

Greenwood Department!

Prepared in the Interest of the People of Greenwood and Surrounding Vicinity

Phillip McLease has been spending the past week mostly with his friend, Lyle Bailey.

W. C. Elnelund was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday, where he was looking after some business matters for the day.

Miss Uvon West departed a few days since for Beatrice, where she will visit for some time at the home of the home of Mrs. S. R. Grant.

The Greenwood hall team played against the Palmyra team at the annual homecoming picnic which was held at Elmwood last Thursday.

David Appham, who has been having much trouble with attacks of rheumatism, has been so well that he hardly get around during the past week.

Troy L. Davis, of Weeping Water, was a visitor in Greenwood on last Tuesday and was working very lustily on his fences, they being, of course, political fences.

George Tonak and the good wife were visiting on last Sunday at the home of the mother of Mrs. Tonack, Mrs. Augusta Nitz, of Wann, they driving over in their auto.

E. M. Jardine and A. E. Pailing were visiting in Council Bluffs, Iowa, on last Wednesday, they driving over in their car for the purpose of looking after some business matters.

Henry Wilkins was a visitor for the day in Lincoln last Tuesday, at which place he was looking after some business matters as well as visiting with friends and relatives.

W. C. Renwan and son and C. A. Buckmaster each delivered 3,500 bushels of corn to the local elevators, in a single day, which kept many people busy, whether it was hot or not.

W. A. Armstrong and son Evan were looking after some business matters at Dewese, which is in Clay county, being called there to look after some land interest, which they have there.

J. C. Olson and daughter departed on last Wednesday for Cedar Bluffs, where they were for the day to enjoy a gathering which was being held to celebrate the birthday anniversary of a friend there.

Dr. Talcott was a visitor in Lincoln on last Wednesday, going to visit his wife in the hospital, and finding her showing much improvement and expecting to be able to return home in the near future.

Wm. Hughes, of near Auburn, is happy over the purchase of a new Chevrolet coach from the distributing agency of this celebrated car in Cass county—the Jardine Motor company, of Greenwood.

George Tonak realized 12 bushels of wheat to the acre, while his oats made 20. C. D. Fulmer had oats that made 27. The wheat of Herman Boller made 15 1/2 and his oats only 15 bushels to the acre.

A. L. Jardine shelled and delivered corn to the Greenwood elevators last week, after being practically assured of a crop this year when the rain made a marked improvement in the condition of his fields.

Misses Dorothy and Madeline Smith, who have been visiting for the past three weeks at the home of their grandparents, R. E. Owens and wife, of Memphis, returned, after having enjoyed their visit very much.

Judge W. E. Hand and Wm. Coleman were over to Plattsmouth last Tuesday, where they were looking after some business matters for the day and were having a hearing on an estate matter in the probate court.

Wm. Doud, of Lincoln, was a visitor in Greenwood on last Wednesday, and was arranging for the shelling and delivery of his corn on the following Friday, which he had stored during the summer on the farm.

The King's Daughters, of the Christian Bible school were meeting last week at the home of Mrs. Gust Sorman, where they enjoyed a most pleasant afternoon as well as doing some good work for the class organization.

Alba Ingwerson, of Hitchcock, So. Dakota, a brother of Mrs. Henry Wilkins, was a visitor at the Wilkins home for a number of days last week, he having driven down from his home in the north.

Phillip McLease and wife, of Salt Lake City, arrived in their car last week and are visiting for a number of days at the homes of the aunts of Mr. McLease, Mrs. E. A. Lander, Mrs. Catherine Coleman and Mrs. Ella Marshall.

The Dorcas society of the Christian church was meeting last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Armstrong, where they had a most pleasant meeting and arranged for the having of their work at the church.

Clyde Newkirk, Pearly Clymer and Gust Sorman went to Beatrice on last Tuesday, where they went to attend the parade of Venice, which was staged on the Blue river and was a most spectacular affair, being viewed by many thousands of people.

Last Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. William Meyers were visiting in Plattsmouth, they going via Murdock, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. O. E. McDonald and Robert, and all spent the day at the home of Joseph Kelly, where a most enjoyable time was had.

Mrs. Fred Palmquist and daughter were over to Eagle on last Wednesday, where they went to visit for the day at the home of Fred Swegeman and also to bring another daughter, Miss Marie Palmquist, home, she having been visiting there for the past week.

L. C. Marvin, the efficient rural delivery man on one of the routes, has proven himself a most finished workman in the manufacture of a body for the fire truck, and has a very nice wagon now for the purpose for which it was designed, that of fighting a fire.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Seuffer, of Gordon arrived in Greenwood and visited for the last week with their friends, spending a most pleasant week, and on last Monday the Seuffers, with their auto for their home at Gordon. They were accompanied by Miss Dorothy Birdsall, who will visit in the north-west for some time.

Sure the weather has been hot, and some times hotter than others, as well as some places hotter than others. One of the particularly hot places is near a blacksmith's forge, and so S. Peterson, the Greenwood smithy, has had an electric blower installed, which Sophus declares is just the thing for hot weather.

Reports from the bedside of Gust Swanson, who is at the hospital at Omaha, are to the effect that that gentleman is making very satisfactory progress and it is expected that he will be able to return to his home here in a very short time. C. D. Fulmer was in Omaha last week and made a very pleasant visit to Mr. Swanson.

The board of directors of the Farmers Union met last Tuesday evening and held their annual meeting, finding everything in fine condition, and that the business which was done the past year had been very satisfactory.

Among other things the board ordered a new platform placed on the scales, as the old one has become quite badly worn.

Professor John Wetherhogg, superintendent of the public schools of Valparaiso, who with Mrs. Wetherhogg have been spending the summer in Boulder, Colorado, where Mr. Wetherhogg has been attending summer school, arrived in Greenwood on last Sunday and are stopping at the home of Mrs. Wetherhogg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Birdsall.

Some months since Henry O. Dooley and family of Pacific Junction, Iowa, came to Greenwood on their way west in a car, and finding A. E. Landon in need of some help at the elevator, Mr. Dooley entered into his employment and has since been working here. The wife and family, after trying of camp life, returned to their home in Iowa and Mr. Dooley is still employed here.

A week ago Sunday, Earnest P. Smith and wife entertained at their home in Greenwood a number of guests from out of town, each of whom enjoyed the occasion very much. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Owens, of Memphis, and their son Herbert and daughter Naomi; Mrs. R. A. Owens; Elmer Smith and family; Ed Meyers and family, of Ashland; Roy Mulerts and family of Omaha, and Mrs. Jennie Burdick, of Pomona, California.

Handle Much Grain
The Peters Grain company, of Greenwood and the Farmers Grain company have been handling much grain during the past week, following the rain of ten days ago. With the goodly quantity of wheat which has been coming in on account of threshing and the desire to market at the present quotation, the work of the elevator men has been added to by an influx of some 50,000 bushels of corn. The Farmers elevator had one day, Monday last week, when their receipts ran over 9,000 bushels, and with but Emmett Landon and another man who he has assisting, on the job to handle the grain. With the hot weather, it surely did give them a working out. The same condition prevailed at the Peters Grain company elevator, and when we were there it was mighty hot and we could not help but observe how hard they had to work.

Catholics of Mexico Manifest Great Devotion

Extraordinary Scenes of Religious Emotion in Churches on Final Day of Grace.

Mexico City, July 30.—Roman Catholics of Mexico today gave way to a great manifestation of devotion to their religion and grief as the last few hours slipped by before the new governmental regulations became effective.

The extraordinary scenes of religious emotion of the past fortnight, marked by the flocking of thousands of worshippers to their churches and shrines, were surpassed as vast assemblages swamped the cathedral in Mexico City, the shrine of "Our Lady of Guadalupe," and other beloved places of worship.

There was a poignant note at these final services for tomorrow. Roman Catholic priests will withdraw from the performance of their religious offices under the orders of the archbishop of Mexico. Their action is intended as a protest against the government's religious regulations which they regard as striking at the very heart of the church in Mexico.

Will Seal All Annexes
As the day drew to a close, the attorney general's office announced that department of justice agents will seal and place under government charge all "annexes" of all churches. By this is meant every church office or structure, except actual places of worship, including the archbishops' and bishops' offices, vestry offices, sacristies and places where church treasures are stored.

This order is understood to be for the purpose of preventing the removal of treasures or church property. It is maintained by the government, since the reform law of more than fifty years ago, that all church property belongs to the government, altho it has not seized the property and has allowed the churches to continue in possession.

Barefoot men, women and children.

trudged over the rough sunbaked roads to Guadalupe today by thousands. Often their feet were bleeding. Numbers of gentle-nurtured women, unaccustomed to the hardships of life, tramped under the broiling sun, telling their beads and brushing shoulders with sturdy Indian women, inured to the elements and hardship.

Crowds Stone an Official.
Crowds stoned Attorney General Ortega and a party of the department of justice officials tonight while the officials were closing the annexes of St. Catherine's church. The officials took refuge in one of the church buildings, where they remained for awhile, then forced their way out by discharging their pistols in the air and using whips and came upon the attacking party.

At this moment the firemen arrived and turned the hose upon the people, causing them to flee.

The officials closed and sealed the annexes before they departed. No one is reported to have been injured in the melee.

Firemen with hose also dispersed a crowd which had gathered and was exciting anger at policemen who were detaining two women discovered attempting to carry away a picture of a saint from a Catholic church in one of the slum sections of the city. The crowd threw stones and various missiles at firemen who were called to drive them away. The powerful streams of water from the hose of the firemen scored a quick victory.

SMUT IN WHEAT

Stinking smut in wheat has taken its usual toll of grain the past season in the western two-thirds of the state, according to observations of the Agricultural College Extension men. Reports and investigations show that many fields have had their yield reduced as much as 1/4. In a few cases the loss has been 1/2 and even 3/4 of the crop. In case of heavy infestation, the wheat that is produced does not sell well on the market on account of being mixed with smut balls which are hard to remove from the wheat. Improper treatment of seed or no treatment at all is responsible for the loss. These losses can be eliminated by proper seed treatment, either with formaldehyde or copper carbonate at the right concentration. Owing to the rush of work at seeding time this treatment is often done improperly and the result is worse than no treatment. When copper carbonate dust is used there is no danger of harmful results. This treatment is more simple to use than the formaldehyde and for all practical purposes just as effective. The Agricultural College, Lincoln, will furnish further information on request.

Tuberculosis in Cattle Reduced to a Minimum

State and Federal Officials Report on Eradication Among Breeding Cattle Herds.

Dodge county will be certified as a modified tuberculosis-free area effective August 1, 1926. Such certification is established under the provisions of specifications approved by the United States bureau of animal industry and lawfully adopted by the Nebraska department of agriculture. This position has been obtained through the services of the state and federal bureaus of animal industry in eradicating tuberculosis from the breeding cattle herds of the county. The results of the work show that tuberculosis has been eradicated to a degree where less than one-half of one per cent of the cattle of the county were found to be affected with this disease. The certification of Dodge county will continue over a period of three years, provided the regulations as laid down for the maintenance of modified accredited areas are fully complied with.

Dodge county was among the first of the counties in Nebraska to enlist as a county in co-operation with the state for the eradication of tuberculosis. The first testing of cattle in the county under the area plan began October 8, 1924, and had progressed to an extent sufficient to permit the services of the state to be continued under the provisions of the laws adopted by the legislature of 1925. By order of the secretary of agriculture, under date of April 20, 1925, Dodge county was declared to be lawfully established as an area for the inspection, examination and testing of all breeding cattle for tuberculosis. This put the county on an unquestionable basis for being maintained as an accredited or area tested county.

Indemnity paid amounted to $19,548.56 of which the state paid $10,004.73 and the federal government paid $9,543.83. In addition to indemnity paid the owners have received a salvage for the sale of the reactors to slaughter. This has amounted to a total of $22,964.36.

The cost for the services in Dodge county since testing was commenced in October, 1924, has amounted to $17,938.32, as shown by the records of the state and federal offices. The assistance by individual cattle owners, some of whom have aided in handling not only their own herds but have operated within their community to organize the work, has made possible a lesser expenditure of money than would otherwise have obtained.

The state paid $9,157.03 of the expense, the county $2,818.22 for transportation, telephone and miscellaneous purposes, and the federal government paid $5,963.47, of which $4,916.77 was for salaries and $1,046.70 for subsistence. The largest items of expense was $10,561.27 for salaries, state and federal, and $4,165.05 for transportation, paid by state and county.

Papillion Bank Shortage Nears Half a Million

Check of Records Will Require Several Months as Many Were Destroyed—A New Charge.

Omaha, July 28.—A shortage of $400,000 has been found in the account of the State Bank of Papillion, instead of the $182,000 originally reported.

Examiners for the state banking department are continuing their work of checking records of the bank under direction of Tewes Rohlfis and several months will be required before they complete the task. It will be necessary for them to build an entirely new set of books, because of the ledger sheets and account records, which have been destroyed.

An amended complaint against C. E. Marshall, cashier of the bank, charging him with falsifying records and listing assets that the bank did not possess, was being prepared by County Attorney Collins at Papillion. He expected to file the complaint in the Sarpy county court.

E. C. Goerke will not be named in the new complaint. Goerke, the president of the bank, has been missing since July 2.

Mr. Collins said it would not be necessary to arrest Marshall on the amended complaint nor to increase the bond of $8,000, under which he is now at liberty pending preliminary hearing July 30.

In addition to the forgeries and other methods of concealing bank losses and removals that had been previously reported, Mr. Rohlfis has found that losses were concealed thru dummy checking accounts in the name of customers of the bank, of which the persons named knew nothing. One such account was for $16,000.

A servant girl employed by a foreign family and receiving a modest allowance for food today informed her employer that she would require considerably less money after Friday. Inquiry elicited a statement from the girl that she intended after today to eat only barely sufficient beans and bread to sustain her life until the religious question is settled. She declared that all her relatives and acquaintances intended to carry out a similar program.

Monsignor Ordered Deported.
The Roman Catholic archbishopric today announced that Monsignor Crespi, in charge of the apostolic delegation in Mexico City, has been ordered deported by the department of the interior upon a presidential decree. The details of the order have not been revealed, but the archbishopric assumes that alleged activities concerning the present religious situation are in back of it.

NINETY WARRANTS ISSUED FOR ALCOHOL SMUGGLING
Buffalo, N. Y., July 29.—Warrants were being served here and in Niagara Falls today on approximately ninety persons indicted by the federal grand jury at Jamestown in connection with an alleged widespread conspiracy to divert and sell alcohol. Twenty-three persons are charged with conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws while the others are charged with smuggling alcohol into Canada.

ARMS EMBARGO TO STAY

Paul Smith's, N. Y., July 30.—President Coolidge does not expect that any action will be taken in the immediate future about lifting the embargo on arms and ammunition to Mexico.

The question of raising the embargo of January 7, 1927, it was said today in behalf of Mr. Coolidge, has been discussed by the president and Secretary Kellogg over a long period, but no definite conclusions have been reached.

TRAM STRIKE MAY HIT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, July 30.—New Orleans is facing the prospect of a street car strike. William Fitzgerald of Detroit, vice president of the International Association of Street Railway Workers announced tonight that efforts to bring peace had failed. Railway officials refused to make a statement. If the strike order is issued 5,000 men will leave their posts, cutting off electric light and power as well as street car service.

Whose Journal Do You Read?

Everybody reads the Journal, but there are still a few who think it cheaper to borrow than subscribe for a copy of their own. It isn't. You will wear out more than $2 worth of shoe leather going after and returning your neighbor's paper 104 times during a year, besides the inconvenience of the thing. For $2 the postman will deliver you fresh copies right from the press twice a week for the entire year. What could be cheaper than that?

Mrs. Caroline Sanborn Passes

Mrs. Caroline B. Sanborn, mother of Perley A. Sanborn, of Greenwood, died last Thursday a week ago at the home of a daughter, Mrs. A. E. Dunn, at 3127 North 58th street, in Omaha, at the advanced age of almost 90 years. Mrs. Sanborn, whose maiden name was Caroline Brown, was born in Boston and was united in marriage with Ezra E. Sanborn, of Ware, New Hampshire, in 1854. They came west many years ago and have resided in Nebraska since before this century. They came to Sarpy county and made their home on a farm there for a number of years. Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Sanborn moved to Omaha some eight years ago to make her home with her daughter, where she continued to reside until the time of her death. She leaves to mourn her departure, two daughters, Mrs. A. E. Dunn, of Omaha, and Mrs. Edward C. Keys, of Shidler, Oklahoma. She is survived by three sons, P. A. Sanborn, of Greenwood; Webster R. Sanborn, of Omaha, and C. W. Sanborn, of Lincoln. Seventeen grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren also survive her. The funeral was held from the home of her daughter in Omaha and the burial made at Springfield, near where she had lived for so many years.

Norris is Likely Heir to Cummins' Committee Post

Death of Iowa Senator Leaves Three Vacancies on Important Bodies, Including Judiciary.

Washington, July 31.—Senator Cummins of Iowa, who died Friday, was a member of three senate committees—judiciary, of which he was chairman; interstate commerce, of which he formerly was head, and territories and insular possessions.

His death puts Senator Norris of Nebraska in line for the chairmanship of the judiciary committee, which has jurisdiction over prohibition legislation, among other subjects. Senator Borah of Idaho ranks Norris on the committee, but would be unlikely to succeed to the chairmanship because he already is head of the powerful foreign relations committee.

Senator Norris, identified with the insurgent bloc, has been chairman of the agriculture committee, but he resigned that post on the final day of the last session, explaining that he desired to devote all his time to legislative research and duties, which he could not carry on while chairman.

Friends of the Nebraska senator believe, however, that he would accept the judiciary committee chairmanship.

On the interstate commerce committee, which handles railroad legislation, the death of Senator Cummins makes Fernald of Maine the ranking republican, Watson of Indiana is chairman.

On the territories and insular committee, of which Willis of Ohio, is chairman, Senator Cummins was ranked by Johnson of California, with Lenroot of Wisconsin just below the Iowa senator.

Few of Senator Cummins' colleagues are in Washington, but those still in the capital expressed profound regret at his death. He was held in high esteem by both democrats and republicans.
