Coroner's Jury Frees Driver of the Death Car

Evidence Offered Brings Verdict of Accident and No Responsibility on Car Occupants.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon County Attorney W. G. Kieck held an inquest on the death of Gergette Harsch, victim of the auto accident early Monday morning on the highway east of Union and released James Fitzpatrick of Omaha from any responsibility as to the death of the unfortunate woman.

The coroner's jury as impaneled consisted of C. A. Reencians, E. A. Fricke, E. A. Wirt, Claude C. Smith, W. C. Soenichsen, Fred P. Busch.

The inquest was conducted by County Attorney Kieck as the coroner of the county and various witnesses were called to offer their testimony in the case.

Tony Ratova, sweetheart and business associate of the dead woman was the first witness called and testified that he and Gergette Harsch were associated in the conduct of a chicken hut known as the Rainbow Gardens near Omaha. He stated that his residence was at 715 Pierce street and that he and the deceased had been engaged in the conduct of a chicken hut, that he had been the cook and she the cashier of the place. He had last seen Miss Harsch on Sunday night, March 14th about 11:40, they had been drinking some, alcohol had been the basis of the drinks that they had partaken of. Miss Harsch had been showing effects of drinks. He had been the friend or sweetheart of the dead woman for the past seventeen months. Miss Harsch had taken a taxi and left the chicken hut about 11:40. He and the deceased had a quarrel described as a lover's quarrel and that the woman as well as he had been rather blue and downcast. The quarrel had been over the fact that the witness had taken dinner with some of the guests of the place rather than following the custom of eating with other of the employes about the place. The witness had known James Fitzpatrick about seventy days the time that he had been in Omaha. Fitzpatrick had driven the witness of the chicken hut and stayed there ten minutes or so and then left. Jean Martin, the other woman in the accident had not been at the hut.

Frank Smith of the Journal testified as to the viewing of the car at the scene of the accident about 4:30 Monday morning in company with Sheriff Stewart and County Attorney Kieck, seeing the car lying overturned on the south side of the highway leading into Union, with the dead body of Miss Harsch a short distance from the car. The witness also testified to seeing Fitzpatrick at the garage of Mr. Propst and of his being asleep or in a dazed condition and also to the interviewing of Miss Jean Martin at the office of Dr. Lufford in Union.

Wayne Propst, Union garage man testified that from his observations he had thought the car had turned over twice, if that being the case would say the car had been going at a good rate of speed, if the car had been going slower it probably would have turned over only once. Witness had examined the car after it was brought in after daybreak and found that the top and windshield were almost demolished, both doors had been damaged, the left side of the car near the door had been dented badly by striking the telephone pole. Fitzpatrick had seemed dazed at the garage. On examination by D. O. Dwyer representing Mr. Fitzpatrick the witness stated that there was some loose gravel at the place of the accident and some on the road. Setting of the brakes would have the tendency to cause the car to skid.

Sheric E. P. Stewart testified as to the visitation to the scene of the accident early Sunday morning and of viewing the body of Miss Harsch as well as the position of the car. He had seen later the grip and bolt of the brakes would have the tendency of liquor that had been lying

Express Company Planning a Change of Policy

Agent R. W. Clement of the Burlington Announces That New Policy Starts Soon.

From Tuesday's Daily—
Agent R. W. Clement of the American Railway Express Co., announced today that the express companies plan to establish a system of charges for the storing of express shipments refused when tendered for delivery or uncalled for.

A docket outlining the proposal has been issued for the information of the public, and, in due course, it will be filed with the Interstate Commerce Commission as an addition to the express classification to become effective on or about May 1.

The rules and charges will apply to business of this character which the local office has to store owing to the refusal of the consignee to accept it when a tender of delivery is made or which for any other reason cannot be delivered. Three days "free time" will be allowed after which the storage charge will be 10 cents for the first day, five cents for each of the next eight days with a maximum of 50 cents a month for each shipment weighing 100 pounds or less. There will be a regular monthly charge thereafter of 50 cents per month or fraction thereof. On shipments weighing more than 100 pounds this storage charge will be assessed proportionally, and fractional part of 100 pounds to be computed as 100 pounds, i. e., on shipments weighing more than 100 pounds and not more than 200 pounds the storage charge will be twice that shown above on a 100 pound shipment. The carrier is required to give proper arrival notice to the consignee, such notice to bear the same address as appears on the shipment and to retain in its files a duplicate copy of such notice.

In the course of business, many controversies arise, during which a consignee may prefer to refuse shipments sent to him. The carrier has no alternative but to store the goods and cannot relieve itself of the shipment or of all responsibility for it until the parties involved adjust their differences. This may take several months in which the carrier is an innocent bystander having been in no wise responsible for the non-delivery.

The express companies have not heretofore made it a practice to assess storage charges on unclaimed shipments although it has long been a practice with freight and baggage. They contend that the expense and extra labor involved should be borne, not by express patrons generally, but by the owners of the goods so stored.

Manley Lumber Yard Office Has Night Prowlers

From Tuesday's Daily—
Firm of Crane, Curvey & Murty Suffers the Loss of Cash Register and $175 in Cash.

Last evening the community of Manley that generally enjoys a peaceful calm until the baseball season starts and the fans and ball players get busy, had their peace rudely broken last night by the visitation of a gang of robbers.

The place selected for the scene of operation by the unwelcome callers was the office at the lumber yard of Crane, Curvey & Murty, and not only did the visitors get away with what cash was on hand but also carried off the cash register, reports received here this morning at the office of Sheriff E. P. Stewart state.

The loss was not discovered until this morning when the office was opened for business and the fact was revealed that there was no cash register and also that some $175 in checks and money was missing from the office.

Sheriff Stewart and County Attorney W. G. Kieck motored out to the scene of action as soon as possible after sending out the alarm to nearby cities to look for the appearance of the missing cash register.

FUNERAL OF CONRAD MEISINGER

From Wednesday's Daily—
The funeral of the late Conrad Meisinger was held yesterday afternoon at the St. Paul's church and was very largely attended by the old friends and associates from the eastern portion of Cass county to pay their last tribute of love and respect to the memory of the kindly gentleman that had gone on before at the close of a long and useful life.

The services were especially sorrowful as the family had parted with the wife and mother just two months before and in the few short weeks the husband and father had been called to lay aside his mortal life and join the circle of his loved ones who have preceded him in death.

At the church service Rev. O. G. Wichmann, pastor of the church gave words of comfort to the members of the bereaved family and the sorrowing friends, bringing to their attention the message of the Master that had promised life everlasting to those who believed in the teachings of the christian faith.

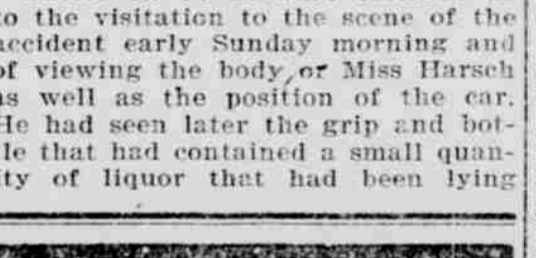

The choir of the church with Miss Minnie Klinger as accompanist gave three of the old and well loved hymns, one in German, while the other of the songs were given in English.

The floral remembrances were lavish and very beautiful and silently spoke of the love with which Mr. Meisinger had been held in the community.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday was the 15th birthday anniversary of Miss Catherine McClusky and in honor of the event the occasion was fittingly celebrated at the Manse on South 7th street despite the fact that Catherine and Mrs. McClusky are enjoying an enforced vacation due to quarantine. The dining room was well arranged in a color scheme of green and yellow and the decorations of festoons of green with the candles and Shamrocks adding a pleasing touch to the scene. The centerpiece of the table was the large white birthday cake with its gleaming candles.

The event had been planned as a social meeting of the Campfire girls and in which a number of the friends had been invited and while the quarantine interfered with the pleasures of the occasion, a number of the friends gathered and watched the birthday party—through the window. The occasion however was very pleasant and Miss Catherine has the best wishes of her friends on this passing of another milestone.

Second Wreck Victim in Very Critical Shape

Miss Jean Martin Injured This Morning Develops Internal Injuries—Being Hurried to Hospital.

From Monday's Daily—
Jean Martin, the second young woman in the auto accident at Union early this morning is being hurried to Omaha this afternoon in a critical condition that has developed as the result of what seems to have been internal injuries received in the wreck.

Early this morning it was thought that a fractured arm was the extent of the injuries received by Miss Martin but later in the day she started vomiting blood and gave signs of being severely injured internally and on the advice of Dr. Lufford she is being taken to Omaha on the afternoon train from Union.

Miss Martin is the landlady of a rooming house at 1760 1/2 Leavenworth street, Omaha at which all of the parties in the accident were living. Mr. Fitzpatrick stated today at the office of County Attorney Kieck. The injured woman is also known as Vera Pierce in Omaha, where she along the road near the wreck. Witness had viewed Fitzpatrick at the garage but did not know whether he was dazed from the effects of the accident or not. Witness had not interviewed Miss Martin.

James Fitzpatrick, driver of the car testified that he had left with the two women about 1:30 or 2 o'clock from 1760 1/2 Leavenworth street, Omaha, the place where he, Miss Harsch and Jean Martin were staying. He and the woman had been drinking there. The girls were feeling pretty well "hit up." The two women had been drinking on the way from Omaha to the scene of the accident. The liquor found in the car had belonged to them. The girls had wanted to go to Kansas City and he had started with them because they were not able to handle a car in their condition. The car had been running from 25 to 30 miles an hour at the time of the accident. The gravel was heavy at the place of the accident and witness had not been able to see the turn clearly. They would have made the turn all right but one of the women had stepped on the brakes and later released them and stepped on the accelerator, causing the car to swing round and over, turned and later he had rescued the women and then ran into Union to get help. Jean Martin had been sitting in the middle of the seat of the roadster between witness and Gergette Harsch.

Dr. R. P. Westover described the nature of the injuries of Miss Harsch and the opinion that her death had occurred instantly.

This concluded the testimony and after the consideration of the evidence in the case the jury returned a verdict of accidental death and relieving Mr. Fitzpatrick of any responsibility and he was allowed to go on to Omaha with his friends, a large party of whom had attended the hearing.

The body of Miss Harsch was taken back to Omaha by the Hoffman-Crosby undertakers immediately after the inquest and will be buried there.

has made her home for a number of years, this being her maiden name and under which she carried her auto license as well as bank accounts and business dealings.
