Fordson Demonstration Day Next Saturday

Plattsmouth Motor Co. Will Stage Event at the Farm of Luke L. Wiles on Saturday.

Farmers of this vicinity have been invited to attend a special demonstration of Fordson tractor power, which has been arranged for next Saturday, March 27th.

The event is in observance of Fordson day and will be staged by the Plattsmouth Motor company, local Ford dealers, in co-operation with distributors of farm implements adapted to Fordson tractor power. The demonstration will be held at the Luke Wiles farm on the Louisville road and will begin at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. An invitation has been extended to all farmers in this locality and a number of county officials also have been invited to attend the demonstration.

Included also will be a display of farm implements so that those attending the demonstration will have an opportunity of inspecting the latest equipment for use in agricultural pursuits.

Fordson day will be observed by Ford dealers throughout the United States, with demonstrations such as are to be held here. Coming as it does immediately following the opening of the spring season, it will give every farmer an opportunity of selecting power equipment for his year's work and enable him, if he so desires, to lower his production costs at the start, an advantage he will enjoy all the season.

Judging from the interest already manifested there will be a number of new Fordson owners in this vicinity this season, for farmers here as well as elsewhere throughout the country are realizing more and more the advantage of the Fordson on the farm, not only in reducing power costs, but in materially lessening labor and giving more hours for pleasure.

Poison the Gophers.
You had only to look at the alfalfa fields to see what the gopher will do for us this spring. Any one who will make arrangements for the demonstrations to poison gophers, and will spend from 1/2 day to 1 day and will invite his neighbors so that several sections may be poisoned, we will be glad to help. Just call of write us. This should be done just as soon as they begin to throw up their mounds.

Women's Clubs Increasing.
A number of Women's clubs taking the extension projects in foods, clothing, health and convenient kitchens has increased more than twenty per cent this year in Nebraska. More clubs are enrolled in almost every county in which county extension agents are employed. The number of women in the clubs shows a corresponding increase. This is the third year that a definitely organized system of giving instruction to clubs thru their own local project leaders has been used. Thru this system, five state extension specialists are reaching 460 clubs in the state once each month with a lesson that is a part of a regular course of study for the farm women. They are not only giving a practical and useful series of lessons but they are developing leaders in each community by training for project leaders. The uniformity of this system during the past three years is largely responsible for the steady increase in number of women enrolling in it.

Incubation Pointers.
After the third and until the eighteenth day, the eggs in an incubator should be turned twice a day and cooled at the same time. The eggs are sufficiently cooled when they are the same temperature as the yeloid or the back of the hand. On the seventh day the eggs should be tested out for infertile eggs and dead germs, and to determine the extent of evaporation. At this time the air-cell should be about three-eighths of an inch in diameter. If the air-cell is larger than this, moisture should be added, either by sprinkling the floor underneath the incubator or by keeping damp cloths on the inside of the incubator underneath the egg tray. On the fourteenth day the eggs should be tested out again and the dead germs taken out. The air-cell should be about five-eighths of an inch in diameter at this stage of incubation. After the eighteenth day the incubator should not be opened until Reynolds, who has been her constant attendant during her illness, to return home last Sunday. William James went to Omaha with the car and brought the two ladies home with him. Following will be discourses by others, the coming Sunday evening being occupied by the pastor.

STORE EDITORIAL

Every store experiences the occasional loss of a customer. Some die; some move away; some go elsewhere to trade. There is one kind of lost customer this store is continually trying to avoid—it is the customer that stops shopping here because the store was at fault. We know that we are not perfect and we realize that as soon as any organization gets to be more than a one-man proposition, duties and responsibilities are loaded on to the shoulders of subordinates. Right away there is a chance for a slip. So far as we can we try to forestall any lack of service or courtesy on the part of our employees. We believe we have as loyal and devoted a force of employes as any store in this section and we are constantly striving to have each one appreciate the large burden of responsibility that rests with them. When a customer leaves this store because the store was at fault, we never rest until we have tried our best to RIGHT the wrong, no matter how trivial it may have been.

SOENNICHSEN'S

If it happens that you who read this, once traded here, let us show you how hard we will try to please you now. No matter how ancient your grievance may be, you will find us ready to make amends if it is in our power. Every business day sees new improvements in our manner of dealing with and KEEPING customers satisfied. Keeping the old ones and constantly adding new ones is the reason why this store is growing.

GIVE FINE DINNER FOR BRIDE AND GROOM
Mr. and Mrs. William Wirth were honor guests at a family dinner at the home of Mrs. Wirth's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Schoeman in the southeast part of town last Sunday. The wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Wirth occurred on Wednesday, February 24, at Plattsmouth. The dinner was arranged by the brothers and sisters of the young couple, each one bringing along something to add to the bill of fare and a most bountiful dinner was served which was more of a banquet than anything else.

RELIEF FOR SERVICE MEN
Attorney General Spillman has given an opinion to the American Legion organization in Nebraska holding that veterans of the world war are entitled to share in county relief for soldiers of the civil war and the Spanish American war.

The legion is instructing its members that the aid which they are entitled to from the state relief fund may be supplemented by aid from counties, in cases where state relief is inadequate to properly care for their dependents. Dependents are defined as wives and children under sixteen of service men. Legion men are advised by the state relief committee to obtain representation upon county relief committees.

The family of Will Melinger, of Cedar Creek, were ill which made it impossible for them to be present. The time passed pleasantly in visiting and in listening to piano music and to the radio program and Mr. and Mrs. Wirth were showered with good wishes and congratulations.
