July Crop Conditions Look Good Says State Report

Wheat Estimate Higher With Hay Crop Poor—Cool Weather a Benefit to Crops.

The July condition of corn is very good. Wheat estimate slightly larger, oats lower. Hay crops poor. Fruit crops below expectations. Sugar beet acreage highest on record. Slight decrease in acreage of main crops with corresponding increase in minor crops. Moisture needed. Cool weather a benefit to small grain crops. This is a summary of reports of the State and Federal Division of Crop and Livestock Estimate.

Corn acreage is 3% loss. The estimate is 8,827,000 acres against 9,100,000 acres last year. The condition of 85% indicated a crop of 236,343,000 bu., against 236,600,000 bu. last year. July condition excellent throughout the state. The crop is in a splendid state of cultivation, and normal in size. More than the usual July and August rainfall is needed due to the lack of subsoil moisture.

Winter wheat deteriorated until the second week of June when rains and cool weather made the crop turn out somewhat better. Yields are excellent in extreme western Nebraska, and generally good east of a north and south line drawn through the western edge of Jefferson, Salline, Seward, Butler and Platte counties. Between these areas, wheat is generally extremely poor in yield but good in quality everywhere. However, there will be considerable shrunken wheat. The condition is 57% and the forecast 33,719,999 bu. against 31,661,000 bu. last year. The area for harvest was revised to 2,871,000 acres.

The area of spring wheat is 220,000 acres against 185,000 acres last year. The condition of 75% indicates a crop of 2,508,000 bu. as compared to 2,489,000 bu. last year. The forecast of all wheat is 36,229,000 bu. against 34,150,000 bu. last year. The area of oats is 2,456,000 acres as compared to 2,699,000 acres last year. The condition of 56% forecasts a crop of 49,513,000 bu. against 73,733,000 bu. last year. Oats range from fair to excellent in extreme western, eastern and northeastern Nebraska, and extremely poor in central portions.

The condition of rye is 64% which indicates a production of 2,343,000 bu. against 2,522,000 bu. last year. The area of barley is 217,000 acres against 233,000 acres last year and the condition of 69% forecasts a crop of 3,971,000 bu. against 5,662,000 bu. last year. Drought injured much of the barley throughout central Nebraska. The area of grain sorghum is 26,000 acres against 20,000 acres last year. The condition of 86% forecasts a crop of 514,000 bu. against 300,000 bu. last year.

Hay crops are short due to the dry weather. The condition of alfalfa is 63%, timothy, 65%, clover, 70%, timothy clover, mixed, 67% will hay 62%. The area of all tame hay is 1,822,000 acres against 1,850,000 acres last year, and the condition of 64% forecasts a production of 3,032,000 tons against 3,888,000 tons last year. There was a slight revision in last year's estimates.

The area of potatoes in 84,000 acres, the same as last year. The condition of 80% forecasts a crop of 6,250,000 bu. as compared to 6,300,000 bu. last year. The area of sugar beets is 81,000 acres which is the largest on record. The condition of 89% indicates a crop of 880,000 tons. Final figures on last year's crop is 59,000 acres and 834,000 tons. Fruit forecasts are appear 665,000 bu. against 450,000 bu. last year; peaches 45,000 and 33,000 bu.; pears 25,000 and 18,000 bu.

STATE PAVING INSPECTOR

James W. Burnie, for some twelve years a well known contractor of this city and who last year moved back to his old home at Biddeford, Maine, is now an employe of the state government there as an inspector on several of the large paving projects that are being placed in the state of Maine this year. Mr. Burnie understands thoroughly the paving work and his services as an inspector will be very valuable to the state. His many friends here will be pleased that he has landed this position, and the state of Maine can rest assured that they have a real public servant. Prior to coming to Plattsmouth Mr. Burnie was very active in the republican political circles of Maine.

PLEASANT DINNER PARTY

From Wednesday's Daily—
Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmer Hallstrom entertained at a dinner party at their home in Avoca Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin E. Greene, Jr., of Lake Worth, Florida. Their guests were Mr. R. L. Propst, Mrs. A. W. Propst and children, Spencer, Dick, Clara, Lynn and Kathleen, Mrs. J. F. Sindelar and daughter, Kathryn Mae, Mr. and Mrs. Elvin E. Greene, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Hallstrom and children, Bobby and Corine.

The Florida guests, Mrs. Sindelar and daughter, spent Tuesday at the A. W. Propst home in Union.

Rev. Frank Emory Pfoutz and daughter, Miss Helen, motored to Omaha this morning where they met Miss Dorothy Reims of Mt. Morris, Illinois, who is to enjoy a part of her vacation here at the home of Miss Pfoutz. Miss Helms and Miss Pfoutz were schoolmates at the Jennings seminary at Aurora, Illinois.

Double Header Here on Sunday with Gilmore

Locals Will Have Hard Battle in Double Event With South Omaha Suburb

From Wednesday's Daily—
The baseball fans of this city and vicinity will have the opportunity on Sunday of seeing a twin bill here between the locals and the team of the South Omaha suburb of Gilmore, one of the dark horses in the Sarpy-Cass County league and which may have a surprise for the Plattsmouth kings of swat.

The Gilmore team has played in hard luck in a number of their games this season and made the league leading Bellevue team do their best line of stuff to win from them and have made good showings against the other teams in the dual county loop.

For Plattsmouth, Swansen, who hurled the best brand of ball against the Papillion team, will take the mound in one of the games while Joe McCarty will do the dark work against the stockraisers in the other game of the double bill.

The victory of Plattsmouth in the two games will bring them up strong in the pennant race and the team and the fans will do their utmost to see that the locals hang up the winning score in both games.

In the big double header the admission will be 50 cents with the lady fans free and with the tightness of the pennant race in the league a very large crowd is looked for both from the local fans and from the vicinity of Gilmore. Becker, the pitching ace of Gilmore will face the local batters in one of the games of the double header here Sunday it is announced.

TOURING THE WEST

From Wednesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon two young men from Elkhart, Indiana, were here for a brief stop on a hiking tour of the central west, altho it had not been such a hike at that as they had walked but thirty miles of the distance from their home, catching rides in autos the greater part of the way and having one ride with a motorist for 100 miles at one stretch.

One of the young men is a student at DePauw university and with his companion decided that they would like to see a part of the great western country west of Chicago, that they had heard a great deal about but had never had the opportunity of seeing. When reaching Iowa and Nebraska the two boys expected to see the bold, bad western life at its most lurid stage and if anything they have been disappointed in the tame and lack of colorful life that they had read about marking the west.

Never being west of Chicago they had held visions of Indians as well as cowboys, bad men, dance halls and the old rip snorting gathering of gunmen and were very much surprised to learn that they had left the gunmen back in Chicago and the Indians in this locality were the good "Indians" that form our population.

The boys had stopped at Hamburg, Iowa, Monday night in a rain and sought shelter in one of the cabins at the tourist camp there and their rest was disturbed by the thoughts of hearing the wild whoops of the Indians as they swooped down after the scalps of the two Hoosiers, but here again disappointment awaited them as the awake in the morning to find a peaceful and quiet little city their stopping place, as the last of the old west passed with "Snowball" Reynolds.

From here the boys pressed on to Omaha and feeling that they had not had enough adventure were in favor of pressing on west to Denver in hopes of finding something that would give them a touch of the romance of the frontier days. As they were looking for a wild and bloodthirsty place the reporter advised them to stop at Lincoln where the republican Indians are seeking the scalp of Governor McMullen.

Carnival Nets Cost of Entertaining Vets

Deficit of District Legion Convention Here in May to be Wiped Out as Result of Activity.

From Monday's Daily—
Any worries the Legion may have been entertaining as to how they would be able to meet the cost of entertaining the recent district convention here are dispelled now as a result of the handsome amount received from the Fairly Shows which played here last week under auspices of the local post.

The cost of entertaining the convention, which was the equal of and in some cases better than state conventions of the Legion, was $515. The Ad club contributed $100, the Chamber of Commerce, $25 and Henry Gering, of Omaha, $5, leaving the unpaid deficit $385.

The total amount received by the Legion, subject to payment of the light bill, cleaning up the grounds, etc., was around $470, and when these obligations are met, there will be just about enough left to wipe out the convention indebtedness.

The Legion faced the problem of entertaining the district convention with all its money tied up in building activities, including ownership of the site, but this did not deter the boys from putting the thing over big and using their credit until the opportunity came along to make the money.

The Fairly Shows proved to be the squarest dealers the post has ever had anything to do with, and cash settlements were made nightly on the day's business with the concession guarantee put up one day in advance of the time called for in the contract. While their shows are not the largest on the road, they carried no objectionable features and that fact alone is worthy of the greatest consideration.

Had the weather been good all week, instead of the rain-out Wednesday night and threatening conditions two other nights the sum received by the Legion would have undoubtedly been much larger, and all in excess of the convention indebtedness would have been applied to the building fund that is now near the $9,000 mark.

To the Voters of Cass County

My name will appear on the ballot at the primary election as a candidate for the republican nomination to the office of sheriff of Cass county, and the support of my friends will be appreciated in the contest.

I am serving a two-year term in the office of sheriff and now seeking re-election for the second term for this office. During my term I have tried to enforce the law fairly and impartially, protecting the interests of the taxpayers of Cass county, in the handling of crimes of all nature and in the handling of the business affairs of the office of sheriff.

Those who have had business with the office of the county sheriff have received the best service possible and the law enforcement has been made with a just regard for the laws of the state and the protection of the interests of the good people of Cass county.

My desire in the discharge of the office has been to make the law a protection to the people of the county and not to terrorize the tax payers and residents of the county—to fairly and impartially give my full time and service to the people who have called me to the office of chief law enforcing officer of the county.

If re-nominated and re-elected to the office of sheriff, I will do my utmost to serve the best interests of the state and county and to maintain the enforcement of all laws of the state.

With the record of my conduct of the office in the past two years, I feel justified in seeking your support for re-election to the office of sheriff and will appreciate your support.

E. P. STEWART,
Sheriff of Cass county,
Nebraska.
