FARM BUREAU NOTES

Women's Extension Work.
The Women's Club Delegates met with Miss Judge for their regular Women's club meeting, and every club was represented by its delegates. The following subjects were discussed and demonstrations given: Makin Old Clothes New, Hat Selection.

Chinch Bugs Warning.
While examining some of the bunch grass along the fence rows last week, Mr. Chlach Bug was found to be there in large numbers and very lively. If these rows are not burned now, it may that they will give us a great deal of trouble this year. Burning this late may not destroy all of them but it will help.

Potato Varieties.
The Irish Cobbler and the Early Ohio are suggested as the best varieties of potatoes for the eastern and southern part of Nebraska this year when only the earliest potatoes are likely to be a paying crop. The Triumph will again be the most popular and profitable variety for the big western Nebraska grower. In the ordinary year they are too late a variety for eastern Nebraska.

Cobblers are a white potato as early as the well known Ohio, and excepting in northeast Nebraska, they have the added virtue of being more productive, smoother, and more marketable. They will stand a short drought better than the Ohio. When rains do come, they keep on growing in a smooth tuber instead of sending out little knobs like the Ohio variety does. They are not as subject to scab as the Ohio. In northeast Nebraska, however, the Ohio will outyield the Cobblers in the ordinary year because the Cobbler is more of a hot weather potato. Certified seed of all these varieties is to be preferred. If it cannot be obtained, good seed that has been treated with hot formaldehyde or with corrosive sublimate is the next best to plant.

Will Grow Porkers.
Henry Wessell, who is a hustler and who is willing to take a chance though some times it may be a long chance, a few days since purchased some four excellent Chester Whites sows, which he expects to furnish him with a fine herd of hogs in a short time and then Henry will be a hog grower of no mean proportions.

Celebrate Birthday
Mrs. Charles D. Adams entertained at her home last Saturday afternoon a very delightful party in honor of her son's, Burrell, birthday, it being his tenth anniversary. Ten little friends were invited to spend the hours from 2 to 5 with him. Numerous games were played which were all enjoyed greatly. After the games they found their places at the table by finding cut pictures and titles. They also had very cute looking caps which added very much

W. G. Meisinger and L. A. Meisinger and family were here this afternoon to attend the Conrad Meisinger funeral at the St. Paul's church.

Adam Meisinger, wife and Mrs. G. P. Meisinger of Cedar Creek were here this afternoon to attend the funeral services of the late Conrad Meisinger.

John Lohnes, one of the splendid old time residents of the county, was here this afternoon to attend the funeral of his old friend and neighbor, Conrad Meisinger.

Mrs. Agnes Chapman, of Lincoln, is here to enjoy a visit with her son, John W. Chapman and family, for a time prior to their departure for the west, where they will move onto their farm near Baker, Montana.

Carl Stander, well known resident of near Greenwood, has laid aside his usual farm work to respond to the summons for jury duty and is spending a few days here in the service of the county. Mr. Stander is one of the very busy farmers and does not relish the time lost from his work, but feels that he should do his part in the discharge of justice.

SUCCESS OVERNIGHT—IF ALL WOULD GIVE $5.00

From Tuesday's Daily—
"I want to give something to the building fund," said a man the other day, "but about all I can stand is $5—will that help you any?"
"You just bet it will, Mister."
650 letters were mailed out March 6th, each one containing a subscription blank. Last week just 35 of these blanks came back, for a total of $228.45—or an average of $6.53 per contributor.

Now $5 isn't much for anyone to give on a proposition of such importance to the town and community as this. Many can give more. But consider, if everyone receiving a blank on March 6th, had returned it at only, with only a $5 donation, the sum of $2,000 would have been raised almost over night and the goal oversubscribed a full $1,000. 35 of this number gave $6.53 each on an average. It is not too late yet to show some real concerted action and get the ball rolling on the actual construction of the building. For $5 check (more if you can afford it) to your subscription blank right now, and mail it to the committee. After all it's really such a small amount you won't miss it much, and the rolling up of 600 of them will amount to a worth-while sum in putting the building over.

What will you give? Let the committee hear from you!

Advertise your want in the Journal for results.

RECEIVES SAD NEWS

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday Mrs. R. A. Bates received the sad news of the death of her grandmother, Mrs. J. F. Lotz, at Lockport, Illinois, the deceased lady passing away at the age of 82 years.

The deceased lady is known to a number of the older residents of the city as she was here frequently during the lifetime of her daughter, the late Mrs. Abram Ripley, and was for several months a resident here during the last illness of Mrs. Ripley.

The funeral of Mrs. Lotz will be held on Friday at Lockport, the services being held at this date to permit the arrival of relatives from the west coast.

W. R. C. MEETING

From Wednesday's Daily—
The ladies of the W. R. C. held a most delightful social meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Julius M. Hall in Orchard Hill, and which was very largely attended by the members and their friends.

In the entertaining of the afternoon Mrs. Hall was assisted by Mesdames O. C. Hudson, John Elliott and G. W. Goodman and these ladies proved royal entertainers in every way.

A most delightful program had been arranged for the occasion consisting of a vocal solo by Mrs. Thelma Hudson Nelson, readings by Mrs. Allen J. Beeson, Miss Madge Garnett, and Mrs. Robert Troop, a violin solo by Miss Leona Edgerton, a piano solo by Miss Treva Edgerton and a piano-organ by Misses Bernese and Marjorie Aran. The artists on the program proved a very pleasant feature of the afternoon and their offerings were enjoyed to the utmost by all of the members of the party.

At a suitable hour the hostesses served a dainty and delicious two-course luncheon which added greatly to the enjoyment of the occasion and at the homegoing hour the ladies departed expressing the thought that they had been most pleasantly entertained.
