acres or a strip five miles wide or more and seven miles long, after which there will be steps taken to have a well sunk. Among those who are interested in the movement are V. W. Straub, Fred Nutzmänn, D. C. West, R. C. Pollard and F. P. Sheldon. The well that was drilled some few years since went down 1,604 feet, when it was abandoned on account of granite. The drilling will be in a more place and with very sanguine hopes of success.

Honored by Entire Community.
Last Sunday at the home of D. C. West was held the funeral of the father of Mrs. West, the Hon. J. M. Stone, who passed away so suddenly on Friday of last week. The funeral services were conducted by Doctor Aylesworth, of the Christian church and who has been the dean of Cotner college at Bethany, and a friend of Mr. Stone for years. All Nehawka was present to pay their last tribute of honor to their beloved citizen. The interment was made in the Mt. Pleasant cemetery.

Hustling in Their Wheat.
The farmers about Nehawka are hustling in their wheat and as the weather has been so adverse to the seeding for some time, some of the farmers who are so far behind with their work have been utilizing all the time possible for the getting of the seed in the ground, and are making the work advance very rapidly with every day. Some however, have gotten their seeding done and the wheat up nicely.

Makes Excellent Salesman.
The Frank P. Sheldon store has secured the services of Grover Hoback as salesman in the department store, and in so doing has secured a most valuable assistant in the business. Mr. Hoback has had many years experience in business and is a very clever salesman, as well as being a man who is highly honored and respected, and in whom the people have much confidence. Mr. Hoback should and we are certain will make good in his new position.

A Very Fine Lad.
Wednesday at the baby show, Lee Roy Marion, son of Martha Knabe Ahrens, was entered and scored at the county fair and on Friday was awarded the first prize, which was appreciated very much by mother and friends of the family. He was in the 27 month to under 36 months class.

WORLD NOT SO SMALL

From Wednesday's Daily—
While Miss Ursula Herold of this city was traveling east a few days ago on her way to Boston to resume her studies at Smith college at Northampton, she made the acquaintance of a number of other western girls who were bound for the east and in the course of getting acquainted it was found that one of the party was a granddaughter of the late Samuel Vaughn, at one time cashier of the First National bank of this city, the mother of the young lady being formerly Miss Gretel Vaughn. The visit of the two girls was most pleasant and served to assist them most delightfully in the passing of the time to the eastern schools.

DE MOLAY CHAPTER ELECTS

Years of Service

A furnace is an investment, and it should be a wise investment—one that insures comfort and economy over a long period of years.

The WEIR Furnace has been on the market for more than forty years (43 to be exact) and many of the first WEIRS manufactured are still in use after all these years of active service.

A comparison will prove the WEIR to be the heaviest and unquestionably the best steel furnace (or any other, for that matter) on the market and the little difference in first cost is overshadowed by large dividends every year by saving tons of fuel and delivering an abundance of clean, healthful, warm air throughout your home.

Let us explain.

The WEIR Furnace

COURT HOUSE A COLD PLACE

From Monday's Daily—
The court house this morning was a good place to store perishable goods as the temperature was hovering around the zero mark and not a drop of steam.

The reporter inquired as to the why of all of the arctic atmosphere, the heavy clothes and boots worn by the officials who with fingers pinched by the cold were attempting to figure or do their typewriting, and was informed that the heating plant of the court house was on the blink and until it was fixed there would be only the arctic wastes to confront the officials.

The heating plant has been somewhat in the fix of the Arkansas farm house, where when it was dry the roof did not need fixing and when it was raining it could not be fixed, the fixing of the heating plant having been delayed until the first breath of winter.
