

Greenwood Department!

Prepared in the Interest of the People of Greenwood and Surrounding Vicinity

Mrs. P. A. Sanborn, of Omaha, was spending the past week with the family here.

Walter Benke is picking corn at the farm of J. C. Olson, where he is making the nubbins fly.

Orison Johnson and wife were visiting with friends in Lincoln on last Wednesday, they driving over to the big city in their car for the day.

Judge W. E. Newkirk has been confined to his home and bed a portion of the time the past few days, but it is hoped he will soon be able to be out again.

James Sanborn was spending the day Thanksgiving with the family in Omaha, where the children are attending school, and enjoyed the visit very much.

E. O. Miller of the Greenwood state bank was a visitor in Lincoln for over the Thanksgiving holiday and was eating some choice meats with his friends.

Theodore Bethel, who has been making his home at Belmont, a suburb of Lincoln, is reported as being very ill at his home and is being cared for by Mrs. Bethel.

Business called Mr. and Mrs. Phil L. Hall to Lincoln last Wednesday, where they drove for the day, remaining for the following day, to spend Thanksgiving with the mother of Mr. Hall.

Henry Wilkin and the good wife were enjoying a visit at Elmwood on last Thursday, where they went to spend the day with the parents of Mr. Wilkin, and to eat Thanksgiving dinner with them.

The firm of White & Bucknell have accepted the agency for the Iowa cream separator and will in the future carry a stock of these excellent machines. Look for their ad in the coming issues of this paper.

Mrs. Ella Marshall, of Ashland, was a visitor in Greenwood last Saturday, attending the supper and bazaar at the Christian church and was also a visitor with her sister, Miss Catherine Coleman, for over the week end.

"Bud" Skulling, who was taken with typhoid fever some time since, is very critically ill at his home in Greenwood, and while everything is being done that is humanly possible for the little fellow, he is still in a very serious condition.

Mrs. Fred Peterson has installed a lunch counter in the rear end of the barbershop building, there being two rooms, one used for the shop and the other for the lunch counter. This makes three eating houses in Greenwood and it sure looks like it should be sufficient.

The Greenwood schools were closed on Wednesday for the remainder of the week, and the teachers spent the balance of the week at their homes, where they tasted and enjoyed the short vacation very much, coming back in time to take up their work this morning.

The Jardine Motor company has just received a carload each of the new Overland Whipets, the wonder car of the day, and Chevrolets, which have shown their worth during the past season and both are ready for delivery. Better see what you want before they are all sold.

George Trunkenholz and the family were spending last Thursday at their former home in Eagle, where they were eating some of the excellent cooking of the friends there and were thankful that they had the good friends who could do good cooking, which was enjoyed by all.

Warren Hand and family, of Lincoln, were over to Greenwood, where they enjoyed the Thanksgiving day with Judge and Mrs. W. E. Hand, the parents of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hand, returning home on Thursday evening while the grandchildren remained for a longer visit with the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Carpenter entertained at their home in Greenwood for the Thanksgiving day and dinner, the parents of Mrs. Carpenter, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Brinkman and C. E. Brinkman, a brother of Mrs. Carpenter, as well as Miss Minnie Mason. A very pleasant time was had by all present.

There was a shooting match west of Greenwood on Thanksgiving day, which provided some sport for those who love to shoot. Many of those from here who are crack shots went over to claim their share of the ducks, geese and turkeys which were to be distributed and sure got what was coming to Greenwood.

Herbert Carnes, living south of Greenwood, who with the good wife were blessed with a son some two weeks since, is feeling pretty fine and with the three daughters which they had before, makes a very fine family. Mrs. David Appham, who was with the family for two weeks, is home and reports all getting along nicely.

Frank Hart and wife entertained at their home on Thanksgiving day for dinner and the day Frank Reister and family of near Manley, and Mr. and Mrs. John Scheel and their daughter, of Murdock. Mrs. Reister being a sister of Mrs. Hart, while Mr. and Mrs. Scheel are her parents. They all enjoyed a very pleasant visit.

Rex Peters and wife were over to Murdock on last Thursday. Mrs. Peters remaining until Saturday. On Thursday they were enjoying a big Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Henry Gakemeier, the parents of Mrs. Peters. On Saturday they gave a shower to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Swartz, Mrs. Swartz being a sister of Mrs. Peters.

The enterprising firm of White & Bucknell, which is doing a very fine business and one that is satisfactory, have just had a large sign prepared, which they are placing on the front of their place of business and which is a very attractive one. Take a glimpse at the sign—then enter the store and see the bargains which they have to offer.

Paul Stander, who is doing his own housekeeping, was the successful visitor at the supper and bazaar which was held at the Christian church on last Saturday night, November 20th, and he was presented with the quilt, which will come in very handy at his home. The pillow was given to Mrs. Edward Boquist, and was a very appreciable gift.

Sophus Peterson, the genial rustler and the village blacksmith, took a day off on last Thursday and visited with his old time friend, Carl Hanson, with whom he had worked at his trade in the old country years ago, and who makes his home at Goehner. The gentlemen, while they ate turkey, talked of the time which they had across the water, when they were boys and young men, and enjoyed the day most pleasantly.

Watson Howard, Lorenzo Lemon and Irvin Rouse were spending a good portion of the past week in Plattsmouth, where they were called to act as jurors in the famous hog stealing case which was brought up to the district court from Cedar Creek. The jury reached an agreement Wednesday and the boys were excused to go home and eat Thanksgiving turkey or reindeer, but have to return for the cases which come this week.

Infant Dies at Brock
An infant which was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Coleman, who make their home at Brock, died after but a few hours, and Mr. C. Laughlin went over to Brock on last Tuesday, bringing the remains of the infant here for the funeral, which was held on Wednesday afternoon. The little one being laid to rest in the beautiful Greenwood cemetery.

Celebrated with Thanks
Professor John Weatherhogg, superintendent of the schools at Ceresco, accompanied by his wife, were over on last Thursday for the Thanksgiving holiday, which they enjoyed at the home of the parents of Mrs. Weatherhogg, Mr. and Mrs. A. R.

Birdsall. At the Birdsall home were also Miss Dorothy Birdsall, who is working in Lincoln and Miss Bertha Stoffer, who is attending the state university; also Mr. Clarence Stoffer, of Gordon, who came down to spend the Thanksgiving season with the Birdsalls, as well as with his daughter, Miss Bertha. The shooting match which was held in Ashland on last Tuesday provided a turkey for the dinner, a goodly number of the crack shots from this vicinity going over to claim their share of the fowls included in the match.

Gasoline Explodes Causing Fire
Mrs. Clifford Armstrong had a very exciting accident when she was attempting to fill a gasoline stove that exploded, setting fire to her clothing and also causing some damage to the porch of the house. The gasoline which was spilled on her shoe caught fire and it was fortunate that the presence of a number of her lady friends permitted them to extinguish the flames before she had time to be burned very severely. The shock was very severe and she has been prostrated since.

Masons Work and Eat
The Masonic lodge room was the scene of some activity on last Tuesday evening, when there was conferred two degrees in addition to the routine business and a banquet following the initiation. Merle Loder was raised to the degree of a Master Mason, which makes him a full fledged member of the Blue lodge, and his father, Ira Loder, was given the Entered Apprentice degree, the work being followed by the eats which had been prepared. All enjoyed the occasion very much.

Rebeckah Elect Officers
The Rebeckah order of Greenwood, at their regular meeting last week, at the conclusion of the business which they had on hand, elected officers for the coming term, they being Mrs. Esther Jardine, N. G.; Stigma Sorman, V. G.; Lena Schroeder, secretary, and Sophus Peterson, treasurer.

Gets Severe Burns
Charles Card, while starting his tractor, had gasoline in a can that he set on the tractor and with the vibration which is natural with the machine, the can was jarred off and in falling, struck the hot manifold, which exploded the can and burned Mr. Card quite severely on the face and hands. He was indeed fortunate that his injuries were not worse. He is getting along nicely, but still has some very painful burns.

TOMHICKEN MINE STILL HOLDS ONE
Hazelton, Pa., Nov. 26.—Tomhickken, the half-century-old mining village near here, was glad and sorry Thursday. Glad because five of its citizens had been restored to their families after an imprisonment of nearly nine days in a hard-coal mine and sorry because no word of encouragement had come from the rescuers as to the fate of the sixth man caught behind the flood, November 16.

Sadness hung over the home of Charles Smith, whose wife and parents did not learn until Thursday that the five men had been rescued and that their loved one now was the only one unaccounted for. The entombed man's wife was informed by a mine foreman that all possibility of finding her husband alive had vanished.

Although under care of nurses and doctors, the rescued men were in good condition. They were on a diet of soup, their long abstinence from food making extreme caution necessary in resuming normal diet.

Art lamp shades are still going strong. Free lessons in this interesting work at the Bates Book and Gift Shop Annex.

COUNT SALM TO U. S.
TO SUE FOR DIVORCE

New York, Nov. 26.—Count Ludvig Salm-Hoogstraeten, husband of the former Millicent Rogers, arrived on the Homeric Thursday as an immigrant under the German quota to bring suit for separation against his wife.

The suit has been postponed several times pending his arrival and hearing has been set for this week. The court said he plans to establish a permanent residence in the United States and is "considering becoming an American citizen."

Negro Takes Blame for Having Liquor

Alabama Governor and His "Fishing" Party Clear in Liquor Case.

Day Minette, Ala.—Governor W. W. Brandon of Alabama Wednesday was saved from going on trial on a charge of violating the prohibition law when it was announced that Henry Hudson, Negro, would plead guilty to a charge of possession of thirteen quarts of whiskey found in a raid on a fishing cabin where the governor was staying yesterday.

The governor and eight companions were arrested in the rain Monday and Solicitor Herbert C. Hall when advised Wednesday that someone would plead guilty, announced that all charges against other members of the party were dropped.

It Was Terrible Surprise.
To the remark of the governor of North Carolina to the governor of South Carolina there may now be added in the annals of Americans when the governor of Alabama said to his Negro cook, for Hudson was the cook of the fishing party.

The thirteen quarts of liquor, confiscated when three deputies walked in upon a poker game in a fishing cabin where the governor and his friends were enjoying an outing, probably will not be returned to Henry.

The white folks in the party said they were certainly surprised when the deputies discovered the whiskey in the cabin. In fact, you could have knocked the governor over with a feather when he was confronted with the fact that several partly full and more unopened whiskey bottles were right there at his elbow, and he hadn't noticed them, being engrossed in the poker game.

Elected by Church Vote.

It then developed that the trembling, abashed Henry, whose master was elected governor by the church vote on an extremely dry platform, owned the liquor.

The three deputies snifed, with a suggestion of incredulity. In fact they arrested Brandon and his friends and the fishing trip was a complete flop.

Now, however, the authorities realize that of course Brandon and his companions couldn't have owned the whiskey, and that, no doubt, the Negro cook was quite right when he claimed it as his property.

TWO CHANNEL PROJECTS

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—Support for the "two most important links" in the Mississippi Waterways system, one on the Mississippi river from St. Louis to Minneapolis and St. Paul and the other on the Missouri river from Kansas City to Yankton, S. D., was voted by the Mississippi valley association here today.

"Every part of the Mississippi system," said the resolutions, "should be improved and developed on as basis of such channel depths and dimensions as may be feasible and economical with a view to standardization of facilities and operations. Main truck lines should have a standard depth of nine feet and all tributary feeders should be improved to maximum dimensions of which they are capable, economically and practically."

"We express particular interest in impending surveys of the Mississippi river from St. Paul and the Missouri river, from Kansas City to Yankton, S. D.—two of the most important links in the great system which will serve a vast agricultural empire, and have confidence that the forthcoming reports will recommend them as worthy of immediate improvement."

King Ferdinand is Near Death, London Hears

Dispatch from Bucharest Reports that Blood Poisoning is Setting in.

London, Nov. 26.—The Bucharest correspondent of the Westminster Gazette says King Ferdinand of Rumania "is not expected to live until morning." The dispatch bearing a Friday dateline, adds that blood poisoning of the large intestine, due to cancer, is causing blood poisoning, Bucharest is described as "awaiting a coup d'etat."

A special correspondent sent by the Daily Mail to Bucharest to investigate the condition of the king, telegraphs from Budapest that Ferdinand is desperately ill with cancer of the bowels.

Although this disorder causes pain, the correspondent says, the king is not bedridden, but attends the family meals and maintains outward cheerfulness. He is not permitted to have solid food.

To what extent the grave reports of Ferdinand's illness are true is not known here. While there are many conflicting versions, the dispatches to several London newspapers describe his condition as more serious than heretofore. The special Mail correspondent declares the official reports issued at Bucharest are unjustifiably sanguine.

Ferdinand is said to be growing thinner. The attending surgeons have recommended an immediate dangerous operation, but this as well as an X-ray examination has been postponed until the return of Queen Marie.

The supreme personal desire of the king, according to the Mail correspondent, is to see former Crown Prince Carol. He is said to be willing to rescind Carol's renunciation of the throne if the latter shows signs of becoming a worthy successor. In this connection, the correspondent adds, Carol has written to his father asking permission to visit him, but insists that Princess Helen must leave Rumania.

(Princess Helen of Greece became the wife of Carol after the annulment of his morganatic marriage to Zita Lambrino.)

SON BORN TO MATHILDA

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22.—Word was received here today of the birth of a son to Mrs. Mathilda McCormick Oser at her home in Switzerland. Mrs. Oser is the daughter of Harold McCormick and Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, and a granddaughter of John D. Rockefeller. She is the mother of a daughter now about 3 years old. She married Major Max Oser, Swiss riding master, who is 49 years old, while still in her teens, and over the strenuous objections of her mother. The son has been named Peter Max Oser.

Ted Wilson, who has been employed here in the local Burlington shop for the past several months, today departed for Missouri, his former home and where he expects to take up a business course at the Chillicothe business college.
