R. M. Coatman and the family, of Alvo, were visiting for the day last Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. St. John, where all spent the day very pleasantly.

John Griffin and the family were enjoying an outing last Sunday when they visited the state park at Nebraska City, which is more generally known as Arbor Lodge.

Edward Flagler and wife, of Red Cloud, Kansas, have been visiting for a time at the home of the uncle of Mr. Flagler, Mr. Ben Beckman, north of Murray, and with other friends in that vicinity.

The Nehawka team will meet the baseball team from Weeping Water at the Manley ball park the coming Sunday, where the issues of who is the better aggregation will be definitely decided.

Glen Rutledge, of the Nehawka Enterprise, accompanied by the good wife, went to Lincoln last Saturday, where they were called to look after some business matters and also visited with relatives.

Miss Agnes Gumble, one of the instructors at the Nehawka school during the past year, was over from her home at Waverly and was a visitor at the home of James Stone and wife for the week end.

Reports from the hospital at Omaha are to the effect that Stewart Rough and Uncle Peter Opp are both getting along nicely at this time and will both be able to return to their homes in a short time.

Miss Helen Owens and Hazel Scott, two young ladies, former teachers of the Nehawka schools, but now residing in Lincoln, were visiting with their many friends in Nehawka during the past week end.

Mark Burton has just given the front of the drug store a coat of green paint, which makes the building look much the better. A little paint properly applied makes a world of difference in a building.

John Frans, who has been making his home at Denver for some time, where he is engaged in railroad work, drove in from the western city in his car for a visit with the folks here and especially to see his little son.

John H. Steffens and the family departed last Monday for the west and will visit for some ten days or two weeks at Sidney, where they will be guests at the home of P. C. Cunningham and wife, parents of Mrs. Steffens.

C. R. Troop, of Plattsmouth, who owns the farm on which W. O. Troop resides, is preparing to construct a tile cave for the better service of the family, as during the heated portion of the year a cool place is required for the cats.

Rev. W. E. Goings, who is employed near Cedar Creek, and who ministers to the Christian church at Louisville, was a visitor in Murray on last Tuesday evening, attending the recital of the music class of Miss Gladys Lindner.

During Friday of last week, the day of the excessively warm breeze, Wm. Obernate plastered one room of the home of Robert Chapman and was tended by Mr. Chapman, they both finding it very warm, but they got by just the same.

Mrs. Earl Kirkpatrick and son, of Clayborne, Texas, who have been visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kirkpatrick, and where all enjoyed the occasion very pleasantly, returned to their home in the south last week.

On last Monday afternoon Mrs. Omar Schlichtemeier entertained at her home in honor of her niece, Miss Mae Schlichtemeier, who was to be married Wednesday, and who received many gifts from the friends in attendance at the shower.

Has Come and Gone The annual chautauqua, which has been a feature of the literary life of Nehawka and vicinity each year for some time, has come and gone, this time it being held earlier in the season than formerly and was filled with excellent numbers and was secured at a cost less than at other times. However, the people were all very busy at this season of the year, and while the numbers were all excellent, the people as a general thing were not able to attend as they would have liked.

Used Fordson and Plows I have a used Fordson and plows (condition as good as new) for sale at $375.00 complete.—J. V. Pitman, Murray, Nebr. U-N-2M Movement Gladly Received The movement to drill for oil and so near the city of Nehawka, is very pleasant news for the people of Nehawka and vicinity. The location of the initial point of drilling at the Pollard orchards is very gratifying to all concerned. The actual work will not be begun for a few weeks, yet, as it will take some time to get a crew and rig here to push the work. The investigations show that there are good prospects of oil being under the entire town site. Indications, as they are looked at by some, are that Nehawka is destined to be the large city of eastern Nebraska, with Plattsmouth and Nebraska City mere suburbs and even Lincoln and Omaha only poor competitors in the race for the metropolis of Nebraska.

We are in hopes that their anticipations may be fully realized. However, this effort should be gotten behind by every one interested in the growth and welfare of our hustling little city.

FUNERAL OF AGED MAN From Monday's Daily—The funeral services of the late Frank Kolasek were held yesterday afternoon from the Sattler Funeral home at 4th and Vine street and quite a large number of the old time friends and the relatives of the departed being present at the service. Rev. H. G. McClusky had charge of the service and there were two duets given by Frank Clويد and Mrs. G. L. Farley. At the close of the service the interment was at Oak Hill cemetery.

School Fund to be Distributed by Treasurer

Payment This Year Made Ahead of Time Because of Fast Work—Total of $552,000.

School districts of Nebraska will get their semi-annual apportionment money from the state two or three weeks earlier than usual this time, owing to the promptness with which the June distribution has been handled in the offices of State Treasurer Stebbins, State Supt. Taylor and State Auditor Johnson. Besides being ahead of schedule, this apportionment is $38,000 larger than the one a year ago.

The state superintendent's office made the computations of the sums due each school district in Nebraska within three days after the state treasurer certified to it that there would be $552,844 available for the distribution. Warrants for these amounts were being written Saturday in the auditor's office, which will be mailed to the respective county treasurers as soon as they are countersigned by the state treasurer.

In making the June allotment, Supt. Taylor deducted $967 from the total to correct an error made in the last previous school split six months ago, which resulted in some over-payments. The remainder was divided as the law specifies—one-fourth equally among all districts, and three-fourths on the basis of their school population.

Rate Per Child $1.04 Under the foregoing plan of apportioning the temporary school fund, every district will receive $1,935.95 for each boy or girl of school age living within its borders. The amount to be paid out in that way is $413,954.

The sum that goes to all districts share and share alike is $137,823, of which Lincoln county will get $22,055. There are 6,255 districts entitled to their portion. Some of the smaller districts are left out because they failed to maintain schools for the length of time the statute requires.

There are 398,397 children of school age in Nebraska, the education department's records show. This figure is based on official school censuses taken in all districts.

Lancaster county will receive $31,962 of the total amount, or 5.8 per cent. Douglas county will draw $57,856, or about 10 1/2 per cent. Custer comes third with $12,239, and Garfield fourth with $11,311.

Different sources of revenue contributed to the apportionment as follows: Interest on bond investments, $242,908; school land leases, $192,954; interest on school land contracts, $69,991; insurance licenses, $46,151; cold storage licenses, $570; employment agency licenses, $500; liquor licenses, $360; warehouse licenses, $310.
