GIVE FRIEND SURPRISE

From Saturday's Daily—
 Yesterday afternoon the ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps gave a very pleasant and thorough surprise to Mrs. Betty Mostin at her home in the Coates block, the affair being so well arranged and carried out that the guest of honor was not aware of the pleasant conspiracy until the friends arrived with their gifts and well wishes at her home. The remembrances of the occasion were presented by Mrs. Elizabeth Forbes, president of the Corps, in a very pleasing and appropriate manner and the guest of honor was most thoroughly overcome by the tokens of the remembrances of her friends and associates in the patriotic society.

The ladies had come with well laden baskets and which served as the basis of a real luncheon that was served informally and added to the delights of the ladies of the corps in making their surprise to the friend and old time associate.

Bridge Case to be Heard in Capital City

Plaintiff Presents Petition Setting Forth Reasons Advanced for Not Buying K. of T. Bridge

From Saturday's Daily—
 A great deal of interest has been attached here to the suit filed in the district court of Lancaster county before Judge J. H. Broady on Thursday afternoon and in which a temporary restraining order is sought against Roy Cochran, state engineer, Adam McMullen, governor of the state of Nebraska and G. W. Marsch, state auditor, to prevent them from completing the purchase of the King of Trails bridge over the Platte river north of this city, which was opened for travel on November 2, 1925 and has just been fully completed and made ready for physical valuation by the engineers of the state railway commission for the purpose of the state and Cass and Sarpy counties making the purchase of the bridge.

Under the plan as advanced by the two counties and the state, the King of Trails bridge was to be taken over with the intention of making the structure a free bridge, the state to pay one half of their price at once and the two counties to gather their half of the cost from tolls and after which time the bridge was to be free.

The petition as filed in Lancaster county was by T. H. Pollock of this city as a taxpayer of Cass county and sought to have the state officers enjoined from taking over the bridge on the grounds as given below:

Plaintiff claims in the petition that the bridge as constructed was defective and that by reason of the angle at which the bridge was placed over the river it could not withstand the pressure of the ice in the river in the spring season. That also by reason of the manner in which the bridge was constructed across the river that it would cause the water and ice to be forced to the south bank of the stream and cause danger of washing away land and covering farm lands with water on the Cass county side of the river.

It is further alleged that there was 550 feet of roadway constructed of river sand that was not a part of the actual bridge structure the cost of which it is planned to make a part of the price of the bridge.

It is also stated that the defendants in the case had planned to pay for the cost of the roadway in Sarpy county and bridge approach in Cass county, land purchased by the King of Trails bridge company for road purposes on a few feet of sand road, which was made in the bed of the stream and also the interest at the rate of 8 per cent on the money invested by the stockholders of the King of Trails company. The plaintiff submitted a list of amounts that they allege are to be paid for in the purchase price of the bridge.

The petition of the plaintiffs also attacks the right of the state department of public works, the governor and state auditor to make the purchase of the property outside of the bridge itself. The right is also raised of whether the state officers have the right to make the purchase under the fact that the legislature made no appropriation of provision for the purchase of the bridge.

It is further alleged that the supports and piers of the new bridge are only fifty feet apart and not wide enough to allow the passage of the ice in the spring break up of the river as the other bridges have longer spans and less piers to retard the ice and water.

The plaintiffs therefore ask that the court restrain the state officers from making the purchase of the bridge.

The purchase of the bridge would be a detriment to the tax payers at this time it is claimed.

MYNARD RED CROSS MEETING

The Mynard chapter of the American Red Cross have just held their annual meeting, the event being held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Myron Wiles and attended by a very pleasing number of the members. The election of officers resulted in the selection of the following:

Chairman—Mrs. Guy Kiser.
 Vice-Chairman—Mrs. Myron Wiles.
 Sec.-Treasurer—Mrs. C. C. Barnard.
 Roll-Call Director—Mrs. Roy Cole.
 Disaster Relief Director—Myron Wiles.

The members of the chapter also enjoyed a fine radio program as well as the dainty refreshments that were served by Mrs. Wiles to the members of the party.

The Mynard chapter is the fourth in the county, having 51 members and is one of the live and active chapters in the county and has been active in all of the work of the society and has a showing that the members can be well proud of, as there are few places of the size of Mynard that can equal this record.

DOING VERY NICELY

From Saturday's Daily—
 The many friends of Mrs. Wallace Warner will be pleased to learn that this estimable lady is now doing very nicely at the Immanuel hospital in Omaha where she has been for the past several days. Mrs. Warner was operated on at the hospital and has come through the ordeal nicely and it is hoped that in the next few days her recovery will reach a stage where she can return home.

Death of Oldest Resident of Elmwood Saturday

A. A. McFall Called to His Last Rest at His Home After Long and Useful Life.

In the death of Mr. McFall one of Elmwood's and Cass county's oldest pioneers and highly respected and honored citizens has gone to his reward. While it was known that Mr. McFall was very sick, news had come that he was somewhat improved and when the news of his death came it came as a great shock to his friends. In the death of Mr. McFall a fine and useful citizen and friend has gone to his reward for he had won the hearts of his fellowmen by his splendid life which he lived day by day and he will be greatly missed. Following is an outline of his life:

Archibald McFall was born in the Province of Quebec, Canada, June 29, 1839, and departed this life Jan. 9, 1926, aged 86 years, 8 months, and 10 days. He was the eldest of eight children and when still a boy he moved with his father and family to the Province of Ontario, Canada. Here young Archie helped his father provide a living for the family. They were busy pioneer farmer folk, and not only did they have to battle with the elements of the cold north land, but they had to wrest their farm land from forests. Trees had to be cut down and grubbed out before they could plant. After he had helped clear his father's farm and make it productive, he acquired a place of his own and was united in marriage to Ellen Morrow. To this union was born seven children, all of whom survive him. His wife having departed this life in August 1924.

The indomitable spirit, faith and courage was shown by him when he again started with his axe to grub out another home for himself from the giant forest. When still a man of middle age he saw his fields of grain growing where the forest had once stood. But he halted not, he had other fields to conquer, other empires to build; the pioneer blood was coursing in his veins, and he saw greater chances to build up a heritage for his posterity in the fertile prairies of Nebraska than in the woods of Canada. The welfare and future of his family was ever uppermost in his mind. He toiled that others might enjoy the fruits of his labor. He planned and planned for the future and not the present. So he moved to a farm he had purchased two miles east and one-half mile south of Elmwood where he resided until 1898, when he moved into Elmwood and built here his last earthly home.

Shortly after coming to Nebraska he united with the Christian church and has been a faithful Christian and loyal member until his death. For many years he was an elder of the church and in later years, as his health failed and prevented his active participation in the work he was made Elder Emeritus for life. His life was an open book and was spent in the service of his Master and his family and friends. He died amidst the scenes and friends he loved so well. But he had completed his work. He had settled a country and passed it on to others, he always plucked a thistle when he could and planted a flower where ever he thought a flower would grow. He leaves to mourn his death his seven children, Mrs. E. H. Boyles, Miss Anna McFall, Miss Ida McFall and Mrs. P. J. Fitch of Elmwood; Mrs. George Hall of Los Angeles, Calif.; George McFall of Brunswick, Neb.; and John McFall of Ontario, Oregon, children, seven great-grandchildren, and a host of other relatives and friends.

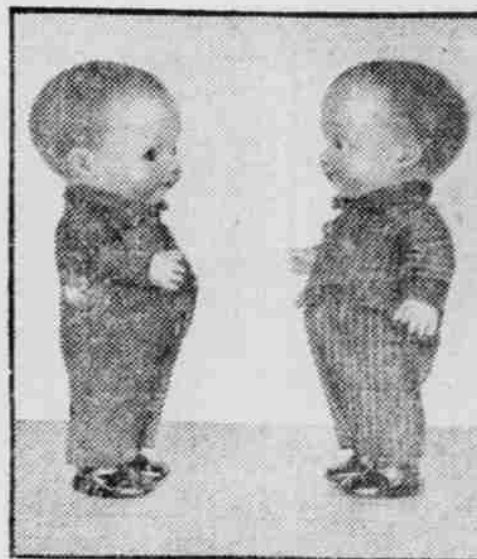

The funeral services were held on Jan. 11, at 2:30, in Elmwood, Neb., at the Christian church. Rev. Hay beak in charge, and the burial was made in the Elmwood cemetery—Elmwood Lender-Echo.

Dear Boys and Older People:-

We are determined to fill up this space with something you'll read

... so, to paraphrase the popular slogan, Here's a suit . . . of material "She loves to touch," with a sleeve that readily conforms to feminine lines. It is a worsted that permits the dandling of chicken—of the bobbed variety—upon your lap, without the discomforting annoyances of tell-tale wrinkles in your trouser legs . . . some brands of rouge and face powder may show on the breast of this manly coat, but a slight brushing readily removes it. It is the ne plus ultra of Beau Brummellism and one that no one can so skillfully tailor as Kuppenheimer. Just ask yourself now—privately—aren't there times you'd give a lot to be really "Dressed Up" to feel that true regal air, like you owned a set of gold mounted false teeth—or something . . . and while we are on the subject we have your size . . . and so's your Aunt Symantia.
