Roads and Mo. River Bridge are Goals for 1927

Other Notes of Interest in the Lines of Chamber of Commerce Work.

McCulla, commercial engineer of the McCulla, commercial engineer of the Lincoln Telephone & Telegraph Co., yesterday. The trend of conversation concerning what a Junior Chamber of Commerce could accomplish in Plattsmouth—E. H. Wescott was present, as well as Mr. Lahr and it seemed as though it a very possible program. Organize a Junior Chamber of Commerce. If Hill Wescott really wants this, we'll get it.

Today C. F. Sullivan of Omaha called to pass a few moments in mental inspiration and retrospection—and introspection—etc., etc. Seems like our callers have been mostly Frenchmen to judge from their names.

F. G. Coryell, of the Plattsmouth Furniture Exchange, dropped in yesterday—first visit for a long time. Since Mrs. Coryell arrived, he says he'll have more time to get about and get acquainted.

Notice this morning in the Bee the Decatur, Nebraska, bridge bill is passed and goes to the president for his signature. Where is Plattsmouth's bridge now—a-days among the "solons" as they call 'em.

Have you read the bills presented at Lincoln so far? Gosh, how can they read 'em all!

The Weeping Water Republican comes out strong in its issue of Feb. 3rd., front page editorial black-face type, urging good roads. Good roads are essential to the future of Cass county. As one man stated yesterday that the present Louisville road is a disgrace and a shame to the entire state of Nebraska.

It is an indisputable fact that the decreased cost in operating automobiles over gravel roads is far greater per individual and car owner, than the cost of graveling. That is the big issue—comfort and travel for less money and open roads the year around for marketing. Are you ready for the question?

Am thru with hot water bags! Got one of those three heat warming pads put out by the Nebraska Gas & Electric Co.—and its a pippin. If you have neuralgia, neuritis, tonsillitis, or COLD FEET—get one. Especially for cold feet—will preserve many a home.

Don't you think Rea orter furnish a good clear on that?

E. J. Wieland, regional manager United Veterans Bureau writes us urging that our Legion boys who have let their insurance lapse, take care of this by July 2nd, 1927, the last date given for re-instatement.

Have a splendid letter from W. R. Watson, Mgr. of the World Herald, assuring us of closer co-operation in publicity for Plattsmouth in the future. Our Happy Hundred Banquets, with the calibre of speakers presented deserves good publicity in the Omaha papers. We are at a loss to understand why we have been overlooked.

The World Herald has been "right" all the time not only on the Farm Relief bill, but on the bridge program. Simple—no need to misunderstand. All that has been asked is a five per cent of the road funds be set aside to help span the Missouri river, and also that certain necessary bridges be built and authorized to be built, permission given. Why is that complicated? Nebraska and Iowa need these bridges—the greater future development of the two states require it—why any opposition it would be well to investigate carefully the sources of opposition and see if it is for Nebraska and Iowa, or for some special privileges.

Cass county needs two things and this means YOU, and me, and Plattsmouth: graveled roads and a BRIDGE! Keep boosting, boosting and BOOSTING!

R. W. Knorr—who competes with Woolworth and Kresge—sent us up a bunch of splendid jokes for this column. Knorr's Variety Store fills a great need in this city and is a trade getter. Here's one—"Clark: 'A gift for your daughter—how about a dainty garter purse.' Dad: 'No, not wise, to keep her money so in plain sight.'" Also "It's hard to lose one's relatives, said the poor man, 'insinuatingly.' 'Hard,' growled the millionaire, 'impossible.' 'Moses to Woodrow Wilson: 'Understand your country rejected your fourteen points!' Wilson: 'Don't chide me Moses, they're certainly playing havoc with your Ten.'"

PATZEL GOES THROUGH

Following a reception by five automobiles full of Chevrolet dealers, headed by two motorcycle officers, upon his arrival in Omaha Thursday afternoon, Fred Patzel, world's champion hog-caller, paraded along the streets of the city while unlimbering his vocal cords and startling downtown workers by his reverberating "pooees," mingled with an occasional "Chevrolet" in preparation for his exhibitions at Chicago Friday.

Anton Hack is Sent to the State Industrial School

Young Man Charged With Wrongfully Taking Car of Frank Blotzer Is Sentenced.

From Friday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon Deputy Sheriff G. Scott returned from Albia, Iowa, bringing with him Anton Hack, young man, who was employed here at the Frank Blotzer garage and who disappeared on Sunday night together with a Pontiac coach belonging to Mr. Blotzer as well as a spare truck tire that was the property of Albert Funk. The young man was apprehended Tuesday in Albia and has been held there pending the arrival of the Nebraska officers.

The young man offered no objection to returning with Mr. Scott and Mr. Blotzer, who had gone to Albia after the man and seemed to realize that he had gotten himself in bad. Mr. Hack is not eighteen years of age and owing to his youth and his apparent mental weakness the charge was made less severe against him than otherwise by County Attorney Kieck, the youth being charged with wrongfully taking the car, a misdemeanor rather than the more serious charge of stealing.

The youth was arraigned last evening before County Judge A. H. Duxbury and decided that he would enter a plea of guilty to the charge and was accordingly sentenced to the state industrial school at Kearney where he will receive the opportunity of being schooled and be given a chance to fit himself for a useful life that he otherwise might not receive. Mr. Hack is an orphan and was a resident at an orphan home at Akron, Ohio, up to the last year when he was released and has since been engaged in working wherever possible and finally located in Plattsmouth where he has been employed in the Blotzer garage up to last Sunday when he took the car of Mr. Blotzer and made his getaway.

MOVING TO OMAHA

Mrs. Walter Stohlman was guest of honor at a handkerchief shower given by the Happy Hour club on last Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Forest Brunson. The affair was planned as a surprise and was successfully carried out.

Mr. Stohlman sold his confectionery and soft drink business week to Lorenz Leiner, of Plattsmouth, and has given possession and is moving his family to Omaha, where they will make their home in the future. Mr. Stohlman's reasons for selling were on account of his health, the constant confinement of a business of this kind being unhealthful for him.

Mrs. Stohlman is one of the popular young matrons of the town and prominent in the Happy Hour club, and the party was given as a farewell for her and she was the recipient of many beautiful handkerchiefs from her club sisters and also received their heartiest good wishes for success and happiness in their new home.

Mr. Stohlman's father William Stohlman, will accompany them to Omaha and they will reside in the latter's residence in the city. It is a large and comfortable, modern house, and has always brought in a good rental and it will make them a splendid home. They are taking with them the friendship and esteem of the entire community and the best wishes of their host of friends.—Louisville Courier.

Home Dept. of Woman's Club Holds Meeting

Discussion of Libraries the Chief Topic of the Most Interesting Meeting.

From Friday's Daily—
Yesterday the American Home Department of the Plattsmouth Woman's club met at the home of Mrs. Ray McMaken and with the study of the "Home Libraries" as the topic of the meeting, Mrs. L. L. Turpin being the leader of the meeting.

Several very interesting papers were given, Mrs. Fred Lugsch offering "Value of Books and Library in Home" while Mrs. H. L. Gayer gave as her topic of the meeting "What Place Do Books have in the Family Budget," both of which brought a great deal of light on the matter of the books and reading in the family life. Miss Olive Jones, librarian, gave as her part of the program, "Educational Factor of the Library" and Mrs. Earl Teeples "Books for Children," these ladies devoting a great deal of thought to their work and which proved a real treat to the members of the party.

Following the program the ladies had a very general discussion of the libraries in general both in the homes and the public libraries that are adding their part to the educational advancement of the nation. The club will hold a social meeting on Monday evening with Mrs. John F. Gorder and which will also be the general meeting of the club. The parliamentary class will meet at 7:15.

HYMNS ARE SELECTED

Feeling that there is a great need for more knowledge of the good old hymns of the christian church, the music department of the general federation of Women's clubs has prepared for a nation wide campaign in the direction of the better knowledge of the hymns among the young people.

Following the desire for a better knowledge of the hymns the Sunday schools of this city are conducting a contest that is to last until in May and which requires the child to learn the first line of the hymn and the author as well as composer of the hymn. The list of hymns selected for the contest includes the following:

1. "Rock of Ages."
2. "Silent Night, Holy Night."
3. "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."
4. "A Mighty Fortress is Our God."
5. "Nearer My God to Thee."
6. "Love Divine, All Love Excelling."
7. "Adeste Fideles."
8. "Lead Kindly Light."
9. "Onward, Christian Soldiers."
10. "Just as I Am."
11. "Joy to the World."
12. "Holy, Holy, Holy."
13. "Jesus Lover of My Soul."
14. "He Leadeth Me."
15. "Abide With Me."

The public library here has on its shelves a work, "The Hymns and Hymn Writers of the Church," that will be found materially valuable in the study of the hymns.

EMPTY OUT BEVERAGES

From Saturday's Daily—
It was a dark and murky day yesterday, the forces of nature seeming to be in keeping with the ceremony that Sheriff Bert Reed conducted at the corner of Fourth and Main streets. The sheriff, assisted by Deputy Sheriff Scott brought forth from the resting places in the vault of County Attorney Kieck, sundry and divers bottles and cans that were reputed to contain intoxicating liquor and more than the one half of one per cent of alcoholic content and proceeded to open the bottles and distribute the liquor into the sewer. From a distance a number watched the ceremony and a few dually invited to attend, and are welcome. Come for a good time, and you shall have a good time. A good time for everyone present. Don't forget that. Friday evening, February 11th, 1927.

HENRY GERING STILL POORLY

From Saturday's Daily—
The reports from the Clarkson hospital at Omaha relative to the condition of Henry R. Gering, who was stricken a week ago with a stroke, states that Mr. Gering is still in very serious condition and has shown no improvement in his condition since the day of the stroke. Mr. Gering is able at times apparently to recognize persons who may visit him but is unable to speak and give signs of recognition. He is still at times in a partial coma and whether or not he is showing improvement is hard to determine and gives the members of the family the greatest anxiety as to the outcome of the case.

Working for a New Highway

From Plattsmouth, Louisville, Ashland and Wahoo on Thru to Schuyler.
A movement is on foot to have a highway established running from Plattsmouth to Louisville by way of Ashland. This project was discussed to some extent by farmers, townspeopls and newspapers last fall but no conclusion was reached. The matter is now being approached from a different angle. It is that a bill be introduced in the legislature designating such a road as a highway, by this we mean a highway to receive first aid support, and we understand that Hon J. B. Chapelle is willing to father such a bill.
C. N. Walton of the good roads committee of the Chamber of Commerce was in Plattsmouth Tuesday conferring with good roads boosters relative to this road project and the plan as outlined above is reported to have met with their approval.
For the entire distance of this proposed highway one of the richest farming sections of the state of Nebraska is traversed and such a highway would be of untold value to the farming community and the cities and towns through which it passes.
It is a project that should receive the unanimous support of everyone, farmers and townspeopls alike from Plattsmouth to Schuyler.—Ashland Gazette.
