Alvo Department

Attorney C. D. Ganz was looking after some business matters in Lincoln Wednesday.

The Alvo school library now has 500 volumes and this number is increasing with each week. Simon Rehmeyer was wrecking the buildings at the stock yards on the Rock Island in Alvo last week.

Fred Ethrege of Greenwood was a visitor with a number of his friends in Alvo on last Wednesday afternoon. W. H. Warner was looking after the office at the lumber yards while both Messrs. Banning and Rehmeyer were absent.

L. B. Appleman has been quite ill for a time with an attack of acute indigestion which has given this genial gentleman much grief. He, however, is now feeling a bit improved.

J. M. Manners says let spring come as soon as it wants to, for he has his ice crop harvested and the butchering done, and would just as soon go to farming as wait for the spring to come.

Henry Reicke shelled and delivered his corn to the Rehmeyer elevator on Wednesday of last week, and had a very fine quality of golden yellow corn, though like most of it, it had a quantity of moisture in it.

R. C. Wenzel of Eagle was a visitor in Alvo on last Wednesday, coming over to attend the Power Farming show and lecture which was put on by R. M. Coatsman and also was meeting many of his friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Manners and the children went to Grand Island last Sunday where they took the mother of Mr. Manners, who has been staying with her son and family here, to that place where they will visit with another son, John Manners and family.

Fred Weaver and the folks, his daughter, Mrs. Eula Lackey, of South Bend, were spending last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Parmenter, and where also Mrs. C. D. Schaffer and Uncle Henry S. Ough were guests as well. All enjoyed the occasion very much.

The Woman's Club met last Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. L. Bornemeter where they enjoyed the afternoon with an excellent program and also a very social time, which was made more enjoyable by the delightful luncheon which was served by the genial hostess, Mrs. Dornemeier.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Reeves are rejoicing over the arrival of a very fine son, who came to gladden their hearts early last week. They are not the only ones who are happy over the event for Grandfather and Grandmother Fifer are pretty well pleased over the arrival. All are doing nicely and are happy.

Ed Carr shipped a car load of hogs to the South Omaha market Wednesday of last week. John B. Skinner, with the big truck, hauled the car load of porkers from the Carr home to Eagle where they were loaded in just one hour and ten minutes. When it comes to hustling, John Skinner is there with the goods.

A new business man for Alvo, and this time it is a cobblers or repairer of shoes, who recently moved into the Thomas building, he is coming from Cortland, where he has been making his home in the past. He was brought to Alvo by Mr. John B. Skinner with the truck. He is expected to be in readiness for work at once.

Otoe in Otoe county, came over to Alvo last week, and tried a go with the Alvo basketball teams, with the result that two most fascinating games were staged and which were enjoyed by all, especially the Alvo teams. In the game which was played by the Alvo girls, the Alvo team won by a score of 18 to 9 and in the boys' game the result was Alvo 15 Otoe 8.

The Rock Island railway had the misfortune to crowd one of its cars of coal out of a freight train on a reverse curve east of Alvo and to pile it up at the side of the road. The car was damaged so as not to be used as a carrier of coal and the road negotiated with John W. Banning to take the coal, and another car will be diverted to the place to which the damaged car was consigned.

Power Farming Illustrated.

Under the auspices of R. M. Coatsman and the International Farming Machine company on last Wednesday at the basement of the Methodist church was given a picture show illustrating the benefit of power farming, and many of the people of the vicinity of Alvo and many from farther away were present and enjoyed the show and the attendant lectures as well.

Played Hockey

The Golf Club or a number of the members consisting of R. M. Coatsman, F. L. Edwards, C. D. Ganz and Earl Dremmer, were out and played a game or so of the American game of golf, which they enjoyed very much. This is not like the two clubs of Hockey, the English game, which last week played at Calgary, Alberta, when the thermometer registered 20 below zero, and a large crowd witnessed the game. They must like the sport up there.

Re-elect Teachers.

At a meeting of the board of education of the Alvo schools, the entire roster of the teachers were elected for the coming term. However, three of the number did not signify their intention of remaining with the school the coming year. Those who will not accept the position being Misses Elizabeth Connelly, Jennie Gustafson and Blanche Sexton. Those to accept and who will teach the coming year being, Alfred Snedgren, superintendent, Jesse Brandt, principal, Misses Rose Mae Milans, Verle Rossnogle, Edna Woods and Alva Reed. They were all given substantial increases in their salaries.

Will Meet the Twenty-Third.

The next meeting of the Parent-Teachers Association will be held at the school building on February 23rd, and at which time there will be an excellent program which will be provided by the program committee. Come and see "Grandpa" in this program.

Surprise Their Friends.

On Monday evening of this week, the friends and relatives of Herman J. Lewis, knowing that his birthday anniversary and Valentine day coincided, got together and when the shades of evening had fallen went to his home where they gave this genial gentleman a surprise and where all enjoyed a most splendid evening. They came prepared with the eats, and on their departure extended the wish that he may see as many happy birthdays as he has already enjoyed.

Held Splendid Meeting

On February 5 at the Alvo school the advisors of the Alvo Girls Reserve club, Miss Connelly, chief advisor; Miss Mielenz, Mrs. Ganz, Mrs. Dickerson; Mrs. Charles Edwards, Mrs. Chesworth, Mrs. Snedgen, gave the girls of this club a luncheon. The tables were decorated in pink and white.

Toasts were given, based on the word "girls" by—Marguerite Muir, Graciousness.
Mrs. Ganz, Individuality.
Mrs. Dickenson, Reserves.
Meryl Vickers, Loyalty.
Grl Reserves, Songs.
After the toasts there was a short business meeting. Hazel Ayres was elected to represent Alvo Girls Reserves at the Omaha Conference. The committees and their advisors had business meetings also.

Among the uncounted blessings of life is the fact that, up to the hour of going to press, no one has referred to the South Dakota co-ed who tried to drill her way into a bank, as a gold digger.

Writes of Early Days Out in Stove Creek Precinct

L. A. Tyson of Elmwood Has Many Interesting Facts Relating to Early Day Settlers.

My father lived in DeKalb county, Ill., and in the year 1866, he and mother decided to come west and get them a home in Nebraska. So they, with two neighbors, prepared for the journey overland with covered wagons and teams. In those days the roads were mere trails, so it was slow traveling. But in time, they landed in Nebraska City. There were four of us children, L. R., H. H., sister May, and myself. I was only three years old at that time, and do not remember much of the trip except a few things. One was when we crossed the Mississippi river on a Ferry Boat. I was so frightened when the boat reached the middle of the river, and suppose that was one reason that I never forgot it.

My father had two sisters, who came to Nebraska several years before. Mrs. James Rowen locating in Nemaha county, and Mrs. Henry Holbeck, who located here in 1863. So father homesteaded the NE 1/4, Sec 10-10-10. This was in the fall of 1866. Father built a frame house, 16ft. square. The dimension lumber was cottonwood the shingles were walnut. The lumber was sawed at Factoryville. The shingles were made near Ashland. At that time there was no railroad this side of the Missouri river and Nebraska City was the nearest trading point. I remember in building this house the joists the floor was laid on were hewed logs. The floor was cottonwood boards. No matched lumber then, but it was good for those days. Most of the new comers lived in dugouts or log houses. There were few settlers along the Weeping Water creek, where they could have wood and water as these were very necessary in a new country.

They were five log houses in this precinct, Samuel May, Mansfield Osborn, Henry Hollenbeck and John Gyger. From that time on, immigration to Cass county began in earnest. And in 1867-1878 all government land was taken up. In 1869-1870, B. & M. railroad was built along the Platte river. That gave us a closer route, instead of taking two days to go to market we could go in one day. Crops in those days yielded good returns in bushels, but the price was low. I have seen corn yield 60 bushel to the acre and sell for 10c a bushel. I wonder what the present generation would do if they had to go through what our fathers did. A poor spring seat was a luxury then. Buggies and carriages were unknown. Ox teams were plentiful in those days and most of the prairie was broken up with oxen.

The first school house built in the precinct was of logs and built west of Sodom College. In the year 1867, David McCraig was the first teacher. Sodom College school house was built in 1871 and the same year Stove Creek school house was built. These were the only schools in the precinct at that time.

In 1867, Stove Creek precinct was organized. The name originated by finding an old stove in the creek. In the precinct were thirteen families. The first post-office was located at the McCraig farm near Wabash, and was called Elmwood. Possibly it took its name from the large Elm trees near there. Later it was moved to the Walkers' store, near where the first railroad bridge is now, north of town, and was located on the old government trail.

At one time there was a store at this place owned by Mr. Hogan and a blacksmith shop owned by Jesse Thompson. A few years later the store and shop were moved to the present town and the name of Elmwood was still retained.

In 1885 the Mo. Pac. railroad was built thru here and Elmwood took new life, and has continued to build and prosper up to the present time.—Elmwood Leader-Echo.

SHERIFF CLARENCE HERE

From Saturday's Daily—
Late yesterday afternoon Sheriff Terry Clarence of Cedar county arrived in the city from Hartington coming to secure Louis Bannick, who was wanted at Hartington on a charge of chicken stealing. The Cedar county sheriff remained here overnight as the guest of Sheriff Bert Reed and family and departed this morning with his prisoner for Hartington. Mr. Clarence is a former resident of this county and enjoyed very much the opportunity that was afforded of meeting a few of the old time friends in this city. Owing to the rush of business Mr. Clarence was unable to visit the old home in the vicinity of Union. Mr. Clarence stated in conversation with the Journal representative that one of the most frequent offenses that they have in his portion of the state is chicken stealing and this is also one of the most difficult crimes to ferret out and punish but the sheriff is making great headway against the purloiners of the chickens.

Beware of Imitations of RED CROWN ETHYL GASOLINE

(This sign on the pump identifies the genuine)

Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is always red and always sold from silver pumps. But there are silver pumps serving red gasoline that imitates Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline in nothing but the color. Get what you pay for.

Straight Facts

- 1 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline contains Ethyl Brand Anti-Knock Compound in the right proportion to produce a completely "knockless" fuel.
- 2 Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound was developed by the General Motors Research Laboratories, which own basic patents covering this invention and its use.
- 3 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is sold to consumers only at pumps which bear the trade mark shown here.
- 4 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is colored red for identification purposes. The color has nothing to do with its performance.
- 5 Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline is a combination of old reliable, quick-starting, clean-burning Red Crown Gasoline with Ethyl Brand of Anti-Knock Compound added. This combination absolutely prevents knocks under all driving conditions and develops extra power when carbon in the motor increases compression. It provides more power on the hills and through snow, slush and mud, and less gear shifting in slow-moving traffic.

Genuine Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline will give your car a new range of power and performance. One tankful sells another. Costs more—and worth it. Be sure you get the genuine.

To avoid dilution, drain your tank before you fill it with Red Crown Ethyl Gasoline for the first time, and use Red Crown Ethyl exclusively thereafter.

SOME time ago we were, AS we are now, selling COMMERCIAL copper carbonate 55% PURE, at 45c per pound. QUESTION—If a 55% article is WORTH 45c, what is an article ONLY 20% pure worth? ? ? ANSWER—Less than 16 1/2c. FOR THE Love O' Mike, then HOW does a Radio Peddler get AWAY with the graft of getting 25c for the 16c article? ? ? THAT is what he sold the 20% STUFF for. THIS, of course, is another OF those "Radio Bargains" AND if his stuff had been WORTH 25c, ours should BE worth over 68 cents! ! !
