

Iowa Sheriff Shot as About to Serve Notice

Union County Farmer Fires on Official as Latter Comes to His Home to Serve Papers

Creston, Iowa, March 8.—Sheriff Fred Collins of Union county was shot and seriously wounded at 2 o'clock this afternoon by "Big George" Gibson, when he went to the Gibson farm to serve notices on Gibson of condemnation of part of the latter's land for a federal road. Sheriff Collins was taken to the Greater Community hospital here, where his condition is said to be serious.

The sheriff was accompanied by United States Deputy Marshal A. L. Bourke of this place. As they entered the farm yard they saw Gibson in the barn, according to their story, and as they crossed the yard, Gibson shot the sheriff. The latter was a considerable distance in front of Bourke. The shooting was done with a 30-30 caliber rifle.

Only one shot was fired and that entered the sheriff's left side and passed through the middle abdominal muscles, coming out just below the ribs in the back.

Collins was placed on the operating table at the hospital shortly before 6 o'clock. At midnight attendants at the hospital announced that the sheriff's condition was still serious.

Gibson was arrested shortly after the shooting by Deputy Marshal Bourke and brought here, where he was lodged in the county jail.

A special armed police guard has been posted at the jail by authorities. Feeling is said to run high against Gibson.

The sheriff's departure to serve the condemnation proceedings came after the county board of supervisors had condemned the land for Primary Road No. 8.

Gibson, in 1919, was convicted of sedition in Union county district court and was fined one thousand dollars and sentenced to 12 months in the county jail.

The jail sentence was later cancelled and the fine cut to two hundred dollars on Gibson's appeal to the Iowa supreme court.
