UNION, NEBRASKA

W. B. BANNING, Cashier

Frank Pace, of near Plattsmouth, was a caller in Union on last Monday morning, driving down in his auto.

Mrs. E. E. Leach was a visitor in Nebraska City on last Saturday and again on Monday, where she was a guest of friends.

Charles Hall, of Nehawka, was a visitor in Union on last Monday, bringing gasoline and oil to the filling station here.

The members of the Masonic lodge were over to Nehawka, where they were in attendance at the services of the Methodist church on Easter.

A. L. Becker, with help, is constructing a barn on the farm near the river and getting the work out of the way for the summer's farming.

Herbert L. Burbee was a visitor in Omaha and Missouri Valley, Iowa, on last Sunday and Monday, where he went to see about moving to Union.

John Lewin has been assisting in the work at the farm of David Kendall, northeast of Union, and is making an excellent man for the position.

some time and was especially poorly on Sunday night, but was reported as feeling some better on Monday again.

Mrs. Daniel Lynn is right up with the season, she having some chickens less than ten weeks old, which will average two and a half pounds. They are of the celebrated strain of Buff Orpingtons and will make dandy spring fries.

Tony Sudduth and family and the parents of Mrs. Sudduth, Mr. and Mrs. Carter Albin, were all visiting for the day last Sunday at Shenandoah, Iowa, where they visited the two radio stations and enjoyed the trip very much.

The evening services at the Baptist church last Sunday were well attended and which is encouraging the holding of the services while the interest is so manifest. The Rev. W. A. Taylor is conducting the services and is extending an invitation to all who are not worshipping elsewhere to come and worship with the church.

Miss Lilia Kayse was enjoying a visit from her mother, who also came to enjoy the Junior class play, "Patty Makes Things Hum," which was given last Friday evening. Miss Lilia Kayse and mother then went to Lincoln, where they enjoyed the week end, returning in time for Miss Lilia to take up her school work and for her mother to catch the morning train for her home at St. Joseph.

Injured in Auto Wreck

Another instance of the futility of attempting to mix the common brands of hootch and gasoline was demonstrated at a very great cost on last Monday evening when John DeFord, who was heavily drunk, ran the automobile which he was driving directly into the one which was driven by John Christwiser, to the great injury of both.

Mr. Christwiser was thrown thru the windshield, cutting his face and body very badly. He was taken to his home in Union, where medical and surgical attention was given. The other man, who was still quite drunk, was taken to his home in Nebraska City. The bootlegger may be making some money by vending this sort of poison, but it is costing the public and many individuals much in money and suffering. Still the condition is allowed to exist, because some who call themselves citizens wink at the violation of the law.

Mrs. R. M. Taylor Dies

Mrs. R. M. Taylor, of Union, passed away at St. Mary's hospital, Nebraska City, Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock, following an illness of several months. She had been a patient at the hospital but a few days.

She was born at LeMars, Iowa, on September 4, where she grew to young womanhood and in 1898 moved to southern Cass county near Union, where she had since made her home. She was united in marriage to R. M. Taylor at Plattsmouth on December 14, 1898. Mr. Taylor died at the home near Union on January 8, 1925, since which time she had made her home with her son, John Taylor, at Union.

She was well known in the community where she had resided for so many years and was highly esteemed by all. She was a member of the Baptist church at Union. She has scores of friends who will be pained to learn of her passing.

She is survived by two children, Mrs. John Hoback, residing on a farm southeast of Union, and a son, Howard Taylor, of Union. Two brothers also survive, E. A. Caldwell, of Union, and E. D. Caldwell, of Corydon, Iowa.

Demonstrating Proper Spirit
The business men of Union, and by the way, they are hustlers when it comes to matters of civic pride, are getting behind a movement to furnish one hundred dollars for the assistance of the Boy Scout plans locally, which includes a school of instruction wherein they may learn the rudiments of scouting and graduate with the instructions which go to make them excellent American citizens and helpful to all who are needing help. This is a very laudable spirit manifested by the business men of Union, who went down to Nebraska City to attend the Boy Scout school there on last Tuesday.

Received a Car of Autos
Charles Atteberry, the hustling garage man and dealer in Chevrolet cars, unloaded a car load of these excellent cars on Monday afternoon of this week. Mr. Atteberry is making a success in the disposition of these excellent cars as well as the repair business which he is conducting. With such a good car, and an excellent man to handle them, there be an abundance of success.

Buried at Elmwood Wednesday
James Leonard Brinton, of Elmwood, passed away at Lincoln on April 11th, 1927, at the age of some twenty years. He was born near Union on June 9th, 1909, and when but three years of age removed to Elmwood, where he made his home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Brinton, up until the time of his death. This young man was one of the very best of the young men in Cass county and was just entering manhood with a great deal of promise of a worthwhile life before him.

James attended the schools of Elmwood and was a regular attendant at the Methodist Sunday school. His sunny disposition and upright ways won for him many friends who mourn his departure. He leaves to mourn his death, besides the parents, four brothers, John W., Lester W., Lee R. and Everett, Jr., and five sisters, they being Mrs. Bertha Kunz, Misses Fern, Mary, Marjorie and Opel Brinton. grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Eaton, of Union, Willard Brinton, grandfather, and many other relatives and friends survive his passing.

The funeral was held from the Methodist church in Elmwood, of which he was a member. The services were conducted by Rev. W. A. Taylor of the Baptist church of Union, and Rev. West, of the Methodist church of Elmwood, and interment was in the beautiful Elmwood cemetery.

Cars Have Crash at Union Pump Station Monday

Car Driven by John DeFord of Nebraska City Crashes Into Car of John Christwiser.

A very serious auto accident occurred Monday evening on the highway just west of the town of Union and near the pumping station of the Missouri Pacific railroad.

The car driven by DeFord was going to Nebraska City while Mr. Christwiser was coming from the west and the cars were both in view as they came along the level stretch of highway running east and west.

The car of DeFord drove directly into that of Mr. Christwiser and as the result of the impact Mr. Christwiser was thrown through the windshield of his car and suffered very severe cuts and lacerations on the face and body and which make the condition of the victim of the accident one of the greatest seriousness DeFord, who has been employed in a Union garage, was also injured to some extent but was not as serious as the other victim of the car wreck.

It is claimed by those who saw the accident that the accident was entirely due to the driving of Mr. DeFord and who it is alleged was under the influence of liquor at the time of the accident.

Mr. Christwiser was taken to his home at Union and is under the care of a physician as his injuries have proven quite severe. DeFord was taken to his home at Nebraska City.

PIGS REQUIRE SPECIAL FEED

Des Moines, Ia.—Many farmers are sustaining losses among their pigs because of failure to pay attention to mineral feeding, the Iowa Homestead says.

"At the close of the winter season and before pasture is available fall pigs are often suffering from mineral deficiency in their bodies because of having been fed for several months on rations poorly balanced.

"Lack of minerals in the feed does not show itself in pigs until they are several months old. In the first place, so long as a pig nurses, it receives an abundance of mineral matter and its bones develop normally. After weaning, in seasons when pasture is not available, unless a mineral mixture is supplied the pig bones gradually weaken and the condition shows itself in stiffness or so-called rheumatism."

Former Partner Claims He's Mad at Ace; Will Win

"Wildcat" Has Several Fights in Line on Coast—May Fight Tandler Again.

Los Angeles.—That rough, tough young man from Nebraska—Ace Hudkins—has reached the stage in the fight business when managers of other boxers, with their fighters in tow, start scurrying for the cyclone cellar when the name of Hudkins is mentioned.

However, the Ace has at least one match in the bag. Sid Socklyn, who recently was accused of doing a "brother act" in the middle west with Hudkins, a charge which incurred the wrath of several state boxing commissions, is Hudkins' next opponent. Socklyn and Hudkins will meet in a 10-round bout here on April 22.

This mill promises to be good while it lasts. Both fighters will attempt to prove that these suspicions were unfounded, and it is quite likely that Hudkins will win the debate, hands up. Socklyn is a former sparring partner of Hudkins'. He believes he knows all about the Ace and thinks he can extract the fans from the "wildcat."

Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight champion, is willing to meet Hudkins. There must be a $10,000 purse involved, however, and Ace must come in weighing 144 pounds.

Another Hudkins match is in the making is one with Sergeant Sammy Baker. Although the articles have not yet been signed, this bout may be held at New York sometime next month.

Many other bouts for Hudkins are still in the formative stage. Among his probable opponents are the names of Joe Anderson, Joe Dundee and Pete Lanzo have been mentioned.

Law Tandler, who was recently defeated here by Hudkins, would also like to get a return match with Ace. The man Hudkins would like to enter into a ring is, of course, Eddie Lanzo, the welterweight champion. At the conclusion of such a bout, the Nebraska fighter is certain the welterweight crown would be resting on his own red locks.

DISAGREE OVER ROAD LAW

The house, by a vote of 57 to 30 refused to concur in the senate's action in retitle H. R. 341, which provides for the relocation and straightening of highways, it requiring sixty-seven votes to concur. The differences are with respect to powers given to enter upon a farmer's land and cut off corners, and a speedy agreement is looked for. The house committee is composed of Staats, Russell and Cone, and the senate is represented by Griswold, Wood and Tesar.

The house concurred in the senate amendments to H. R. 340, a companion bill, getting the necessary six members, and a speedy agreement is carried in emergency clause, the old law having been knocked out by a supreme court decision.

The house adopted the conference committee report on H. R. 587, which authorizes the sheriff of Douglas county to appoint twenty deputies at $2,000 a year each.

Nineteen Known Dead as Toll of Illinois Twisters

Tornadoes Strike in Parts of Six Counties in the Central Part of the State.

Springfield, Ill., April 19.—Nineteen persons are known to be dead and more than one hundred injured, several probably fatally, as a result of a series of tornadoes which ripped their way through central Illinois this afternoon.

Property damage is not excessive as the tornadoes touched only sparsely settled rural communities. Lines of communication in the stricken territory are badly crippled and reports from some points visited by the disaster still are meager.

First efforts of the wind disturbances, described by the United States weather bureau as line squalls, were felt along the Mississippi river near Eldred and Hardin. From there the squalls swept northeast striking 10 communities in eight counties.

Teacher Gives Life.
The storm spared more than 60 school children in two different schools, but cost the life on one teacher as she herded her flock to safety.

The Oakland school near Cornland was demolished, the 30 pupils being found in a nearby field, with only three slightly injured. At Centerville where the teacher, Miss Anna Keller, 25, warned her students to crouch beneath their desks as the storm approached, the building collapsed, killing her. The pupils escaped with a few cuts and bruises.

The storm finally spent itself in a severe rain and wind storm near Chicago and Milwaukee, Wis.

Previews of the storm were evident throughout the state.

Children Are Saved.
Clarence Gallagher, principal of Chestnut school in Logan county, marched his 80 pupils from the second floor to the first. There they hurried with the wind crashed through the upper floor tearing it away. Two of the pupils dashed from the building as the storm struck and were killed by flying bricks.

Thirty school children at Buffalo Hart were saved from injury or death when their teacher herded them into the basement of a church which was being used as a school.

Reports compiled by the Associated Press show dead and injured by towns as follows:

Starr Center—Edward Wilkinson, dead; three probably fatally injured; 75 others injured.

Centerville Rural School near Carrollton—Miss Ann Keller, teacher, dead; number of pupils injured.

Wrightsville—Mrs. Elmer Flowers and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Latham Nettles, dead; Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Nettles and Elmer Slowers, seriously injured.

Athensville, in Green county—E. M. Piper, dead.

Loami—Mrs. Henry Moore, dead; others seriously injured, five probably fatally.

Woodville—Eldon Rathbone, Anne Fort and 17-year-old lad named Bushnell, dead; Mrs. Eldon Rathbone probably fatally injured.

Buffalo Hart—Charles Crabtree, 50, an old man named Brandon, and Harold Hardy dead; many seriously injured.

Chestnut, Logan county—Robert Baker and Murray Goodwin, between 7 and 8 years old, dead; several injured.

Kear—One dead.

Mount Pulaski—Henry Mattingly and son dead.

Jerseyville—Lingus Bushnell, dead.

ARMY AIDS FLOOD VICTIMS
Omaha, Neb., April 18.—Relief for Arkansas flood victims was ordered today by Major General Moore, commander of the Seventh army corps area. More than two thousand army pyramidal tents have been sent to Red Cross officials at St. Louis.

Major General John D. Easton, Pine Bluffs, Ark., has been put in charge of relief work by the army. His headquarters are at Helena, Ark.
