BIBLE SCHOOL LESSON. Sunday, January 9th. By M. S. Briggs

Golden Text: "Search the Scriptures for in them ye think ye have eternal life and they are they which testify of Me." The words of the Master.

Why Read the Bible. Why should one read the bible when there are so many thousands of other books which are popular and much clamored after, and everybody is reading them. Still, do you know that the essence of all learning is derivative from the Bible. Why the Bible, because it is the book of books, the fountain from which we all draw the truth, Solomon in Ecclesiastes said in chapter twelve and verse twelve, "And further, by these, my son be admonished, of making many books there is no end and much study is a weariness of the flesh." Solomon was right when he said of the making of many books there is no end, for every day some one writes a book, many of which it is a detriment to read.

We would not that you did not read books for there are many that are good ones but that the best is the book of books, the Bible, the guide to the way of life.

Well do we remember when we were young, that verse which has come to us often since: "Holy Bible, book divine, Precious treasure thou art mine, Mine art thou to guide my youth, In the path of love and truth."

The one who is well versed in the Bible has a fountain of truth always at his finger tips, and can always find ready use for the knowledge which he has acquired for did not even the Master himself quote scripture to the devil when he was attempting to tempt him.

Had we the scriptures ever ready at our command we would be fortified against temptation just as He was. With the poetry, history, law, love, romance and above and beyond all this the very way of life we are armed for every and all purposes, and we shall make it by study and knowing ourselves, and it's benefits as we put in practice after we shall have acquired it.

The Bible with its completeness is a wonderfully constructed book, which was in writing by the different authors of which there were forty, for a period of sixteen hundred years, the entirety of the book is one wonderfully harmonious whole from the first chapter of Genesis, which declares, "In the beginning God created the Heavens and the earth and the earth was without form and void and darkness covered the face of the deep," to the last verse of the Revelations of Jesus, the Christ, the Son of God, and given to John and which reads, quoting the last three verse: "And if any man shall take away from the words of the book, this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life and out of the Holy City, and from the things which are written in this book. He that testifieth these things, saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so come Lord Jesus. The grace of the Lord Jesus Christ be with you all. Amen."

This, the Alpha and Omega of the Bible, but within the book are the secrets of success, the most wonderful poetry, the profoundest reasoning, the most truthful history and the guide to all our actions in this life and the key which unlocks the future, for the wonderful declaration, the Golden Text of the Bible reads, John three, sixteen, "God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten son that whosoever believeth on Him should not perish but have eternal life."

The Master said unto Martha: "Thy brother shall rise again." Martha replied, "Yea, I know he shall rise at the resurrection at the last day," but Christ then answered her: "I am the resurrection and the life, and whosoever believeth on me though he were dead yet shall he live and whosoever liveth and believeth on me shall never die, Believeth thou this."

Martha said, Yea, Lord, I believe that thou art the Christ which should come into the world. With the beginning of time began the recording of the relation of man and God, and continued until after the crucifixion of the Master. Forty of the smartest and most inspired men of all the ages had to do with the writing of this wonderful book, which is to guide the world until time shall be no more and the last person shall have lived on earth. W. C. Sayre says regarding his youthful experience when the Father read the Bible: "Tonight my memory bears me back over my life's eventful track. Once more I sit beside the hearth Enlivened by the talk and mirth."

Outside the snow drifts block the door within we hear the good fire roar. Stories are told and songs are sung. Gentleness sits on every tongue— While reverence wears a golden crown. When further takes the Bible down, And so before we kneel in prayer, David and Paul and Christ were there. Through all these years the shepherd song Has kept my heart from going wrong. The exhortations given by Paul In later years. The words of life from the pole star has guided the one to the goal of his desires. Reading and studying the Bible should be most valuable to all as only through this doorway are we to learn about the great beyond. True the telescope has told us about the other heavenly bodies, of the sun and its myriad of satellites which constitute the heavenly host of the material bodies, but as the master of the universe the Lord of Creation and the one great and omnipotent Father, the Creator of all things, we come to the true source for this learning. But a very moderate practice of reading will have covered the entire Bible in one year. Read three chapters every week day and five chapters on Sunday and in one year they are all read. That Bible, the inspired word of God is one that is as much ours as we shall make it by study and knowing ourselves, and it's benefits as we put in practice after we shall have acquired it.
