Giant red-leaved Cannas for sale, 50c a clump, Phone 1011.—Mrs. F. C. Linnville.

W. A. Propst, the auto dealer was in Omaha last Monday, driving over to the big city in his auto.

Miss Beulah Niday was the guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haverige on last Sunday for the day.

Charles Green and his lady friend, were visiting with friends and enjoying an excellent dinner in Omaha on last Sunday.

Joe Dare, the genial mayor of La Platte was a visitor in Union on last Sunday and was the guest of his many friends here.

Mont Robb was a visitor in Plattsmouth on last Thursday and was attending the republican rally which was held there that night.

J. D. Graves an attorney of Peru, was a visitor in Union on last Friday and a guest of his brother, Attorney C. L. Graves of this city.

A. L. Becker who says business is good, shipped six crates of chickens to the Omaha market and says in every line, business is picking up.

John Lidgett who has been quite poorly for the past week and who was kept to his bed for the time, was able to be out and down town.

W. B. Sperry of Weeping Water, was a visitor in Union on last Monday and was meeting his many friends as well as looking after some business matters.

An auto collision which did great damage to the cars occurred near the home of Sherman Austin on last Sunday, which fortunately did no damage to the drivers.

M. Lynde, who has been visiting at Bern, Kansas, for some time arrived in Union on last Monday in order to be on hand when the time for election came on Tuesday.

E. E. Leach, W. A. Taylor and F. H. McCarthy put up the election booths in the Union auditorium on last Monday and got everything in readiness for election on Tuesday.

George R. Slayles, county clerk, was a visitor in Union last Saturday and was distributing election supplies to the election officers, for the election which was played on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Smith had for their guests for the day and for dinner last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Phillip F. Rihn, where both guests and entertainers enjoyed the day very pleasantly.

Joseph Bauer is making some improvements in the shape of an addition to the house which G. S. Upton recently purchased from L. W. Crawford and in which Mr. and Mrs. Upton expect to reside in the future.

C. G. McCarthy has been having his elevator painted and others repairs made which will put it in excellent condition for the handling of the crop of corn which is now thrashing itself upon the shippers and producers.

During the past week W. A. Propst sold and delivered cars as follows: to Melvin Todd a coupe, to Santa True, a touring car, to Wm. Minford near Murray, a sport roadster, while Louis Dieckman got a two door sedan all of the celebrated universal make.

The ladies aid society of Union were careful that all who were in the city voting were cared for in the line of getting something to eat and gave a dinner and supper on that day in the Woodman Hall and sure they did produce the things to eat.

At the store of A. L. Becker we observed some samples of corn raised this season which was sure fine, well filled ears and very symmetrical ears, and should make very good seed corn. The samples were raised by Walter Haverige and Ray Becker. Hans Christensen who recently purchased the Foster home after they had moved to Omaha, has occupied the property during the last week, and the house where he has been residing was immediately occupied by Wayne Ackley, which is on the bottom northwest of town.

Henry Becker is placing his machinery in good condition and with the assistance of Fred Wessell is painting and making all proper repairs, the threshers and corn shellers, and will store the threshing until next summer, and the sheller will be put in use right away.

W. H. Porter, who has been making a cave at his home in Union, doing the work himself, has a place of refuge when cyclones come, about completed. The cave is an excellent one and Will says that if the sign is right on next Monday he will begin the picking of his corn. We are sure it will be.

The new covering for the stairway and adding a fire storm break for the entrance of the store and hall of the A. L. Becker building, which has just been completed by Wayne Ackley is an institution which will give good service in keeping away the weather and snow during the winter and the sun during the summer.

Hallowe'ners Leave Marks.

The Hallowe'en celebrators left some visible marks of their activities in the facts they changed two autos from the plaza in the road of Bruce Wolfe's blacksmith shop to the lumber yard and smeared soap over the windows of the business houses as well as celebrating the event with numerous parties. But as we observed doing no real damage.

Corn Huskers Supplies.

I have Newton wagons, wagon boxes, scoop boards, and every description of corn huskers supplies. See me for your needs. Joe Banning.

Entertained in Honor of Sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Frans entertained on last Thursday, October 28, in honor of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore of Murray, who have been married just twenty-five years. A most enjoyable time was had, and a number of remembrances given. There were there for the occasion besides Mr. and Mrs. Frans, Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Gilmore, the guests of honor, their son, John Gilmore, W. G. Becker and wife, Will Smith and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Q. A. Davis of Murray; John Vantine and wife, F. W. Robb and wife of Wyoming and James W. Holmes and wife of Plattsmouth.

This Is Not So Bad.

D. B. Porter began the picking of his corn crop during the early portion of this week and was well satisfied with the results, and the corn which is a good quality is making fifty bushels per acre. There is a reason for this, he had good soil, and sure knows how to farm it. Blair is a worker and has the knowledge of how to raise corn the best.

Methodist Church Notes.

Be sure to attend church somewhere next Sunday.

Services at the Methodist church next Sunday as follows:
 Sunday school—9 a. m.
 Junior League at 2:00 p. m.
 Epworth League at 8:45 p. m.
 Evening worship at 7:30.

 Rev. Myers was at Weeping Water last Sunday morning, changing pulpits with the Methodist minister of that place. Next Sunday morning Rev. Myers will be at Wyoming for the morning service, to be forgotten at Sunday school however, promptly at ten o'clock. Eighty-three were present in classes last Sunday morning—not one hundred per cent—come next Sunday and help boost this number up toward one hundred.
 The aid society served dinner and supper on election day, and were real well rewarded for their efforts, as a good crowd was present for both meals. The ladies appreciate the cooperation given them, and wish to thank everyone who so generously helped to make the day a success.
 Their next plans are for a bazaar sometime in December—so don't buy all your Xmas presents too early—wait and see what the M. E. Aid society has for you.
 The young men's Bible class met with Mr. Clifton Smith last week. They are planning for a "Father and Son" banquet soon. This class invites all young men not attending Sunday school elsewhere to meet with them next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. All old members of the class should endeavor to be present next Sunday.
 A Junior League was started last Sunday afternoon. It is desired that all children too young for Epworth League attend these meetings on Sunday afternoons at 2 o'clock.

HALL-MILLS TRIAL NOT OVER WRNY

New York, Nov. 3.—Radio station WRNY announced Tuesday night it will not broadcast the Hall-Mills murder trial, which opens Tuesday in Somerville, N. J.

Charles D. Isaacson, in making the announcement said that, although arrangements had been completed for the broadcasting and 5,000 letters from radio fans received in approval of the plan "some influential people thought it was a bad thing to do and we decided there was enough public opinion against it to warrant abandoning the plan." Mr. Isaacson said the "influential people" included prominent ministers, club women and many

Cupid Pierces Many Hearts of Film Folk

Film Stars Succumb to Darts of Willy God, but Divorce Claims Some Too.

If Cupid's arrows are not exhausted around the film colonies, both east and west, it is no fault of the little god of love.

In the past year he has pierced the hearts of over thirty of cinema's best known, eleven couples of whom already have taken the leap. A dozen other couples are all set for the ceremony. And besides this, practically every unmarried actor or actress of importance except Jackie Coogan, Baby Peggy and Bull Montana at least has been reported engaged.

But poor Dan. With all his efforts he's just about one jump ahead of the divorce court. As fast as he unites 'em, the green-eyed monster pulls them apart again.

Here's how the record of those married stands:

Milton Sills to Doris Kenyon.
 Constance Talmage to Captain Alastair MacIntosh.
 Mae Murray to "Prince Divani" Ben Turpin to Babette Deitz.
 Eleanor Boardman to King Vidor, director.
 Louise Brooks to Robert Z. Leonard.
 William Boyd to Elinor Fair.
 Constance Bennett to some millionaire.
 Mae Busch to another.
 Alma Rubens to Rickard Cortez.
 Lew Cody to Mabel Normand.
 Louise Brooks to Eddie Sutherland, director.
 Wesley Barry to Julia someone.

The engaged ones (as we go to press):

Clara Bow to Victor Fleming.
 Laura La Plante to William Selter, director.
 Alberta Vaughn to Grant Withers.
 Florence Vidor to George Fitzmaurice, director.
 Mary Astor to Irving Asher.
 Jobyna Ralston to Richard Arlen.
 Bebe Daniels to Charles Padock, champion sprinter.
 Louise Fazenda to Hal Wallis.
 John Gilbert to Greta Garbo, maybe.
 Jocelyn Lee to Gilbert Rowland.
 Alice Day to Carl Laemmle, Jr.
 Elaine Hammerstein to some butter-and-egg man.
 John Bowers to Marguerite de la Motte.
 Robert Agnew to May McAvoy it is alleged.
 Lena Gregory to Al Rogell.
 And the divorces:
 Florence Vidor from King Vidor, (married again).
 Marion Nixon from Joe Benjamin, box fighter.
 Natacha Rambova from the late Rudolph Valentino.
 Katherine McDonald from husband.
 Milton Sills from Gladys.
 Virginia Valli from husband.
 Adolphe Menjou sued by wife.
 Constance Talmadge, already, maybe.
 Ronald Coleman sues wife. (She's engaged again).
 And Mrs. Hoskins, mother of "Our Gang," sues for divorce. Mendel B. Silberberg from Alice Calhoun.
 Beverly Bayne and Francis X. Bushman.
 "Red" Grange named as co-respondent.

Illinois and New York Defeat Prohibition

Montana and Wisconsin Seem Moist While Missouri and Colorado Go Dry.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—Illinois and New York went wet in the referendum on the Volstead act held today. Chicago's vote was damp by more than 3 to 1.

Even in downstate Illinois the early returns gave a wet majority, although by a narrow margin which the drys hoped to overcome. Some of the localities of the drier of the drys went wet today.

Of the six other states which today held referenda on Volsteadism, the early returns indicated that Montana and Wisconsin probably will go wet, while Missouri and Colorado voted dry. In Nevada and California the vote was too close for accurate forecasts.

The referendum in Illinois was an appeal to congress to modify the Volstead act so as to permit the various states to set their own standards as to how much intoxicating liquor should be considered intoxicating, also in New York.

In California where a hot fight had been made by the dry forces, the first reports, giving 135 out of 8,512 precincts, showed a vote for repeal of the state prohibition law of For, 4,745, against, 1,857.

Dry forces however, insisted that the returns were mostly from San Francisco, and that the rest of the state would be overwhelmingly dry.

Montana, going wet, voted in 59 of 436 precincts to repeal the state dry law by a margin of 1,481 to 387.

In Wisconsin the wet referendum went: Yes, 26,325; no, 14,981.

Nevada offered meager returns, the latest being, wet, 207; dry, 44.

In Missouri the drys piled up a vote against repealing the state prohibition law. The vote on repeal was For, 2,299; gainst, 6,637.

Colorado had a slight dry lead the vote there on the repeal of the state law being: For, 4,995; against, 5,143, in 56 out of 1,591 precincts.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE NOTES

Mr. Dunlap at the Happy Hundred Supper last night stated: "A city is not buildings—it is people." "Scientists have catalogued 6,000 characteristics of the human being." "The greatest thing in the world is the human spirituality." "We are finally learning the money value of morality." "Get next to your boys and inculcate the positive ideas and eliminate the negative ones." "Some folks in looking up into the sky can see nothing but stars! They can't see and feel the great divine scheme and hand back of the stars." "If Mr. Dunlap had not said anything else here in food for a year of Sundays! It all fits into the local situation so perfectly. The man of optimism; the pessimist; the indifferent; the booster; the "center" and the man who gets things done.

Right here in saying the Chamber of Commerce represents every man, every woman, and every business and every industry in Plattsmouth, you can appreciate the great conflict of ideas; hopes, and ambitious one must encounter.

However, in my years of service with the great Armour and good of Chicago, Kansas City, and in Virginia, we were always expected to sacrifice all personal feelings for the good of the company. That was termed "business loyalty." Ever ready to be "the goat" and to take the criticism and blame, for the interest and good of the company. The same holds good with a Chamber of Commerce. Until we can let our loyalty and love of Plattsmouth lead all personal preferences, there will be those who can't see that the Chamber of Commerce is strictly an impersonal affair, and it must serve the good of all, and eliminate all "personal" differences that might come in to retard its progress—which is the progress of your city.

McMullen Holds Lead in Governorship Contest

At Noon With 600 Precincts of the State Missing Governor Leads Bryan by 2,000.

One of the closest political contests in the history of the state of Nebraska marks the result of the race for governor between Governor Adam McMullen and Charles W. Bryan. It may require the official contest to settle the matter as the two candidates have run a close race and the result hourly shifts form first one to the other of the candidates.

The 5,060 majority of McMullen in Douglas county was gradually cut down by Mr. Bryan in the rural counties and at noon the margin which McMullen was holding onto was reduced to 2,000.

There are 600 precincts of the state yet to be reported and on the result from these will largely depend the result of the state. The closeness of the contest it was claimed from the democratic state committee may require the final official count to give the result.

The republican state ticket seems safe at this time on the fact that returns are the only office in which there is doubt remains the governor.

In the congressional delegation John N. Norton of Osceola, seems to have displaced Congressman McLaughlin in the fourth district by a small majority and which will leave the delegation standing four democrats and two republicans.

The congress men elected are:
 First district—John J. Morehead, dem.
 Second district—W. G. Sears, rep.
 Third district—Edgar Howard, dem.
 Fourth district—John N. Norton, dem.
 Fifth district—A. S. Shallenberger, dem.
 Sixth district—Robert Simmons, rep.

Napoleonic War Vet is Dead at the Age of 150

Russian Was Believed to Be the Oldest Man in the Empire World.

Tiflis, Russia.—Nikolajewitsch Andruszenko, reputed to be the oldest man in the world, died here at the age of 150 years. Andruszenko claimed that this was his age; and, since he was born before birth records were kept, no one ever disputed his statement.

This super-centenarian, if his statements can be believed, took part in the war against Napoleon in 1812. As sergeant of the horseguards he pursued the retreating French army as far as Beresina, a town in southern Russia. Also he took part in the campaign against Poland when that country revolted against Russian rule in 1831.

Face Slashed with Sabers.

Altogether Andruszenko was a soldier for forty-five years. On his face were many scars from saber cuts received in various combats.

Until 1916 he lived on a pension from the czarist government. When the bolsheviks came into power this pension was canceled; and since that time his grandchildren and great grandchildren supported him.

For over fifty years he had not touched alcohol. He was drunk only once—approximately 125 years ago.

His chief diversion was smoking a pipe which looked as if it might have been his favorite during the Napoleonic wars.

A few hours before his death he went to a tobacco shop for his weekly supply of cut plugs. On the homeward journey he sat down on a bench in the sunshine. Here he fell asleep and did not awake.

Wheeler Pools Wet Result

Washington, Nov. 3.—Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon league, Tuesday issued this statement on the prohibition aspects of the election.

"The referendum vote in New York, Illinois, and Wisconsin which the drys ignored, of course show big wet majorities, but there will be another story from the states where the drys took an active part in the vote, as in Missouri, Colorado, Montana and California. The senatorial fights outside of Massachusetts are all favorable on the reports thus far received."

RECKLESSNESS AND REGULATION

Only a relatively small percent of automobile drivers are careless. But they are sufficient in number to make driving on the highways hazardous. On a Sunday or holiday many people refrain from driving because of the hazard. It is neither fair nor is it necessary that careless drivers should drive others off the highway, to which and on which everyone has an equal right.

Automobiles are safe, highways are safe and driving practices must be made safe.

An oil company, operating several hundred trucks, has not had a collision or accident on the highways or at railroad grade crossings for a number of years, although during that time its trucks crossed railroad tracks more than 31,000,000 times.

It selects its drivers with proper care, instructs them in safe practices and gives them to understand that failure to stop, look and listen before crossing a railroad track, or failure properly to observe traffic rules and safe practices on the highways will result in dismissal from the service.

But compulsory automobile insurance is not the solution; it will not reduce accidents; it will tend to increase them by removing the last vestige of personal responsibility from persons already careless.

ELECTION DAY QUIET

From Tuesday's Daily—
 The election today was a very quiet one with no unusually large vote cast up to the noon hour as voters apparently were not being aroused to any great extent despite the fact that the state and congressional elections were adding interest to the usual county elections. All of the local candidates were out and looking after their interests and but little fight was in evidence on any of the candidates save in the third ward where a scrap was being made by R. Johnson, the democratic candidate for alder, by certain elements in the west portion of the city.

IRELAND DEFIES BRITAIN

Geneva, Nov. 1.—Ireland, for the second time since the League of Nations assembled, flouted defiance at England when it registered eight treaties for publication in the league's treaty series today.

Despite the imperial conference's deliberations regarding the unity of the British dominions and England's official declaration, which is among the league files, that the treaties are internal and not subject to league jurisdiction, Ireland included among the documents submitted treaties with India, Canada and New Zealand.

During the assembly the Irish defied the British and came back as candidates for a council seat. The purpose, according to Foreign Minister Fitzgerald, is to establish Ireland's equality before the league.
