"The Feed You Need for Hogs"

You Don't Have to Be a Scientist to Feed Your Hogs Scientifically--

There is feeding science in every bag of GRO-MOR. It is the perfect balanced ration to supplement home grown feeds. It supplies the protein and minerals that home grown feeds lack. It is digestible. Its cost is low. Those are the elements that make profits.

GRO-MOR is based on the experience of the most successful feeders and the accurate tests of experiment stations. It contains tankage, meat scraps, blood meal, sterilized bone meal, linseed meal and an improved formula of digestible minerals. Each ingredient supplies an element of food that is needed to produce rapid growth in pigs. It is mixed in the proportion needed to give greatest feeding value with home grown feed.

We have kept the cost of GRO-MOR down to practically the price of tankage. That is important, because good balanced rations of easily digestible ingredients usually come high.

Pigs will thrive on GRO-MOR as soon as they are weaned. The minerals it contains will give them great stretch of frame which is most important in making heavy hogs. The protein builds body.

GRO-MOR will deliver your hogs to market at a lower feeding cost per pound than any feed we have ever tested. You can prove every one of these statements in your own hog lot.
