Vernard and Ruth, the two children of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Morris, were visiting in Nebraska City for a short time at the home of their uncle Mr. S. F. Morris and wife of that place.
R. D. Stine and the family were enjoying a ride to Nebraska City and also a visit with friends there on last Sunday, but Rube said there were so many people and people there and so many that he could not see any one.
The children's day program which was deferred a number of times on account of bad weather and other things was given at the Baptist church on last Sunday evening and a large number of members of both the church and Bible school with their friends were present to enjoy the occasion.
Mrs. Foster Buck of Pocahontas, Idaho, has been visiting at the home of her sister and brother, Miss Mamie and Henry O'Donnell east of Union, where she was for a time in a hospital at Omaha where she was receiving treatment and later visited with her sister Mrs. John Banning at Alvo.
Harry Royal and wife, the latter a daughter of Mr. C. L. Graves were over from their home in Lincoln on last Sunday and in company with Mr. Graves went down to Kamp Kill Kare where they picnicked and enjoyed a very fine dinner which they brought along with them. They also visited with Judge Daniel Lynn and wife.
Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Wills of Long Beach, California, were visiting in Union for a short time during the present week, and were guests at the home of Mrs. Wills daughter Mrs. G. W. Cheney. Mrs. Wills will be remembered by many of her old time friends in and about Union, who will be greatly pleased to meet and greet her.
Louis Burbee is just at this time engaged in the construction of a boat which is to navigate the Missouri, and it will not be called "The Spirit of St. Louis," for that is an overstatement, but some of his friends said that there was a move on foot to christen the new boat "The Spirit of Scota." However it will be a good boat and will do good service for this excellent young man and his friends.
The people of Union are greatly stressed over the matter of whether Union shall have water works or not. Many of those who have already private plants of their own are eager for the municipal plant while some of those who have no system of their own are not so anxious for the city plant. Just how the matter will finally be decided remains to be seen for there is much to argue on each side of the question.
Will Consider Water Service.
There will be a meeting of the citizens in mass convention on the coming Friday evening when the matter of the installation of a water system by the city of Union will be discussed, from every angle and much light will endeavor to be thrown on the question "Shall we have water service or shall we not?" If you have anything to say on the question get in and say it for that is what the meeting is for.

Union is very fortunate in that she is to have one of the very best practitioners in the dental line in the state of Nebraska, Dr. A. D. Caldwell, who was for a long time located in Plattsmouth and of whose good work many of his friends in and about Union can testify. Dr. Caldwell has rented the room formerly occupied by the former doctors on the north side of Main street, near the Tony Suduth place of business. The place has been undergoing repairs for the reception of Dr. Caldwell, and is making an excellent office.
Dr. Caldwell is also a fine musician, having played for several years with a theatre orchestra in Omaha, and conducted a dental parlor on a part time basis. He is an ex-service man, having been an officer in the dental corps, U. S. army during the late world war.

Ray Frans and empowered him to select a secretary. Clifford B. Smith was selected as their treasurer. Mr. Frans went to C. L. Graves, who had made such an excellent secretary in the years past, and asked that gentleman to accept the position, and out of consideration for Mr. Frans, he agreed to accept the position.
Mr. Frans is accordingly hustling with the arrangements for making the 1927 reunion the best in the history of the association, and that is saying much for they have had many excellent meetings during the nearly half century of their existence. The dates set for the picnic are Friday and Saturday, August 12 and 13, and the event will be held at the picnic grounds west of Union, where so many delightful gatherings have been had. You will receive bills in the near future announcing some of the arrangements and later on will receive others telling more in detail, and of the speakers who will be selected for the addresses during the convention.
Passing of Mary Jane Dysart
Miss Mary Jane Hoback was born at Marysville, Mo., August 17, 1843, and when a small child came with her parents to Nebraska to make her home, locating near Nebraska City, where she resided for a short time, and in 1855 entered on a homestead near Plattsmouth, where she lived two and one-half miles southeast of Union, in Cass county. James Dysart had a homestead just a short distance north of that of the father of Miss Hoback, which threw the young people in each other's company. They were united in marriage September 12, 1860, just before the beginning of the Civil war. To this union were born eleven children, three of whom died in infancy, the remaining eight children being Miss Lizzie Wolfe, of Avoca, Neb.; Mrs. Ellen Kruger, of Spokane, Wash.; Mrs. Louise Bay, of Wellington, Kansas; Mrs. Ida Cline, of Plattsmouth; Mrs. Mary Ann, of Bolivar, La.; Jesse R. Dysart, of Union; Charles H. Dysart, of Murray; Dr. Thomas A. Dysart, of Ashland, California.
Mrs. Dysart was a christian from childhood, was a member of the Baptist church and with her son, Thomas Dysart, received the ordinance of baptism and was made a member of the Baptist church on December 4, 1888. Mrs. Dysart was most kind hearted and no one left her door in distress if she could in any way relieve their suffering. She would always divide her last crust with the needy. She knew all about all the struggles incident to the making of a home out of a new country and it was the efforts of this excellent woman and her kind which wrested this beautiful country from the wilderness and the bleak prairie years ago. She was well acquainted with the Indians, when there were plenty in the early days. Before the marriage of this excellent woman and her husband the first Sunday school in that locality was organized and held in the bachelor shack of Thomas Dysart. The husband passed away on the old homestead February 12th, 1906. Mrs. Dysart continued to live on the farm until 1914, when she went to live with her eldest son, James A. Dysart, of Bolivar, Louisiana, remaining there until 1926, when she came back to Nebraska, to make her home with her daughter, Mrs. B. M. Cline, south of Plattsmouth, where she passed away one day last week. The funeral service was held from the Baptist church of Union, the services being conducted by the pastor of the church of which she was a member, by the Rev. W. A. Taylor, and interment was in the west Union cemetery. Mrs. Dysart's health was so poor at times she was not able to attend church services, no matter how much she desired to do so.

Find Farmer in Field with a Crushed Skull

Bloody Wrench Lying Nearby Points to Attempted Murder—Farm Hand is Arrested.

Logan, Ia., June 27.—Henry Wescott, 50, prominent and well-to-do farmer living four miles north of here, was found with his skull crushed in a field on his farm late today. A bloody wrench lay on the ground nearby. He was still alive, although unconscious, when found, and was rushed to Lord Lister hospital, at Omaha.
Sheriff C. F. Cross took Steve Mikuka, 18, Wescott's farm hand, into custody and will hold him pending investigation of the case. Mikuka was released only a few months ago from the Eldora reform school.
Mrs. Wescott noticed Mikuka's team standing hitched to a fence in a field, she told Sheriff Cross, and was about to send her son to find out what was the matter. Her husband was in a field farther away and not visible from the house.
Mikuka came to the house, she said, and told her Wescott was badly hurt, apparently kicked by a horse. He got a wagon and went to the field, returning the body to the farm house.
Will Wescott, brother of the injured man said tonight Mikuka was subject to ungovernable fits of temper and that on several occasions his parents, who lived near the Wescott farm, had appealed to him for aid in quieting the youth. It was because of these "spells," said Wescott, that he was sent to Eldora. He said he never knew of his quarreling with his employer.
Mikuka tonight stuck to his first statement that he found Wescott lying in the field near his team and had nothing to do with his injury.

Former Senator is a Life Saver

Moses E. Clapp, 78, Saves Grandchild From Drowning But Sees Heroic Playmate Sink.

Washington, June 27.—The capital talked today over the tragic outcome of the efforts of a seventy-eight year-old former senator and an eight-year-old girl to rescue his nine-year-old granddaughter from a sink hole in the Potomac river and the result. Growing to the eight-year-old tot in effecting the rescue. The former senator, Moses E. Clapp, of Minnesota, was watching the two youngsters wading in the shallow water off his country estate near Mount Vernon, when suddenly his granddaughter, Virginia Clapp, stepped into the hole. Edna Marie Armitage, her eight-year-old companion, immediately went to her assistance, grasped her playmate's hand, but was unable to help either her companion or herself. Rushing into the water, Senator Clapp reached the spot in time to help Edna, but she sank, but Edna already had disappeared under the water.
It was sometime before Edna's body was recovered, and although rushed to an Alexandria, Va., hospital, efforts to resuscitate her were futile. Her parents, Captain and Mrs. George W. Armitage, live in Washington.

SECOND TIME THE WINNER

Philadelphia, June 27.—Thru a decision handed down today by the United States circuit court of appeals here, the Radio corporation of America won over the De Forest Radio Telephone and Telegraph company for the second time in litigation over alleged infringement in the sale of vacuum tubes. The De Forest company claimed damages from the Radio corporation on the ground it had infringed patents by Dr. Lee De Forest in selling vacuum tubes manufactured by the Westinghouse Lamp company. Its original suit was dismissed by Judge Hugh M. Morris, of the United States district court of Delaware.

ALVO TEAM WINS GAME

The ball game Sunday, the 26th, between Weeping Water and Alvo, was won by Alvo by a close margin, the score being one to two.
The ball fans who missed this game surely missed seeing a good game.
Next Sunday we play the East Lincoln Bear Cats at Alvo and this should be a good game and perhaps will be the last game at home for some time, so let everyone turn out and boost for the Alvo Sunday ball club and enable them to get out of debt and buy some new ball suits.

Vacation Bible School Closes Its Active Work

123 Children of the City Have Been in Attendance at School—Operated by M. E. Church.

From Tuesday's Daily—
The vacation Bible school that has for the past several weeks been in operation at the First Methodist church in this city, has closed its activities and the young people who have been attending it have completed their work and will without doubt derive a great deal of useful teaching from the weeks spent at the school.
The school held this year is the third that has been held and is far the most successful, due a great deal to the fact that Mrs. H. E. Sortor, who served as the superintendent of the school, is a lady of broad experience in this line of work. This is the seventh vacation bible school she has conducted and as a graduate of the Kansas City Training school she has had an experience that she was able to give to the youngsters.
The enrollment at the school was 123 and the average attendance was 100 at the school. At the close of the school there were fifty-four given perfect attendance certificates.
The primary department of the school was in charge of Miss Helen Wescott, who had as her assistants Mrs. Fred Kissling, Frances Christ and Marjorie Arn, and in this portion of the school there was given bible study, music and handiwork, the little folks learning to make useful articles and making and furnishing a real doll house.
In the junior department Miss Mildred Hall served as the musician and playing for the various musical programs and leading this portion of the school work. She was assisted by Bernice Arn, Treva Edgerton, Gladys Bushnell, Jean Hayes.
The bible study for the older boys and girls was under the direction of Mrs. Roy Perkins and Mrs. Frank Barkus and covered the memory work in the bible study and for their proficiency in the memory work a number were given a gift of the "Book of the Bible," the winners of these being Florence Nelson, Germaine Ma-
The question of the hour in the automobile world is "What will Ford do?" On every side comes an "inside tip" as to what the 1928 "livver" will be like. A composite picture of all these rumors would make it have everything from wings to a 300-horsepower whirlwind motor. And as to price, the dopesters have it that it will sell anywhere from $250 to a thousand dollars. One private wire had this to say:
"The new Ford will be a four-cylinder standard gear shift car made in five models, touring car, coupe, sedan, sport roadster and cabriolet. Standard equipment will include self-starter, five wire wheels, speedometer, windshield wiper, gasoline gauge, ammeter, dash light and shock absorbers. New four-wheel brakes are of mechanical expanding type, embodying new principles, the invention of Mr. Ford himself. The new motor will be equipped with tandem or double drywheel, one of which will be placed at the rear of the crankshaft and the other at the front where the fan is ordinarily located.
In talking to G. K. Petring of the Plattsmouth Motor Co., local Ford dealers, he says that the New Model has been definitely announced but to date the specifications have been withheld.
Mr. Ford, however, says that the new car will have speed, style flexibility and control in traffic. It will be more costly to manufacture but more economical to operate.
One of the new models is expected here within the next 30 days.
