The supper party also greeted Dr. C. H. Hayes and Dr. L. R. Kidwell, of the state agricultural department and N. H. Morrow, owner of the Morrow Hatchery in this city who were present at the meeting.

Last Happy Hundred Supper of the Season Held

Entertained by Musical Talent of the City and Hearing Splendid Talk by W. R. Watson.

From Wednesday's Daily.—The last Happy Hundred supper of the 1926-27 season was held last evening at the parlors of the First Presbyterian church and was one that was very much enjoyed by a large number of the men of the community as it was filled with a varied array of features that kept the members of the supper party thoroughly interested until the close.

The ladies had arranged one of their always dainty and delicious repasts and which was served in a splendid manner and made a fitting start of the evening's program.

The earliest part of the evening was given over to music and the now becoming famous "Nebraska" song of B. A. Rosencrans was given and which made a pleasing hit with the men as it has in all of the places where it has been heard.

The members of the supper party had the opportunity of visiting one of the most promising young musicians of the city, Charles Newasek, whose piano work stamps him as a real musician and who gave the expression and beauty in his playing and reflected the greatest credit on his splendid training and love of music.

This young man, a student in the high school has remarkable talent and his two selections, "Prelude in C Minor" by Rachmaninoff and the transposition of "Old Black Joe" were both splendidly offered.

Not the least interesting features of the evening was the visit of the girl's glee club of the high school, this organization of young ladies of the school giving a group of four numbers in a manner that was a real revelation to the greater part of the members of the supper party and a realization of the splendid things that the music department of the high school is accomplishing under the leadership of Miss Ruth Lindsay, the music supervisor of the city schools.

In each of the selections the thirty girls of the club gave beautiful harmonies and their selections were all received with the heartiest appreciation by the audience.

Miss Mildred Hall served as accompanist for the glee club.

The supper party also greeted Dr. C. H. Hayes and Dr. L. R. Kidwell, of the state agricultural department and N. H. Morrow, owner of the Morrow Hatchery in this city who were present at the meeting.

The speaker of the evening was W. R. Watson, managing editor of the Omaha World-Herald, who was fittingly introduced by Toastmaster Searl S. Davis and who for a short time entertained the audience with his observations of the recent trip that he made to Europe and comparing the conditions in the old world with those of our own country.

In his opening Mr. Watson sketched a number of the developments of the past thirty years in the way of inventions and discoveries that had tended to bring to man more luxuries and labor saving devices and cutting down the isolation of nations and individuals.

It was one of the great wonders of the age the strides of the last few years and the fact that this was the greatest country to enjoy the fruits of all of these wonderful devices.

The greater part of the talk of Mr. Watson was given informally of his observations on his European trip and especially of the situation in England, which country he visited at the time of the great strike that had affected every line of labor in the kingdom.

The general strike occurred in England and he detailed the wonderful manner in which the strike was handled, the fact that there was not a shot fired or violence witnessed in the great struggle that had reached every line of activity and he contrasted this with many similar American movements where there had been shootings and rioting.

The English had in their quiet fashion lived through the strike calmly, fought the issues with patience and calmness on both sides.

An interesting spot that he had found was that of the great law making institutions and the homes of the royalty standing beside Hyde Park where the wildest agitators were allowed to harmlessly explode their theories without damage.

The speaker also touched on the situation in the continental countries and their bitter losses from the war that had placed them in the worst possible positions as to recovery.

Death Calls John H. Albert Last Evening

Long Time Resident of County Dies at Home as Result of a Heart Attack.

From Wednesday's Daily.—The community was grieved and shocked last evening to learn of the death of John H. Albert, a long time resident of Cass county and a loved and respected citizen, whose death came suddenly and without warning at his home on Pearl street at 5:30 yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Albert had been in rather poor health for some time but his condition was not thought dangerous and it was a great shock to the members of the family as the husband and father sank to the floor of the kitchen at the home late yesterday afternoon and was dead before aid could reach him.

Mr. Albert had been in the kitchen as was his custom to look after the fire there and as he stood near the stove he collapsed and fell to the floor, death coming almost instantly.

John H. Albert was born in Hessen, Germany, February 28, 1851, and spent his boyhood in that section of his native land, coming to the United States when seventeen years of age in 1868 and decided to make his future home in the land where opportunity was opening to the youth from a strange land the chance to gain a home and fortune.

After reaching this country Mr. Albert located for a few years at Pekin, Illinois, and in the year 1872 came to Cass county, Nebraska, and where he has since made his home.

On September 26, 1875 Mr. Albert was united in marriage with Miss Margaret Hartman, the family locating on a farm in Eight Mile Grove and where they spent many happy years, rearing the family there and by their thrift and energy gaining a substantial sum to care for their future.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert eighteen years ago came to Plattsmouth to enjoy their declining years and in the pleasant surroundings of their home they have watched the years roll by until the swift approach of death that stilled the loving voice of the husband and father.

Mr. Albert was affiliated with the Modern Woodmen of the America being a member of Cass Camp No. 332 of this city. Religiously Mr. Albert was a member of the St. Paul's Evangelical church in this city.

To mourn the death of this good man there remains the wife and nine children, John Albert, Louisville; Mrs. Julius Sprick, Pilger; George Albert, Sidney, Montana; Mrs. August Engelke, Plattsmouth; Philip Albert, Cedar Creek; Mrs. Engelke, Cedar Creek; Misses Margaret and Emma Albert, Plattsmouth.

There are also twenty-three grandchildren and two great grandchildren. No definite funeral arrangements have been made as yet awaiting word from relatives at different points.

HAVE HAD GOOD CONFERENCES Two hundred twenty-three local leaders of boys and girls clubs attended the first round of conferences that have just been completed by state extension club workers in the state.

Most of these leaders were new in club work and were benefited greatly by the explanations and suggestions given in the conferences. The exchange of ideas between leaders themselves and the ideas that could be passed on from one county to another by the state club workers helped the prospective leaders of 1927 clubs.

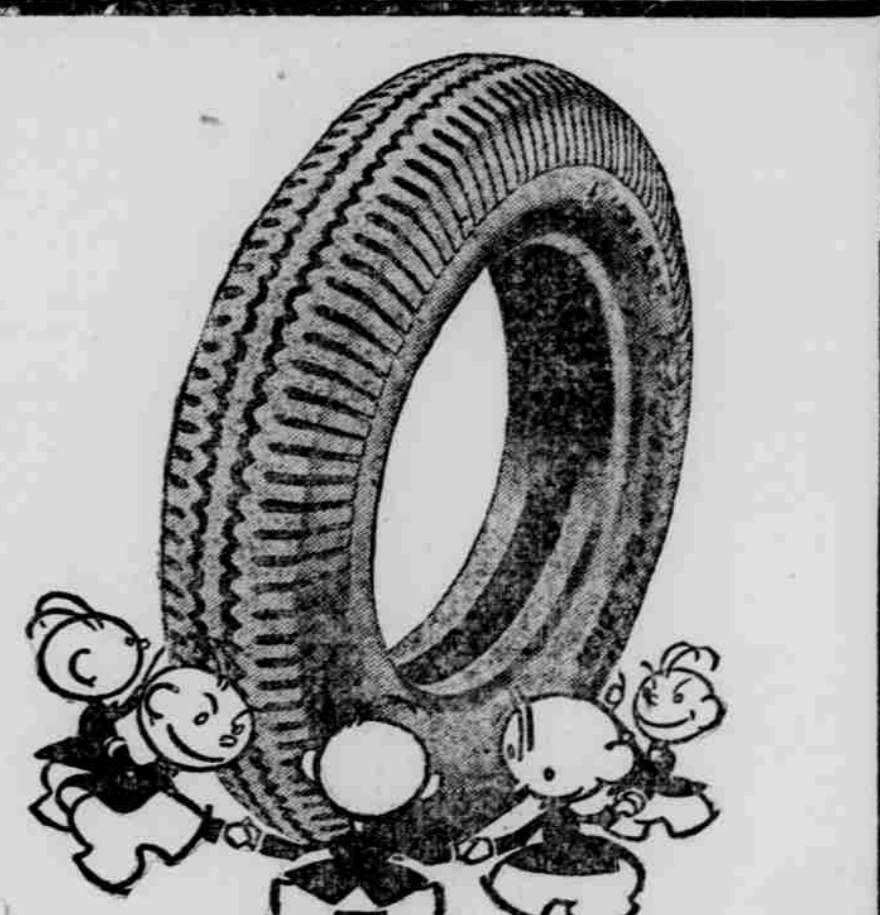

The second round of conference is now starting. The same state workers are going back to the same counties again this spring, and they plan to make another visit to each county next fall. With the growth of club work in the state, this system of county conferences of local leaders is the only one thru which help can be given to the boys and girls by the few state club workers that Nebraska has.

Judge Weber bears the mark of his illness and is still far from over the attack that he has been suffering from, but is feeling very much improved and it is hoped will be able in a short time to be back in his old time form. It is a great pleasure to see the genial Judge back on duty again and his friends are hopeful that he may enjoy a speedy recovery from his affliction and enjoy his old time health and vigor.

ELVIN CRAIG POORLY From Wednesday's Daily.—Elvin Craig of this city, who is at the Methodist hospital in Omaha for treatment for a very severe double goitre, still continues quite poorly and his condition is such that he will have to remain at the hospital under treatment for ten days or two weeks before it will be possible to operate on him.

Mr. Craig has been in bad shape for the past few weeks and his condition has caused the greatest of apprehension to the family. Those who have ordered copies of the Delineator and Designer at the Bates Book and Gift Shop are urged to call for same promptly.

Knights Templar in Easter Observance Sunday

Mt. Zion Commandery of This City and Mt. Olivet Commandery of Nebraska City Attend.

From Monday's Daily.—The Easter observance of the Knights Templar was held yesterday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church in this city.

Members of Mt. Olivet commandery No. 2, of Nebraska City and Mt. Zion commandery No. 5 of this city joined in the observance, a large number of the visiting Templars motoring here from Nebraska City for the services.

The Templars and their guests, the members of Cass Chapter of the DeMolay, met at the system of the Templars at 2:30 and forming in the line of march moved to the residence of James M. Robertson, grand commander of the Knights Templar of Nebraska on east Vine street.

All of the past commanders were selected as the official escort for the grand commander and moved at the head of the procession as it left the Robertson home for the church.

The church was beautifully arranged with the Easter flowers on the pulpit and platform and made a handsome setting for the services.

The choir of the church gave a wonderfully beautiful Easter cantata, "The Risen King," the solo of the cantata being given by Miss Ruth Lindsay, director of the choir and was a most inspiring feature of the services.

The sermon was one of the greatest heard and carrying the message of the Templars, "Knights of the Temple," Rev. McClusky giving it in his usual inspiring manner and which gave added emphasis to the message of the Risen Lord and the followers of the teachings of the Master.
