Instinct keeps people straight better than reason.

The greatest fish lies are those told to the suckers.

The worst dancers refuse to give up without a struggle.

The walnut crop is a bumper. How about the hickorynut?

What this country needs is lipsticks with glue in them.

Trouble with feeling sorry for yourself is everyone else is.

Politics have commenced to move more lively as election day approaches.

France is not for sale, says Clemenceau. This will astonish some American tourists.

Thanksgiving is not very far away and the turkeys are seeking the tallest tree tops already.

Perhaps it's true that tomorrow never comes. But don't worry. If it is then today never goes.

The great danger in thinking is there are so many silly conclusions which are arrived at so easily.

Things are simply remarkable until you understand them and then perhaps they are remarkably simple.

The department of agriculture finds that flies are great travelers. And they stop at the very best hotels.

While the fellow with a poker face may get along, there are times when most of us think it needs poking.

Don't fall out with wealthy relatives. They are happy enough without your going to this trouble to please them.

When we hear one side we think the other side must be right, but after hearing both sides we realize that both are wrong.

The redbug is on the wane, and soon possums and sweet potatoes will be ripe. Here's a place where life is really worth while.

The republicans have all the money and the democrats want to keep their eyes open to the fact that it is not only vain but profitable.

Will Daugherty come clear of the charges preferred against him? He is an ex-officer-holder, and we all know how hard it is to convict one of them.

College youths who resent being called "male flappers" will have an opportunity to show their resentment and file their alibis, on the football field this fall.

Don Quixote became famous because of his tilts with windmills; there is no reason why Vice-President Dawes, in bucking the senators of the United States, which amounts precisely to what old Don did, should not attain the same degree of fame.

Volstead act failed utterly, so survey has shown.

To err is human, even though it may seem divine.

A salesman has to strike a man right to make a hit.

Back pay is usually slow about coming to the front.

Friends you attract are worth more than friends you seek.

Crime could be decreased by decreasing the criminals.

Some people could say what they think and still be quiet.

English Cardinal assails anti-Catholicism in league of nations.

Britain doomed as world power says Dean Inge. Well she ruled about long enough.

Optimism is biggest need in Nebraska, declares Thorne Browne. Maybe so.

Miami now plans sea wall. That will help in the future. A six million dollar venture.

Repression is recognized as one of the chief causes of insanity, crime, success and contentment.

Those who long to be boys again have forgotten how they sat through school in a pair of new shoes.

One of the worst things that can be said against English sparrows is that they are not becoming extinct.

Most of the things you think are necessary wouldn't be missed at all if you didn't think they were necessary.

The ugly duckling can hope to become a swan, while the swan can only dread to become an ugly duckling.

A sewing circle is a group of women who spend one afternoon a week embroidering alleged facts about absent friends.

Perhaps the reason everybody wants to talk is that there is so little of the general conversation worth listening to.

Secretary Hoover, conferred with the civic leaders in Omaha yesterday. Wonder if he didn't mix a little politics with it?

A poor friend will give you the shirt off his back and when he becomes wealthy he still will help you just about that much.

Stoves are being put up with a big rush. Now more warm weather reports say. Politics may get a little warmer as we go along.

Spotted boys make bad husbands. Such is the recent announcement of a British health official. Everybody else already knew that was just as true as that spoiled beef makes bad hash.

Krishnamurti, the Hindu Messiah, is a strict vegetarian at home, but every day eats a quarter of an egg over day. What is there about the American climate that leads to dissipation?

The whole cock-eyed world is hereby informed that we have a championship baseball series to be decided this week and can't be bothered with international debt matters, or other trivial subjects.

According to one unkind commentator, the only difference between the hollow dome of the state capitol and the noble heads of some persons seeking positions in the building is that the dome is slightly larger.

A health official says that the use of old fashioned home remedies is based largely on superstition. Still, a horse chestnut carried in the pocket has helped a lot of people who thought they had rheumatism.

An incident which has been side-tracked by the storm news of the past week was the passing of the last of the Blaines. James G. Blaine, the only surviving son of the statesman of renown, died the other day at his home in California, at the age of 58 years.

There's a treat for you and your children in the Peppermint sugar jacket and another in the Peppermint-flavored gum inside—that is

HER IDEAL MAN

Miss Norma Smallwood, of Tulsa, Okla., recently crowned American queen of beauty, describes her ideal man.

"He must have a college fraternity pin, chestnut hair, brown eyes, good teeth, and a singing voice," says Miss America.

Too bad, Norma, but we can't qualify, and it looks like we will have to join the thousands who are committing suicide every day, because they are similarly handicapped.

Our hair is brown, slightly sprinkled with grey, and thin in spots, but by a stretch of imagination it might be called chestnut; our eyes are blue, but our teeth are not as good as they used to be. And, alas and alack! we have neither a singing voice nor a college fraternity pin. Because of these defects, you will have to count us out of the contest.

Mussolini of Italy was a stone mason while Premier Ekman of Sweden used to be a stonecutter. Seems the governments of Europe are getting down to a sort of rock bottom.
