Fred and Eugene Nutzman shipped three cars of cattle to the South Omaha market on Monday of this week.

Julius Ruhman was a visitor in Plattsmouth one day last week where he went to look after some business matters.

V. P. Sheldon was delivering corn to the Farmers elevator in Nehawka during the past week, which he had shelled some time ago.

Jeff Brendel of Murray was a very pleasant visitor in Nehawka on last Monday and was looking after some business matters here.

C. D. St. John

Nehawka - Nebraska

Uncle C. D. St. John, the miller, has been kept to his home with an attack of the influenza, but is reported as getting along nicely.

Hall Pollard is having a barn constructed on his place southwest of Nehawka for the purpose of caring for the stock, which he raises.

Conrad Johnson reports he has about got his wheat sowed and that the prospects for a good growth are good with much moisture and with the ground in excellent condition, the crop should be good.

When a dog which belonged to the barber of Nehawka, Mr. F. M. Lemon, was allowed in the car, the car suffered much from scratches, Dr. J. E. Woods the painter soon cured the defects with his brush.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Plybon and wife were visiting and looking after some business in Plattsmouth on last Wednesday also coming at the Plattsmouth office where she spent a short time in a very pleasant visit.

Miller and Gruber have their store lot filled with burial vaults, where they store them after having them completed. They make a vault which surely protects the mortal remains of whoever makes them a last resting place.

Joseph Mock, who is receiving medical treatments at the state institution at Lincoln, where he is being treated for aberration of the mind and physical ailments is reported as being in not the best condition, and getting along very poorly.

A number of the members of the country south and west of Nehawka who have friends buried in the cemetery in the Ingwersen neighborhood gathered last Monday afternoon and cleaned up the place and now have the burying lot looking fine.

Charles D. Keltner has been assisting with the work at the lumber yard Mr. Sturm not being able to do it all since the injury to his foot which, while doing nicely is not making that rapid improvement which would be so much desired by the genial lumberman.

According to C. D. Adams, the duggist, the excellent crop of corn which has been grown on one of the farms owned by V. P. Sheldon, will have to be gathered in a boat, should the rains continue. Still they might wait for old Borius to freeze the water and then gather the corn on the ice.

On Monday of this week Miss Clara Ahrens enjoyed a visit with her twin sister, Mrs. John Kettlehut, at the home of the latter at Rock Bluffs, where with a few friends they celebrated the passing of their birthday anniversaries. The day was most pleasantly spent with their friends.

Not to allow the wife to have anything on him in the doing of which, Walter Mark Burton cut the wood, and in doing so cut his hand. Of course not exactly like the wife in making kraut, but anyway he cut the hand just the same. They are both getting on nicely and both are nearly well again.

H. M. O'Dell, the walnut log man and general rustler, who ships logs from many places to his firm in Des Moines, has purchased a new Ford touring car for his use in the persecution of his business which requires considerable traveling. The car was purchased through the agency of A. W. Propoy of Union.

Mark Burton, one of the finished painters and decorators of this section is in Plattsmouth at this time doing the embellishing of the new home of Herman L. Thomas. Mr. Thomas knew well where to find just the right man to have the work done in the best manner, so his selection of Mr. Burton for the position.

The prizes given to have people read the ads in the Nehawka Enterprise, where a number of misspelled words purposely appear, has been a source of revenue for Albert Anderson as he won the second offering on last week for finding and spelling the words, this time winning three dollars. This is an unique way of getting the advertising read.

Mrs. Albert Wolfe, the manager of the branch of the Nebraska Telephone Co., at Nehawka, was in attendance at the meeting of the managers of the exchanges which was held at Plattsmouth on Tuesday.

Mrs. Wolfe has made and is making an excellent manager of the exchange in Nehawka and surely gives the best of service, to both the public and for the company.

Louis Ross and good wife entertained for dinner at their beautiful country home on last Sunday and notwithstanding the continued fall of rain, the spirits of this family and their visitors were very merry. There were there to partake of the excellent dinner which had been prepared for the occasion by Mrs. Ross, Albert and Martin Ross and family. They all enjoyed the occasion most pleasantly.

John Dale has been making a losing fight for some time with a number of his life time friends, but in the end had to let them go, notwithstanding the fact that they had enjoyed many years of very close association. James McVey took Mr. Dale to Weeping Water in his car and the dentist there secured a separation from Mr. Dale and his friends, that is, his teeth, which he did not agree with him. He is feeling better but does not look the same.

Gave Excellent Entertainment.

The Young ladies class of the Christian Bible school of Murray, who are associated with Miss Etta Nickels of that place gave their play "Sunshine" in Nehawka on Wednesday evening of this week, which was attended by a large crowd and who surely enjoyed the play which was filled with sparkling climaxes and with much fun provoking laughter, besides the excellent character building qualities of the production.

Will Hold Convention Here

The Royal Neighbors of America will hold their yearly convention at Nehawka, Neb., Oct. 15th. The following towns will take part in the program: Weeping Water, Manly, Murdock, Louisville, Papillion, Nehawka and Plattsmouth. All other towns in the district are urged to be present. Some of the district officers will be in attendance and a fine time is planned for all visiting neighbors.

Attend Family Reunion.

Last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Hoback, on their farm southeast of Nehawka, was held the reunion of the family of this excellent couple. The occasion coming on the seventy-fifth anniversary of the birth of Uncle Ben. A most pleasant time was had, when the family were gathered together, there being present for the occasion Grover C. Hoback and family of Nehawka, Charles Hemphill and wife, Frank Anderson and family of Union, James Dysart and Oscar Hoback and family, who live on the farm. All extended the wish to the guests of honor, this aged couple, who have done so much to make the present great state of Nebraska, for many more happy years to enjoy the fruits of their labor.

COTTON AGAIN TAKES A BIG DROP IN PRICE

New York, Oct. 5.—With prices of some options dipping below 13 cents a pound for the first time in five years, the cotton market Monday continued to discount indications of a record-breaking crop.

Selling orders poured in from all sections of the south, where favorable weather increased the prospects of a yield well above 6,000,000 bales. Trade liquidations and Wall street selling placed additional pressure on the market.

The extreme decline Monday amounted to about $1.50 a bale, with December contracts selling as low as 12.97 and closing slightly above 13 cents. All months touched the lowest prices of the season, and were from 16 to 24 points lower on the day.

Reports were current that large consuming interests would take several million bales from the market at the present low prices, but if such buying orders were placed they failed to exert much influence.

BACKS CONSENT DECREE

Washington, Oct. 3.—The government will seek to prevent vacation of the packers in an appeal to the court of appeals here tomorrow.

In a brief prepared by the department of justice the government will contend that the move for the vacation of the decree entered into in 1920 should be carried direct to the supreme court.

The decree enjoined the packers from operating public cold storage warehouses or retail markets and from engaging in the handling of unrelated lines of business. Their side of the case will be presented by Chas. E. Hughes.

90 Per Cent of Corn Crop Past Frost Danger

More Will Be Cut for Fodder, Due to the Hay and Feed Shortage.

Lincoln, Oct. 4.—More than 90 per cent of Nebraska's corn crop matured without damage, although more than the usual amount of the crop will be cut for fodder in view of the shortage of hay and feed crops. A. E. Anderson, state and federal agricultural statistician, reported today.

Reduced supplies of hay and feed have materially reduced cattle and sheep feeding, Anderson said. However, farmers have sufficient feed supplies for the winter.

The only surplus of hay and feed was found in Dawes, Sheridan, Cherry, Deuel, Kimball, Morrill and Garden counties.

Sixty per cent of the fall plowing for wheat was completed by the end of August.

Recent frozes, Anderson said, hit potatoes in the Scotts Bluff area. The following summary was given by Anderson.

NORTHWEST
Moisture sufficient. Usual number of cattle will be fed, and more sheep will be finished. Hay and feed surplus. Hogs shipped in for feeding. No forced marketing of livestock.

NORTH-CENTRAL
Moisture short in Brown, Keyapaha, Loup and Rock counties, others sufficient. Cattle and sheep feeding reduced. Hay and feed short in Brown, Holt, Keyapaha and Rock counties, other counties sufficient. Present price of hay has made it more profitable to sell as a cash crop. Stock hogs moving out, corn shortage.

NORTHEAST
Moisture sufficient. Cattle feeding generally less. Less sheep fed. Hogs being shipped in.

WEST-CENTRAL
Moisture generally sufficient. More cattle will be fed in Cheyenne, Hooker, Kimball and Morrill counties. Hogs being shipped in for feeding. Some surplus hay and feed.

CENTRAL
Moisture short in Hall and Howard counties, other counties sufficient. Less cattle and sheep will be fed. Hogs being shipped out of all counties except Greeley and Dawson. Some forced movement of live stock to market because of hay and feed shortage from Custer, Hall, Howard and Sherman counties.

EAST-CENTRAL
Moisture supply generally sufficient. Less cattle will be fed. Sheep feeding reduced. Hay and feed short generally. Hogs moving into this district for feeding.

SOUTHWEST
Moisture short generally. Less sheep and cattle will be fed. Sheep feeding reduced. Hay and feed short in all counties except Nemaha. Stock hogs moving out. Forced movement of livestock on account of shortage of hay and feed.

SOUTH-CENTRAL
Moisture generally short. Less cattle and sheep will be fed. Hay and feed generally short. Stock hogs being shipped out. Forced movement of livestock because of hay and feed shortage from all but Gosper county.

SOUTHEAST
Moisture ample. Many fields too wet for seeding. Cattle and sheep feeding reduced. Hay and feed short in all counties except Nemaha. Stock hogs moving out. Forced movement of livestock on account of shortage of hay and feed.

FACTS ABOUT NEBRASKA
Four-fifths of Nebraska's fifty million acres are smooth land, most of the top soil of which is black loam from eighteen inches to five feet in depth, with a spongy sub-soil, called loess, from ten to thirty feet deep. Varying in different parts of the state the average rainfall is from 15 to 34 inches. Farming is the chief industry with corn, live stock, wheat, hay, potatoes and sugar beets predominating. Nebraska can feed her own people and supply the rest of the United States with bread for three months and meat for six months of each year.

With a population in 1920 of 1,296,372 people about 15 per cent, or 149,652, were foreign born, with Germans and Scandinavians leading at forty-one and thirty-three respectively. Bohemians and Poles made up 16,500, with a thousand fewer Russians and still a thousand fewer Britishers, not counting the Irish, of which there were five thousand. Southern Europeans numbered approximately 10,000.

In 1920 more than three hundred millions of dollars worth of meat products were turned out in Nebraska. Power in the manufacturing industries of the state grew from 41,825 to 125,814 horsepower between 1899 and 1919. It is estimated that more than 80 per cent of the increase was in electrical power.

The value of Nebraska farm crops in 1919 was $519,729,711. There were 124,417 farms, a decrease of 5,250 during a ten years period, although the cultivation acreage had increased 12 per cent. The tendency toward larger, better farms and increased tenancy marked.

A traffic survey shows that 42 automobiles with Nebraska license plates passed a certain point in Nevada in two weeks. California, Utah, Colorado, New York and Illinois cars only exceed those from this state while Iowa fell one behind. The 42 cars carried 138 passengers, of whom 96 patronized camps and 42, or an average of one per car, stayed at hotels while passing through Nevada.

Farmer Who Harbored Robbers is Guilty

Supreme Court Says Conviction Proven and That Jury Having Rejected Explanation Is Settled.

George Heyen, Gage county farmer who was sentenced to nine months in prison and to pay a $200 fine for harboring Carl Erickson, Johnny Brown and Dewaine Brennan, bank robbers, was held by the supreme court Thursday to have been properly convicted, and that the jury having rejected his story that he had no knowledge of their crime, he must serve the sentence imposed.

The three men robbed the Farmers State bank of Cortland of $1,875 on April 6, 1925, by holding up everybody in the institution, and proceeded immediately to the Heyen farm in the same county, while officers were searching for them. Brown had previously made arrangements to stay there, saying that they were running booze from Wymore. They remained there four or five days. They made their escape at the time, but were later caught and convicted.

Heyen was prosecuted after Erickson had been tried and given a ten to twenty-five year sentence, and one of the arguments of his attorney was that he could not be convicted until after the principals had been adjudged guilty. To get away from the fact that one had been convicted, it was claimed this had been illegal, because he was given an indeterminate sentence instead of a definite one, as the law provides, but the court, in an opinion by Justice Rose, says that this does not make the record of conviction inadmissible as evidence.

It was also claimed that as the law makes it an offense to harbor a man who has been charged with or found guilty of a felony, Heyen could not be prosecuted as Erickson had not been charged with the crime. The court brushes this aside, saying that it was not the legislature's intention to make the committing of a crime its own vindication. It means any subsequent proceedings.

The evidence, which included admissions of Heyen and the fact that his wife accepted $40 pay from the men for their stay, is held to be sufficient to sustain the jury's judgment.

They had learned before the men left that they were the Cortland bank robbers but said they were fearful of doing or saying anything and not knowing what to do did nothing. His attorney objected to the introduction of evidence showing he had received a newspaper telling of the crime, but the court said that a newspaper, properly addressed and mailed, is presumed as a matter of evidence to have reached the addressee in the usual course of the mails. The punishment is held not to be excessive.

CIVILIANS ARE STARVING

Hankow, China, Oct. 1.—The civilian population of Wuichang, across the Yangtze river from here, is entirely without food and hundreds are reported to be dying. Colder weather is increasing the suffering. There is no coal and no firewood and the meager remaining food supply is held entirely by the military. The condition is the result of the siege laid to the city by the "red" Cantonese forces to force surrender of the northern troops holding it.

Peace negotiations at Wuichang have been broken off entirely, but thru the efforts of the chamber of commerce both the contending factions have agreed to permit removal of the women and children to Hankow.
