Bridge Meeting at Lincoln Monday Big Success

Secretary of Chamber of Commerce Attends Meeting with Legislative Committee.

Regardless of the fact the Omaha Bee in this morning's "Home" edition, in reporting the bridge meeting at Lincoln, 3 p. m. yesterday, did not extend to this city the courtesy of mentioning the fact that Judge Begley introduced the bill at the meeting, in a brilliant and forceful speech, and that Plattsmouth was fully covered in the program of location of bridges, and that we had the largest delegation of any community or city represented at that meeting; we say, regardless of the fact the Bee followed its usual tactics in ignoring Plattsmouth, yet yesterday was the finest demonstration of genuine purebred support of President Judge Begley and the Chamber of Commerce that has yet been pulled off.

If the citizens of Plattsmouth will pull in behind the Chamber of Commerce and its program, as they did yesterday, things will begin to hum.

Mr. Arn dropped in a few days ago to assure us of his membership on the first of March. In talking, he made this statement, and it has rather stuck in mind: "Davis, they've simply got to get behind the Chamber of Commerce if they ever expect Plattsmouth to develop, and further, I am sure they are beginning to generally understand that this must come." Cheers a fellow up to hear words like that.

Say you young man anticipating the "bridal route"—just stop and look at those dishes in the Nebraska Gas and Lite company's windows, to be given away as a prize at the Elks carnival. These tickets we have for sale are $1 each, cover all the nights, give you a chance on the automobile and the door prizes. They are going fast. Don't fail to get yours today—the first guy you can find selling them.

Yesterday was our first real opportunity to see what a splendid city Lincoln is. Had a few minutes visit with that Nebraska booster, B. A. George; also dinner at the splendid Central cafe with the clean, bright, wholesome young men, mostly students, at the University. Anything that makes the blood tingle thru us in a riot, is to see these young men so full of ambition for an education they are working at most anything to put themselves over!

But the greatest surprise was the Buick Auto Sales company's stupendous out-lay. If it had not been for the handsome cars on the floor, we would have thought we were in Marshall Field's, Chicago. Lincoln certainly has cause to be proud of this distinguished and exclusive sales rooms and display of that company.

Yesterday's bridge meeting was a "go-getter" from start to finish. There wasn't a man there who cared to offer any opposition to that great enthusiastic jolly bunch of boosters all for the bill and all willing to say so. The fee stated 150, but why it mentioned so few is queer—there were several hundred. And lo, like A-ben Ben Adam, "Plattsmouth led all the rest."

Now don't forget, next Saturday at 2 p. m., at the court house, the great important problem of mud roads in Plattsmouth precinct comes up for discussion, and we believe every farmer in the precinct will be there to help lift our precinct out of the mud; put us in a fair show with gravelled roads in Sarpy county; cut off this waste for gas, skids, time, sales, markets and show the rest of the county Plattsmouth precinct is going to be a leader, and Cass county can build even greater than Sarpy in roads. This is a vitally important question, deserving the unselfish and patriotic support of every citizen of our precinct. Come and be one to help it over.

Recently a farmer out in the country had an urgent call for a physician, and the stock was at stake, fluttering over his home. On account of the mud roads it was impossible to get the doctors out before the event occurred. Other accidents, other sicknesses can be just as serious. We must have safe highways.

Was surprised yesterday considering the thaws, snow, etc., the splendid condition of the highway via Ashland and Gretna to Lincoln, as well as the O street road via Union, over which we returned, for which E. H. Douglas should be commended.

The car that took the writer had the best looking bunch of men from Plattsmouth, but they said if we wouldn't tell who they were, they wouldn't tell on me. A regular protective society, for mutual admiration!

W. G. DAVIS, Secretary.

FOUNDERS' DAY INTERESTS

From Tuesday's Daily—
Central P. T. A. held its regular February meeting last Thursday, the seventeenth, the exact date of the founding of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers thirty years ago. This event was reviewed by Mrs. Litchbody and the association applied on national work was voted from the treasury of the association. Thirty years ago President Roosevelt issued, over the seal of the state, invitations to leaders in philanthropic, social, religious and political organizations to meet to discuss better conditions for the oncoming generations. He felt that mothers were failing to bring to maturity wide awake, healthy, intelligent citizens for several reasons; lack of information on child welfare, conditions outside the home over which mothers had no control and lack of co-operation with existing organizations to that end.

Thus there came into existence the National Congress of Parents and Teachers supported by whatever document it might receive, five cents from the dues of each member which now number over a million in the U. S., and the offering given by each association at the time when Founders' Day is celebrated.

HONOR GEORGE WASHINGTON

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning at the high school the members of the school had the opportunity of enjoying the Washington day address of President Calvin Coolidge before the house of representatives at Washington, this being broadcast over the radio stations of the country and which from KDKA of Pittsburgh, the station best serving the west, was very clear and distinct. There loud speakers placed in the assembly room gave the members of the high school the opportunity of enjoying the notable event.

The junior high school held a convocation at 10:30 that was given over to the Washington day exercises, these being in the nature of the patriotic songs given by the young people under the direction of Miss Vyrul Fessler and proved entertaining as well as inspiring a real patriotic thought in the young people.

LARGE CROWD AT C. D. A. DANCE LAST NIGHT

From Tuesday's Daily—
A large sized crowd was present at the public dance given by the Catholic Daughters last night at Eagles hall. Music was furnished by Pat Kroh's orchestra from Omaha, and they lived up to their radio reputation on this their first engagement in Plattsmouth.

The advance ticket sale, coupled with door receipts and the sale of sandwiches, pie, coffee, soft drinks and candy swelled the receipts until the local court will probably realize $100 for their efforts.

A large number of out-of-town folks were present at the dance, several Omaha couples accompanying the orchestra, while others came up from Nebraska City and various towns over the county.

This is the last social affair of the Catholic Daughters before the opening of the Lenten season a week from today.

Good Roads
Meet Important to the Precinct

Relief From the Yearly Siege of Bad Roads Can Be Secured Only by Surfacing.

From Wednesday's Daily—
Getting Plattsmouth precinct out of the mud will be the chief topic of the good roads meeting that will be staged at the court house on Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and which will be especially for the residents of Plattsmouth precinct and also Eight Mile Grove where the roads are now, and have been quite bad for several weeks as the result of the wet weather and travel that has cut them up.

The road problem is one of the greatest importance in this day of the automobile and truck and the bad roads and difficult means of travel are felt very much by the residents of the farming territory who are to get out and do their marketing and hauling at times when it should be done except at the risk of tearing their cars and trucks to pieces in pulling through the muddy roads. The residents of Plattsmouth precinct as well as our neighbors of Eight Mile Grove precinct have been sufferers from these bad roads for a great many years and they are now feeling that it is about time that some steps were taken to eliminate this disagreeable feature that each spring and winter especially makes the highways boggy and slippery for travel. The meeting Saturday will be in the hands of the representatives of these precincts and who will have a thorough discussion of the matter.

The roads that are proposed for action are the Louisville, Cedar Creek, Mynard and Rock Bluffs roads all of which are main traveled roads and should have surfacing in order that the residents of the tributary territory might have the proper facilities for travel.

All those who are interested are urged to be at the meeting Saturday and assist in seeing that some definite plan of road relief is mapped out that will eliminate the condition that the roads have been in for the past several winters and in the early part of spring as well as after the heavy rains.

ENJOY HOME TALENT PLAY

From Wednesday's Daily—
Last evening the members of the dramatic club at the K. S. hall in the west part of the city presented a very pleasing comedy at that popular place of entertainment, this being given in the Bohemian tongue and proved one of the most delightful entertaining features that has been held there this season.

The play was "All Right," and was all that the name implies, presented in the hands of the very capable cast and one that gave the play a most realistic setting. The story was that of the old country and of a young man returning to his former home to seek a bride and how the matrimonial troubles were settled for the benefit of the story.

The cast presenting the play was composed of Frank Koubek, Sr., Miss Rose Prohaska, Frank Koubek, Jr., Miss Marie Svoboda, James Holly, Sr., and Mrs. Joseph Kanka.

After the play the members of the Jolly party enjoyed a social dance for a few hours, the music being furnished by the members of the high school orchestra who offered a program of the popular dance numbers as well as the old time Bohemian dance selections and to which all enjoyed themselves.

W. C. T. U. MEETS

From Tuesday's Daily—
Yesterday afternoon the W. C. T. U. held a very largely attended meeting at the home of Mrs. John F. Gorder and which was in the nature of a memorial to Miss Frances E. Willard, first president of the national W. C. T. U.

The program was exceptionally interesting, Mrs. R. B. Hayes giving a sketch of the life of Miss Willard while Mrs. John F. Gorder gave a very pleasing paper on "W. C. T. U. as Thrilling as Romance, We Need You," while Mrs. Ralph Anderson gave an original poem of Miss Willard. Mrs. J. A. Capwell, one of the exceptionally talented ladies of the city gave two enjoyable readings as well as several piano numbers that proved artistic features of the meeting.

At the close of the afternoon Mrs. Gorder assisted by her daughter, Miss Martha served dainty and delicious refreshments.

Here's a Scheme as Good as Graft of the Radio Peddler—If You Don't Get Nabbed.

Not so long ago some of our readers thought we were very unkind and hard hearted when we told what we thought of a "Pawnee Bill" who claimed to be a blind man and who claimed to make a living by selling ties. At that time about every home in this part of the country received three ties in the mail from this fellow with headquarters at St. Louis, Mo. He asked the receiver of the merchandise to send $1.00 for the ties or return them. A "hard luck" letter accompanied the ties and many took pity on the poor chap and sent the simoleon.

We did not feel the least bit regretful for what we said at the time and after reading the paragraph below we are compelled to smile when we think of what some of our readers thought of our article and who almost "shed tears" in sympathy for the poor "blind man."

This is from The Wallace Farmer, published at Des Moines, Iowa:
"Investigators went to inquire about this Pawnee Bill. At the St. Louis address given they found no blind man and no Pawnee Bill. What they did find was a knitting mill whose necktie business had dropped to virtually nothing when knit ties went out of style. Hence the mill in order to sell products that had little or no market value, had to resort to some special tactics."

Aren't you glad you were so kind to this poor blind fellow.—Nehawka Enterprise.

RETURNS FROM SHENANDOAH

From Tuesday's Daily—
This morning Ben Parker, returned home from Shenandoah, Iowa, where he has been for several days, visiting with friends and as a guest at the home of a daughter in that city. While at Shenandoah Mr. Parker was taken quite sick and was in serious condition for some time and is still far from well but decided to return home. He will try to recuperate from the effects of the illness here at home.

DEATH OF WESLEY DAVIS

From Monday's Daily—
A message was received here this afternoon announcing the death of Wesley Davis, an old time resident of Weeping Water, who passed away there at the ripe age of seventy-eight years. Mr. Davis has been a resident of that place for a great many years and had a large acquaintance over the county and where the news of his death will bring a great regret to the many friends.

Mr. Davis passed away Saturday evening after an attack of pneumonia and which has made his case very severe for the past several days. The wife preceded him in death six years ago and the only member of the family surviving is Mrs. Frank E. Cook, of Alvo, a daughter.

The deceased was a brother of the late Stephen A. Davis, an old time resident of this city.

The Knights Kidsoh of the Scotch Rite Masons will hold a public service at Weeping Water tonight at 10 o'clock and the funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Congregational church. The Weeping Water lodge of the Masons will have charge of the funeral services at the church and the grave.
