THE TRANSFIGURATION

And Jesus taketh with Him Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves; and he was transfigured before them. And his raiment became shining; exceeding white as snow.—Mark 9:2-3.

A REVIVAL OF BLUE LAWS

Massachusetts and Tennessee furnish simultaneous instances of the revival of absurd laws of antique date. Massachusetts has a statute of 1697 punishing blasphemy with a year in jail or a heavy fine, which Brockton has invoked against a Lithuanian lecturer. Tennessee only goes back 123 years. The men of that state who wish to make Sunday a day of gloom, silence and malevolence have used a law of 1803 to issue warrants against newspaper publishers, cigar and candy stores, taxi operators, street car lines, news-dealers, filling stations and drug stores. Anyone who plays a game of authors on Sunday is liable to a fine.

Both revivals illustrate the cowardice that is always an element of highly repressive measures. Nobody in Brockton cares whether the Lithuanian is an atheist or not. The real reason for attacking him is that he is a radical. The Tennessee bigots know they could never hope to get a law through the present-day legislature paralyzing every Sunday activity except church-going. But with an unctious air they dig out a statute passed in the backwoods days when churchgoing and creek baptizing were the only diversions.

Against such laws there will doubtless be reaction. They simply illustrate the truth that even in Massachusetts there are still some people with the mentality and liberalism of 1697, and that in Tennessee there are a good many with the enlightenment and social outlook of 1802.

COMPULSORY PATRIOTISM

One of the most marked characteristics of our new America is the wave of compulsory patriotism that is sweeping the country. The law of the land is no longer satisfied with the old laissez-faire policy. One of the methods for insuring the rise of future Patrick Henrys is the enactment of laws for instilling patriotism in the schools. Instruction in the schools, with their sinister influences, are being regulated out of existence.

The champion law in this field is the famous act of Wisconsin for the condemnation and confiscation of history textbooks which reflect upon the Fathers and their motives in the Revolutionary struggle. Even better, this passion for patriotism shows itself in law against aliens. The idea is to make it so irksome to be alien that the clear alternative will be to embrace citizenship of the United States. In this field, the leading is that of Oregon, which compels all aliens who conduct butcher or grocery shops or who run apartment houses or places of amusement to hang out signs showing nationality. The idea here is that business will be so rotten they will have to become Americans, willy-nilly.

Obviously, "America" should be amended to go something like this: My country, 'tis of thee I can't help but loving thee.

New light is thrown on the burning question of when is a man drunk by the incineration of Frederick Beverly Pearson, wealthy young Chicagoan. Pearson was found burned to a cinder in a chair in the room of a Chicago hotel. The flames around his companion who was asleep in bed, and who escaped with his clothing on fire. But Pearson sat calmly through it all. Any man who can stand this test is thoroughly drunk. None others need apply.

OUR BOY SCOUTS

Recently the Boy Scouts of America celebrated the anniversary of the organization of the movement that now is world-wide in its scope and influence. In the United States alone there are about 800,000 Boy Scouts, and every one of them on the way of becoming better boys, no matter how good their home and school training, by reason of being members of this organization and obeying their oath, which is in these words:

"On my honor I will do my best: To do my duty to God and my country and to obey the Scout law; to help other people at all times; to keep myself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight."

Just pause a moment, you fathers and mothers, you also who are not parents, and think what it means to the present boyhood and to the future manhood of this country to have 800,000 boys thinking and living in accordance with that simple oath, or pledge.

More and more grown people are thinking seriously about the Boy Scout movement and work as is indicated by the fact that at present more than 20,000 men are serving as scoutmasters, volunteering their services, mostly, because they see good that they can do. More workers, however, are needed to provide for boys waiting to enroll as Scouts. More and more civic and other organizations are taking interest in Boy Scout work because it is seen to be the means of saving many boys and of keeping larger numbers in the way that is right and that leads all to respectable and respected manhood.

The Boy Scout motto is "Learning by doing." This leads them into many very practical activities, among them hiking, swimming, camping, being cheerful, keeping clean, giving obedience to constituted authority, whether it be that of parents, of scoutmasters, or of society, or of organized and orderly government.

If the Boy Scouts did nothing more than to "Do a good turn daily," which is a Scout slogan carried into practical effect, they would be worthy of serious and considerate attention, and of help, also. But they are doing so very much more that they are entitled to every consideration that can be given to them.

Long live the Boy Scout organization, and may its membership continue to grow and its influence to be felt to the uttermost parts of the earth.

GET RID OF THAT BACKACHE

Plattsmouth People Point the Way.

The constant aching of a bad back, The weariness, the tired feeling; Headaches, dizziness, nervousness, Distressing urinary disorders— Are often signs of falling kidneys And too serious to be neglected. Get rid of those troubles! Use Doan's Pills—a stimulant diuretic to the kidneys. Hosts of people recommend Doan's. This is a Plattsmouth case. You can verify it.

Mrs. Maggie Kaufman, 624 South 6th street, says: "I felt weak and depressed and my housework was a burden. Every move I made sent sharp pains across my back and my back was so sore I could hardly rest at night. I became dizzy and had headaches, too. My kidneys were weak and acted irregularly. I used one box of Doan's Pills and they cured the trouble. It is very seldom I need anything to stimulate my kidneys."

Mrs. Kaufmann is only one of many Plattsmouth people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S PILLS, the same that Mrs. Kaufman had—the remedy backed by home testimony, 60 cents at all dealers. I sent you a poem to print in the News. Please accept or reject, which ever you choose; But if you reject, will you tell me why And return the poem to me by and by?

I always felt sorry for Maud Mueller, you know, And cross at the judge for treating her so; Well, I made them get married before I was through And gave Maud a swell little baby, too.

I forgot, however, which sex to request. And that was the trouble with Edgar A. Guest; But if my explanation will atone for my sins, Here is hoping, next time, Maud Mueller has twins.

I hope they'll be both like me and my sister. My sister is a girl. Now you tell me the rest. Ah, someone has told you; you could not have guessed. D. J. REYNISH.

ALL WRONG

A speaker before a sportsmen's dinner at New York the other night remarked that "if every man, woman and child in the country had a sport hobby there would be no need for any police forces anywhere."

That statement was about as far wrong as a short statement like that could be, and it's quoted only because it's characteristic of so much of the cheap thinking that goes on nowadays.
Sports are fine things for those who indulge in them, but they don't exactly broaden the mind, remove prejudices and lead people to things we need before we can talk of abolishing police forces.
