculture, within that department, and six others to be selected from eighteen names submitted by the advisory board.

The first step in marketing a surplus would be a declaration by the farm board that an emergency existed in one or more basic commodities. Co-operative agencies would then be instructed to buy the commodity so designated at the domestic price and sell it at the world price. Later the agencies would be reimbursed for losses thus sustained from funds obtained by the collection of an equalization fee levied on producers.

Another proposal was a bill introduced by Senator McKinley, republican, Illinois, to extend direct credit aid from government banking agencies to farmers' co-operative associations.

Representative Tillman, democrat of Arkansas, also introduced measures for the expenditure of $225,000 in the next two fiscal years for the creation and operation of co-operative marketing agencies in the agricultural department.

Still another proposal came from a group of dairymen who called on Senator Pepper, republican, Pennsylvania, and urged an increase in funds allotted for the eradication of tuberculosis in dairy herds. This legislation was headed by Frank P. Willitts, Pennsylvania, secretary of agriculture, and represented a number of dairy interests in his and other states, including Wisconsin and New York.

De Valera is leading a protest against the Ulster boundary settlement and his cause seems to have fallen now to a condition where the settlement of a dispute is a disaster.

Farm Problems are Presented at Lincoln Meeting

Prominent Speakers Open Agriculture Week; Women Give Talks; Governor to Speak Today

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 6.—The first day's session of Nebraska farm organizations holding annual conventions here in connection with agricultural college opened a discussion of agricultural problems and conditions that will be continued by various farm leaders throughout the remainder of the week.

The first day's sessions came to a close Tuesday night with the annual banquet of the Farm Bureau federation, attended by 175 members of that organization. Prominent speakers on the evening program included: President Harry L. Keefe of the Nebraska federation; Mrs. Charles Sewell of Indiana, vice president of the national federation; H. J. McLaughlin, state secretary of agriculture; Mrs. H. W. Hunt of Lincoln; George Jackson of the state fair board; and W. B. Adair of Osceola. J. N. Martin of Polk, presided as toastmaster.

Attendance at Tuesday's meetings of the Nebraska Crop Growers' association, Nebraska Improved Livestock Breeders' association and Nebraska Honey Producers' association, indicated that this year's attendance will probably exceed 2,000 farmers when the sessions get into full swing Thursday.

H. C. Taylor of Madison, Wis., former head of the federal bureau of agricultural economics under Secretary of Agriculture, Wallace, was one of the principal speakers before the crop growers' association. Immediate legislation to remedy the present agricultural condition is imperative, Mr. Taylor declared. He endorsed a farm export plan, lowering of the tariff and opening of immigration barriers to foreign labor as remedies for the present situation of American agriculture.

He declared there must also be an adjustment of production to marketing conditions.

Prof. H. C. Filley of the department of rural economics at the agricultural college noted a comparison between the agricultural conditions in Iowa and Nebraska and indicated that he believed Nebraska's condition better than his neighboring state. He concluded that Nebraska will largely escape the difficulties experienced by Iowa and attributed this fact largely to the efficiency of the Nebraska guaranty fund law.

L. E. White of Lexington and Prof. H. D. Fox of the agricultural college, were the principal speakers at the meetings of the Improved Livestock Breeders' association.

Governor McMillen was scheduled to address the convention of the Nebraska Farm Bureau federation Wednesday afternoon. The Nebraska State Dairymen's association will convene Wednesday, with addresses scheduled by A. J. Gutzmer of Norfolk and Prof. E. L. Anthony of the University of West Virginia.

Mrs. C. B. Noyes of Waterloo addressed the opening session of the Nebraska Home Economics association and stressed the development of farm homes. Mrs. E. T. Overton and Mrs. Fred Hensch of Nebraska City gave a demonstration bringing out the value of home economics work.

NEW TEST WELL TO BE SUNK AT COLLEGE VIEW

Lincoln, Jan. 4.—A new test well five feet in diameter is to be sunk in the College View "oil fields" immediately for further investigation as to the source of the underground gasoline supply which has been mystifying people for over two months. The new well is to be made large enough to admit a man to go to the bottom and endeavor to find the direction from which the oil supply comes.

A number of other test wells have already been drilled. Three have produced gasoline suitable for direct use in automobiles. H. J. Morrow, who lives on the property where the oil was "discovered," is using the gasoline direct from the well in his own automobile.

Considerable more than a thousand gallons of gasoline have already been taken from the well besides a considerable quantity which spectators have been permitted to take away for test purposes.
