O. F. Smalley and wife, of Union, and Frank Payton and family, of Plattsmouth were over to Lake Manawa on last Sunday, where they enjoyed the day most pleasantly, and where they met P. Rietledorf, a relative, together with his family, and which visit added much to the enjoyment of the day.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church, the young people's society, held a picnic at Kamp Kill Kare on Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week, when a most enjoyable time was had, and which was attended by the members of the society and the many friends of the young people.

Mr. W. B. Banning departed last Saturday for Keosauqua, where she will visit for some time at the old home town, and will be the guest of her sister, Mrs. Seward Fellows, her brother, Frank Roush, and sister, Mrs. Herbert Duckworth. Mrs. Banning grew up in the Iowa town and will surely enjoy her visit of some two weeks there.

Buddies Enjoy Good Visit During the World war, Bruce Wolfe was situated at Camp Cody, N. M., and while there became acquainted with Wm. Unroth, of Pittsburgh, Pa., they becoming regular chums and were sent to France together, where they continued to associate with each other for two years and became very close pals and buddies, and when the war was over and they returned to the United States to receive their discharges and separate, they still remembered each other and frequently corresponded.

Some time ago, Mr. Unroth had occasion to go to the state of Washington and on his return as he was driving back east, he detoured some four hundred miles in order to stop at Union and see his friend, Bruce Wolfe. So there was music sung to the tune of "My Pal, Jerry," only the names were different, being "Billy" and "Bruce." Mr. Unroth visited here for two days with Mr. Wolfe and only a war veteran can understand all we mean, when we say they had an excellent time. The old scenes and incidents which occurred on French soil were reviewed and the boys parted with a great ambition to make the trip "back to Paris" year hence with the American Legion. Since leaving the service seven years ago, this is the second person that Mr. Wolfe has met whom he knew in the army.

Union Oil Station Opens The Union Oil station which has been in preparation for some time, was finally completed and ready for working on last Saturday evening, and under the management of Edward Dowler, a most clever manager, the place opened for business last Sunday morning, registering the sale of an even 350 gallons of the fiery liquid that day, together with a large amount of lubricating oil and camp grease. Gifts to candy were given away during the opening day. D. R. Frans who sold the lots on which the oil station was built and also furnished the material from which the buildings were constructed, was the first one to purchase oil and gas from the new business place.

Entertained for Dinner On last Sunday at his pleasant home northwest of Union, R. D. Stine and the good wife entertained in honor of their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Stine, and had for the occasion as their guests, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Comer and family, Herman Comer and family, Grandmother Stine, Mrs. Lavina Comer and Mr. and Mrs. David Murray. A most pleasant time was had and one most thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Stand for the Guarantee Law. In conversation with Hon. W. B. Banning relative to the rumor that he was not in favor of the Bank Guarantee law, he had to say, "I am standing for this law and even to make it stronger. I was in the legislature when the law was passed and believe it an excellent law, and I would call your attention to the difference in the condition of the banks of all the states surrounding Kansas. The repeal of the law would put the money of the country back into the old sox, and tin cans, where it would go into hiding. It is better to be safe than sorry in this matter. Keep the Bank Guarantee law.

Married at Nebraska City.

Last week at Nebraska City were united in marriage two of the young people of Union, when Mr. Dale Fort and Miss Jessie Mead were married by Judge Bishop, and returned to receive the blessing of the parents and the congratulations of their many friends. They will for the present make their home with the bride's parents but will engage in farming with the coming season. The Journal joins with the many friends of this couple in wishing them health, happiness and prosperity.

Tire Sense!

Your tires are no better than their cord structure!

This terse statement was made today by Ed Dowler, Union dealer for the Firststone Tire & Rubber Co. Mr. Dowler was emphasizing the need for greater thought on the part of every motorist for the vital factors in tire construction that control mileage and govern economy.

"Tires are, in reality, cord fabric stretched heavily insulated and fortified with rubber," he said. "The backbone of the tire, the framework, the skeleton of the tire, is therefore the cord material from which it is built. On an even basis with the quality of the tread, sidewall and bead construction, too much attention cannot be given to the cord structure of the tire, when new equipment is being bought."

"In the first place, the actual quality of cord material employed is a vital factor. The best, long fibre cotton grown is put into good tires and, as a result, there is natural resilience, flexibility, strength and great powers of endurance.

"Use of this type of cord material is imperative in any good time, a thing manufacturers have realized for years. But how to preserve this life, flexibility and strength in their cords, is a problem that has been hard to solve.

"How to insulate and impregnate every cord and every fibre of every cord, not only so they may be held firmly in place, reducing internal friction to the minimum, but to prevent the cords from actually burning out; to keep them from becoming old and brittle, that has always been and still is the big problem before the great majority of tire manufacturers.

"Firststone Gum-Dipped tires retain their original flexibility, endurance and strength with remarkable tenacity, as proved by the most gruelling tests motoring, both on the speedways and the highways, can produce. This, of course, is due to the co-ordination between vital factors in their construction and quality of materials. Gum-Dipping spans the gap that ordinary tire manufacturers leave wide open."

Spend Week at Crete Camp.

Six of the Wyoming Camp Fire girls, Helen James, Dorothy Foster, Beulah Clark, Leona Giles, Dorothea Kropp, Jane Robb, and their guardian, Mrs. Kropp spent the past week at Camp Crete.

Among the girls, Helen James, Beulah Clark, Leona Giles, Dorothea Kropp and Jane Robb won blue ribbons in rowing.

A number of leather purses, handkerchiefs and mules made by the girls were on exhibit in the art cabin Friday afternoon.

The girls, Helen James, Dorothy Foster, Leona Giles took their Woodgatherers rank at the Grand Council Fire which was held in the open Tuesday night.

Dorothy Foster received an honor for being voted the most popular all-around girl in the cabin.

Lord Rawleigh Falls in Creek

There were visitors from the west a group of picnic merry-makers who were paying their first visit to Kamp Kill Kare last Saturday. It happened that one of the ladies became over-balanced on the bank and began slipping towards the water and would have gone into the water, it being quite deep, but for the timely assistance of a most chivalrous gentleman who was at the time visiting there. However, the said gentleman did slip into the water, wetting his garments quite badly, and had to borrow a pair of overalls of a friend, and by the way, they were quite small at that, until his own trousers were hung on a hickory limb or some other kind of a tree to dry.

Celebrate Birthday Twice

On last Sunday the friends of Howard Taylor celebrated his birthday which came on Tuesday of this week and had a most splendid time at Kamp Kill Kare, and again on Tuesday, when the birthday was again celebrated with a good deal of eclat and all had a joyous time.

Guests at Kamp Kill Kare

W. J. Oe La aMster, wife and two sons, and W. A. Dunnigan and wife, all of Ohio, who have been touring Kansas, Oklahoma, Missouri and Iowa, arrived at Union last Saturday and will spend the summer at Kamp Kill Kare. They are relatives of Judge Dan Lynn and wife and will enjoy the summer fishing and living at the camp at the mouth of the Weeping Water.

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincerest thanks to our many friends for the kindness they showed during the sickness and death of our dear father.—The Austin Children.

Methodist Church, Union

10:15—Sunday school.
11:30—Morning worship.
7:15—Epworth League.
8:00—Evening services.
The public is welcome.

Rev. Runnels is spending the week in Lincoln attending school. He expects to return home on Friday.

The rain came just in time Sunday night to delay the Children's day program again. It was given on Monday night, however, and was greatly enjoyed by those present.

The pageant given was "Gateways of the Bible" and well given in a beautiful manner by the children of the Sunday school and aided by a chorus of girls. The decorations were also very attractive.

The Epworth League had a picnic in the Everett pasture on Wednesday night. The young folks are quite active in their work and also enjoyed an outing of this kind together.

The Aid society are planning to serve supper at the Library building on Friday evening of this week. Fried chicken and other good things will be served. The price is 25c for children and adults. A good attendance is expected.

Kamp Kill Kare Lives Up to Its Reputation

Summer Residence of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lynn Near Union a Place of Fun and Pleasure.

There has been established for the past several summers near the town of Union, a pleasure spot where there is nothing but fun and enjoyment prevailing and which is known all over the southern part of the county as "Kamp Kill Kare," it being the summer residence of Dan Lynn and his estimable wife, two of the best known and popular residents of that section of Cass county.

The Kamp consists of the frame residence occupied by the Lynn family and R. E. Hastings as well as several tents that are used when large numbers of the friends gather there to enjoy an outing and the pleasures of fishing and boating in the Weeping Water, which at this point is a stream of considerable size.

The residents of the Kamp find that if they are not lovers of boating that they may find themselves introduced into the placid waters of the Weeping Water by force if necessary as this considered the proper initiation into the Kamp life. It is stated that recently Rev. Billie Taylor, who has long carried the message of the King of Kings to the residents of this county, was at the Kamp and while he has long been supposed to have taken his baptism by immersion he was not allowed to get by without the friends being assured on this point, the pastor being given a dip in the cooling waters of the stream and thereby renewing his faith.

Yesterday the Kamp was the scene of the launching of a new boat that has been built for W. A. Harding the Union merchant, the vessel being ten feet wide and thirty feet in length and will be used in pleasure trips along the Missouri river east of Union. The boat was launched in the presence of some 100 of the Union people and will soon be in service and add to the pleasures of the summer resort at Kamp Kill Kare.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn have as their guests at the Kamp Mr. and Mrs. William Dunnigan and son, Donald, of Ohio, who have been motoring through Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas, and are now spending their vacation at the ideal summer resort of the west.

From Wednesday's Daily—The North Brothers shows that are entertaining the Plattsmouth public this week in the big tent on the tourist park, Washington avenue and 10th street, is by far and away the classiest tent show that has been presented here and has a company of clever ladies and gentlemen in their cast.

The company presents a new play each evening and in the hands of the capable actors and actresses the audience finds several hours of pleasant entertainment. In addition to the play the company has a fine orchestra and a number of clever vaudeville artists in the company that add to the pleasures of the evening.

The orchestra alone is a real event of entertainment and to pass up the opportunity of enjoying this fine show is to miss a real treat.

If the patronage this week warrants the North company expect to place this city on their route each year and make this city a regular stopping place. It is a real show and deserves a good patronage.

STATE EAGLES CONVENT York, Neb., June 21.—The twenty-second annual session of the Nebraska Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, opened in York today with 40 delegates registered.

The address of welcome was given by Judge C. E. Sanall, York, member of the supreme court commission, and the response was made by A. B. Moran, Nebraska City; J. B. Dunnigan, St. Joseph, Missouri, judge of the probate court, spoke at the morning session.

The early afternoon was devoted to a business session and late in the day an automobile sightseeing trip over the city was made. At a banquet at the Methodist church, J. S. Perry, Kansas City, grand secretary, gave the principle talk. The evening's session closed with a dance.

MAKE NIGHT DRIVING SAFER

A new type automobile headlight, radically different from any now in use, which will give long range without glare and illuminate the ditches along the side of the highway has been perfected after upwards of three years of experimenting.

With upwards of 20,000 people killed each year and hundreds of thousands injured in automobile accidents, many of them occurring at night, any invention which tends to remove hazards from night driving is a public benefaction. A safe automobile headlight is as much of a public necessity today as are suitable electric lights for the home.

ASSESSMENT ABSTRACTS MAY SHOW INCREASE IN WEALTH

Lincoln, Neb., June 22.—The first county abstract of assessment was received by the state board of equalization Monday from Logan county. The total assessed value is given as $5,038,764, while last year it was only $4,862,082. If the larger and more densely populated counties of the state maintain the standard set by Logan, Nebraska's wealth will be found to have greatly increased during the past year, the board said.
