OBITUARY

Marjorie Florence Mickle was born December 17th, 1913 and passed away at the St. Elizabeth hospital November 29, 1926 at the age of 12 years, 11 months and 12 days.

She leaves to mourn her death her mother and father, one brother, Harold, and three sisters, namely Dorothy, Maxine and Bonnie and a host of relatives and friends. Marjorie was a very sweet girl and will be sadly missed by all her school mates and friends and her place will be hard to fill and there will always be a vacant chair. She was always willing to help anyone and nothing was too much for her to do. She never complained of her sickness and would always say she was all right. Her bright smile will be missed by everyone and she was a great favorite with all her school mates and friends.

She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lauren Mickle, of Denton, Nebraska.

Funeral services were held from the First Christian church at Weeping Water on December 1, at 1:30. The services were in charge of Rev. W. A. Taylor of Union and interment was made at Oak Hill cemetery at Weeping Water.

Wet and Dry Battle May be Revived Again

Joint Resolution Puts Prohibition Up to Congress; Flood of New Bills in House Only.

Washington, Dec. 7.—Congress had hardly drawn its first breath Monday before more than 1,000 bills and resolutions poured in to be added to the 12,000 bequeathed to this session by the last.

The new measures touch upon virtually every subject of legislative interest from prohibition to requests for permission to build bridges.

The first day's output produced a joint resolution by Representative Gallivan, democrat, Massachusetts, that put the question of prohibition up to congress in a manner likely to revive the wet and dry battle on a grand scale.

In simple terms it proposed a national referendum on this question: "Should the congress of the United States modify the federal act to enforce the 18th amendment so that the same shall not prohibit the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation or exportation of beverages which are not in fact intoxicating as determined in accordance with the laws of the respective states."

The resolution would authorize the states to conduct the referendum in 1928, the federal treasury to reimburse them for its cost.
Bills Flood House.
The flood of new bills Monday was characteristic only of the house, the senate bill clerk receiving only one measure. It was the Walsh resolution proposing investigation of allegations that Arthur R. Gould, new republican senator from Maine, had figured in an irregular payment of $100,000 to a New Brunswick, Canada official.

New measures in the house segregated themselves into groups affecting the postal service, the cotton industry, war veterans, banking, taxes, reclamation, radio and many other phases of the country's activities.

Lower Postcard Rate.
Chairman Griest of the postoffice committee, offered a handful of bills to restore the 1-cent postal card rate and to make other changes in postal charges and service. Postmasters would be placed under civil service under a bill by Representative Lehigh, republican, New Jersey, while Representative Tolley, republican, New York, proposed an increase in the maximum amount which may be deposited in postal savings accounts from $2,500 to $5,000, as favored by Postmaster General New.

Representative Langford, democrat Georgia, proposed formation of a federal cotton corporation, with $500,000,000 capital stock, authorized to fix a minimum price for the staple. Representative Black, democrat, Texas, offered a bill to prevent the secretary of agriculture from forecasting cotton acreage in advance, based on farmers' intentions to plant while Representative Wright, democrat, Georgia, sought repeal of the law providing for semi-monthly agricultural reports simultaneously with publication of ginning reports.

Banking regulations were touched upon in bills by Representative Brand, democrat, Georgia, and by Representative Howard, democrat, Nebraska, which would guarantee deposits in national banks.

The silver Harriman medal was awarded to the Duluth, Missabe & Northern railroad as having done the best safety work of the year among the roads operating between 1,000,000 and 10,000,000 locomotive miles. Long Illness Fatal to Senator McKinley

Served More Than Twenty Years in Congress; One of Wealthiest Solons.

Martinsville, Ind., Dec. 7.—Senator William B. McKinley (Ill.), died at a sanitarium here today.

Death followed an illness of several months. He was brought here the latter part of August suffering from prostatic cancer. He was 70 years old. The body will be taken to Champaign, Ill., where funeral services will be held Friday. He had served more than 20 years in congress, the latter part in the senate.

Senator McKinley, after recuperating to some degree from a major operation performed last spring at Baltimore, became critically ill during the early part of September due to a pneumonia complication. The veteran senator, however, overcame this attack and early in October was well enough to take an interest in the world series baseball contest.

Friends of Senator McKinley declared that the last session of congress sapped his strength considerably, as did the strenuous primary campaign in which he was defeated for renomination by Frank L. Smith. They intimated also that the investigation in the Illinois primary by the senatorial campaign expenditures committee was a source of annoyance to Senator McKinley in his feeble condition.

He was early in his career, reputed to be one of the wealthiest men in congress, according to his private secretary, Mr. McKinley's long activity in the mortgage and loan business had given him a fortune and a number of years ago he made numerous remunerative investments in Illinois public utilities.

"Senator McKinley's great hobby has always been the education of boys," his secretary, C. A. Willoughby, said, "for instance, the McKinley fund at the University of Illinois for seniors to whom money is lent to enable them to complete their final college year. He always put the young man on his honor."

Mrs. Robert Reed and son, Warren, were visitors in Omaha today where they spent a few hours there with friends and looking after some matters of business.

One of the latest applications of electricity is in the treatment of dogs for distemper. Exposed to ultra-violet rays for 15 minutes at a time, the treatment is said to be very effective.

The McCook Artificial Ice company has begun the addition of a poultry dressing and packing department, which when completed will employ about 30 men.

Scottsbluff is installing an ornamental system in its city park. Work on the new gas plant there is progressing satisfactorily.

A creamery with a capacity of at least a million pounds of butter will be built at Hastings soon and be in operation early next summer.

Hastings' tallest buildings will be equipped with electric beacon lights that those who run may read and all who drive may see.

Nelsons' new $40,000 water filtration plant is completed and has been put into service.

Central City is to have a new $165,000 postoffice building.

McKINLEY IS DYING

Martinsville, Ind., Dec. 6.—Senator William B. McKinley (Ill.), was reported by his attending physician to be slowly dying late today at a sanitarium here.

Dr. Robert H. Egbert said that "the end is not far off," that it is only a question of hours.

Senator McKinley took a sudden turn for the worse this morning. He was brought here last August from Washington when he failed to recuperate from a major operation.
